ESCAPED FROM PRISON

Two Convicts Broke Out of Jail at Concord, N. H.

CONCORD, N. H., June 26.—Joseph Gouin of Dover, the pal of John Doe in the sensational killing of John Dalton on a train at Rockingham Junction in February, 1906, following an alleged robbery at the Luddy-Currier factory in Dover the night before and William E. Chapman of Portsmouth held for observation made their escape from the New Hampshire state hospital for the insane at 5.30 this morning by overpowering the attendant in the ward in which they have been held since incarceration in the institution securing his keys and letting themselves out through the main door. The alarm was given in five minutes after they got away. But although search was made and the police all over this section were notified no trace of them has been discovered. Following the killing at Rockingham Gouin was arraigned on a charge of murder in the second degree, found guilty and was sentenced to a term of not less than twenty nor more than thirty years in the state prison. He was committed on May 16, 1906. Six months ago he developed violent insanity and was transferred to the asylum where under treatment he had recovered and his case was reported to the governor and council as cured and ready for transfer back to the prison the first of the month.

Chapman was brought before the superior court in Portsmouth on Oct. 1, 1908, on an indictment charging assault, with intent to rape a girl nine years of age. He pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity and was sent to the hospital for observation. Like Gouin Chapman had been reported to the authorities as not insane and ready for trial.

Since he has been confined at the hospital Gouin has kept in his room which has been striped of all furniture, his only allowance being a mattress which was placed there for him to sleep on at night and was removed in the morning. His only clothing has been a pair of drawers. This morning at about 5.30 Othleo D. Johnson, the night attendant, violated the rules of the institution by letting Chapman out of his cell to help him clean up the ward and while thus engaged Chapman suggested that they go to Gouin's room and take out his mattress. Johnson agreed and just as he unlocked Gouin's door Chapman hit him a smashing blow on the mouth, knocking him down. Like a flash Gouin was out of the room bringing his sheets with him and with these he and Chapman proceeded to tie Johnson. Chapman then took his keys and going over to the locker secured Gouin's clothing which the latter donned. Then they left the hospital, going out through the main doors with the assistance of the keys in their possession.

The first intimation that anything was wrong came to Dr. Landers on duty in the office in a telephone message from the attendant in the ward under the one in which the men were held who had been aroused by Johnson's cries for assistance. Johnson had released himself from his bonds and with Dr. Landers made a search for the prisoners.

Satisfying themselves that the men were gone Dr. Bancroft, the superintendent of the institution was called and under his direction the police all over this section was notified of the break and posses were sent out to scour the surrounding country.

Later a meeting of the trustees at which the sending out of descriptions was expected and a reward of $200 offered for the apprehension and return of fugitives to the institution.

LOSS IS $20,000

Fire Destroyed Davis & Sargent Buildings

A fire that caused a damage of between $15,000 and $20,000 and threatened much greater destruction was announced by two alarms, the first from box 84, situated at the corner of Westford and Gates streets, and the second from box 42 at the corner of Middlesex street, this forenoon. Had box 42 been the first to sound the damage would not have been so great as more apparatus would have responded and would have arrived sooner.

The fire which practically destroyed the long sheds used by Davis & Sargent for the storing of shingles and lumber of various kinds and situated in Middlesex street between McIntyre and Carlton streets, started from an ash barrel in the rear of 14 Carlton street. The sheds back up to where the ash barrel was standing and they were the first to be reached. A woman emptied hot ashes into the barrel and at least one man tried to put the fire out before the alarm was sent in. It was Fred Gallagher who sounded the first alarm.

Some of the oldest firemen in the department said that if a strong wind had been blowing the loss would have been very heavy, but fortunately the wind did not blow. The sheds and their contents contained the right kind of material for a big quick fire and it looked at one time, even in the absence of the shadow of a breeze that the flames would reach out to neighboring buildings and great fear was felt. Sparks spread to the roof of the synagogue in McIntyre street and to several other buildings. The scorching of a few shingles was all the damage done the synagogue but others suffered considerable damage.

There were busy scenes enacted about the time that it looked as if the fire was sure to spread. One woman to whose home the fire had already found its way became hysterical and refused to leave the premises. She had to be carried out.

Another woman in an upstairs tenement in Carlton street, threw a trunk out of a window. The trunk landed between two men who were watching the fire and they allowed they had had a narrow escape.

Considerable damage was done the house of Mr. Melane Duchans in McIntyre street. The back of his house was within a few feet of the burning building. All of the back of the house was burned, the windows were broken in and there was considerable damage by water.

Two houses in the same locality and owned by Owen Cassidy were more or less damaged by fire and water. These houses did not catch, however, until the department had found its bearings and the fire was confined principally to the rear of the buildings.

The house numbered 12 Carlton street and owned by John Callahan was considerably damaged as were other houses in the immediate vicinity.

The estate of Michael Maguire, numbered 672-674 Middlesex street, a brick building, was somewhat damaged. One-half of the house is occupied by Martha A. Clegg. A barn in Carleton street was badly burned. Russell Fox had the insurance on the barn and contents

Thomas C. Lee & Co. held the insurance on the greater portion of the contents of the sheds that were burned. This company also held the insurance on the house owned by Owen Cassidy.

Hoseman Was Overcome

C. F. Stackpole, a hoseman from engine 2, was overcome by the smoke and heat and was removed to the engine house near by where he was attended by Dr. O'Connor.

REV. C. E. FISHER.
Who Will Preach the Sermon Tomorrow

100th Anniversary to be Formally Observed

The town of Tyngsboro is now in readiness to celebrate the 100th anniversary of its incorporation, and it is expected that hundreds of former residents of the place will visit the town in order to assist in the centennial. It will be a three days' observance, opening tomorrow with religious services in the First Baptist church, while on Monday and Tuesday there will be banquets, band concerts, receptions, excursions, sports, etc., for the entertainment of the people of the town and the many visitors who it is expected will be attracted to the pretty town on the banks of the Merrimack river.

The following invitations have been sent out and everyone young and old is welcome to the town.

In the year 1809 Tyngsboro came forth from the wilderness as an incorporated town. It is therefore fitting that this event should be celebrated at the completion of 100 years, by the home coming of the sons and daughters of his picturesque town, to join in the festivities and renew bygone acquaintances. Preparations have been made to observe this anniversary in a fitting manner and as the success of the celebration depends wholly upon the spirit of loyalty of all former residents of the town, or of those who are interested in its welfare, the invitation is cordially given to you to be present and partake of the viands for both mind and body that await your home coming.

Rev. James Danforth.

TERMED WRETCHED

Report on Condition of Streets in Lawrence

LAWRENCE, June 26.—The committee on investigation into the conduct of the street, sewer and sidewalks departments held its fourth session last night, when the report of Richard K. Hale, engineer, relative to the construction and cost of streets and sidewalks was presented. Attorney Michael J. Sughrue of Boston, counsel for the committee, said in preface to the report that the engineer's investigation showed that $75,000 could be saved in a year if proper methods were adopted.

Mr. Sughrue's statement was an epitome of the engineer's report. He said in part:

"This review shows that overdrafts are large and common and have been for years; that supplies are purchased in large quantities without contract; that the accounting is so bad that it should be immediately radically revised; that the streets of Lawrence are in a wretched condition; that the streets are not constructed with reference to the use to be made of them.

"The review also shows that bills are made out so poorly that the places where goods are delivered is not shown, and frequently dates are omitted; that the system of keeping payrolls is bad; that the system of checking purchases is not proper; that haphazard methods prevail throughout the department; that the construction work in some instances cost 20 per cent. more than it should have done.

"On sidewalk construction there is an overdraft of 25 per cent., that the street account shows an overdraft of $18,560.32 or 22 per cent. of the total value of materials, that the appropriations are not used for the purpose designated.

"That the superintendent of streets has failed to file the $5000 bond as required by the city ordinances. There are no properly kept accounts or properly prepared annual reports."

The report points out that many of the streets of Lawrence are shown by inspection to be in a wretched condition. Many of them are built of materials unsuited to the traffic which they are intended to carry and generally the paving and construction has been done in the most unintelligent manner.

"An official having control of business amounting to nearly $300,000 a year, or about $1000 a day, should at least conform to ordinary business standards in its management. It is shown in this report that instead of such, waste and extravagance characterize the expenditures of this money, and slipshod methods and want of intelligence characterize what little accounting is rendered of these enormous expenditures.

"The 'receipts' in the street department from street watering, sidewalk and all other kinds of assessments are not paid into the general treasury as in other cities, but become part of funds available for expenditure by the street department. This has the effect of increasing the department appropriation many thousand dollars each year over the amount the city government has decided is proper for the department. It also puts into the hands of the superintendent many thousands of dollars over which the city government has no control.

"This custom in regard to 'receipts' should be at once changed and this money paid directly into the city treasury, where it should become part of the general funds, as is done in most cities. The superintendent of streets should then be allowed a fixed sum as determined by the city government each year upon which to run his department, and he should be held strictly to that amount in his expenditures.

"The other practice is the manner of providing for payment of the 'overdrafts,' which in 1908 amounted to $76,732.42, or 35 per cent. more than the amount appropriated for use of the departments. These 'overdrafts' for many years have been paid by the issue of 10 year bonds.

"Such a method of paying an 'overdraft' so far as it represents 'running expenses' and not 'new construction,' is entirely unjustifiable. If this method should be adopted to meet the 'overdraft' of the past year, according to Mr. Hale's report, it would be making a bond issue cover in a large measure 'current maintenance expenses' of the department,' which should be paid directly out of the tax levy."

Mayor White then read Engineer Hale's report.

PILLINGS' NEW MILL

Dedicated With a Dance Last Evening

Despite the intense heat that prevailed last evening, one of the largest and merriest crowds ever attending a social event was present at the complimentary social and dance under the auspices of the employes of John Pillings Shoe Co. The affair was conducted for the purpose of dedicating the new mill recently erected by the company on Tyng street and it proved to be a success in every particular.

The assemblage was composed of the members of the firm, the employes and their friends and many out of town shoe manufacturers. The doors were thrown open earlier in the evening and all were invited to inspect the new plant. An efficient corps of aids acted as ushers.

The program opened with a concert by Hibbard's orchestra, which discoursed the following program:

March, "Police Patrol" .... Link
Overture, "Marionette" ...... Kala Bela
Solo for trombone, "To the End of the World with You."
Mr. Charles S. Sturtevant
Finale, medley of popular songs.
Arr. by Silzer

Each of the above numbers was appreciated, especially the trombone solo by Mr. Sturtevant. The latter was obliged to respond to several encores.

Following the concert general dancing was enjoyed and continued until intermission when refreshments were served. After enjoying the edibles dancing was resumed and continued till midnight. At the conclusion of the function the participants congratulated those in charge and wished the firm the best of success. The Messrs. Pilling were the recipients of many beautiful floral pieces including a large piece, with the inscription success.

Those directly in charge were: Gen. manager, George McIntyre; assistant general manager, Allan W. Pilling; floor director, Lester O. Mason; chief aid, Edward Gaudette; aids, William Phelps, Arthur Lord, Henry Doran, John Lafleur, George Dwyer, Thomas Corcoran, Daniel Ryan, James Bergeron, Edward McKinley, Arthur Blaisdell; reception committee, John B. Pilling, Fred A. Pilling, L. F. Sherman, Herbert Pilling, Milton Howard, Chas. Church, A. W. Sherman, A. E. Jordan, Charles Gabrielle, E. O. Reed.

45 ROUND BOUT

Cross and Hyland Meet This Afternoon

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26.—Leach Cross of New York and Fighting Dick Hyland of this city were weighed in this morning and awaited the tap of the gong at the Coffroth arena for a 45 round battle, both in good condition and each declaring his confidence of victory. Betting had been unusually heavy. New York money poured in on Cross a few days ago and continued a steady stream, making the easterner favorite for a time but Hyland's friends rallied and placed the odds at even. Cross announced that he was out to win as quickly as possible as he did not wish to take any chances of losing an opportunity to meet Battling Nelson and capture the lightweight title. He declared he would do it in 23 rounds, the same number required for Nelson to take care of Hyland. The Californian was equally confident that he would whip his opponent in less than 45 rounds.

DIPLOMAS GIVEN

Annual Graduation of Westford Academy

The annual graduation of the Westford academy took place at the town hall, Westford, yesterday with a large attendance.

The hall was handsomely decorated, the stage made beautiful with evergreen, mountain laurel, potted plants and a profusion of cut flowers artistically arranged. The figures "1909" were displayed in front in gilt letters, and in the class colors, turquoise blue and gold.

There were four graduates, Miss Alethea Smith, Miss Lilley Moran, Mr. Alister McDougall and Mr. Carl Wright, who were presented diplomas by Rev. Benjamin H. Bailey.

The exercises were opened by singing "Wedding Chorus" by the school, followed by prayer, which was offered by Rev. C. P. Marshall. Miss Lilley Moran gave an essay on "Heroes of Peace," and Mr. Carl Wright spoke on "Forestry." The class prophecy was given by Mr. Alister McDougall. The several selections, which were well sung by the school, were under the efficient leadership of Edwin W. C. Barnes, supervisor of music. Miss Gertrude Hamlin was at the piano.

Rev. John F. Blake of Fall River addressed the graduates on "The Making of a Man."

Rev. B. H. Bailey conferred the diplomas and addressed the graduates. The class motto is "He Conquers Who Conquers Himself." In the evening the alumni held its annual reception and dance, the Lynn Cadet band furnishing music.

THE RED MEN

PASSACONWAY TRIBE ELECTED OFFICERS

The regular meeting of Passaconaway Tribe of Red Men was held last night at Odd Fellows temple, Sachem George R. Caldwell in the chair. Considerable routine business was transacted during the evening but the principal business of the evening was the election of officers which resulted as follows:

Prophet, George R. Caldwell; sachem, James Kershaw; senior sagamore, George Hicks; junior sagamore, George Houle; chief of records, Arthur W. Garland; collector of wampum, Geo. W. Randall; keeper of wampum, Ed. T. Goward; trustees, Leonard F. Steele, D. Glen Hurd and Charles J. Martin; great representatives to the great council of Massachusetts to be held in Boston, George A. Frost, George E. Sutherland, Charles H. Kittredge, C. J. Martin, Leonard T. Moody; alternates, Leonard F. Steele, George W. Randall, Geo. E. Wilkins and Geo. O. Spaulding. The great chiefs of the great council of Massachusetts elected on the part of this tribe were as follows: Great prophet, Willie E. Higgins; great sachem, Alvin G. Weeks; great senior sagamore, John W. Converse; great chief of records Alexander Gilmore; great keeper of wampum, Julius Beauregard; great representatives to the great council of the United States, Oliver A. Libby, G. Frank Conner, George W. Emerson, William A. Flenton. At the close of the meeting the loft of haymakers held their monthly meeting and two new members were initiated and three applications were received. The election of officers resulted as follows: Past chief haymaker, George E. Sutherland; chief haymaker, James Kershaw; assistant chief haymaker, Fred Nichols; overseer, William H. Martin.

SAM WALTER FOSS

CLUB OF THAT NAME HELD OUTING AT CANOBIE.

The ladies of the Sam Walter Foss Literary club were entertained by the gentlemen of the club Thursday night at Canobie Lake park. The party left Merrimack square at 6.15 o'clock on a special electric car and on arriving at the lake supper was enjoyed. After supper remarks were made by Mr. A. F. French, Mr. F. A. Bowen and others, followed by an entertaining recitation by Mr. Alvah Sturgess. The evening was afterward spent in enjoying the bowling alleys, roller coaster and the penny arcade, where many of the party participated in target practice. The return trip was made at 10.57. It was without doubt the best outing that the club has ever had. The supper and transportation arrangements were under charge of Mr. F. A. Bowen and Mr. A. F. French.

A CLOSE SHAVE

Many of Them Happening Every Day But Soon Forgotten.

Close shaves would be of more frequent occurrence but for the tender faces of many men, which will not permit of shaving often. Heretofore nothing has been said in these columns about poslam, a new skin discovery, in connection with its use after shaving. Its publicity and sales have been secured almost exclusively by its remarkable properties as an eczema cure; it stops the itching at once and cures the worst cases in a few days. While the application of poslam after shaving is one of its minor uses, such as for pimples, the complexion, etc., owners will find it a revelation, as it does for abrasions, rashes, [illegible] and severe scrapings what it does for all manner of skin difficulties [illegible] and cures in a few hours. It is the only article [illegible] real merit [illegible] than [illegible] ever been expected for this purpose, and will soothe and tone up the [illegible] as no toilet preparation could [illegible] do.

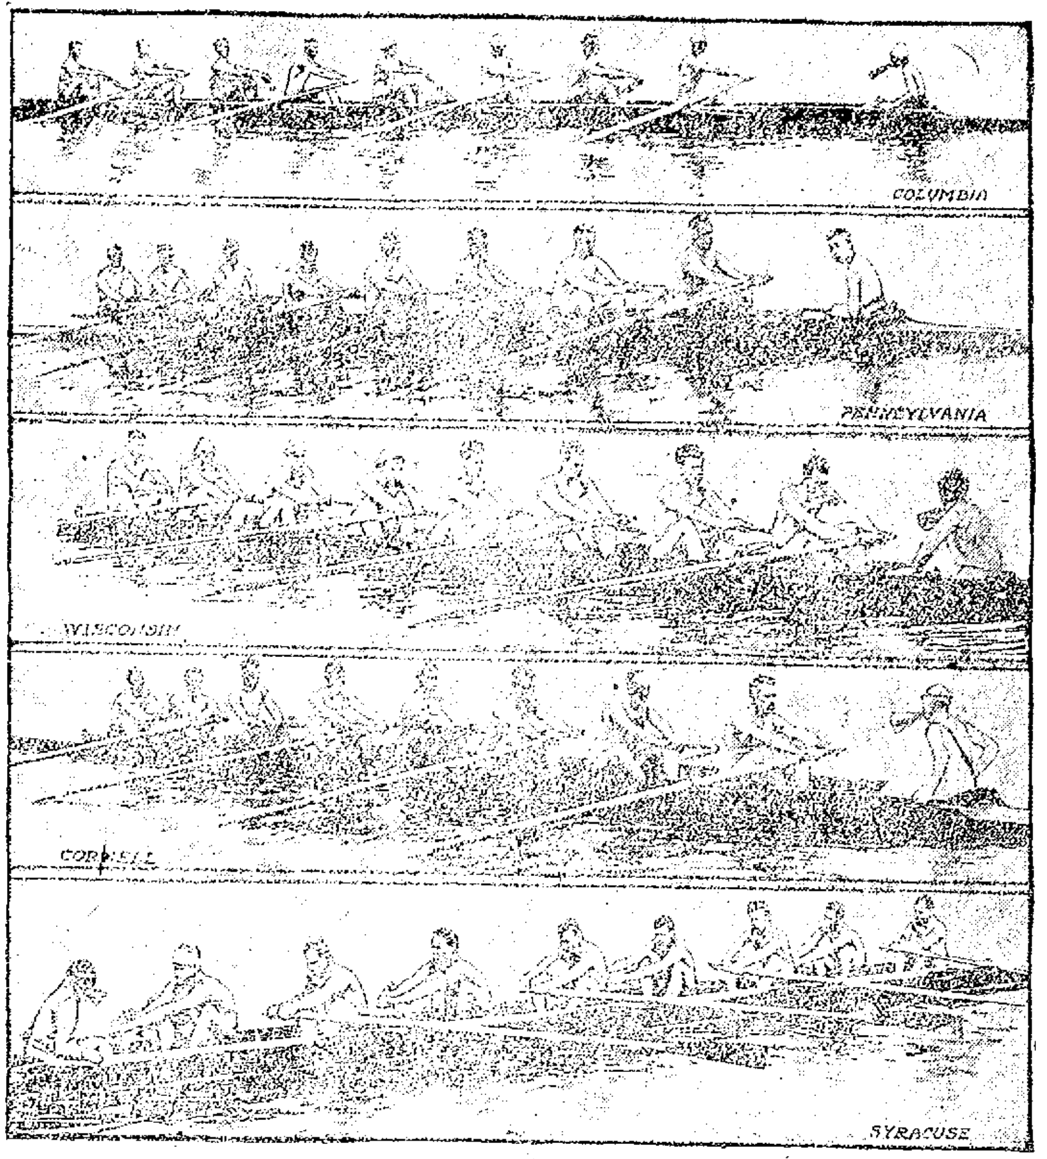
FIVE VARSITY CREWS AT PRACTICE FOR INTERCOLLEGIATE RACE ON HUDSON



POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 26.—All the six crews in training here seem to be in fine fettle for the intercollegiate regatta, which is to take place on July 2. Interest of course [illegible] varsity event and Syracuse, winner of last year's race is the favorite. Coach Ten Eyck, who is as good as there is in the business is putting his men through a grueling pace at upstream practice, that being the direction of the course this year. Although there doubtless will be several changes the crews are boated as follows [illegible] the arrangement in each case being from bow to stroke: Syracuse—[illegible] Fisher, Guilford, Putnam, [illegible], Hemenway, Shamber, W. EASTMAN BURIED

Man Accused of the Murder of Mrs. May Woodill

ST. MICHAELS, Md., June 26.—Without ceremony and quietly the body of Robert Eastman, "Larie Bob"—the New York stock broker and the man who murdered pretty May Edith Thompson Woodill and then committed suicide, will be buried this afternoon at the expense of Talbot county. The farm near Bozman, where Eastman had made his home during his brief stay in this county and in the bungalow on which place the murder took place, will be the scene of the burial. No church here will permit the body of the suicide to be buried within its graveyard and the authorities must bury it on the farm of the man himself.

Already the bungalow and farm from being a mecca for curiosity seekers [illegible]. That the dead man was really "Larie Bob" Eastman, the fugitive New York broker, is now established, for the body was positively identified this morning. The identification was made by Louis R. Pedler, a member of the art department of one of the Washington newspapers, who came down here to develop the story. Pedler [illegible] Viola Bradshaw, the New York chorus girl, who it turns out is the wife of Eastman and to whom he addressed the letter in which he charged that a woman had killed Mrs. Woodill. Pedler had known Eastman well in New York and [illegible].

Even before this, however, State's Attorney Turner and the local authorities [illegible] the identity of the dead man, for Mrs. Eastman [illegible] admitted in New York [illegible] the description [illegible] New York [illegible].

ert [illegible] Eastman, a failed member of the Consolidated exchange of New York and who was accused of the murder, passed beyond the reach of the law and with his going there vanished the hope of clearing up the motives and details of the crime.

A letter found upon Eastman's body, addressed to Miss Viola Bradshaw, care of Klaw and Erlanger, the theatrical managers in New York, gave Eastman's [illegible] of the crime. It was a rambling account of how he had been out in a launch with a party of men and women all of whom had been drinking to excess with the exception of himself and Mrs. Woodill; of how one of the women in a fit of jealous frenzy had attacked Mrs. Woodill with a wine bottle and killed her; how the [illegible] of the body, and how [illegible] of escape from all of his troubles, the writer had decided to end his life.

weighing only about 100 pounds. Where the girl sprang from, who her father was, and what should have been her proper station in life, are clothed with much of the same deep mystery which surrounds the details of her death. She was adopted by Colonel Charles H. Thompson, a well to do farmer of the eastern shore of Maryland, 19 years ago, when she was a tot of three. She married in New York a Dr. Caswell, or Crowell, believed to be from Boston, before becoming of age. The marriage was annulled and, as Miss Thompson again, the girl was engaged to Harry Adams, of Mount Vernon, N. Y. Meeting Mr. Woodill about this time, she married him instead. The girl's foster brother is said to have committed suicide because of love of her.

Eastman, according to the information received here failed in New York last year, was arrested twice in Chicago last August for grand larceny and since that time has been a fugitive from justice.

INJURIES FATAL

John E. Hurley Passed Away Last Night

The many friends of Mr. John E. Hurley, a popular resident of St. Peter's parish, will be deeply pained to learn of his tragic death which occurred at the Lowell hospital last evening as the result of an accident Thursday while at his work in the blacksmith shop of the Lowell Machine shop.

Nobody saw the accident, but the unfortunate man was at work on a trip hammer when something happened [illegible] he was under it and when found [illegible] terribly injured. When removed from under the hammer he was in an unconscious condition while his pulse was beating but faintly. He was [illegible] removed to the Lowell hospital where he died without regaining consciousness. He sustained a compound [illegible] fracture of the skull, the [illegible] being severed and the left eye [illegible] badly injured as to make it necessary to remove it.

The deceased was 27 years of age [illegible] at 56 Whipple street. He is survived by a widow, Julia, his parents, William and Rose Hurley, a brother William, Jr., and a sister, Mrs. [illegible] Atkinson, all of this city. He was a popular member of St. Peter's [illegible] society.

KILLED BROTHER

Boy Did Not Know Gun Was Loaded

CAMBRIDGE, June 26.—The Theta Delta Chi fraternity house, where one of the Harvard class day spreads was held last night, was the scene of a tragedy a short time later when John Wright, a boy of 12 years, accidentally shot and killed his brother, Robert J., aged 10. With their mother, Mrs. Mary Wright, a widow, of 52 Brighton street, the boys were in the steward's quarters of the fraternity house as the guests of the steward, Albert McLaughlin. They had had some of the ice cream and other dainties left from the class day spread, when John noticed a shotgun standing in a corner of the room. Grasping it quickly, he aimed it at his brother and pulled the trigger. The gun was loaded and the charge blew off the top of the younger boy's head before the eyes of his mother and the other occupants of the room.

At the Brattle square police station John Wright explained that the shooting was purely accidental, that the gun belonged to the steward and that he did not allow it was loaded, and he was allowed to go.

OFFICER McNABB

Overcome by the Heat Early This Morning

FELL HELPLESS ON BRIDGE STREET

He Was Removed to the Hospital—His Condition Reported As Much Improved Today

Patrolman James J. McNabb, one of the oldest police officers in the city, was overcome by the heat about one o'clock this morning near the corner of Bridge and Seventh streets. A carriage was called and he was removed to St. John's hospital.

The officer is on what is known as the early morning shift, leaving the police station about 12.30 a. m. While passing through Seventh street two young men who were walking behind him saw him stagger, but thought nothing more of his actions as he seemed to recover himself and started up the steps of a house as though he intended trying the door.

A woman in the house was attracted by the sound of the rattling of the door and a few seconds after looking out of the window saw the patrolman stagger and fall into the street.

Lieut. Martin Connors arrived on the scene a short time afterwards and word was sent to the police station. A carriage was sent over and the officer was taken to St. John's hospital. He is about 65 years of age and lives in Dunfey street, Pawtucketville.

Inquiry at the hospital today brought out the information that Mr. McNabb was much improved.

PRESIDENT TAFT

Sends a Message Explaining His Corporation Tax Plan

WASHINGTON, June 26.—President Taft's much heralded corporation tax plan was presented to the Senate today by Mr. Aldrich, chairman of the finance committee, and was ordered printed as a committee amendment to the tariff bill. If schedules are completed by Monday the corporation tax amendment will then be taken up and held before the senate until final disposition is made of it and of amendments on the subject of a direct tax on incomes.

In general form the corporation tax measure follows the outline given by The Associated Press after the conference at the White House on Tuesday night when the subject was considered by the president, lawyers of his cabinet and senate and house republican leaders. As drafted by Attorney General Wickersham and Senator Root the measure is believed to be amendment proof and an effort will be made to put it through congress unchanged. It will be designated as "The Taft Plan" the weight of the president's name being depended upon largely to encompass its enactment.

Briefly stated, the plan imposes a tax of two per cent. upon the net earnings of every corporation, joint stock company or association, organized for profit and having a capital stock represented by shares, and every insurance company organized under the laws of the United States or any state, territory or district, or organized under the laws of any foreign country and engaged in business within the United States.

Every latitude is given to concerns subject to the tax for the exemption of expenses, cost of maintenance, the depreciation of property, debts and the interest thereon, other forms of taxation and all expenditures usually taken from earnings accounts. Every corporation is also given an exemption of $5000 of earnings before the tax shall apply.

All of the machinery relating to the collection, remission and refund of internal revenue taxes is made applicable to the corporation tax and the responsibility for the enforcement of the proposed law rests with the commissioner of internal revenue in the same manner as other internal tax.

While the corporations are required to supply information of a most intimate character relating to their business, provision is made to safe-guard them against wrongful use of data obtained for the purpose of assessing the tax. Penalties are provided in cases of false or fraudulent relations.

Practically every character of incorporated institution organized for profit is brought within the provisions of the corporation tax. The provision defining the concerns from which the tax will be collected is as follows:

"That every corporation, joint stock company or association, organized for profit and having a capital stock represented by shares, and every insurance company, now or hereafter organized under the laws of the United Statesfi or under the acts of congress applicable to Alaska or the District of Columbia, organized under the laws of any foreign country and engaged in business in any state or territory of the United States or Alaska or in the District of Columbia, shall be subject to pay annually a special excise tax with respect to the carrying on or doing business by such corporation, joint stock company or association or insurance company, equivtlent to two per centum upon the entire net income, over and above five thousand dollars, received by it from all sources during such year, exclusive of amounts received by it as dividends upon stock of other corporations, joint stock companies or associations or insurance companies subject to the tax hereby imposed, or if organized under the laws of any foreign country, upon the amount of net income, over and above $5000, received by it from business transacted and capital invested within the United States and its territories, Alaska and the District of Columbia during such year, exclusive of amounts so received by it as dividends upon stock of other corporations, joint stock companies or associations, or insurance companies, subject to the tax hereby imposed.

"Such net income shall be ascertained by deducting from the gross amount of the income of such corporation, joint stock company or association or insurance company from all sources:

"All the ordinary and necessary expenses actually paid within the year out of income in the maintenance and operation of its business and properties.

"All losses actually sustained within the year and not compensated by insurance or otherwise, including a reasonable allowance for depreciation of property, if any, and in the case of insurance companies the sums required by law to be carried to premium reserve fund.

"Interest actually paid within the year on its bonded or other indebtedness not exceeding the paid up capital stock of such corporation, joint stock company or association or insurance company outstanding at the close of the year.

"All sums paid by it within the year for taxes imposed under the authority of the United States or of any state or territory thereof.

"All amounts received by it within the year as dividends upon stock of other corporations, joint stock companies or associations or insurance companies, subject to the tax hereby imposed.

"Provided that in the case of a corporation, joint stock company or association or insurance company, organized under the laws of a foreign country, such net income shall be ascertained by deducting from the gross amount of its income from business transacted and capital invested within the United States and any of its territories, Alaska and the District of Columbia.

"All the ordinary and necessary expenses actually paid within the year out of earnings in the maintenance and operation of its business and property within the United States and its territories, Alaska and the District of Columbia.

"All losses actually sustained within the year in business conducted by it within the United States not compensated by insurance or otherwise, including a reasonable allowance for depreciation of property, if any, and in the case of insurance companies the sums required by law to be carried to premium reserve fund.

"Interest actually paid within the year on its bonded or other indebtedness not exceeding the proportion of its paid up capital stock outstanding at the close of the year which the gross amount of its income for the year from business transacted and capital invested within the United States and any of its territories, Alaska and the District of Columbia, bears to the gross amount of its income derived from all sources within and without the United States.

"The sums paid by it within the year for taxes imposed under the authority of the United States or of any state or teritory thereof.

"All amounts received by it within the year as dividends upon stock of other corporations, joint stock companies or associaions and insurance companies subject to the tax hereby imposed."

It is provided that there shall be deducted from the amount of the net income of each corporation, subject to the tax, the sum of $5000, the tax being computed upon the remainder.

Every concern subject to the tax is required, on or before March 1 of each year, to make a true and accurate return, under oath or affirmation of its president, vice president or other principal officer, and its treasurer or assistant treasurer, covering the character of its organization and the amount of business transacted during the year, to the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the corporation is organized; or, in the case of foreign corporations, stock companies or insurance companies in the place where its principal business is carried on within the United States. The return must, however, set forth:

1—Total amount of paid up capital stock outstanding at the close of the year.

2—Total bonded and other indebtedness.

3—Gross amount of income during the year from all sources and if organized under the laws of a foreign country the gross amount of its income derived from business transacted and capital invested within the United States.

4—Amount received by way of dividends upon stock of other corporations or concerns subject to the tax.

5—Total ordinary and necessary expenses actually paid out of earnings in the maintenance and operation of the business and properties, and in the case of foreign companies the cost of operations in conducting business transacted within the United States.

6—Total losses actually sustained during the year and not compensated by insurance or otherwise, stating separately any amounts allowed for depreciation of property; and in the case of insurance companies the sums required by law to be carried to premium reserve fund, and in the case of a concern organized under the laws of a foreign country all losses actually sustained by it in business conducted with United States, not compensated by insurance or otherwise, stating separately any amounts allowed for depreciation of property, and in the case of insurance companies the sums required by law to be carried to premium reserve fund.

7—Amount of interest actually paid on bonded or other indebtedness to an amount not exceeding paid up capital stock, or in case of a foreign corporation, not exceeding the proportion of its paid up capital stock which gross income from business transacted and capital invested within the United States, bears to gross income from all sources within and without the United States.

8—Amount paid for federal or local taxes.

9—Net income after making the deductions authorized.

Local collectors will transmit the returns forthwith to the commissioner of internal revenue in Washington.

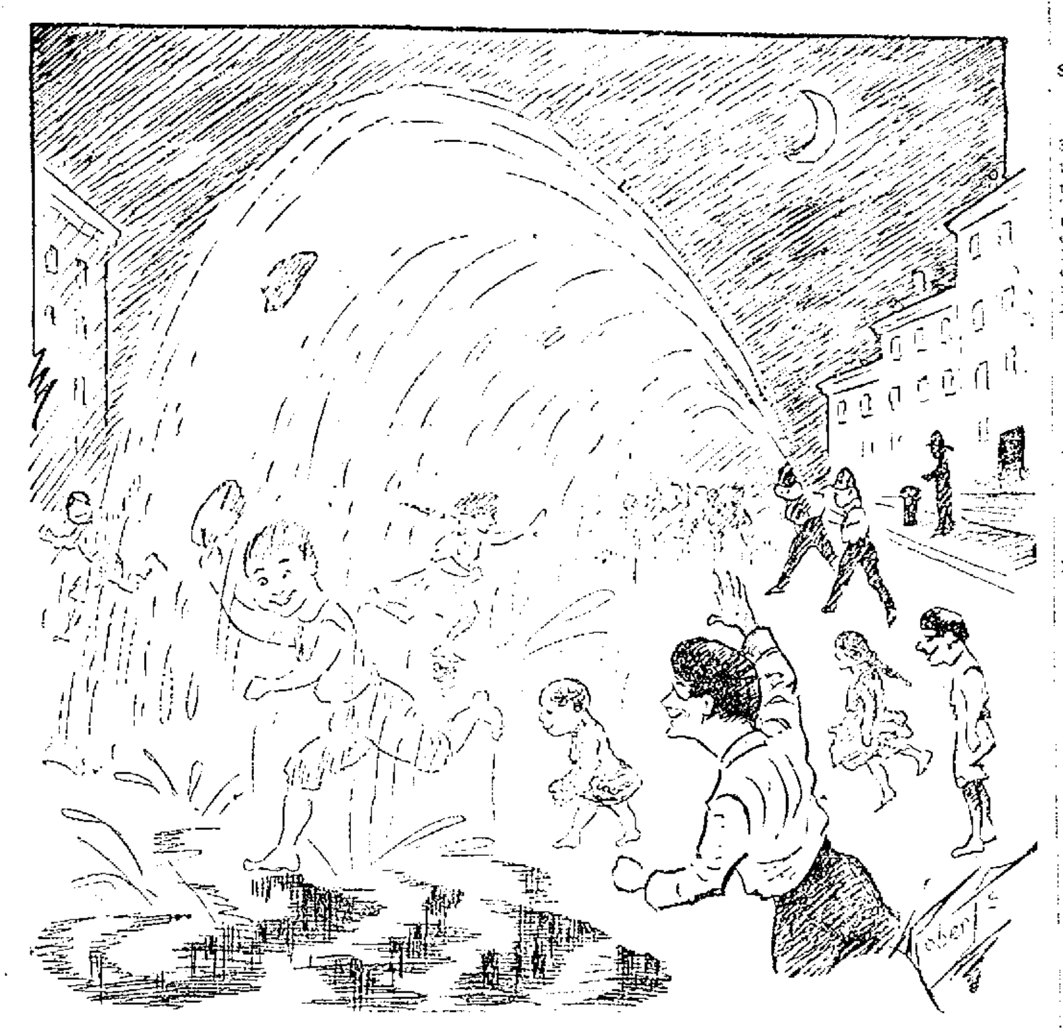
Upon evidence justifying the opinion that the return made by a corporation is incorrect, or whenever insufficient or no return has been made the commissioner is empowered to designate any regularly appointed revenue agent to examine the books or papers of such corporation, and take testimony of a responsible officer of the corporation in order to produce the information required for the purpose of assessing the tax. The commissioner as authorized also to invoke the aid of any United States court to require the attendance of such officers or employes and the production of books and papers. Upon the information so acquired the commissioner of internal revenue may amend any return or make a return where none has been made.

Returns are to be retained by the commissioner who will assess the tax. In the event of any return being made with false or fraudulent intent the commissioner is required to add 100 per cent of such tax, and in cases of neglect or refusal to make return or to verify the same, the commissioner is to add 50 per cent to the tax. When the neglect is occasioned by sickness or the absence of a responsible officer of the corporation subject to the tax, the collector is allowed to extend the time not exceeding thirty days. Assessment made by the commissioner must be paid by the corporation before June 30 of each year.

After assessments have been made the returns of corporations must be filed in the office of the commissioner of internal revenue, and they will then constitute public records and as such will be open for inspection. For the protection of a corporation against the wrongful use of information the following is provided:

"It shall be unlawful for any collector, deputy collector, agent, clerk or other officer or employe of the United States to divulge or make known in any manner whatever, not provided by law, to any person any information obtained by him in the discharge of his official duty, or to divulge or make known in any manner not provided by law any document received, evidence taken or report made under this section, except on the special direction of the president and any offense against the foregoing provision shall be a misdemeanor and be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both at the discretion of the court."

If any corpoation subject to the tax refuses or neglects to make a return in the manner required or shall make a false or fraudulent return, it is liable to a penalty of not less than $1000 and not exceeding $10,000. When any person authorized by law to make or to verify a return, shall make a false or fraudulent statement for the purpose of evading the assessment he becomes liable to a fine not exceeding $1000 or a prison sentence of not more than one year, or both.



HAPPY CHILDREN SPORTING IN THE COOLING SPRAY FROM THE FIREMEN'S STREAM LAST NIGHT IN THE CONGESTED DISTRICTS

GREAT RELIEF FELT

In Congested Districts From Wetting Down Streets

There were no more welcome visitors in the congested districts last evening than the firemen. Their mission was to wet down the streets and the relief that they gave was fully appreciated. The principal streets in Little Canada and Concord and Fayette streets in Belvidere were wet down. The Race street engine crew looked out for Little Canada and they did not spare the water. The streets were so parched that it took a great deal of water to make any impression at all upon them but the firemen did not let up until the streets were well soaked. A business man who witnessed the wetting down process in a street in Little Canada said that the relief was so great that babies who had been turning, tossing and fidgeting because of the extreme heat, fell asleep in their mothers' arms after the cooling influence of the water had been felt.

The High street engine house crew went down Concord and Fayette streets and they did not quit the job until the streets were soaking wet. The man who could boast of a piece of garden hose also helped out on the cooling process and every little while an urchin would come around and say: "Please, Mister, play de hose on me feet."

This morning, bright and early, Middlesex and Central streets were wet down. Hose seven attended to Middlesex street and engine three to Central street. The work of wetting down the streets will be continued as long as the very warm weather continues and unless we are favored with cooling showers.

DIED SUDDENLY

BREAK-DOWN DUE TO STRIKE OF EMPLOYES.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., June 26.—Patrick H. Dolan, superintendent of the Pittsfield Street Railway company and a member of the board of directors, died suddenly yesterday afternoon. He had been suffering from a serious nervous trouble for some time and a two days' strike of employes of the company tying up all traffic on the system, June 2 and 3, made such serious inroads into his health that very soon after the settlement of the strike he became ill and his malady increased in severity to his death.

Mr. Dolan was 51 years old and was born in Cavan county, Ire. His parents located in Simsbury. Later, with his brother, Peter C. Dolan, he bought a large stable in New Britain, Conn., where they rented horses to the street railway company. The Dolan brothers finally bought out the railway company and equipped the system with electricity. It became a paying proposition and was sold to the Connecticut Power & Light company 16 years ago and the Dolan brothers came to Pittsfield and purchased a controlling interest in the Pittsfield Street Railway company.

This road they also electrified and increased the mileage of the company from three to 30. Mr. Dolan never married. He is survived by his brother, Peter C. Dolan, general manager of the street railway system. He was a member of the Park club of Pittsfield and a director of the Berkshire Loan & Trust company.

BOTH ESCAPED

Men Made Their Way Out of Prison

EAST GREENWICH, R. I., June 26.—Twisting the iron bars at the window aside as if they were so much straw, Clifford Joyal and Joseph Gendron of Riverpoint made their escape from the Kent county jail during the night. Their absence was first noticed by another prisoner, who saw the opening in the bars and notified the warden, Mrs. Smith. The young men, both who were about 20 years of age, were awaiting the action of the grand jury on charges of perjury.

CHANCELLOR VON BUELOW

KIEL, June 26. — Chancellor Von Buelow, who came here from Berlin yesterday to confer with Emperor William, boarded the imperial yacht Hohenzollern early today and was cordially greeted by his majesty at the gangway. They were then in conference alone for three hours and it is presumed the political situation was discussed. The chancellor has been given cabins on board the Hohenzollern next to those occupied by the emperor.

MRS. COBURN'S BODY

To be Brought Home on the Steamship Cedric

Arrangements for the return of the body of Mrs. H. W. Coburn, who was one of the victims of the drowning accident in Killarney Lake, Wednesday, have been made with Cook's Tourist agency. It is expected that the body will be sent home on the Cedric. The Cedric will probably sail today.

Mrs. Coburn had a wide circle of friends and deep sympathy for the family is being expressed. Mrs. Coburn leaves three children, Harry, who was graduated from Dartmouth two years ago, and has been employed in Woburn; Mrs. Charles W. Churchill of Lowell, and Mrs. Murray S. Rust, of Birmingham, Ala. Mrs. Rust came to Lowell a few days ago intending to spend the summer with her mother.

PEACE AGREEMENT

Does Not Seem Probable in Lynn at Present Time

LYNN, June 26.—The chances of the adoption of a general permanent peace agreement between the shoe manufacturers and operatives of this city were reduced to a minimum yesterday by the reply of M. J. Tracey, representing about 5200 operatives to the latest amended plan proposed by the manufacturers. Following an interchange of views between representatives of the manufacturers and of the union during several weeks past regarding the details of an arrangement whereby manufacturers and operatives would unite in the formation of lodges to control the conditions of manufacture and all disputes would be settled by arbitration. Secretary Sawyer of the manufacturers' committee sent a letter to Mr. Tracey enclosing a draft of the latest amendments to the plan agreed upon by the manufacturers. Mr. Tracey in a letter to Mr. Sawyer today says that the labor conference board of which he is chairman regrets to learn that the manufacturers have made few of the changes suggested by the operatives in the plan and have obtained a number of features objectionable to the operatives. The labor board considers that it would be impossible to have all price lists remain in force for two years owing to the frequent changes in conditions; that the plan is too complicated and appears designed to prevent, rather than facilitate, speedy adjustments of differences; that the provisions regarding non-union workmen are vague and indefinite and that the proposed method of arbitration is impracticable.

Mr. Tracey concludes by saying that while the manufacturers and union leaders are apparently agreed on a principle of averting further industrial disputes they appear unable to reach an agreement on details. It is generally believed that no further steps will be taken in the matter.

Walter H. Hickey, the genial starter of the Boston & Northern and general information bureau of Merrimack square, is suffering from a severe case of hoarseness but despite that he is wearing one of those smiles that will not wear off. The cause of the hoarseness and the smile was the baseball game between the employes of the Lowell and Lawrence divisions of the Boston & Northern at Glen Forest yesterday which resulted in a victory for the Lowell aggregation. Walter is the manager of the Spindle City nine and he got hoarse from rooting but as long as his team won he is willing to suffer the inconvenience.

The game ended with the score 5 to 4 in favor of Lowell and was one of the hottest games played around here for some time. The Lowell team started out with a rush and scored all their runs in the first inning, while the Lawrence men got their runs in the fourth, sixth and seventh innings.

The makeup of the Lowell team was as follows: Tookey c, Nickles 1b, J. H. Riley p, St. Leger ss, George Niles rf, McKenzie cf and 2b, Sheehan 3b, Hope lf, Kelley 2b and Barnard cf.

Riley pitched an excellent game and kept the visitors' hits well scattered. The features of the game were a three-bagger by Capt. Pickett of the Lawrence team, the batting of Riley and Niles, a circus catch in right field by Niles and a running one-hand catch by St. Leger of the Lowell team.

Little Dewey Aubin, the diminutive newsboy, was the mascot, and when the Lowell boys got into tight boxes he cheered them up with his singing.

After the game, light refreshments were served and the victors came back to Lowell during the early part of the afternoon.

The score by innings was as follows:

Lawrence ....0 0 0 1 0 2 1 0 0—4

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The local branch of the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen met Thursday night in its hall in Middle street, and in the absence of the president, John T. Hendricks, vice president, occupied the chair. Two members were admitted and four applications were turned over to the investigating committee. It was voted to change the meeting night from the fourth Thursday night to the afternoon. The following officers were elected for the next six months: President, John T. Hendricks; vice president, James Hammond; treasurer and recording secretary, John W. Downing; financial secretary, Thomas J. McGee; warden, James Malloy; trustees, John P. Dean and William Green. It was voted to run the annual ball Labor day night, and the ball committee was appointed to make arrangements for that night.

Anniversary of Consolidation

The first anniversary of the consolidation of Chevalier and Middlesex lodges of the Knights of Pythias into the Chevalier-Middlesex lodge was celebrated last night in Highland hall and despite the intense heat there were about 65 members present. The early part of the evening was given up to lodge work. The degree staff gave the third degree in long form. After that a banquet was served. Those managing the banquet and the anniversary exercises were: H. A. Pillings, Mark Avery, Harry G. Jones. The degree work was put on under the direction of the degree master, Charles H. Jones.

MANNBERG DEAD

Police Are Looking for His Assailant

NORWOOD, June 26.—Salam Mannberg, a Finlander, was shot and mortally wounded yesterday and his alleged assailant, Joseph Marchello, an Italian, is being pursued by the police. Mannberg was shot during a quarrel which is understood to have arisen from a misunderstanding concerning a wedding celebration. Mannberg was 24 years of age and the Italian is 24. His capture is looked upon as certain as he has peculiar facial characteristics.

BIG RACE

TO BE HELD AT CANOBIE LAKE TOMORROW

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the new track at Canobie lake park this afternoon, when the New Hampshire Electric Railways announce a program of athletic events that promises to be one of the most interesting of the season. The track which has been constructed inside the baseball grounds at Canobie lake has been pronounced by the athletes now in training for the different events tomorrow to be one of the fastest ever constructed for similar purposes in this section of New England.

Entries in the nine mile event include:

Harry Moore—Peabody A. C.
Clifton Horne—Haverhill.
Wm. A. McGuire—Boston A. A.
Ocante Grassi—Haverhill.
Fred T. Martin—Haverhill.
Thomas H. Lilley—Savin Hill A. A.
Arnold Halstead—Lawrence.
Melvin Marsh—Haverhill.
Samuel Pavitt—Weymouth.
W. M. Merrill—Newburyport.
Harry Merrick—Haverhill.
Herbert Clark—Bradford.

In addition to the big event, there will be the 220 yard dash, 100 yard dash and a one mile relay race between teams from this city, Lawrence, Haverhill, Nashua and Newburyport. The entries in these events include:

Roy D. Newton—Dorchester.
Charles Cronin—Lawrence.
Robert Todd—Lawrence Y. M. C. A.
J. W. Smith—Lawrence Y. M. C. A.
Otto Miller—Haverhill.
George Ferguson—Haverhill Y. M. C. A.
Arthur Blair—Lawrence Y. M. C. A.
James Newell—Lawrence Y. M. C. A.
John Tilley—Lawrence.
G. B. Whitman—Lewiston.
G. L. Maney—Portland A. A.
Harry Stacey—Georgetown.
William Owens—Newton, N. H.
Frank McCormack—Groveland.
Charles H. Young—Salem, N. H.

The prizes, consisting of eight handsome cups, are now on exhibition in the display windows of the Merrimack Clothing Co. and are attracting a great deal of attention. They are of the latest style and design.

Admission to the grounds and stands has been placed at 25 cents. The Railway Co. has arranged for excellent service commencing at 1 p. m. Cars will run at 15 minute intervals through to the park.

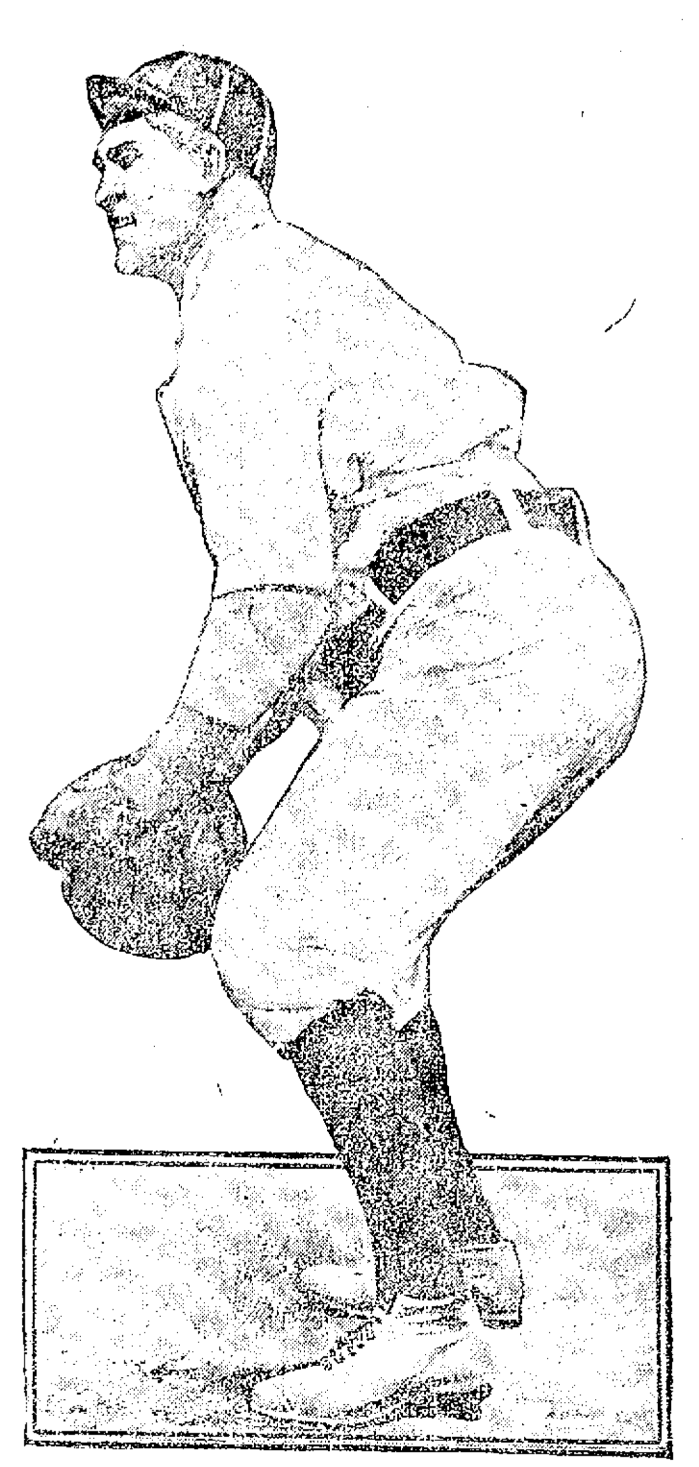
BOWERMAN OF BOSTON NATIONALS, WHO MAY BE TRADED TO N. Y.



BOSTON, June 26.—Rumors are now in circulation among the members of the Boston Nationals that Frank Bowerman, catcher and manager, is to be deposed as pilot and traded to the New Yorks for two of the Giants' players. It is said that Bowerman is very unpopular among his teammates owing to the harsh treatment he has accorded them and that he would relish a change of scene. Early in the season the Bostons under Bowerman's handling made a good showing, but for the last month or so the team has been shot to pieces. Bowerman was traded to Boston by New York during the winter of 1907, along with several others, for Bridwell and Fred Tenny. When in good condition he is one of the best catchers in baseball.

SUPREME COURT

Enjoins Manufacturers of Salem

BOSTON, June 26.—Judge Morton of the supreme court yesterday, by agreement of counsel granted permanent injunctions on the bills brought by the city of Salem, restraining the Armstrong leather company, American glue company, U. S. tanned pigskin company, James F. Ingraham Jr., Peter Sims & Sons, and the Thayer Foss company from discharging certain substances into the North river and its tributaries in violation of chapter 221 of the acts of 1901.

The bill against the A. L. Kraus company was referred to a master, but meantime a temporary injunction will be in force against it. The hearings in this case are to begin July 15.

The actions were brought by City Solicitor Coolidge in consequence of a vote of the city council. It was alleged the substances discharged into the river polluted the waters.

CAPT. MORRIS

PIONEER ANGLER AND SPORTSMAN IS DEAD

BOSTON, June 26.—Capt. Charles P. Morris, one of Charlestown's old school of sportsmen, died yesterday of heart failure at the Carney hospital. His health had been poor for the past two years and of late he had been forced to undergo treatment at Carney hospital.

Born 77 years ago in Shelburne county, N. S., Capt. Morris attended the schools of Charlestown and for [illegible] years was employed in government navy yards, most of which time was spent at the Charlestown navy yard and in [illegible] he was a member of the Charlestown police force.

He was a well-known figure at the hunting and fishing resorts of Maine. [illegible] Capt. Morris was a [illegible] hunter and wing shot. At [illegible] [illegible] was fond of rod and gun [illegible] but the captain [illegible] the sport and every spring found him in Maine after [illegible] trout and [illegible] [illegible] deer and [illegible] moose.

He was one of the first sportsmen to go to the Rangeley lakes in quest of trout, but in later years he favored the Moosehead region.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 1.30 at St. Mary's church. Burial will be at Holy Cross cemetery, Malden.

DREAMWOLD CAMPERS

A social and dance was held last night at the town hall in Chelmsford, under the auspices of the Dreamwold campers. There was a large attendance and despite the hot weather an enjoyable time was had by those present. Music for dancing was furnished by Donnelly's orchestra.

WOMAN RESCUED

LYNN HARBOR PILOT SWAM TO HER ASSISTANCE

LYNN, June 26.—A spectacular rescue of Mrs. David C. Bent, of 14 Cottage terrace, this city, a well known society woman, and her infant child, was made in the waters off Bass Point, Nahant, yesterday, by "Cod" Crofcup, a Lynn harbor pilot, who swam fully dressed 100 yards to the launch of the woman's husband who had not seen the accident, and clambered up the companion way with his burden unaided. Mrs. Bent, who is the wife of David C. Bent of the Morocco firm of Bent & King of this city, was being rowed from the Bent summer residence near Bass Point by one of the employes of the estate, who barely saved himself after the accident. The woman and baby are expected to recover from their experience, while Crofcup quickly recovered his strength.

COURT GENERAL SHIELDS

Court General Shields held a largely attended and enthusiastic meeting Thursday night at Foresters' hall, the occasion being the semi-annual election of officers and class initiation. The following officers were elected for the ensuing six months:

Chief ranger, James J. Gaffney; sub-chief ranger, Michael McMullen; recording secretary, William C. Boles; senior woodward, James Boland; junior woodward, John Daly; senior beadle, Michael J. Dunsmore; junior beadle, James E. Lang; lecturer, Thos. A. Green.

The grand class initiation ceremonies were in charge of the Knights of Sherwood degree team, Past Commander Joseph Saberrin, director; thirty-seven young men were inducted into the mysteries of the order, and while a larger class was anticipated, the warm evening was responsible for a number remaining away.

The degree work was most interestingly performed, and the graceful movements of the staff as they went through the different evolutions called forth much applause from the members.

The next event on the program was the "Social Hour" in charge of Lecturer Thomas A. Green, who opened the exercises with a stirring address which was well received. Then followed a piano solo by Brother [illegible] [illegible] remarks, Brother [illegible] [illegible] of Court Centreville, song, Patrick [illegible] remarks, P. R. [illegible] of Court City of Lowell; [illegible] [illegible] address of [illegible] [illegible] Chief Ranger [illegible] [illegible] remarks, John [illegible] [illegible] Francis J. Donnelly; remarks, Brother [illegible] of Court G[illegible] [illegible] song, Brother Robinson of Court [illegible]; song, John Townsend; remarks, Joseph Saberrin; recitation, William C. Boles; song, John F. [illegible] and closing remarks by Chief Ranger Gaffney, who presented each new member with a beautiful certificate of membership, and announced that the membership prize, donated by him, would be awarded at the next meeting.

The committee in charge was Thos. M. Keegan, Albert McDougall, Michael McMullen, James Fyffe, John Daly, John Norton, James Boland, Dennis Hallisey and James H. Cox.

BROCKTON WALLOPED

Gray Boys Landed on Two Pitchers

Interesting Game With Sunshower on the Side—"Shorty" Hickman Got Himself in Bad by a Childish Trick

The Gray boys again administered defeat to the Brockton bunch at Spalding park yesterday to the satisfaction of all. And they not only won the game, but they piled up eight runs and made many a poor fan happy who has been playing a pool and cursing the luck whenever he drew Lowell, for eight runs won the pool.

There were players galore on the Lowell bench for Manager Gray will give the fans a team if he has to try out an array.

Scott Fluharty, the Panama star, arrived in Lowell yesterday. He signed a Lowell contract two years ago, but refused to come here under the old regime. As soon as he learned that the team was to pass into the possession of Mr. Gray he sailed for the states. Having just come off the boat he didn't play yesterday, but will go in at Worcester today. Fluharty can play any of the nine positions, but will play right field for Lowell. McDevitt, who played right field, was released last evening. He is a promising youth, but Manager Gray decided that it would be better to have a seasoned player in the field at this stage of the game, which is excellent judgment.

The game went along finely from start to finish, the only unpleasant incident being a yellow little trick by Hickman that nearly caused a riot. Boyle was going by the Brockton players' bench on the dead run after a foul fly and as he passed, Hickman threw his handkerchief in front of Boyle's face. The latter caught the ball, however, and the crowd roundly roasted Hickman.

Pitcher Moore started the game for Brockton, but Lowell got to him in four innings and Martie O'Toole took his place. They then took a fall out of Martie, for they were on their mettle and nobody could beat them.

Brockton scored one run in the first in a most unusual manner. McLane, Donovan and Murch were on the bases with one out and Blanchard threw a wild pitch, which got in around the umpire's feet and was quickly smothered by Boyle. To the surprise of even the base runners themselves Umpire Rorty called to McLane to come home and the others to take a base, stating that the ball had struck him, thus entitling the runners to advance. There's such a rule, but it is doubtful if it has ever been applied in such a case before.

In the third, Shannon, Hickman and Slattery got hits in succession, Shannon and Hickman scoring, the latter doing a great base running stunt to get around. A beautiful double play by Howard on Moore's fly to centre, getting Slattery at the plate, closed this inning, and Brockton scored no more until the sixth, when Slattery scored on a hit and an error.

Lowell broke the ice in the fourth. Venable opened with a two-bagger and a wild pitch sent him to third. Fitz flied out. Uniac singled and Venable scored. Danzig hit for two bases and a passed ball gave him third. At this point a sunshower came along, but the teams kept playing. Howard hit to right field for a clean three-bagger, scoring Danzig. Hickman in returning the ball made a bad throw and Howard came home. The game was stopped for five minutes when the rain ceased and it was resumed. In the fifth Moore was taken out and O'Toole put in.

Boyle scored one in the fifth on a hit, a sacrifice and an error. In the eighth Lowell got three on a clean hit by Danzig, punk hits by Bannon and Howard, an error by O'Toole and a clean hit by McDevitt.

DIAMOND NOTES.

Just think of it my children, Lowell won the pool in the New England league yesterday scoring the greatest number of runs.

Scott Fluharty, from Panama, will play right field today, McDevitt having been released. Fluharty can play all the positions. Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Americans was after him until he heard that Scott had once signed a Lowell contract.

Now that we're permanently located at beautiful Spalding park it's up to the street railway people to be good sports and put in a spur track. It means money for the railroad and pleasure for the fans. With a spur track Spalding park would be in great demand for outdoor attractions.

Blanchard showed some nice curves and speedorines in yesterday's game.

Hickman fought with his teammates on the bench throughout the game.

Here's hoping we get out of last place today. We should at least split even with Worcester today.

The attendances are growing steadily and the great majority of the fans favor Spalding park. Everyone sees the whole game at Spalding park.

Tom Bannon is playing the game of his life, both in the field and at the bat. The fans who thought Tom had gone back owe him an apology.

It looks as if Rorty might make good after all. He's a trifle shy on balls and strikes, however.

Danzig has been suffering from the excessive heat all week, but he stuck to his job and gave a fine account of himself.

After giving it to Brockton as Lowell did the past three days, the Gray boys can beat anything in the league.

New Bedford is getting busy.

AMATEUR BASEBALL.

In the past years when the north and south ends of the city would clinch upon the diamond it was generally looked upon as the "only game" that the majority of the fans would care to see, for the most of them had the impression that the games played during the early part of the season were merely "draw on" games, which were run off for the sole purpose of getting the baseball fever of the city at its highest pitch. Such is not the practice at this present time, however, for the series which will be run off this season when the claimants of the city's "semi-pro" title will face each other, promises to make the enthusiasm which the city was boiling with last year, during the series of the Sanctuary Choir and the Mathews fade into Hades.

The opportunity of running off several series this year for the title is far superior to any which the teams have had during the past ten years. The teams which made it interesting for awhile are back again in the running this year, and the appearance of several new teams will undoubtedly make the others hustle, if their intentions are pointed in the way of the title.

Westford A. A. of Westford will cross bats with the K. of C. of Andover at Graniteville this afternoon and an excellent game is anticipated.

The ending of the grammar school so abruptly every year is discouraging to both the fans who follow the league and the nines having membership therein. Several of the managers of the teams have consulted with the directors of the league, which is composed of scholars of the high school and the janitors, who are selected yearly, for the purpose of having the league games extended. The time which is allowed in the schedule, it is claimed by the managers, is just long enough for getting the teams into shape. It is the earnest wish of the writer that the desire of the managers will be gratified, and that next year the schedule will run during the entire season.

The Belvideres and the Mysteries will play on the Lakeview avenue grounds this afternoon at 3 o'clock and a fast and exciting game is expected.

Dan Barry, who it will be remembered occupied the position of initial sacker on the Sanctuary Choir team last season, will be seen in a few of the games in the series with the Lowell Americans this year. Although signed by the scout of the New York American league team last year, and farmed out by that team to the Brooklyn team, he will be present at the series. Dan's playing has been considered marvelous by those who have witnessed him in action, and several have been known to remark that they would much prefer watching his graceful playing than to watch the actions of the remainder of the team. One might expect a player as young as Dan would have an attack of the "swellibus crainbus" upon his debut into the major league. Such is not the case in this instance, however, for he is the same unassuming genial and comical Dan, that he was before he attached his autograph to the parchment which made him a "big one."

Today's game, in the Stony Brook league are as follows: Iroquois vs. Crescents at Parker street; Pawtucket Blues vs. West Chelmsfords, at West Chelmsford; Brooksides vs. Forge Village at Forge Village and Graniteville vs. Middlesex at Middlesex.

The corporation league, an announcement of which appeared in this column within the past few weeks, is fast absorbing the interest of the fans of the city and several hotly fought encounters have already been recorded. The Tremont and Suffolk team, the last nine to join the league, is now well along towards the top of the staff and gives every assurance of retaining the first position when it lands there.

The following is the schedule for the L. & S. league games today: O. M. I. Cadets vs. Indians at North Billerica; Wanderers vs. North Chelmsford on North Common; Dragons vs. Dixwells, South Common and Y. M. C. A. vs. Mt. Groves, Textile campus.

The Young Chestnuts have organized as follows: Arthur Richardson, cf, manager; Joseph McEvoy, 3b; Jos. McVey, 1b; Thomas Quirk, c; Chas. Reynolds, 2b; John Nelson, p; Thomas Hear, lf; Edmund Duplisses, ss, captain; John Marshall, rf; George Hear, mascot. Address all challenges to Edmund Duplisses, 7 Chase street.

"Sully."

REPORTED FROM DIFFERENT NEW ENGLAND CITIES

BOSTON, June 26.—The great heat wave which has hung over the east since the first of the week was more oppressive yesterday than at any time during the present period of high temperatures. In New England a dozen deaths and upwards of 100 prostrations during the day and evening are chargeable to the hot blast. In Boston alone there were three deaths and fifty prostrations from early morning until a late hour last night. At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the government instrument on top of the high Federal building recorded a temperature of 94. The mercury did not get below the 90 mark until after 6 p. m.

The heat wave has caused intense suffering in the tenement districts of Boston and New England mill cities.

In this city last night thousands were driven from their quarters and spent the greater part of the night in the open air. Mills and factories in many cities were shut down in whole or in part and in many places building operations had to be suspended. In several instances suicides yesterday were attributed to the heat wave.

CASE OF SUICIDE

SOMERSWORTH, N. H., June 26.—The finding of the body of J. O. Bugbee floating in the Piscataqua river late yesterday, is believed to disclose a case of suicide due to the intense heat of the past few days. Bugbee was 52 years old.

SONG RECITAL

By Miss Ida J. Flint Frisbie

Miss Ida J. Flint gave a musicale at her home, 200 Liberty street, yesterday afternoon. Miss Flint's niece, Miss Gertrude Flint Frisbie, was the centre of attraction. She has just returned from three years of study in New York under Dr. Frank Damrosch and Madame Madeleine Walther of the Institute of Musical Art, and she sings beautifully. Yesterday afternoon she sang in German, Italian and English.

There were piano selections by Miss Bernice M. Moulton, who is very favorably known as a pianist. Miss Moulton also played Miss Frisbie's accompaniments. After the musicale, refreshments were served on the lawn. The program was as follows:

Ballade, Op. 47.............. F. Chopin
Miss Moulton
a—Fruhlingsglaube........F. Schubert
b—In der Ferne..............J. Brahms
c—O ihr Herren ....R. Schumann
Miss Frisbie
Valse, Op. 34, No. 1....M. Moszkowski
Miss Moulton
a—Aria, Marriage of Figaro,
W. A. Mozart
b—Lungi dal caro bene........G. Sarti
c—Aria, Don Giovanni...W. A. Mozart
Miss Frisbie
a—Mondscheinfahrt .... F. Bendel
b—Tarantelle Fantastique....A. Salmon
Miss Moulton
a Garden of Sleep ....I. De Lara
b—Who is Sylvia?.........F. Schubert
Miss Frisbie.

WHIST PARTY

HELD TO RAISE FUNDS TO PURCHASE ORGAN

The concert and whist given in the parochial school of Notre Dame de Lourdes parish, for the benefit of the organ fund, last night, met with a good attendance, notwithstanding the sweltering proclivities of the weather. The parish intends to purchase in the fall the organ used in St. Jean Baptiste church before the new instrument was installed there. Last night's affair was given under the auspices of Laval council, Union St. Jean Baptiste d'Amerique.

Dr. J. E. Nolet, organizer general of the union, was general manager and organizer of the affair, assisted by the following committee of members of Laval council: Octave Bastien, president; Henri Lemaitre, secretary; Geo. Poirier, treasurer.

The whist judges were Capt. Joseph Pigeon of Garde Jacques Cartier, Zeph. Loranger, Adolphe Marchand and Omer Sevigny. The officers of Garde Jacques Cartier assisted as scorers, together with the following young women: Misses Flora Bergeron, Adele Cote, Angelina Bilodeau, Elizabeth Sevigny, Amanda Madore, Amanda Richard and Marie Jeanne Bergeron. Dr. Nolet was master of ceremonies.

In addition to the whist there was a musical program. Miss Angelina Bilodeau and Mr. Alphonse Dyer played a piano duet, a trio was played by Miss Cora Renaud, violin; Mr. Samuel Renaud, 3d, cornet, and Miss Angelina Bilodeau, piano; Miss Emma Morel sang, accompanied by Miss Yvonne Loranger, and Dr. Nolet sang comic songs.

The prize winners were Alphonse Dyer, Rose Bilodeau, Amanda Richard, Alexandre Richard, Mabel Gaudette, J. Dufresne, Joseph Therrien, Nap. St. Amand, Louis Lord, Clementine Desmarais, Adelard Berard, Grace Berard, A. Nadeau, H. J. Turcotte, Mrs. Beauparlant, Mrs. Fremeau, S. Renaud, C. Renaud, F. Girard, E. Perron, Flora Desmarais, Joseph Roch, V. Bastien, A. Lafontaine, Yvonne Loranger, Albert Bresseau, Florence Roy, John Larocque, Emma Morel, Charles Larocque, Eug. Provencher, Ernest Duclos.

BRUTALLY BEATEN

Woman Has a Bullet Wound in Cheek

BANGOR, Me., June 26.—Mary Prescott, a widow about 65 years old, living alone on a small farm in West Hampden, was murderously assaulted by an unknown man late yesterday afternoon.

Shrieks and cries of murder were heard from her house by neighbors living about a quarter of a mile away, and on going to the rescue they found her on the piazza terribly battered and bruised with what appears to be a bullet wound in her cheek as if a revolver had been placed in her mouth and fired.

She was conscious but hysterical, and unable to give a connected story of the assault, more than that a medium-sized man of dark complexion, wearing a handkerchief around his neck, came upon the piazza where she was sitting and demanded money. She refused and he attacked her, a blow rendering her partially unconscious and she does not know what happened then.

Sheriff White and a squad of deputies are in search of the man. Mrs. Prescott is suffering intensely from the nervous shock and wound but it is believed that she will recover.

GOING TO EUROPE.

The following Lowell people are booked through Murphy's ticket agency to sail from East Boston next Tuesday on the Cunard line steamer Ivernia for Queenstown and Liverpool: Mr. and Mrs. William Myers, Mr. Walter McLean, Miss M. Arnold Banford, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bailey, Miss Blanche Bailey, Master Albert Bailey, Miss Theresa Flemings, Miss Mollie O'Donnell, Mrs. Sarah Tupin, Miss Winnifred Gallagher, Miss Mamie Calnan, Mrs. Mary Ogden, Miss Ethel Ogden, Mrs. Sarah Chadwick, Miss Edith and Master Robert Chadwick, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bonsildine, Mr. Andrew H. Mowatt, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Yerkes, Herbert Howarth, Mrs. Fannie Norris, Mr. William Brown, Mrs. Elizabeth Wallace, Alexander and James Wallace, Mrs. Emily Green and James H. Green.

FOUND GUILTY

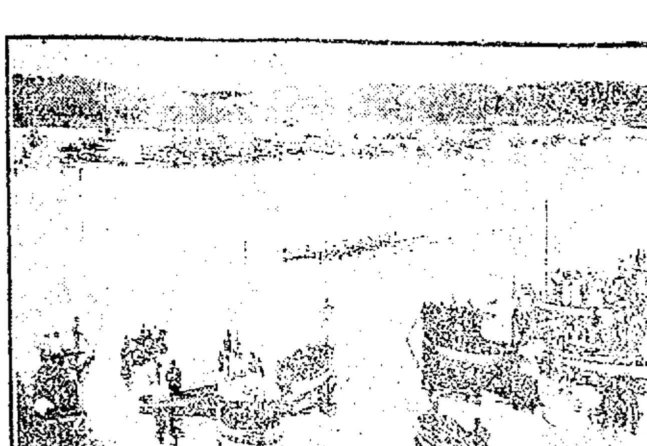
JURY RETURNS A VERDICT AGAINST HEINZE

NEW YORK, June 26.—Arthur P. Heinze, one of the brothers whose banking and copper interests have been under investigation since the collapse of their copper pool, was found guilty last night by a jury in the United States circuit court, of corruptly impeding the administration of justice in withholding the United Copper company's books.

Sentence was suspended by Judge Ray until Oct. 11.

The maximum penalty under the law is three months in jail or a fine of $500.

SCENE ON THE THAMES RIVER DURING YALE-HARVARD REGATTA



NEW HAVEN, June 26.—Even more interest than usual centers in the Yale-Harvard regatta this year because of the staunch hope that Harvard entertains of realizing her long cherished dream, that of defeating Yale for the second time consecutively. Harvard still remains the favorite, but Eli's sons are ready seemingly with an unlimited amount of cash to back their crew. Three revenue cutters already have received their orders for patrolling the course on the Thames during the regatta of July 1, and scores of steamboats and other craft have been chartered to carry crowds to the race. These, with the vast number of private yachts and launches, will make up the greatest flotilla of pleasure boats ever assembled on the historic course.

INCREASED TARIFF ON HOSIERY.

The increased duty on cotton hosiery is creating great excitement among the retail dealers throughout the country, and as a result many protests have been sent to congress. The proposed increase of 30 per cent. will enable the manufacturers to put up the price while foreign hosiery will be effectually excluded. The value of the hosiery imports to this country aggregates approximately $6,600,000 a year, while the tariff of about 60 per cent. ad valorem runs the total expenditure for this supply up to $11,000,000. The value of the domestic supply annually aggregates about $60,000,000. The retailers have called to their assistance the Women's clubs of the country and as a result strong protests are being sent to congress with the hope of having the conference committee defeat the proposed advance in the final draft of the tariff bill. The increase would make considerable difference to the women of the country, and in fact to every family in the country. There seems to be no justification of such a large increase in the tariff on this particular item of manufacture.

AVOID THE OVERLOADED ROWBOAT.

The overturning of a heavily laden rowboat and the loss of eleven lives in Killarney lake on Wednesday is a type of accident that is far more common than it should be, more common than it would be if people were not so venturesome in piling into a rowboat which at best is but a death trap. Such boats should not be permitted to take out large parties without a sufficient number of life preservers to save the party in case of disaster.

It is plain that when such a boat gets any great distance from shore it is in danger of being caught in a squall, just as was the boat on Killarney lake in which Mrs. H. W. Coburn of Lowell lost her life. We have seen frequent instances of this kind on rivers and lakes near home. In Boston harbor especially, the number of drownings due to overloading rowboats in doubtful weather have been quite alarming. They have been more frequent than they should be on the Merrimack river and many of our inland lakes.

Usually the sense of self-preservation alone would serve to prevent people from taking chances in such boats: but when the skies are clear and the water calm there seems to be but slight risk; yet atmospheric changes come so quickly that occasionally rowboats and canoes have been caught in a sudden whirlwind, a gale or a thunderstorm only to be upset with fatal results and the usual comment that the victims should not have taken such chances.

FOR A SMOKELESS CITY.

In the conservation of the resources of the United States, the matter of overcoming the smoke nuisance is one of prime importance.

Not only is the smoke nuisance a needless waste of fuel but it is also a cause of disease that makes vast inroads upon human life.

The total damage done by the smoke nuisance in the United States is estimated at $600,000,000 or about $20 per capita in the cities most seriously affected with this pest.

In addition to this must be considered the injurious effect of coal dust in promoting diseases of the lungs, such as tuberculosis and pneumonia.

About 150,000 people die from tuberculosis each year in the United States, and the medical men are of the opinion that of this number three-fourths might be saved by clearing the atmosphere of the coal dust so that during working hours, as well as at their homes, the people can have the advantage of breathing air that is not charged with soot and cinders.

It is very evident that people who are born and who have to spend their lives in a city in which the smoke nuisance is bad, must suffer greatly from the effects of continually breathing air laden with coal dust. Undoubtedly the nuisance alone is responsible for greatly increasing the death rate.

On the ground of economy the manufacturers who contribute to the smoke nuisance are thereby letting a valuable component of fuel escape from their tall chimneys. Imperfect combustion is the real cause of the smoke nuisance while the effects include reduced dividends, injured health, shortened lives and damaged property.

If by overcoming the smoke nuisance the deaths from tuberculosis can be reduced from 150,000 to one-fourth the number or 37,500, surely that is an object worth seeking. If we consider these lives merely from an economic standpoint the saving would justify the most extreme measures for the suppression of the smoke nuisance.

It has been demonstrated by government experts at the experiment station at Pittsburg, Pa., and elsewhere that the smokeless city is quite possible, but nowhere in the United States has it been proven more conclusively than at the plant of the Lowell Electric Lighting company on Perry street. For some years that company had been among the worst offenders on account of the dense smoke escaping from the tall chimney. During all that time, however, the company was looking for some practical means of overcoming the nuisance. At last it found the long-sought appliance, a mechanical stoker that puts the coal into the furnace under the fire instead of on the top as is the custom where the smoke nuisance is worst.

With the new arrangement there is very seldom the sign of smoke of any kind from the tall chimneys, and people are now asking, are these big chimneys really necessary? They are not needed to carry a volume of dense smoke some distance from the plant, for there is no such smoke. Unless they are needed for draught, they might as well be lower for neither coal dust nor coal cinders that might cause fires escape from the chimneys since the new device for mechanical stoking was introduced.

The question now comes, how long will it take other manufacturers to make up their minds to adopt this or some other device equally effective in eliminating the smoke nuisance so as to give us a smokeless city and thus prevent all the numerous evils resulting from the smoke nuisance.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Dr. Marie Stopes of London has just returned from a scientific trip through the coal regions of Japan. "The main object of my mission to Japan was to search for botanical fossils," said Dr. Stopes. "For 18 months I traveled from one island to another hunting for fossils in the rich coal mines that abound in that country. Fruitful though my search was from the scientific point, what impressed me most was the respect and kindness shown me by the people. I visited places where no European had eve set foot before, the unknown regions of Yezo, and even the squalid villages of the superstitious, semi-civilized Ainus, and yet I was always treated with the utmost deference."

In view of the resignation of Prof. George L. Goodale as curator of the botanical museum and Fisher professor of natural history at Harvard, the corporation has recognized his long and valuable services to the university by making him honorary curator of the museum of which he was for so long a time the active head. Prof. Goodale was graduated from Amherst with the class of 1860, and in addition to receiving the honorary master's degree from Amherst, as well as the degree of doctor of laws from the same institution and also from Bowdoin and Princeton university, he obtained the medical doctor's degree from both Bowdoin and Harvard. His first work as an instructor was done at Bowdoin, where for five years, from 1867 he served as professor of natural science. During the same period of time he also served as professor of materia medica at the medical school of Maine. At the close of this term of service he joined the Harvard faculty as a lecturer on vegetable physiology and instructor in botany. Through the successive stages of assistant professor of the former subject and of full professor of the latter, he received the chair as Fisher professor of natural history in 1888. Ten years previous to this date he was made director of the botanic garden, and both of these positions he has filled up to the present time. To take Prof. Goodale's place as active head of the botanic garden the corporation has appointed Oakes Ames, '98, who since his graduation has been a teacher in the department of botany and assistant director of the garden. His appointment will go into effect on the first of August.

Dr. Crawford H. Toy, who resigned as Hancock professor of Hebrew and other oriental languages at Harvard university, has been created professor emeritus in the same department. Professor Toy's work as a teacher has brought him into connection with many of the American colleges. He received the master's degree from the University of Virginia in 1856 and since that time has been honored with the degrees of doctor of laws by the University of North Carolina and by Harvard. As a teacher of the ancient oriental languages he has labored at Richmond college, Virginia, at the University of Alabama, at Furman university, and at the Southern Baptist Theological school. The last institution he left in 1879 and in the following year came to Harvard as Dexter lecturer on Biblical literature and also as Hancock professor of Hebrew and other oriental languages, the position which he has retained up to the present time.

The Rev. Caroline Bartlett Crane, vice president of the American Civic Federation, has just completed a course of lectures on sanitary matters in the leading cities of Kentucky. She was invited by the state board of health of Kentucky to deliver these lectures for the purpose of instructing the people in the best method for keeping their cities clean.

Because of Mrs. Crane's work in this direction in Kalamazoo she has calls from all parts of the country asking her to give lectures on the subject. Mrs Crane when scarcely more than a girl was called to Kalamazoo as pastor of the Unitarian church. The congregation was disorganized and the church property heavily in debt. One of the members told the new minister that about all they expected of her was to keep the church open for funerals. Since then she has built a $10,000 church, taught Kalamazoo the lesson of municipal cleanliness, and been a leader in various movements of social reform.

Professor Katharine Lee Bates of Wellesley college has won the prize offered by a Chicago musical society for the best words to be sung in a madrigal. The contest was open to both men and women, and a great number of songs were submitted by writers of both sexes.

Benjamin Curtis, of Curtis & Cameron, has been elected president of the Print Publishers' association, an organization composed of the leading art publishers of America and Europe.

Professor Charles Schuchert of the Yale Museum will pass next August in geological exploration of the Grand Canon.

Supreme Court Justice William J. Gaynor is now talked of as a candidate for mayor of New York this fall.

Outside of a few of our millionaires and a small number of botanists, not many people in the United States know much of the value and rarity of some orchids. In England and Austria they are much more popular, and many large collections may be seen. The big event of the orchid year is the Temple show in London, and the last one, which was held but a short time ago, was very successful. The display was unusually choice, and the total valuation of the plants exhibited was estimated at $225,000. Sir Jeremiah Colman alone entered orchids worth $100,000. The great novelty of the show was a little brownish red blossom only 1 1-2 inches across but worth $1250. It was the Odontoglossum Crispum Minore, and the only one of its kind known in the world. Incidentally it was named in honor of the horse which won the Derby for the king.

The most interesting development of the year for the City and Suburban Homes company of New York, was the purchase of $260,000 of its stock by the "Junior League for the Promotion of Neighborhood Work," of which Miss Dorothy Whitney is president. This money is to be used for a building, on the East river, between Seventy-eighth and Seventy-ninth streets, and across the street from John Jay park, to be primarily designed to accommodate working girls. The Junior Neighborhood league has stipulated that the building shall not be exclusively for working girls, lest it bear the aspect of an institution instead of a genuine home. Hence a number of families will be accommodated in the new structure. It is an interesting fact to note that the Junior league was formed eight years ago, and "does a vast amount of useful neighborhood work, co-operating with settlements, public schools, trained nurses, hospitals, and general charitable and philanthropic agencies." Its three hundred and fifty members are young women, whose names appear often in the "society" column of the newspapers. Generally, they represent large means.

POSTAL SLEUTH

Succeeded in Capturing Petrosino Suspect

NEW YORK, June 26.—Detectives all over the United States are still searching for the men who planned the murder of Lieutenant Petrosino, the New York police officer who was slain in Palermo, Sicily. Postoffice detectives are aiding the search, and many arrests of suspected persons have been made in various parts of the country. At Bellefontaine, O., recently Postoffice Inspector Oldfield arrested Chas. Viccarrio on suspicion of being concerned in the Petrosino tragedy. He formally charged Viccarrio with being a fugitive. Suspicion was directed to the man when the detectives were searching for Black Hand leaders in Ohio. Viccarrio insisted that he knew nothing of the Petrosino crime.

CHARLES VICCARRIO

Knew Nothing of Murder of Daughter

LEWISTON, Idaho, June 26.—Mrs. Albert Kight, mother of Mrs. Woodill, was found last night by a representative of the Associated Press at her home at Ashaka a settlement in the mountains 40 miles up the Clearwater river from this city. The news of her daughter's murder had not reached the secluded home of the woman and it was broken to her by the press representative. As soon as she recovered herself, Mrs. Kight related the story of her daughter's adoption by Charles H. Thompson in Minneapolis in October, 1890.

The separation of the mother and infant daughter was the result of the murder of the husband and father when little Anna Pearl Wirtz was less than one year old. The family at that time was living on Couse Creek, 9 miles above Asotin. The father was shot by Henry Grayson in a dispute over wages.

"After my daughter was adopted by Mrs. Thompson her name was changed to Edith May Thompson," said Mrs. Kight. "I heard from her quite frequently for the first two years, but knew nothing of her life for the last nineteen. She was the only child by Matthew Wirtz, my first husband, to whom I had been married less than two years at the time of his murder."

STAR THEATRE

"It's surprising how cool it is in here," remarked several people who witnessed performances at the Star theatre, 'neath the cooling breezes of electric fans, during afternoons and evenings this week. Excellent ventilating facilities tend to make the theatre a pleasant place when the weather outside is disagreeably warm.

Ed. Keene is a funny blackface comedian. He keeps the audience in good humor for 10 minutes. There is an overture by the four-piece orchestra. The singing orchestra renders "Transmagnificanbandanuality," or "C-a-t Spells Cat." Then there is the motion pictures, illustrated songs and the interesting talking picture.

Tonight's show will start at 6.30 o'clock to enable the management to run the regular number of full shows and to seat each and every patron during each.

THEATRE LA SCALA

To use a slang term the Theatre La Scala is the goods. Ever since this theatre has been opened it has enjoyed a steady and interesting patronage. The programs offered are the best in the truest meaning. The programs are made up with the greatest of care first that the subject is new and amusing second that it is suitable for production in the theatre. The apparatus and operators used in the projection of the pictures are the best that money and skill can produce. The songs are sung by vocalists unapproached in this or any other city, they have the voices, the know how and the willingness to sing and the result is popular song sung in the very best manner. The Theatre La Scala is cooled by two distinct systems of ventilation each large enough to meet with the approval of the state inspectors.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

"Sheridan Keene," with Jas. Kennedy in the title role, is proving to be a strong drawing attraction at Lakeview theatre this week where the attendance has been unusually large. Mr. Kennedy as the detective, "Keene," is giving a performance that is winning him approval from his many admirers of Lowell, while the remainder of the cast is seen to advantage in the various parts assigned them. Commencing next Monday evening there will be a change of bill for the week when the presentation of the laughable comedy drama, "Chuckie Connors" will be given. In this play will be seen Mr. Kennedy in the title role, the young Bowery boy, who pays a visit to his uncle, a country clergyman, and who during this visit renders valuable assistance to his uncle and aunt. "Chuckie Connors" is said to be one of Mr. Kennedy's best parts and the play is an interesting comedy drama of strong scenes in startling dramatic climax as well as many laughable comedy situations and should prove as equally interesting a play as that of the current week. Matinees will be given every day except Monday and seats for all performances are on sale at Carter & Sherburne's drug store.

SUPREME COURT

Decides Against Board of Health

BOSTON, June 26.—The full bench of the supreme court yesterday, in the case of the Boston board of health vs. Laurence Minot et al., declared unconstitutional chapter 119 of the acts of 1894 which attempted to confer power on the local board of health when it adjudged the public health required it to order the owners of private passageways to pave them at their expense to the satisfaction of the board.

The question of the constitutionality of the statute was raised by the defendants, who are owners of Butler's row, a private way off Chatham row. The board of health had ordered them under this statute to pave the row with material satisfactory to the board.

The court sustains the defendants' demurrer to the board's suit brought to enforce its order, and orders the bill dismissed.

The court says: "The present statute without even providing that directions may be given to cease using the way until conditions complained of have been remedied, purports, through changes which may be ordered, to authorize the impairment of the natural right inherent from ownership freely to use property not of itself obnoxious to the general welfare. It is not an unreasonable inference that cases might arise where the land owner would prefer to discontinue or abandon the way altogether, rather than to bear the required outlay; but no alternative is given after the board has issued its order.

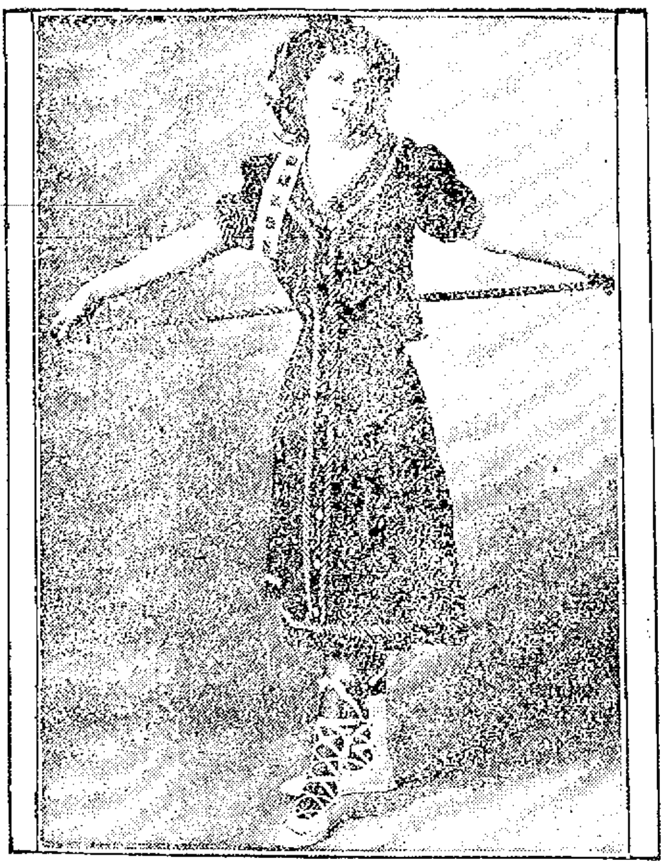
Young Women at Coast Resorts Will Carry Parasols to Match Their Bathing Costumes

An essential feature of the vacation wardrobe is the smart bathing suit, and all the young women at coast resorts this summer will carry parasols with their bathing costumes. These parasols are just a tiny bit smaller than the sort carried for street use. Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett has the credit of being the originator of the fad for carrying a sunshade with her bathing suit. At her summer home on the Massachusetts coast, where she takes her dips in the Atlantic during the season, she has often been seen using a small red parasol as a protection from the glare of the sun.



PRINCESS BATHING SUIT IN NAVY BLUE SILK.

~~The~~ best ~~type of bathing suit~~ this season is conspicuous for its simplicity. Women of refinement do not care to make themselves prominent among a crowd of beach loiterers by wearing dresses that are apt to invite unpleasant criticism, so they appear in dark suits cut in the latest mode and wear with them attractive accessories. At Palm Beach early in the spring the different styles of bathing suits are tried out and the winners decided upon. This year the blue ribbon went to a suit of black satin (princess in design), worn with a wide Dutch collar of Irish crochet lace.

In fact, all the frocks for the ocean dip worn at this fashionable resort were made of some dark colored satin or silk with a satin finish, and these materials, together with panama cloth, mohair and taffeta, are popular this summer. There is, too, a new shantung called "shed water tuscan," from which many smart bathing suits are being made.

The princess style is first favorite, although the tucked blouse attached to dart fitted bloomers, over which the carefully hung sheath skirt is smoothly adjusted, is well liked. The very attractive suit seen in the illustration is of navy blue silk, trimmed with bias bands of blue and white striped silk. White pearl buttons of a generous size make the closing down the front. A bathing cape, long, loose, an enveloping of cravenette, is now part of the bathing outfit; also a pair of high sandal-like boots, silk stockings matching the suit or trimmings and a becoming little headdress.

In such attire one can run the gantlet of hundreds of critical observers and come off victor.

FASHION HINTS.

SKIRTS ARE SHIRRED.

The designers have decided to put the full skirt on the market in so many ways that it must be accepted. The plaited one has already gained a wide showing, but some of the newer ones are shirred at the waistband in the old fashioned way. Others are put on with two rows of shirring to a little five inch hip yoke. At the foot line are two or three small ruffles to widen out the hem.

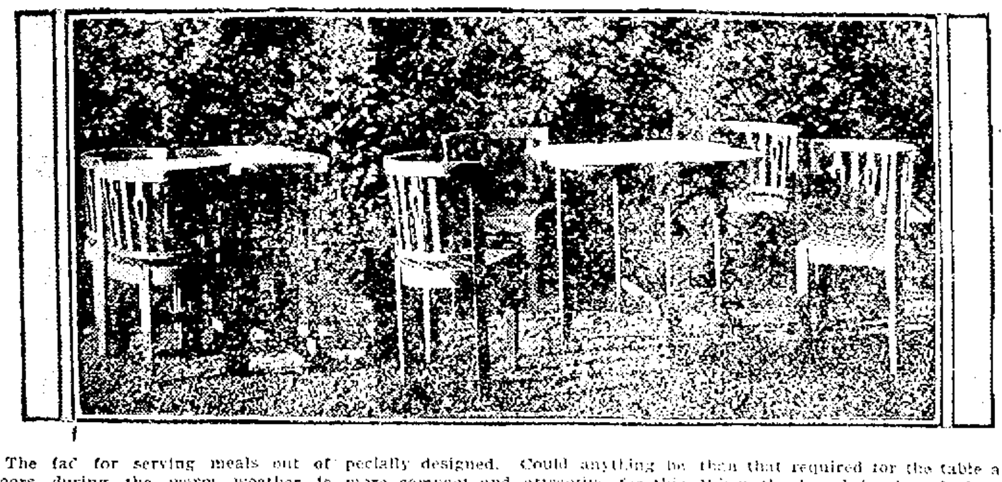
RUFFLED DUTCH COLLARS.

This season is certainly the undisputed "reign of the Dutch collar." But one tires of the stiff or even soft, plain, embroidered or lace edge sorts of collars. The situation is relieved with dainty ruffled affairs. Indeed, they are very easy to make—simply take a piece of wide embroidery and plait it into a ruffle, mitering the corners, of course. Likewise you could make them of lace edged lawn or net.

UNIQUE GARDEN FURNITURE



The fad for serving meals out of doors during the warm weather is steadily gaining ground with housewives who have a garden or porch suitable for such al fresco feasts. Now, for a small party of four out of door feasters the very unique set of furniture seen in the illustration is especially designed. Could anything be more compact and attractive for this purpose?

The chairs have delightfully comfortable cane seats and high rounded wooden backs that are shaped to fit exactly about the corners of the table. In this way no more space is covered than that required for the table alone. When the board is cleared the after dinner game of bridge can be played at the same table. These garden sets are to be had in white and leaf green, but an order may be given at one's dealer to paint them any desired shade.

WHY Woman's Work Is Never Done

SHE Doesn't Know How to Relax---If She Does Know She Won't---How to Get What You Need Out of Vacation.

"THE average woman doesn't know how to work. She doesn't know how to rest. She doesn't know how to take a vacation."

This remarkable statement was made by a man recently. It is very true.

Look at the way a woman works! No wonder that old proverb had a run:

Man's work is from sun to sun.
Woman's work is never done.

Humph! and likewise huh! of course, it isn't, and it never will be, either, because the dear thing is a natural born putterer, and putter she will until she dies.

Women who accomplish things have to overcome this weakness for detail first, and I'll warrant you that every now and then they have a relapse and feel heredity tugging at their skirts. However, to return to the subject, notice how a man works. During several hours he resembles a huge dynamo. If any person interrupts or gets in the way, woe to that person's head! And, then, all of a sudden, like calm after the storm, comes complete rest. He lounges; he smokes a cigar; he exchanges jokes with the office boy. You would size him up for the laziest man on earth, and you would make a big mistake, for he is only storing up strength for the next spurt. He has relaxed tension absolutely, and that makes him a first class machine for all of his days. But is a woman wise enough to do this and slip off the belt, figuratively speaking, and give her mental machinery a chance to cool off? Not she! She keeps her overtaxed organism at full tension the whole blessed time, and she putters, she fumbles and uses up whole days doing simple stunts she could put through in one single effort if she knew how to manage herself.

Poor woman! She has been the worrier of the centuries, and half the time she has worried over things that never came to pass. That's the pity of it. There are thousands of graves that have been caused by unrelaxed tension, by needless and senseless worry.

A woman takes her work home with her. She does it over and over in her mind. She eats with it, she sleeps with it, and she grows narrow and crabbed and stupid over it.

And the man all this time is growing brighter and stronger, physically and mentally, because he has learned how to let go, because he always has time to go out to dinner with a friend, to hear a musical comedy, to take a night off occasionally and to think of something else besides the eternal grind.

Vacation Means a Change.

Then take the subject of vacation.

What does a vacation mean? A dress parade? Sitting around and being bored to death? No, my friends; we undergo that sort of thing all the year round. It means a complete change. If you live in the city, it means the country; if you live in the country, it means the city; if your life is narrow and dull, it means sightseeing; if you are lonely, it means meeting interesting people. Ask yourself what is the very opposite of your mode of life and take that for your vacation. It will be just what you need.

The other day I spent a week end at the home of some very charming people who are decidedly intellectual. As you may have gathered from my fluffy style of writing and thinking, I'm not. The short story magazine style of reading suits me perfectly. I buy all those magazines every month. Well, to return to my subject, there on the table was every kind of new thought and intellectual magazine printed. There was nothing frivolous, so I just had to take what there was or sit with my hands crossed. There I was, up against it. Well, my dear friends, I lay flat on my back in the sunshine, and I read first one magazine and then ten or twelve. I devoured them as a child devours candy when its system needs sugar. I read all. There was a mound of solid thought literature which almost buried me. When I finally arose—and, let me tell you, I never felt so rested, so invigorated, in my life—I could feel a tickling sensation in my brain when long closed thought cells had opened out and expanded. I felt all a-thrill and a-tingle, because I had given myself the dandiest kind of a mental vacation—just the opposite of what my much abused brain was getting all the time.

Go you and do likewise!

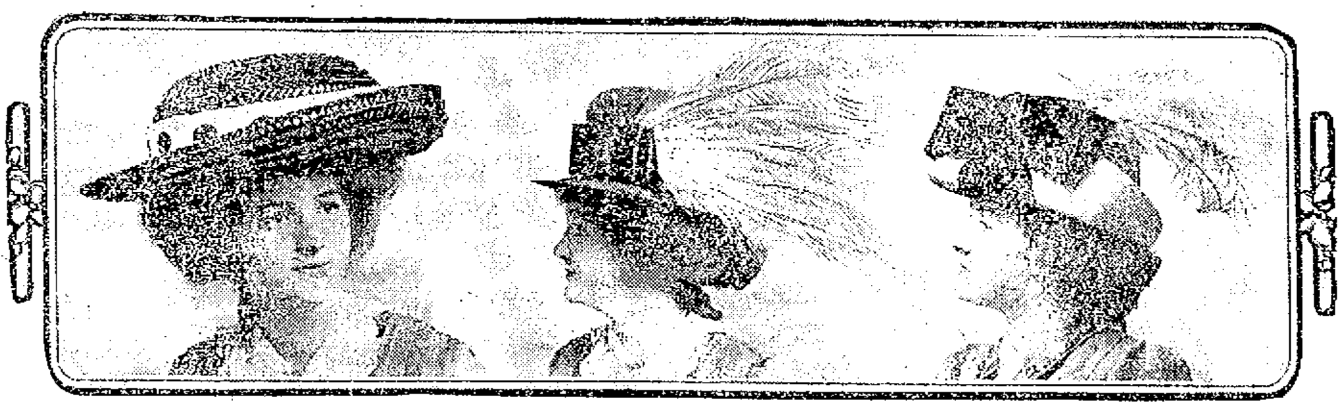
Some English Traveling Hats



The American woman is often seen at her best when in traveling costume. Like the English tourist, she has made a business of combining practicality with a certain amount of taste. Her neat, natty tailor made of lightweight woolen or some of the linen or crash wash materials this summer will be topped by a stylish close fitting hat.

Here are three serviceable hats for traveling wear, turned out by one of New York's smartest purveyors of English millinery, that have recently been sent over from dear old London.

Among them is the new sailor of black straw with an adjustable hat band. As seen in this cut, this band is of greenish ribbon shot through with gold, but the great advantage of this trimming is that it can be changed to match the gown.

For the woman who has passed the sailor hat phase of life the stunning small model of black chip will be found most attractive. The dome crown is just large enough to be pretty without being bizarre, and the flat bow of black velvet ribbon and the full white aigret are exactly the right trimming in the right place.

Black and white combinations in millinery are very swagger, and, reversing the order of things, the white leghorn hat adorned with a rather generous black velvet bow where the shape turns up becomingly at one side and its panache of stiff aigrets is exceedingly good style.

Plumage is not much in vogue for traveling hats except in pheasants' wings, tails and the ordinary quills. A number of the new models have straw trimmings shaped into large pointed leaves or bows.

KIMONOS OF RIBBON.

Some new kimonos are made entirely of ribbon, without any fullness on the shoulders, the underarm seam being made with an outward slope, giving a little fullness at the feet. The ribbon should be four inches wide, stitched together at the edges.

A NEW BRACELET.

With the long sleeve has appeared a new bracelet, which is of a chain kind with a pendant of artistic design, which falls loosely over the sleeve.

The chain is loose and is sometimes caught at the bottom of the wrist.

AN ASPARAGUS DISH.

That delicious vegetable, asparagus, is almost as hard to serve gracefully as it is to eat in the same much to be desired fashion. The silversmiths, realizing this awkward state of affairs, have put on the market an asparagus set in silver—real or imitation—[illegible] rack and sauce boat in one, with the tongs neatly fitted into their own place at the side of the dish. When the asparagus stalks are done to the queen's taste and laid side by side on the rack, the sauce boat filled with melted butter, it is time to bring into requisition the tongs for lifting the stalks to the serving plates.

What Milady Would Like to Know

HER COMPLEXION.

THE inequalities of the gifts of the gods are borne in upon a woman whose little housemaid has a complexion of peaches and cream, the texture of the skin like that of a baby. The mistress does not begin to have as good a complexion, and the point that most troubles her is an inner conviction that the little maid does not wash her face as often as is considered correct by persons who have been properly brought up.

"I know Mary doesn't wash her face every day," she told a friend recently. "I am morally certain of it, and look at her. I wash and wash and keep as clean as any person can who lives in a filthy town, and look at me. I look clean all right, but my skin is thick, and I've about as much color as a tan shoe. What's the use of trying to live up to moral standards when one has such a shining example of the uselessness of washing constantly before one?"

WRINKLES FROM HEAVY HATS.

Have you noticed how women are wrinkling their foreheads this summer in the effort to balance their large, overshadowing hats on their heads and to prevent them from toppling over entirely? The cartoonist who recently sketched a modishly gowned girl with her face so completely hidden by her big hat that a line from Vesta Tilley's popular song "I Don't Know Where I'm Going, but I'm on My Way," told the story and exaggerated the case very little.

It is absolutely true that unsightly wrinkles are appearing on the foreheads of women who affect this kind of headgear, and if they continue wearing these enormous shapes work to counteract the lines must be done daily.

And it is massage—a special stroke—that alone will smooth the corrugated flesh. This movement, contrary to the usual custom, must be downward, and there is a knack in not rubbing so severely as to stretch the muscles, while the motion acts upon the surface. There is no rule, however, by which the precise amount of effort can be given. It must be left to the discretion of each worker. The forehead at night should be rubbed thoroughly with cold cream, and then the tips of the fingers, put in a row at the edge of the hair, should be drawn down evenly and firmly to the brows. This must be done repeatedly until the creases caused by hours of wrinkling have been entirely removed. For the final two minutes it is well to rub with a light rotary motion. But an ounce of prevention for these forehead wrinkles is perhaps better than a pound of cure. Here is the way one sensible girl tries to get over the difficulty: Before putting on her big hat she takes a separate roll, such as is used for the foundation of a pompadour, and pins it securely to the middle of the head, making no effort to cover it with hair. The roll forms a cushion, through which the pins are run. The advantage it has over the other rolls on her head is in being light. Of course it does not show beneath the hat.

THE COAT SHIRT WAIST.

TOO CRITICAL.

A Munich servant girl has given notice to quit because she says that her mistress persists in playing classical music for a couple of hours every morning, although she has not the slightest notion how it should be interpreted.

NEW HAT HOLDER.

Taking care of a hat when one is not wearing it is always some trouble, and putting it away in a box, from which it must be taken out every time one wants to use it, seems a great bother, especially when one is in a hurry.

Various hat holders have been contrived, some useful and some not much of a success, but the best one yet seen and the most sturdy is a strong spiral coil of heavy wire, the bottom being larger around than the crown of a hat and the top much smaller.

A girl can buy these spiral wire holders and make them look very pretty and dainty herself. The wire must be covered with ribbon to match the closet fittings. The covering is done by fastening the end of the ribbon securely to the bottom end of the wire, then winding the ribbon closely around the wire all the way to the top. Each end should be finished with a bow. The closets should be furnished with as many of these holders as its owner has hats in use.

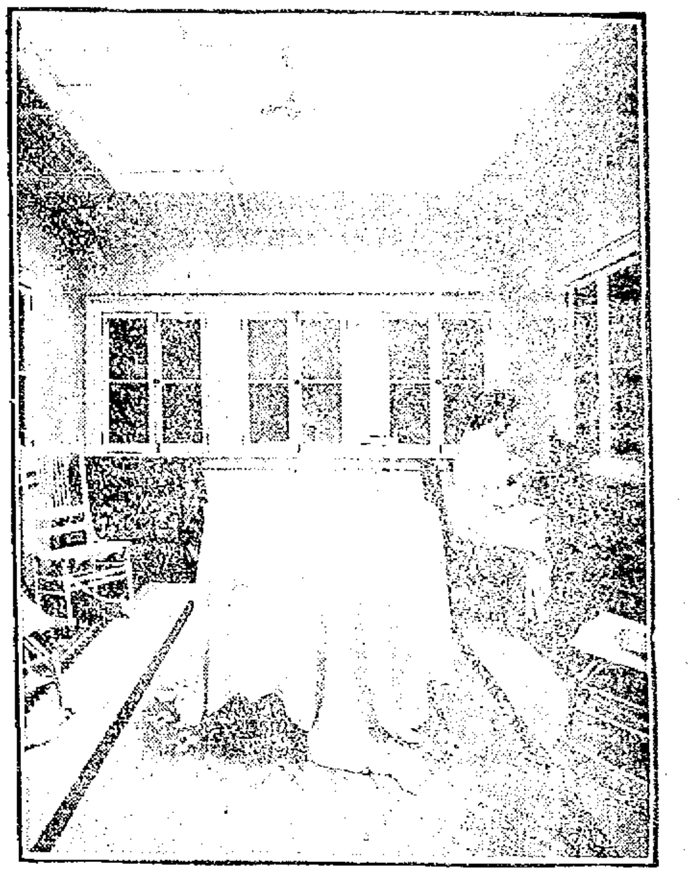
IRISH CROCHET CRAVATS.

The wonder is that more women do not take up this pretty handicraft. Irish lace stitches are easy to do, and the work goes rapidly, and, as every one knows, this lace is not only fashionable, but is one of the most durable laces made. Narrow insertions of Irish lace in the simple "fan" stitch are set into blouses of the smart Japanese crepes, and with these blouses are worn cravats in the same stitch with a tiny border pattern along the edges.

SERVANTS Have Apartments Set Apart For Dressmaking

AT Harbor Hill, the beautiful Clarence Mackay country estate at Roslyn, N. Y., there exist almost ideal conditions in the arrangement of the servants' quarters. The administrative ability of the clever chatelaine has been at work as untiringly planning for the comfort of the twenty-five men and women who form her staff of domestics as it has been for the good of the Roslyn public schools and the suffragette cause. The upper servants, most of whom are English, have their private dining room, living room, baths and gymnasium, and a certain number of underlings are detailed to wait upon them at table.

In most large establishments like provisions for the creature comforts of the servants are to be found; but, as usual, Mrs. Mackay has taken the initiative and is the first mistress of a large household to add a sewing room for the exclusive use of the maidservants. A large, well lighted apartment at the top of the house has been set apart for this purpose. The room is plainly but appropriately furnished. A sewing machine occupies one corner. A large cutting table is in the center of the room, and about it are grouped comfortable rocking chairs in which the seamstress may rock and sew her seam. In convenient places are to be found ironing boards, electric irons for pressing work and all the latest sewing conveniences.



MRS. MACKAY'S SEWING ROOM.

The electric light system is especially fine on the Mackay estate and is under the direction of an expert German electrical engineer. It is said that by pressing buttons in different parts of the house the entire estate may be brilliantly illuminated.

FRUIT RECIPES.

BLUEBERRY JOHNNYCAKE.

This is an old fashioned genuine New England recipe for a most delicious concoction: One cupful of sour milk, one teaspoonful of soda, one-half cupful of molasses, one cupful of cornmeal (the golden meal), one-half cupful of flour, a little salt. When well beaten and ready for the oven add blueberries. Stir in and bake in square bread tin. At least two cupfuls of blueberries should be used—more if the dough will cover well.

DELICIOUS HUCKLEBERRY CUSTARDS.

Stew the huckleberries in a double boiler, as you want very little juice. Half fill deep pie tins lined with a good crust and cover the fruit with a custard made of eggs, sugar and milk, as for custard pie. Bake in rather quick oven. Best to make individual pies for family use.

FRUIT CHARLOTTE.

Line a deep dish with pieces of sponge cake cut in strips. Mash a quart of strawberries and sweeten with powdered sugar. Pour in half the quantity of crushed berries over the cake, then add another layer of cake and top off with whole berries. Cover the top with whipped cream or vanilla ice cream just before serving.

PINEAPPLE PUNCH.

For a delicious fruit punch mix half a can of shredded pineapple with the juice of three lemons and four oranges; add two sliced bananas, a cupful and a half of sugar and turn into a bowl with a large piece of ice. Let it stand until time for serving. Then turn in a pint of mineral water.

MRS. FAIRBANKS A PURE FOOD CHAMPION.

Few women are more interested in the pure food matters than Mrs. Fairbanks, wife of the former vice president. She spoke strongly on the subject at the last meeting of the Indiana State Federation of Women's Clubs, saying, among other things: "It is criminal for packers of meat and food purveyors to adulterate the food which is taken to sustain life and which mothers must give to their children. You women are doing right to take up the fight for pure food, and when these men come to realize that women will have none of their poisonous adulterations, then, at last, they will come to their senses."

JUDGE GASKILL

OF SUPERIOR COURT STRICKEN WITH HEART TROUBLE

NEWBURYPORT, June 26.—A marked improvement was noted today in the condition of J. Francis Gaskill of Worcester, a member of the Massachusetts superior court bench who was stricken with heart trouble in this city yesterday.

Accompanied by his wife, Judge Gaskill was spending a brief vacation at the World Tavern in this city when taken ill. For a time grave fears for his recovery were entertained but today the attending physician said that the judge would undoubtedly recover. Judge Gaskill has been subject to attacks similar to the one with which he was stricken yesterday.

NEW BILL BOARDS

Booming Lowell Are Seen 25 Miles Out

TELLING OF LOWELL BARGAIN DAYS

The Work of the Merchants Association of Lowell—The Boards Made by the Kimball System

The "Boom Lowell" billboards, which are being erected in prominent locations in the surrounding towns are fast being completed and the remaining few will be finished in the next few days. These are the boards which the Merchants association voted at their last meeting to erect for the purpose of making the residents in the suburbs, within a radius of twenty-five miles, aware of the great bargains which may be had in this city upon "Bargain Days."

The contract for the boards are awarded to no other than the "Kimball system of course," and this company is holding up to every letter by rushing them out. The towns covered thus far are as follows: Milford, Ayer, Pepperell, Canobie Park, Andover, So. Lawrence and Lawrence, Mass.

GOLF MATCH

ON LINKS OF THE WOLLASTON GOLF CLUB

QUINCY, June 26.—The first interstate golf match between picked players of Connecticut and Massachusetts—ten men to a side—was played today on the links of the Wollaston Golf club, twosomes in the forenoon and foursomes in the afternoon. Many of the players were comparatively strangers when they met this morning at the little clubhouse perched upon the hills of Montclair, but within a few minutes firm friendships were established and the first pair started off on their 18-hole journey. The teams were made up as follows:

Massachusetts—H. B. Wilder, Vesper (capt.); Percival Gilbert, Brae Burn; J. G. Anderson, Woodland; A. G. Lockwood, Allston; M. Claflin, Wollaston; P. W. Whittemore, Brookline Country; T. R. Fuller, Wollaston; W. G. Chick, Brae Burn; C. T. Crocker, Jr., Alpine, and J. G. Thorpe, Oakley.

BROUGHT BETTER WEATHER CONDITIONS IN BOSTON

BOSTON, June 26.—A shift of wind to the northwest brought slightly better weather conditions today to man and beast after five days of relentless heat. Still the temperature again arose with the sun and at 8 a. m. it was 82, a rise of five degrees since sunrise, while the lowest during the night was 78, which point was reached at dawn. At least half the population in the crowded sections in the city spent another night in the open, the parks and other spaces as well as roofs being the resting places of thousands who found indoor conditions unbearable. The weather bureau held out a hope of showers during the day.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

It's worth the money just to get cooled off, to attend the show at the Academy today, for the theatre is equipped with special facilities for cooling and ventilating and is comfortable at all times. But aside from its advantage of being the coolest summer theatre in Lowell, the Academy is presenting the greatest summer show offered in Lowell, consisting of four reels of new moving pictures shown in Lowell for the first time and including the latest and best films from the leading manufacturers. There are also two illustrated songs on the program and a series of travellettes. A continuous show is given today from 2 to 10.30, without intermission or delay. Drop in any time and see a fine two hour entertainment. The admission is only five cents, and that includes a good seat. Reserved seats are five cents extra.

THE FOLLIES OF THE GLORIOUS FOURTH

BATTLESHIP FLEET

Assembling in Hampton Roads for Summer Manoeuvres

WASHINGTON, June 26.—With two months of hard work before it the Atlantic battleship fleet is assembling in Hampton Roads for the summer manoeuvres which will be extensive and exhaustive. The fleet may be divided into two squadrons and fight against each other, and a dozen torpedo boats will make attacks on the big battleships whose officers and men will be required to exert extreme vigilance also to guard against the stealthy little submarine torpedo boats four of which with a parent ship are attached to the fleet. Under Rear Admiral Seaton Schroeder, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet there will be nearly half a hundred ships of war ranging in size from the big 16,000 ton flagship Connecticut to the little 17-ton submarine Tarantula. Fleet drills and exercises involving tactical problems and battle revolutions will be held in New England waters during the latter part of July and the early part of August. Then the fleet will proceed to the southern drill grounds, south of the Virginia Capes for record and battle target practice. This shooting will occupy about two weeks beginning August 19. At its close the vessels will return to Hampton Roads and go thence to their home yards for any repairs necessary before the winter manoeuvres in West Indian waters.

Only 12 of the battleships of the present fleet made the trip around the world, the other fourth of the command are new vessels. The other ships have been thoroughly repaired and the newly adopted fire control mast which has been called the "inverted waste basket" installed. This summer's manoeuvres will afford the first opportunity for a crucial test of these masts. Four of these vessels will not be able to leave the navy yard for a week or more. The other 12 ships will proceed from Hampton next Tuesday for New England ports where the sailors and officers will be granted liberty from July 2 to 6. Four ships will be at Boston for Independence Day, two at Penobscot Bay, two at Portland and one each at Marblehead, Mass., Portsmouth, N. H., Eastport, Me., Rockport, Mass., Gloucester, Mass., and Boothbay, Me., the other two ships going where ordered by the division commander.

With the reassembling of the battleships at Rockport, Mass., on July 7 will begin the work of the summer. Together they will proceed to Provincetown which will be headquarters until August 2. From Provincetown the fleet will proceed to sea each week returning Saturday night. On these trips will occur the fleet drills, evolutions and by courtesy of the navy department the officers and sailors of the naval militias of several eastern states will be taken out for a week for instruction on the big ships.

At Provincetown the Atlantic torpedo fleet will join the battleships, consisting of a torpedo flotilla of 12 boats with the cruiser Dixie as parent ship and a submarine flotilla of four new submarine torpedo boats with the guideboat Castine as parent ship. At the conclusion of the exercises the big fleet will proceed to Hampton Roads to coal preparatory to target practice.

For the first time in the history of the navy the firing will be done on the open sea and the exact conditions of [illegible] target practice with as nearly battle conditions as possible. Night [illegible] under the same conditions will [illegible]. It is probable that [illegible] scout cruisers Chester, Salem, Birmingham and the armored cruisers North Carolina, Montana, New York [illegible] fleet of [illegible] Montgomery [illegible] which has been fitted up as a torpedo experimental ship will also be with the fleet. Secretary of the navy Meyer has been considering going to sea with the fleet during the manoeuvres to watch the work of the ships but has not yet come to a final decision.

While at Rockport, Mass., July 7 or later at Provincetown, President Taft may find it convenient to review Admiral Schroeder's fleet from either the small yacht Sylph or the bigger yacht Mayflower.

GRAND AMERICAN HANDICAP

CHICAGO, June 26.—A round of 20 shots today is to decide the winner of the Grand American handicap, the big event at the target meet at the Chicago Gun club. Four marksmen are tied for first place out of a field of 435 entries. Each of the quartet broke 96 out of 100 targets. After the shootoff of the Grand American today the amateur and professional championships of the United States will be decided. Those contending for the honors of the Grand American are: John R. Livingston, Springville, Ala.; Fred A. Shattuck, Columbus, O.; George Burns, Cleveland, and William Wettleaf, Nichols, Ia.

ABSOLUTE SALE BY PUBLIC AUCTION OF A PARCEL OF PROPERTY CONSISTING OF TWO BUILDINGS AND ABOUT 4600 SQ. FT. OF LAND AT 120 TO 128 FLETCHER STREET.

Promptly at 4.30 o'clock in the afternoon, on the date set apart, I shall offer and sell to the person bidding the highest at public auction this parcel of property consisting of two buildings and about 4600 square feet of land. The buildings have been recently made over and are now occupied by two manufacturing companies. The Crystal Comb Co. occupying one and the Lowell Machinery Co. the other. They are two stories in height and are adapted for any kind of light manufacturing, being heavy timbered, high studded, having cemented cellar, elevator, electric lights, water and a high door on a level with the floor, for freight. No. 128 is practically a new building of two stories and basement, very high studded. The present tenants, who are very good ones, have short leases. The total rental of the property is about $450 a year. The lot contains about 4600 sq. ft. of land with a frontage on Fletcher street of about 81 feet, and on the passageway, which must be forever kept open, of about 84 feet, giving fine frontages and an entrance to all sides of your property from Fletcher and Rock streets as this passageway runs clear through to said street. This is an excellent site for manufacturing and has many advantages not found in larger places of its kind. Now I think this a safe and sound investment for some wise speculator, and a good liberal mortgage can remain. All inquiries must be made of the auctioneer, who is in full charge.

Terms: $450 to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as struck off.

By order of ESTHER WOLF.

Next Saturday, July 3rd, at 3 P. M.

EXECUTRIX SALE OF THE McDERMOTT PROPERTY, CONSISTING OF A FOUR-TENEMENT HOUSE AND ABOUT 4500 SQUARE FEET OF LAND AT 19-21 WATSON STREET.

By virtue of a license granted me by the probate court, I shall offer for sale on the premises Saturday, July 3, at 3 p. m., a four-tenement house and about 4500 square feet of land. The house, which consists of four tenements, has five rooms to each tenement, water closets, gas, and is in good repair, and rents for about $384 a year. The lot has a good frontage on Watson street, and has an area of about 4500 square feet, which gives good yard room. Now this property is in an excellent location for the renting of small tenements, and it is within three minutes' walk of several large industries in this section of the city. This parcel should interest the speculator, as it is a grand location for renting property.

Terms: $300 to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as struck off. All inquiries should be made of the auctioneer, who is in full charge.

By order of ANNIE M. TASKER,
Executrix of the will of the late Kate McDermott.

Next Saturday, July 3rd, at 3.45 P. M.

A FOUR TENEMENT HOUSE WITH STORE AND ABOUT 3500 SQUARE FEET OF LAND, AT 93-95 KINSMAN STREET.

I shall offer for sale on the premises to whomsoever will bid the most for it at public auction, the above property. The house which is a two and one-half story, consists of three tenements of five rooms each and a store with four rooms with the other tenement. The total rental being about $400 a year. Now this is a property for some speculator, as a small amount expended will make the income much larger, as it is located within six minutes' walk of five large industries in this end of the city. The present owner of this property feels that she has not the time to look after real estate. For this reason she is selling it and it is bound to show handsome returns on the purchase price. When you take into consideration small tenements in a location so close to several industries, it cannot be otherwise than a grand investment. Now the man with a little money who could occupy one tenement and have the income of the others by purchasing such a place as this would be making a grand start for himself. The building is so placed on the lot as to give a good lot of yard room. Look this property up and remember that the sale is to be positive on Saturday, July 3, at 3.45 p. m.

Terms: $[illegible] to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as struck off.

C. F. KEYES in charge.

Next Saturday, July 3rd, at 4.30 P. M.

AT NO. 16 L STREET, A COTTAGE HOUSE AND ABOUT 917 SQUARE FEET OF LAND.

I shall offer for sale on the premises regardless of any condition of the weather my cosy little cottage house of four rooms, pantry, and water closet, and a good cellar. There are two rooms on the first floor and two good chambers on the next. I have occupied it myself for several years and I think that for someone with a small family who would like to locate in Centralville they should look this parcel up. The property is located on L street, between Osborn and Jewett streets, it being the second property from Osborn street. The lot contains about 917 square feet and is all fenced in.

Terms: $[illegible] to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as struck off.

By order of MARTHA J. WESTOVER.

THE WEATHER
Fair and cooler tonight and Sunday; light northerly winds becoming variable.

A DARING HOLD-UP

Men Under Arrest Charged With Highway Robbery

BOSTON, June 26.—A story of a bold hold-up on a trolley car was told in police court today when Joseph Lannon and Edward Cahill were brought before Judge Parmenter charged with highway robbery. The men were held in $2000 bonds each for the grand jury.

While Alfred Sacco, an interpreter in the superior court, and his friend, Joseph Calobro, were coming down Washington street in the heart of the city in a trolley car early today four men boarded the car at the corner of Kneeland street. They went to the front end of the car where Sacco and Calobro were seated and after engaging them in conversation attacked them. Sacco was badly bruised about one eye in the struggle and his watch was stolen. The conductor assisted the men attacked and the assailants fled from the car. Policemen gave chase and caught Lannon and Cahill while the other two escaped.

SENATOR DAVIS

Speaks in Opposition to the Tariff Bill

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Couched in characteristic language, an address was delivered in the senate today by Senator Davis of Arkansas in opposition to the pending tariff bill. Senator Davis found general fault with the measure as a tax upon the people, as a discrimination in favor of certain interests and as a promoter of trusts.

Contending that the republican party had failed to keep its promise to lower the tariff, he said that if that party had possessed the manhood to state boldly that it intended to increase the tariff, the places that know them today would have known them no longer forever, and they would have been a byeword in the land, their destruction inevitable.

Declaring that the tariff bill is virtually the product of Senator Aldrich and asserting that Mr. Aldrich had been elected to the senate by a legislature chosen by 11 per cent of the votes of the small state of Rhode Island, Mr. Davis contended that the senatorial supporters of the bill had shown great subservience to Mr. Aldrich.

Mr. Davis defended Mr. Bryan as the reputed author of the democratic platform. Even though Mr. Bryan might not be president, Mr. Davis expressed the hope that he would circumscribe the field of his usefulness, the field of his eternal greatness, by accepting a seat in the senate of the United States."

"The field is too small," said Senator Davis, "his powers of usefulness would be too circumscribed and a pitiable spectacle he would present indeed were he here today bound and gagged as are the hopeless minority, to the autocratic will of the senior senator from Rhode Island."

PROTEST AGAINST UMPIRES

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Formal protests against Umpires Perrine and O'Loughlin of the American league officiating at any more games in which the Washingon team is engaged this season was filed today with President Johnson of the league by President Noyes of the club. In a telegram to Mr. Johnson, Mr. Noyes said that the two umpires were working against the best interests of the national game in this city and that their work was "not even decent."

MORE HEAT PROSTRATIONS

BOSTON, June 26.—Notwithstanding the lessening of the humid conditions and the slight decrease in the heat, prostrations continued, four cases being taken to the relief hospital in this city, while in Cambridge Andrew Fimonski, 37, employed at a sugar refinery, fell dead shortly after beginning work at 5 a. m.

BLINDED BY HOSE

YORK BOY SHOVED IN FRONT OF A STREAM FROM AN ENGINE

YORK, Pa., June 26.—Charles Lark, 16 years old, son of Jacob Lark, has probably lost his eyesight by being shoved into a stream of water thrown from the hose of the Goodwill engine.

He was only about six feet from the stream and it struck him full in the eyes. When he arose blood was streaming from his eyes.

REFUSED TO SWEAR

WOMAN AT 87 WOULDN'T REPEAT BAD LANGUAGE

CLEVELAND, June 26.—Mrs. Mary Griffiths, 87, Olmstead Falls, and a 10-year-old child, Myrtle Ketchum, were the chief witnesses for Elmer M. Ketchum of Lakewood, who is being sued in common pleas court for assault and battery. Steve Dieska, a neighbor, brings the action.

Mrs. Griffiths and Myrtle Ketchum witnessed the difficulty. The old woman refused to repeat some of the alleged bad language.

"I'm 87 and never have said such things, and I will not do it now."

JOS. MARCHELLO

NOT YET LOCATED BY POLICE INSPECTORS

DEDHAM, June 26.—Although Jos. Marchello, a Walpole Italian wanted on the charge of having murdered Salam Yaamberg, a Finn, at Norwood, yesterday, has not yet been located Judge Emery Grover in the district court here today set July 7 as the date for his appearance in court. The police today stated that they had obtained several promising clues to the man's whereabouts. Henry [illegible], a Finn, was held by Judge Grover today in $500 as a witness.

LOSS IS $20,000

Fire Destroyed Davis & Sargent Buildings

A fire that caused a damage of between $15,000 and $20,000 and threatened much greater destruction was announced by two alarms, the first from box 84, situated at the corner of Westford and Gates streets, and the second from box 42 at the corner of Middlesex street, this forenoon. Had box 42 been the first to sound the damage would not have been so great as more apparatus would have responded and would have arrived sooner.

The fire which practically destroyed the long sheds used by Davis & Sargent for the storing of shingles and lumber of various kinds and situated in Middlesex street between McIntyre and Carlton streets, started from an ash barrel in the rear of 14 Carlton street. The sheds back up to where the ash barrel was standing and they were the first to be reached. A woman emptied hot ashes into the barrel and at least one man tried to put the fire out before the alarm was sent in. It was Fred Gallagher who sounded the first alarm.

Some of the oldest firemen in the department said that if a strong wind had been blowing the loss would have been very heavy, but fortunately the wind did not blow. The sheds and their contents contained the right kind of material for a big quick fire and it looked at one time, even in the absence of the shadow of a breeze that the flames would reach out to neighboring buildings and great fear was felt. Sparks spread to the roof of the synagogue in McIntyre street and to several other buildings. The scorching of a few shingles was all the damage done the synagogue but others suffered considerable damage.

There were busy scenes enacted about the time that it looked as if the fire was sure to spread. One woman to whose home the fire had already found its way became hysterical and refused to leave the premises. She had to be carried out.

Another woman in an upstairs tenement in Carlton street, threw a trunk out of a window. The trunk landed between two men who were watching the fire and they allowed they had had a narrow escape.

Considerable damage was done the house of Mr. Melane Duchans in McIntyre street. The back of his house was within a few feet of the burning building. All of the back of the house was burned, the windows were broken in and there was considerable damage by water.

Two houses in the same locality and owned by Owen Cassidy were more or less damaged by fire and water. These houses did not catch, however, until the department had found its bearings and the fire was confined principally to the rear of the buildings.

The house numbered 12 Carlton street and owned by John Callahan was considerably damaged as were other houses in the immediate vicinity.

The estate of Michael Maguire, numbered 672-674 Middlesex street, a brick building, was somewhat damaged. One-half of the house is occupied by Martha A. Clegg. A barn in Carleton street was badly burned. Russell Fox had the insurance on the barn and contents.

Thomas C. Lee & Co. held the insurance on the greater portion of the contents of the sheds that were burned. This company also held the insurance on the house owned by Owen Cassidy.

Hoseman Was Overcome

C. F. Stackpole, a hoseman from engine 2, was overcome by the smoke and heat and was removed to the engine house near by where he was attended by Dr. O'Connor.

GOULD VERDICT

An Appeal is Not Expected

NEW YORK, June 26.—It is believed that no appeal will be made either by Mrs. Gould or her husband from the decision of Justice Dowling yesterday granting Mrs. Gould the separation for which she sued and $36,000 a year alimony.

Mrs. Gould, who has expressed her gratification over the verdict will soon leave her farm at Lynchburg, Va. While it is possible for either Mr. or Mrs. Gould to bring an action for divorce, counsel for Mrs. Gould evidently regards this as improbable for the present at least, after Justice Dowling's disposition of the charges made by Mr. Gould against his wife.

The decision of Justice Dowling brought to a close one of the most remarkable court proceedings in the history of New York city. In the belief hat the case is ended, Mr. Shearn, counsel for Mrs. Gould, will sail for Europe in a short time.

UMPIRE CUSACK

MEADOWBROOK TEAM WON

LONDON, June 26.—The Meadowbrook-Long Island polo team defeated the Wembley club, four to two, in a practice match today. L. E. Stoddard is in the place of H. P. Whitney who is nursing a shoulder strained in the Anglo-American game of June 23. It is hoped that Mr. Whitney will be recovered in time to play in the second game for the American polo cup on June 30.

KILLED BY THE HEAT

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 26.—One death and several prostrations marked the opening of the sixth day of the hot wave in this city. Robert Spencer, 46, an employe of the Silver Spring bleachery, was overcome while at work yesterday. He went to his home at 8 Danvere street and went to bed. When his mother went to call him this morning she found him dead. This makes a total of six deaths. The thermometer today registered fully as high as yesterday, 97 being recorded officially but a breeze made things better. Thermometers on the street in shady places registered 110 in several places.

BISHOP McFAUL

Was Misquoted in Interviews

EASTON, Pa., June 26.—Bishop Jas. A. McFaul of the Catholic diocese of Trenton, in a signed statement to a local paper, declares that he has been greatly maligned by alleged interviewers in the controversy over the statements attributed to him relating to American colleges and universities. He denied that he attacked the morals of the students of the large universities and adds that those he has met have impressed him as gentlemanly young men.

What he did say, he declares in his statement, was that a magazine had asserted that some of the large universities taught doctrines subversive of Christian faith and Christian morals, and if that were true Catholics should not send their sons to such institutions.

WIFE OF ATHEIST

SANG AT HIS FUNERAL AS REQUESTED

SALINA, Kan., June 26.—A dozen or more friends of John W. Abbott, self confessed atheist, who committed suicide here Thursday by drinking carbolic acid, attended the funeral.

No sermon was preached, but James Toles, a friend, read Abbott's creed, written by himself, a part of which was: "No use for Jesus Christ." Before his death Abbott requested that his wife sing at his funeral a song which he had written entitled "Lay Me Low," and this part of the program was carried out.

Mrs. Abbott declared that she and her children had the same religious belief as her husband.

MRS. ROOSEVELT

SAILED TODAY WITH HER CHILDREN FOR EUROPE

NEW YORK, June 26.—Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt sailed for Europe today on the steamer Cretic with her daughter Ethel and her two sons, Quentin and Archie. The first month of their trip will be passed with Mrs. Roosevelt's sister Miss Carew, in the latter's villa near Rome. The remainder of the stay abroad will be spent in a tour of France which was designed especially for Miss Ethel's benefit.

LUCKY BEVERLY

WILL HAVE A FINE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

BEVERLY, June 26.—The Beverly city council has appropriated $1800 for the establishment of an industrial school. Through the co-operation of the United Shoe Machinery Company a fully equipped plant is to be laid out on Elliott street, representing an investment of from $25,000 to $40,000, for which no charge is made to the city. The practical work will be done at the factory under instructors provided by the company.

The city will provide the theoretical work at the new high school building and will maintain the instructors there. The shoe machinery company will purchase the finished product, so the boys who attend the school will be in a measure self-supporting. It is planned to put the plant in operation within a few years.

MRS. LODGE ROBBED

DAUGHTER-IN-LAW OF SENATOR LOSES VALUABLE LACE

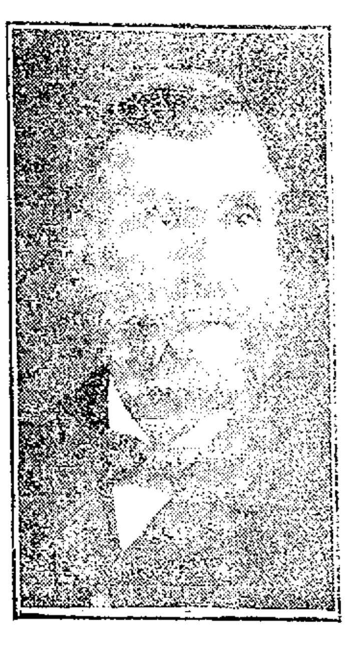
WASHINGTON, June 26.—Valuable lace, an heirloom in the family, given to her by her mother, Mrs. McCauley, wife of Col. McCauley, U. S. S., former military aide at the White House, has been stolen from Mrs. Geo. Cabot Lodge, daughter-in-law of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts. Although the lace disappeared some time previous to the closing recently by the Lodges of their Massachusetts avenue home and their departure for their summer home at Nahant, Mass., no trace of the missing lace has been found by the detectives.

CHAS. J. GLIDDEN

WILL ASCEND TO MEASURE HEIGHT OF HOT WAVE

FITCHBURG, June 26.—Charles J. Glidden will make an attempt today to measure the height of the prevailing hot wave. He will use the balloon Boston. A thermometer will be taken along for this purpose, and the promise of weather conditions is such that the attempt will probably be successful. A passenger on the ascent besides Mr. Glidden will be John Van [illegible], a civil engineer of South Framingham. The balloon will go up at Fitchburg and remain in the air until Mr. Glidden is enabled to make the measurement.

TYNGSBORO FETE



W. A. SHERBURNE
One of the Selectmen

REV. C. E. FISHER,
Who Will Preach the Sermon Tomorrow

100th Anniversary to be Formally Observed

The town of Tyngsboro is now in readiness to celebrate the 100th anniversary of its incorporation, and it is expected that hundreds of former residents of the place will visit the town in order to assist in the centennial. It will be a three days' observance, opening tomorrow with religious services in the First Unitarian church, while on Monday and Tuesday there will be banquets, band concerts, receptions, excursions, sports, etc., for the entertainment of the people of the town and the many visitors who it is expected will be attracted to the pretty town on the banks of the Merrimack river.

The following invitations have been sent out and everyone young and old is welcome to the town:

In the year 1809 Tyngsboro came forth from the wilderness as an incorporated town. It is therefore fitting that this event should be celebrated at the completion of 100 years, by the home coming of the sons and daughters of his picturesque town, to join in the festivities and renew bygone acquaintances. Preparations have been made to observe this anniversary in a fitting manner and as the success of the celebration depends wholly upon the spirit of loyalty of all former residents of the town, or of those who are interested in its welfare, the invitation is cordially given to you to be present and partake of the viands for both mind and body that await your home coming.

Rev. James Danforth,
Otis L. Wright,
Wallace P. Butterfield,
Committee on Arrangements.

Program of Celebration

The Boston & Northern Street Railway company has made special arrangements for the transportation, and no matter how large the number of people who attend the exercises during the three days there will be plenty of cars to care for them.

The following is the program for the celebration:

SUNDAY

Centennial service in the First Parish church at 3 p. m. This is a public meeting held under the direction of the anniversary committee, and not only the townspeople, but any others who may so desire will be welcome to attend. The order will be as follows:

Organ voluntary.
Anthem, "God of Our Fathers," Weber male quartet of Boston.
Invocation.
Anthem, "Sound Over the Waters," quartet.
Hymn, tune, Greenville.
Responsive Reading.
Prayer.
Response, "The Lord Is God," quartet.
Scripture reading.
Hymn, tune, Naomi.
Sermon, Rev. Chas. E. Fisher, Lowell.
Anthem, "Sunset," quartet.
Hymn, tune, Webb.
Benediction.
Postlude.

MONDAY

9.30—Ball game between picked nines [illegible].

11—Rededication of old Winslow school hall.

12.30—Banquet of the Winslow school alumni. Rev. James Danforth will preside and there will be short speeches. Attendance will not be limited to the [illegible] who are interested may attend. A charge of 50 cents will be made for the [illegible] which will be served by a caterer.

3—Excursion on the Merrimack river especially designed for former residents of the town.

8—Reception in the town hall. Music by [illegible] orchestra of Nashua.

TUESDAY

10—Band concert [illegible] school house. Waltham Watch company band.

12.30—Banquet and historical address. Charles [illegible], a former resident, will be toastmaster, and his brother, James [illegible] of Lowell will make the historical address. There will be other speakers.

3.30—Band concert.

8—Ball in the town hall. Music by Waltham orchestra.

The decorators are now putting the finishing touches on the public buildings, the square and many of the private residences, and tomorrow, when the celebration starts, there will be a profusion of flags, bunting and streamers throughout the town, together with a large electrical sign bearing the inscription "Welcome."

In the centre of the town there is a beautiful array of bunting, American flags, bunting and vari-colored flags being suspended on ropes and wires across the square and the roads leading into the square.

The front of the town hall is one mass of decorations. Besides the red, white and blue bunting suspended from the ridgepole to the eaves of the slanting roof, there are festoons of streamers placed at points of vantage over the entire front.

The approach to the hall is decorated with American flags and bunting, while on top of the porch is the seal of the town. In the centre of the seal is the Tyng coat of arms which consists of a shield on which are three white doves while over the shield is a unicorn. The inscription on the seal is as follows:

TOWN OF TYNGSBORO
A District 1789
Incorporated 1809
(coat of arms)
Tyng Coat of Arms
MASSACHUSETTS

The Winslow school, just beyond the hall, is covered with decorations.

Among the other prominent decorations are those at Nelson Perham's store in the square and the residence of A. A. Flint and Mrs. Harlow.

NEW DYE HOUSE

To be Built by Bigelow Carpet Co.

The new dye house to be built by the Bigelow Carpet Co., in this city, will be 687 feet long and 46 feet wide. Plans and specifications, by Charles T. Main of Boston, the mill engineer and architect in charge, call for a brick building comprising a central structure with two wings. To make way for these the old dye house is to be torn down and the old underground boiler house and coal pocket are to form the basement of the central building. The latter is to be of five stories and will occupy a portion 125 feet in length. It will be of mill construction with wooden sawtooth roof and will be used as a laboratory and also for storage purposes. The wings are of about equal length, approximately 280 feet and two stories in height, with reinforced concrete floors and roof. Only one of the wings will be built at present.

BUG DESTROYER

INVENTED BY A NEW HAMPSHIRE MAN

A New Hampshire man has invented a bug destroyer, an instrument of death intended especially for the destruction of gypsy and brown-tail moths and he is anxious to give it a tryout in Lowell. It is a sort of fan [illegible] that works in connection with [illegible] lights. The light lures the bug to the machine so to speak and the suction fan does the rest. [illegible] has not yet been asked to [illegible] but it was stated today that the inventor would be given an opportunity to demonstrate his machine here. He will do it at his own expense and if the machine makes a good showing the park commission may buy a few of them providing they don't come too high.

HEAVY LOSS BY FIRE

TRENTON, N. J., June 26.—A considerable portion of the plant of the Trenton Rubber company situated outside of this city was destroyed by fire early today. The loss is about $100,000.

LATEST

MURDER OF WOMAN

Robbery Believed to be the Motive for the Tragedy

BALTIMORE, June 26.—Robbery as a possible motive for the killing of Mrs. Woodill was advanced here today when it was learned that a man answering the description of Eastman pawned in this city on Tuesday two diamond rings and a diamond brooch valued at $500. Eastman was in Baltimore that day. Jewelry worn by Mrs. Woodill when last she was seen has not been accounted for.

The full text of the letter found on Eastman and addressed to Vinnie Bradcomb, his wife, giving his circumstantial version of the killing of Mrs Woodill by another woman was made public today. Eastman claims the murder was committed in a bungalow instead of in a launch as first stated.

The letter follows:

"Vinnie—Take this money and go at once to McDaniel, Talbot county, Md., and claim my body and all my property. The property consists of 22 acres of land and a bungalow. There is also, a motor boat. Have a sale and convert the whole thing into cash. I don't owe a cent excepting for the paint and pump, etc., which Shanahan & Wrighton of Easton will be glad to get back as it is not broken, just as it was shipped. Little girl, I had no hand in the tragedy. Was there and removed the evidence after the other two couples fled. I did this for self preservation and am haunted. The victim was my particular friend and we were well mated. Have only known her three weeks, we all, that is two men and two other women from Annapolis, went to the bungalow for a time. Everyone got full excepting Edith and myself. Edith tried to win one of the girl's fellows while lying on the bed with him and was hit three times on the side of the head with a full bottle of champagne and the fellow hit once. She fell over on the floor and died. The man did not come to for an hour. I was left with the corpse and cannot take a chance for a trial. Life to me is very bitter and I will put down the shades and say 'good bye.' You can claim my property and say as little as possible but get it. I am awfully sorry for you and our boy and I have been hoping madly to make your path clear . . . fate is against me.

"Take Penna. train to Easton, Md., and then change to B. C. & A. Don't neglect this. The property is valuable."

With the making public today of the full text of Lame Bob Eastman's version of the death of Edith May Woodill as related in the letter he sought to mail to Vinnie Bradcombe, his wife, a new interest has been added to the tragedy of the lonely bungalow on the shores of one of the maze of tidal streams that put in here from the Chesapeake bay. But robbery as a possible motive for the crime now has been advanced. Word comes from Baltimore that a man answering the description of Eastman in every detail pawned in that city on Tuesday last two diamond rings and a diamond brooch valued at $500. Diamond rings, a diamond brooch and a diamond seal bracelet worn by Mrs. Woodill when she last was seen alive with Eastman never have been accounted for.

It is likely that the jewelry will be sent here for identification.

If it proves to be that of Mrs. Woodill, as now believed, an entirely new light will be shed on the strange tragedy. Eastman went to Baltimore on Tuesday and mailed from there a letter written by Mrs. Woodill previously to her sister at McDaniel. Eastman's story of the crime—which he declared was committed by a drunken woman in a fit of jealous rage—is so circumstantial and seems in a way so much like the sincere declarations of a man about to take his own life, however, that Foreman Radcliffe of the coroner's jury which was inquiring into the death of Mrs. Woodill is convinced of its truth.

Mr. Radcliffe again today postponed the inquest to await some action by the law officers.

The latter are still inclined to take but little stock in Eastman's declarations pointing out that his whole life here was a continuous lie and that he invented so many false stories that this last one—attempting to throw the blame for murder on the shoulders of another—is unworthy of belief. They believe the letter may have been written in an attempt to shield his wife and boy from a final stigma from an unworthy husband and father.

It was believed yesterday that Eastman had said the murder was committed in a launch. Eastman left with the letter $148.

State's Attorney Turner declared today that he would employ assistance and ask the co-operation of the Baltimore police. The latter, however, adheres to the theory that it was Eastman who committed the deed. Detective Captain Humphrey of Baltimore explained his theory in detail. He believes that despite Eastman's declaration that Mrs. Woodill was not a new acquaintance, that the two were old friends, and that the woman was killed from motives of jealousy when, after postponing her departure to join her husband, she finally declared she was going back to her home in Los Angeles, Cal.

Down here where Mrs. Woodill lived as a girl the neighbors of her foster father and old Col. Thompson himself hold the theory that the girl was killed in repulsing Eastman's advances.

The mystery seems far from being really cleared up today and one of the clues yet to be run down is the locating of the men who were to visit Eastman's bungalow the night of June 18. This letter found in Eastman's bungalow and addressed to "Roberts," as he was known here, was as follows:

"Eastman, Pa

"Dear Roberts:—Ryan and Shotwell will arrive Oxford boat 12 o'clock tonight. Captain Lee will take us over to your joint. Get there about 12:40, but must leave after looking the place over. Sorry you have decided not to go this time. Girls all at Annapolis. Here is to the one you sent for me.

"Yours,

(Signed) Howarth."

There had been a party at the bungalow prior to the arrival of Mrs. Woodill there on the 19th, and this fact may have given Eastman his idea for an explanation for the crime if it should turn out that his declarations are false.

Several persons along the road it was said today heard Eastman and Mrs. Woodill quarrelling as they drove from Royal Oak station where he met her Saturday last to the wharf at McDaniel where she was seen for the last time alive entering a motorboat with the man who died a suicide while accused of her murder.

DETECTIVE PUMPHREY'S THEORY

BALTIMORE, June 26.—Detective Captain Pumphrey of the Baltimore police, who has been engaged in work upon local clues connected with the Woodill tragedy, scouted the idea today that a woman committed the murder.

"From what I have discovered," he said, "I have no doubt that Eastman and Mrs. Woodill were old friends. I do not think it was a mere coincidence that brought him to live within a stone's throw practically of her foster-father's home. I believe that Eastman was in California recently and that he came to the eastern shore of Maryland, knowing that Mrs. Woodill soon was coming east.

"Mrs. Woodill had intended returning west a few days after her husband left but when she found Eastman domiciled near her father's home she could not resist playing with fire. While she lingered here she received a letter from her husband urging her to meet him at Detroit at once. Mrs. Woodill showed this letter to a friend and declared that she would not go back west right away as she had decided to pay a visit of several weeks on the eastern shore. We know that when Mrs. Woodill did go to her father's home she saw a great deal of Eastman. I believe that at last Mrs. Woodill informed Eastman that she intended to go back west to join her husband and that he became insanely jealous and forbade it.

"It is easy to conjecture that there were mutual threats. Mrs. Woodill had been told much of Eastman's past life and she could easily have threatened to disclose his identity to the authorities."

TO CLAIM BODY

NEW YORK, June 26.—Mrs. Robert Eastman, known on the stage as Vinnie Bradcombe, left here today to claim the body of her husband, who died a suicide following the killing of Mrs. May Edith Thompson near St. Michael's, Md. A younger sister accompanied her.

ENGAGING ROOMS

Forerunner of Races Strikes Varnum Ave.

Perhaps the automobile races aren't going to bring crowds to Lowell. A few days ago a New York man went the rounds of the houses in Varnum avenue trying to hire rooms in each house for the first week in September. The stranger had money galore and offered $2.50 per night for all the rooms he could get regardless of size and location, guaranteeing to use them for one week. It is not known whether he engaged many but it is a fact that he was refused in several cases as the residents who have rooms to dispose of preferred to do business with their roomers directly.

KILLED HIMSELF

John R. Halsey Committed Suicide

ELIZABETH, N. J., June 26.—A self-inflicted revolver shot in the temple ended today the life of John R. Halsey, secretary of the celluloid company of Newark with offices in New York city. Halsey was found dead in the bathroom of his handsome residence here. Overwork and depression from the heat is assigned by the family as the probable reason for the suicide.

STATE PARADE

Of C. T. A. Union May be Held Here

The semi-annual election of officers of the Mathew Temperance Institute will take place tomorrow morning at the weekly meeting of the society, and what looked at first to be a most interesting election, promises to be a quiet affair. Although there will be changes in the board of government yet there will be very few, if any contests. Pres. James J. Gallagher will be re-elected, the custom of giving a president the second term being a time honored one. In Pres. Gallagher the institute has found an energetic worker and his election is assured. Vice Pres. James F. Riley is now holding a responsible position in Pennsylvania and hence will not seek a re-election to the office. As the candidate for this office, Mr. John E. Sullivan has been selected, and in him the members are confident they will have a most efficient officer. For many years Mr. Sullivan has given of his time and talents to a promotion of the society's work and it is generally felt that when Pres. Gallagher retires, Mr. Sullivan will fill the office of president with great credit. He is a brother of Ex-Pres. Humphrey F. Sullivan, and the late Charles F. Sullivan, the latter at one time vice-president of the institute. For treasurer, Peter F. Brady, one of the old guard, is the only candidate. All the other officers will be re-elected, and the election promises to pass off quietly.

The annual parade of the Holy Family Temperance League will be held in Boston tomorrow, and a number of members will attend. Several ex-presidents of the society will serve on the staff of Chief Marshal John J. Leonard.

Tomorrow, after a stay of seventeen years, the institute will hold its last meeting in the Mansur block, the removal of the quarters to the Dutton street building taking place next week. The institute has enjoyed great prosperity in the old quarters, but feels that there are many benefits to be derived from the change.

There is a growing sentiment in favor of holding a big state parade in Lowell on Fr. Mathew day in October, and the society may discuss the matter before the summer season closes. It is seven years since the big temperance parade was held here, and those who participated in it recall what great success was met with and what a capable committee handled the arrangements. It might be added also that the same committee conducted a harvest fete in the same year and it was without doubt the most successful event from a financial standpoint ever conducted by the society. Thomas H. Gallagher was president of the society and John J. Galvin was chief marshal of the parade.

MYSTERIOUS PACKAGE

Was Addressed to U. S. Commissioner Shields of New York

NEW YORK, June 26.—A mysterious package which was received at the office of U. S. Commissioner Shields in the federal building today caused speculation as to whether it contained an explosive. Its opening was deferred until Monday with the intention of exercising caution. On one of the wrappings was the inscription: "This package contains records which went through the hands of the squarer of the circle. This package shall not be opened until the 15th year of the death and departing of Ben Bernstein from the planet—this planet."

It was delivered by express and directed to Mr. Shields. Bernstein was found in his room in West 100th street making clippings from newspapers and placing them on larger sheets on each of which Bernstein recorded suggestions of reforms. He declared that he sent a package of such clippings to Mr. Shields and has sent similar packages to the government of many countries, the New York legislature and justices of the supreme court of this state. Bernstein said he was an inventor.

FRANKLIN HOUSE

Creditors Withdraw Their Objections

The police commissioners held a meeting this forenoon to consider the Holden case on which a hearing was held yesterday. While the commissioners were behind closed doors, Messrs. John J. Hogan, J. Joseph O'Connor and Major Crowley were in the reception room talking the matter over and after a while George C. Dempsey, said to be the principal creditor, came in. Mr. Brennan, who seeks the license, is an employe of Mr. Dempsey, and at the hearing yesterday the legal talent present objected to the granting of the license to Brennan. This morning, however, after a conference with Mr. Dempsey, they appeared before the commissioners and withdrew their objection. The commissioners adjourned without granting the license although the license held by Mr. Holden was surrendered yesterday.

THE HEAT

CAUSED ONE DEATH AND MANY PROSTRATIONS IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, June 26.—Although prostrations from the heat today were numerous but one death from that cause had been reported up to 2 p. m. At that hour the thermometer was four degrees under the maximum of 92 recorded yesterday afternoon, standing at 88 degrees.

TAKEN TO LYNN

Victim of Auto Accident Leaves Hospital

Mrs. Joseph P. Breed of Lynn, one of the victims of the recent automobile accident in Littleton, Mass., in which her husband was killed and her son-in-law, Henry Berry, a well known lawyer, and herself were badly injured, was removed today from the Lowell General hospital to her home in Lynn in a big limousine ambulance from Boston, which attracted considerable attention as it passed through the streets on its way to Lynn. Mr. Berry will be removed tomorrow. Mrs. Breed is progressing favorably, and Dr. Gage of this city, who has been attending her, will continue to make daily visits to her home in Lynn until she has recovered. The accident happened some few days ago while the party was returning from Templeton, Mass., to Lynn. The victims were removed from Littleton to the Lowell General hospital, except Mr. Breed, who was killed outright. Since the accident the family of Mr. and Mrs. Breed have been constantly by their bedside, making their headquarters at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Nichols, 338 Varnum avenue.

The funeral will be held from the residence of Mr. Robinson in Witham avenue, Dracut, on Monday, June 28, at 2 o'clock. Funeral in charge of Undertaker J. A. Weinbeck.

HUNTING FOR LEON LING

NEW YORK, June 26.—The police look for important developments in the search of Leon Ling as the outgrowth of the out of town trip undertaken by Captain Michael Galvin of the department in company with Quon Yik Nam, the Chinese interpreter. The pair left the city quietly yesterday for an unknown investigation. Galvin is captain of the Elizabeth street precinct and is credited with being one of the best informed men of the force on the Chinese and their ways and his resources are believed to be sufficient to have brought to light tangible clues in the Chinese quarter.

CHOLERA INFANTUM FOR TWO MONTHS HENCE WILL STALK THIS CITY.

CAUGHT IN DERRICK

Paul Gardner had two fingers of his hand caught in a derrick at the Moore mill yesterday. A doctor was summoned and it was found necessary to amputate the middle finger. He was later taken to his home in Dunstable.

CUTTS TO WED

HARVARD MAN TO MARRY DORCHESTER GIRL

BOSTON, June 26.—One of the prominent graduates at the Harvard class day exercises was Oliver F. Cutts, the famous tackle of the invincible 1901 Harvard eleven. He is now a lawyer in Seattle, Wash.

His long trip east was prompted by something more important than attending the commencement festivities. On June 30 he is to be married at the Second Congregational church, Dorchester, to Miss Eugenia Ayer of 2 Burt street, Dorchester, a Smith '08 graduate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellmore C. Ayer.

Mr. Cutts' engagement was announced last January, but not until yesterday did the date of the wedding become generally known. He received many congratulations yesterday from those who knew him while in college.

The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Arthur B. Little, pastor of the Second Congregational church. The bridemaids will be classmates of Miss Ayer at Smith, and will include Miss Rachel Swain, Miss Florence Ayer, Miss Florence Keene and Miss Jessie Wilson. The maid of honor will be Miss Edna Willis. Dr. William B. Cutts of Providence, brother of the groom will be the best man.

SHATTUCK WON SHOOT

CHICAGO, June 26.—E. Shattuck of Columbus won the Grand American handicap shoot today when the tie of yesterday was shot off by the four who made equal high scores. Twenty shots were used in deciding the tie, Shattuck making a perfect score.

AMERICAN LOSES

LONDON, June 26.—D. P. Rhodes of Boston, America's only representative in the lawn tennis championship tournament now being played at Wimbledon, was eliminated from that contest this p. m. being defeated by H. R. Barrett, 3 sets to 1.

Does Your BackAche?

If you are a woman and you have this symptom get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound without delay.

Backache seems an invention of the evil one to try woman's souls. Only those who suffer this way can understand the wearing, ceaseless misery.

We ask all such women to read the two following letters for proof that Mrs. Pinkham's medicine cures backache caused by female diseases.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I have been a great sufferer with a constant pain in my back. I was advised to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for it, and the pain has disappeared. I feel like a new woman since that awful pain has gone, and may God bless the discoverer of that great and wonderful remedy."—Mrs. Peter Gaffney, 548 Marcey Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y

Milwaukee, Wis.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me a well woman, and I would like to tell the whole world about it.

"I suffered from female troubles and fearful pains in my back. I had the best doctors and they all advised an operation. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman and I have no more backache. I am ready to tell every one what this medicine has done for me."—Mrs. Emma Imse, 333 First St., Milwaukee, Wis.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made thousands of cures of such cases. You notice we say has cured thousands of cases. That means that we are telling you what it has done, not what we think it will do. We are stating facts, not guesses.

We challenge the world to name another remedy for female ills which has been so successful or received so many testimonials as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

6 O'CLOCK

Two Convicts Broke Out of Jail at Concord, N. H.

CONCORD, N. H., June 26.—Joseph Gouin of Dover, the pal of John Doe in the sensational killing of John Dalton on a train at Rockingham Junction in February, 1906, following an alleged robbery at the Luddy-Currier factory in Dover the night before and William E. Chapman of Portsmouth held for observation made their escape from the New Hampshire state hospital for the insane at 5.30 this morning by overpowering the attendant in the ward in which they have been held since incarceration in the institution securing his keys and letting themselves out through the main door. The alarm was given in five minutes after they got away. But although search was made and the police all over this section were notified no trace of them has been discovered. Following the killing at Rockingham Gouin was arraigned on a charge of murder in the second degree, found guilty and was sentenced to a term of not less than twenty nor more than thirty years in the state prison. He was committed on May 16, 1906. Six months ago he developed violent insanity and was transferred to the asylum where under treatment he had recovered and his case was reported to the governor and council as cured and ready for transfer back to the prison the first of the month.

Chapman was brought before the superior court in Portsmouth on Oct. 1, 1908, on an indictment charging assault with intent to rape a girl nine years of age. He pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity and was sent to the hospital for observation. Like Gouin Chapman had been reported to the authorities as not insane and ready for trial.

Since he has been confined at the hospital Gouin has kept in his room which has been striped of all furniture, his only allowance being a mattress which was placed there for him to sleep on at night and was removed in the morning. His only clothing has been a pair of drawers. This morning at about 5.30 Othleo D. Johnson, the night attendant, violated the rules of the institution by letting Chapman out of his cell to help him clean up the ward and while thus engaged Chapman suggested that they go to Gouin's room and take out his mattress. Johnson agreed and just as he unlocked Gouin's door Chapman hit him a smashing blow on the mouth, knocking him down. Like a flash Gouin was out of the room bringing his sheets with him and with these he and Chapman proceeded to tie Johnson. Chapman then took his keys and going over to the locker secured Gouin's clothing which the latter donned. Then they left the hospital, going out through the main doors with the assistance of the keys in their possession.

The first intimation that anything was wrong came to Dr. Landers on duty in the office in a telephone message from the attendant in the ward under the one in which the men were held who had been aroused by Johnson's cries for assistance. Johnson had released himself from his bonds and with Dr. Landers made a search for the prisoners.

Satisfying themselves that the men were gone Dr. Bancroft, the superintendent of the institution was called and under his direction the police all over this section was notified of the break and posses were sent out to scour the surrounding country.

Later a meeting of the trustees at which the sending out of descriptions was expected and a reward of $200 offered for the apprehension and return of fugitives to the institution.

The Rockingham Junction murder case was one of the most sensational crimes in New Hampshire police mystery. On the night of Feb. 10, 1906, Gouin and an accomplice known as John Doe broke into the office of the Luddy Currier shoe factory at Dover and blew open the safe. They were detected and pursued before they managed to secure much loot but they eluded their pursuers. The men boarded a train bound for Boston and as the train approached Rockingham Junction the conductor, who had been notified of the break at the factory in Dover suspected the two men of complicity and prepared to notify the police as soon as the train had reached Rockingham. When the train stopped Gouin and his companion drew revolvers and held the passengers and train crew at bay, threatening death to any person who attempted to leave the train. An Italian ignorant of the English language and frightened by the display of firearms started for the door and was shot and killed by one of the two men. The desperadoes then jumped from the train and plunged into the woods. Posses were formed immediately and after a long chase and a hard struggle both Gouin and his companion were captured. The companion never revealed his name to the police and because of his refusal to tell who he was or give any name at all the charge was again the legal name of John Doe. Under this title the prisoner was tried, sentenced and is now serving a long term in prison. It is believed that John Doe is connected with a prominent family in Canada but no confirmation of this theory has ever been obtained.

TERMED WRETCHED

Report on Condition of Streets in Lawrence

LAWRENCE, June 26.—The committee on investigation into the conduct of the street, sewer and sidewalks departments held its fourth session last night, when the report of Richard K. Hale, engineer, relative to the construction and cost of streets and sidewalks was presented. Attorney Michael J. Sughrue of Boston, counsel for the committee, said in preface to the report that the engineer's investigation showed that $75,000 could be saved in a year if proper methods were adopted.

Mr. Sughrue's statement was an epitome of the engineer's report. He said in part:

"This review shows that overdrafts are large and common and have been for years; that supplies are purchased in large quantities without contract; that the accounting is so bad that it should be immediately radically revised; that the streets of Lawrence are in a wretched condition; that the streets are not constructed with reference to the use to be made of them.

"The reviw also shows that bills are made out so poorly that the places where goods are delivered is not shown, and frequently dates are omitted; that the system of keeping payrolls is bad; that th system of checking purchases is not proper; that hanhazard methods prevail throughout the department; that the construction work in some instances cost 20 per cent. more than it should have done.

"On sidewalk construction there is an overdraft of 35 per cent.; that the street account shows an overdraft of $18,560.32 or 22 per cent. of the total value of materials; that the appropriations are not used for the purpose designated.

"That the superintendent of streets has failed to file the $5000 bond as required by the city ordinances. There are no properly kept accounts or properly prepared annual reports."

The report points out that many of the streets of Lawrence are shown by inspection to be in a wretched condition. Many of them are built of materials unsuited to the traffic which they are intended to carry and generally the paving and construction has been done in the most unintelligent manner.

"An official having control of business amounting to nearly $300,000 a year, or about $1000 a day, should at least conform to ordinary business standards in its management. It is shown in this report that instead of such, waste and extravagance characterize the expenditures of this money, and slipshod methods and want of intelligence characterize what little accounting is rendered of these enormous expenditures.

"The 'receipts' in the street department from street watering, sidewalk and all other kinds of assessments are not paid into the general treasury as in other cities, but become part of funds available for expenditure by the street department. This has the effect of increasing the department appropriation many thousand dollars each year over the amount the city government has decided is proper for the department. It also puts into the hands of the superintendent many thousands of dollars over which the city government has no control.

"This custom in regard to 'receipts' should be at once changed and this money paid directly into the city treasury, where it should become part of the general funds, as is done in most cities. The superintendent of streets should then be allowed a fixed sum as determined by the city government each year upon which to run his department, and he should be held strictly to that amount in his expenditures.

"The other practice is the manner of providing for payment of the 'overdrafts,' which in 1908 amounted to $26,722.42, or 25 per cent. more than the amount appropriated for use of the departments. These 'overdrafts' for many years have been paid by the issue of 10-year bonds.

"Such a method of paying an 'overdraft,' so far as it represents 'running expenses' and not 'new construction,' is entirely unjustifiable. If this method should be adopted to meet the 'overdraft' of the past year, according to Mr. Hale's report, it would be making a bond issue cover in a large measure 'current maintenance expenses' of the department, which should be paid directly out of the tax levy."

Mayor White then read Engineer Hale's report.

CARPET MILLS CLOSED

On Account of the Intense Heat

Several Employes Had to Quit Yesterday and Agent Decided Not to Run Today—J. C. Ayer Plant Closed Early Yesterday—Delightful Breeze Saves Sweltering Humanity Today

Today started out to be hotter than yesterday, for at an early hour this morning the thermometer was 10 degrees higher than the previous morning at the same hour, in some places.

But, happily for sweltering humanity a gentle breeze arose about 3 o'clock and at this writing was still working and the day is less unbearable than was yesterday.

The thermometer registered 88 in Merrimack square this noon against 90 and 92 yesterday. But the breeze was absent yesterday.

The Bigelow carpet company plant shut down this morning on account of the heat. During the day yesterday many of the employes were forced to quit work on account of the heat and Agent Fairbanks upon learning the fact decided not to run the plant today thus giving the employes two full days' vacation.

At the J. C. Ayer company Dr. Stowell ordered the plant closed at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon on account of the heat, but work was resumed this morning. The weather indications predicted a change for this afternoon, and most any old kind of a change will be welcome.

The warm wave seems to have spent its force and more comfortable weather is at hand.

A portion of the Lawrence hosiery was also closed down today on account of the heat, which was oppressive in all the mills.

Officer McNabb's Case

Up to noon no cases of heat prostration had been received at the hospitals. Officer McNabb, who was overcome by the heat while on his beat shortly after midnight this morning was reported at St. John's hospital in a serious condition showing no improvement from the time he was taken there.

RELIEF FROM HOT WAVE

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Substantial relief from the present hot wave which has prevailed over the country east of the Rocky mountains during the past week is promised for next Monday in a special bulletin issued by the weather bureau today which also says the week beginning June 28 will, as a whole, be cooler than the present week. The sweltering heat continues unabated today with the government's down town thermometer on Pennsylvania avenue registering 96 degrees at noon.

The next week defined barometric disturbance, say weather bureau officials, will cross the United States from west to east from about June 29 to July 3 attended in districts east of the Rockies by general rains.

SEVEN YEARS' PENAL SERVITUDE

LONDON, June 26.—Robert Isaac, the young Dutchman, who, under the name of D. S. Windell, carried out in London last September one of the most daring bank frauds of modern times by which he victimized the London & Southwestern bank of $11,600, was sentenced at the Old Bailey today to eighteen months' imprisonment. F. R. King, a clerk in the bank at the time of the swindle, was regarded as the organizer of the robbery and was given seven years' penal servitude.

DRACUT CENTRE

Close of School and the Awards

At the Dracut Centre school Friday, diplomas were presented to the following pupils: Paul Carver, Pauline Carver, Archer Fox, Newell Harris, Leo McCarthy and Annie Roth, all of whom are intending to enter the High school in the fall.

They left, as a parting gift to the school a beautiful bust of Hermes.

At the close of the session ice cream and cake were served by their teacher, Miss Grace M. Thurber, to whom much credit is due for her untiring interest and faithfulness to the school. A beautiful gift presented to her shows the high esteem in which she is held.

School pennants were awarded to those who had attained highest rank during the year.

PARTLY WRECKED

Woodruff, Kan. Visited by Tornado

BEAVER CITY, Neb., June 26.—Woodruff, Kan., is reported partly wrecked by a tornado yesterday. Half a dozen houses and barns in the path of the storm were blown down, but the inmates escaped by taking refuge in cellars. Three schoolhouses were carried away.

Eighty cows were killed and carried half a mile away.

45 ROUND BOUT

Cross and Hyland Meet This Afternoon

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26.—Leach Cross of New York and Fighting Dick Hyland of this city were weighed in this morning and awaited the tap of the gong at the Coffroth arena for a 45 round battle, both in good condition and each declaring his confidence of victory. Betting had been unusually heavy. New York money poured in on Cross a few days ago and continued a steady stream, making the easterner favorite for a time but Hyland's friends rallied and placed the odds at even. Cross announced that he was out to win as quickly as possible as he did not wish to take any chances of losing an opportunity to meet Battling Nelson and capture the lightweight title. He declared he would do it in 23 rounds, the same number required for Nelson to take care of Hyland. The Californian was equally confident that he would whip his opponent in less than 45 rounds.

TRAMPS KILLED

They Were Stealing a Ride

WINNIPEG, Man., June 26.—A westbound Canadian Pacific freight train was ditched near Kamloops and five tramps stealing a ride were killed in the derailment of seven cars. Two others were injured. Traffic was tied up all day.

PILLINGS' NEW MILL

Dedicated With a Dance Last Evening

Despite the intense heat that prevailed last evening, one of the largest and merriest crowds ever attending a social event was present at the complimentary social and dance under the auspices of the employes of John Pillings Shoe Co. The affair was conducted for the purpose of dedicating the new mill recently erected by the company on Tyng street and it proved to be a success in every particular.

The assemblage was composed of the members of the firm, the employes and their friends and many out of town shoe manufacturers. The doors were thrown open earlier in the evening and all were invited to inspect the new plant. An efficient corps of aids acted as ushers.

The program opened with a concert by Hibbard's orchestra which discoursed the following program:

March, "Police Patrol" .... Link
Overture, "Marionette" ...... Kala Bela
Solo for trombone, "To the End of the World with You,"
Mr. Charles S. Sturtevant
Finale, medley of popular songs.
Arr. by Silzer

Each of the above numbers was appreciated, especially the trombone solo by Mr. Sturtevant. The latter was obliged to respond to several encores.

Following the concert general dancing was enjoyed and continued until intermission when refreshments were served. After enjoying the edibles dancing was resumed and continued till midnight. At the conclusion of the function the participants congratulated those in charge and wished the firm the best of success. The Messrs. Pilling were the recipients of many beautiful floral pieces including a large piece, with the inscription success.

Those directly in charge were: Gen. manager, George McIntyre; assistant general manager, Allan W. Pilling; floor director, Lester O. Mason; chief aid, Edward Gaudette; aids, William Phelps, Arthur Lord, Henry Doran, John Lafleur, George Dwyer, Thomas Corcoran, Daniel Ryan, James Bergeron, Edward McKinley, Arthur Blaisdell; reception committee, John B. Pilling, Fred A. Pilling, L. F. Sherman, Herbert Pilling, Milton Howard, Chas. Church, A. W. Sherman, A. E. Jordan, Charles Gabrielle, E. O Reed.

THE CENSUS BILL PASSED

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Within five minutes the census appropriation bill was passed by the senate today in the form in which it was on Thursday passed by the house. It appropriates $10,000,000 for taking the thirteenth census. It authorizes the director of the census to designate three commissioners to represent the United States in the international commission for the revision of the classification of diseases and causes of death called by the government of France to meet in Paris in July, 1909.

YALE COMMENCEMENT

Pres. Taft Will Attend Exercises Next Wednesday

NEW HAVEN, June 26.—Socially the program of commencement week at Yale commenced today with the arrival of hundreds of members of reunion classes, the opening of headquarters and the numerous receptions at the clubs and homes of faculty members. Class flags were spread from dormitory windows and the college section of the city took on a gay appearance. The theatricals on the college campus tonight when the University Dramatic association will present the "Merry Wives of Windsor" will provide a novelty in the way of entertainment. Tomorrow in Wolsey hall probably will be delivered the baccalureate sermon.

Monday will be class day and that afternoon games of pony polo will be played at the Country club. Tuesday will be alumni day and the occasion of the ball game between Yale and Harvard. On Wednesday President Taft will be here as a fellow of the corporation to take part in the conferring of degrees and later he will be among the speakers at the alumni dinner. In every particular the program for the week is attractive as those of bygone years. The list of reunions is headed by class of 1853 which intends to unveil a memorial tablet to Rev Hiram Bingham and Rev. Charles Harding in Memorial hall and the class of 1859 for its semi-centennial.

SENATOR STONE

Repeats Charges Against International Harvester Co.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—When the consideration of the tariff bill was resumed in the senate today the pending question was the amendment offered yesterday by Senator Bacon placing agricultural implements on the free list. Senator Stone of Missouri immediately took the floor to continue the speech begun yesterday in which he outlined the testimony taken by the attorney general of Missouri in his prosecution of the International Harvester Co. as a trust. He asserted that the number of companies had been merged together to constitute this trust, declared that it was conducting 85 per cent of the business of the country in supplying agricultural implements and contended that it was a trust and monopoly notwithstanding the denial of Mr. Aldrich. Soon after Mr. Stone began his speech he was interrupted by Senator Davis of Arkansas with a statement that the company had been driven out of his state by legal proceedings under the state anti-trust law.

"The department of justice is asleep or blind," continued Mr. Stone in referring to the failure of the attorney general to prosecute the International Harvester Co. for violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

"This is [illegible] too blind—blind and dumb and senseless.

"Kansas, Missouri and other states have proceeded against them. The department of justice sits with palsied hands, but the United States senate, at least, should take notice of this great criminal corporation and open its doors to the world so far as possible to mitigate the evils it has created and to lessen as far as possible its power of extortion."

In the course of a lively colloquy between Senators Overman and Smith on the attitude of the North Carolina cotton manufacturers toward the tariff, Mr. Overman insisted that the North Carolina manufacturers did not need or want any protective tariff.

DO IT NOW

Until July 1st we will exchange Gem Junior blades as usual. After that the manufacturers will accept no more old blades, they being desirous to put out nothing but absolutely new goods in the future. We sell the vest pocket edition of the Gillette. Howard the Druggist, 197 Central street.

SENATOR ROOT

In Conference With Pres. Taft

WASHINGTON, June 26.—For nearly an hour today Senator Root of New York was at the White House in conference with President Taft in regard to the adoption by the senate of the administration's corporation tax amendment to the tariff bill. They also discussed the probable action of the senate on the measure. Senator Root will take the lead in defending the amendment when it comes up for debate, probably on Monday.

MRS. COBURN'S BODY

To be Brought Home on the Steamship Cedric

Arrangements for the return of the body of Mrs. H. W. Coburn, who was one of the victims of the drowning accident in Killarney Lake, Wednesday, have been made with Cook's Tourist agency. It is expected that the body will be sent home on the Cedric. The Cedric will probably sail today.

Mrs. Coburn had a wide circle of friends and deep sympathy for the family is being expressed. Mrs. Coburn leaves three children, Harry, who was graduated from Dartmouth two years ago, and has been employed in Woburn; Mrs. Charles W. Churchill of Lowell, and Mrs. Murray S. Rust, of Birmingham, Ala. Mrs. Rust came to Lowell a few days ago intending to spend the summer with her mother.

PEACE AGREEMENT

Does Not Seem Probable in Lynn at Present Time

LYNN, June 26.—The chances of the adoption of a general permanent peace agreement between the shoe manufacturers and operatives of this city were reduced to a minimum yesterday by the reply of M. J. Tracey, representing about 5200 operatives to the latest amended plan proposed by the manufacturers. Following an interchange of views between representatives of the manufacturers and of the union during several weeks past regarding the details of an arrangement whereby manufacturers and operatives would unite in the formation of lodges to control the conditions of manufacture and all disputes would be settled by arbitration. Secretary Sawyer of the manufacturers' committee sent a letter to Mr. Tracey enclosing a draft of the latest amendments to the plan agreed upon by the manufacturers. Mr. Tracey in a letter to Mr. Sawyer today says that the labor conference board of which he is chairman regrets to learn that the manufacturers have made few of the changes suggested by the operatives in the plan and have obtained a number of features objectionable to the operatives. The labor board considers that it would be impossible to have all price lists remain in force for two years owing to the frequent changes in conditions; that the plan is too complicated and appears designed to prevent, rather than facilitate, speedy adjustments of differences; that the provisions regarding non-union workmen are vague and indefinite and that the proposed method of arbitration is impracticable.

Mr. Tracey concludes by saying that while the manufacturers and union leaders are apparently agreed on a principle of averting further industrial disputes they appear unable to reach an agreement on details. It is generally believed that no further steps will be taken in the matter.

LOWELL VICTORY

Lawrence St. Railway Men Defeated

Walter H. Hickey, the genial starter of the Boston & Northern and general information bureau of Merrimack square, is suffering from a severe case of hoarseness but despite that he is wearing one of those smiles that will not wear off. The cause of the hoarseness and the smile was the baseball game between the employes of the Lowell and Lawrence divisions of the Boston & Northern at Glen Forest yesterday which resulted in a victory for the Lowell aggregation. Walter is the manager of the Spindle City nine and he got hoarse from rooting but as long as his team won he is willing to suffer the inconvenience.

The game ended with the score 5 to 4 in favor of Lowell and was one of the hottest games played around here for some time. The Lowell team started out with a rush and scored all their runs in the first inning, while the Lawrence men got their runs in the fourth, sixth and seventh innings.

The makeup of the Lowell team was as follows: Toohey c, Nickles 1b, J. H. Riley p, St. Leger ss, George Niles rf, McKenzie cf and 2b, Sheehan 3b, Hope lf, Kelley 2b and Barnard cf.

Riley pitched an excellent game and kept the visitors' hits well scattered. The features of the game were a three-bagger by Capt. Plunkett of the Lawrence team, the batting of Riley and Niles, a circus catch in right field by Niles and a running one-hand catch by St. Leger of the Lowell team.

Little Dewey Aubin, the diminutive newsboy, was the mascot, and when the Lowell boys got into tight boxes he cheered them up with his singing.

After the game, light refreshments were served and the victors came back to Lowell during the early part of the afternoon.

The score by innings was as follows:

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The local branch of the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen met Thursday night in its hall in Middle street, and in the absence of the president, John T. Hendricks, vice president, occupied the chair. Two members were admitted and four applications were turned over to the investigating committee. It was voted to change the meeting night from the fourth Thursday night to the afternoon. The following officers were elected for the next six months: President, John T. Hendricks; vice president, James Hammond; treasurer and recording secretary, John W. Downing; financial secretary, Thomas J. McG[illegible]; warden, James Malloy; trustees, John P. Dean and William Green. It was voted to run the annual ball Labor day night, and the ball committee was requested to make arrangements for that night.

Anniversary of Consolidation

The first anniversary of the consolidation of Chevalier and Middlesex lodges of the Knights of Pythias into the Chevalier-Middlesex lodge was celebrated last night in Highland hall and despite the intense heat there were about 65 members present. The early part of the evening was given up to lodge work. The degree staff gave the third degree in long form. After that a banquet was served. Those managing the banquet and the anniversary exercises were: H. A. Dolmes, Mark Avery, Harry G. Jones. The degree work was put on under the direction of the degree master Charles H. Jones.

MANNBERG DEAD

Police Are Looking for His Assailant

NORWOOD, June 26.—Salam Mannberg, a Finlander, was shot and mortally wounded yesterday and his alleged assailant, Joseph Marchello, an Italian, is being pursued by the police. Mannberg was shot during a quarrel which is understood to have arisen from a misunderstanding concerning a wedding celebration. Mannberg was 21 years of age and the Italian is 21. His capture is looked upon as certain as he has peculiar facial characteristics.

BIG RACE

TO BE HELD AT CANOBIE LAKE TOMORROW

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the new track at Canobie lake park this afternoon, when the New Hampshire Electric Railways announce a program of athletic events that promises to be one of the most interesting of the season. The track which has been constructed inside the baseball grounds at Canobie lake has been pronounced by the athletes now in training for the different events tomorrow to be one of the fastest ever constructed for similar purposes in this section of New England.

Entries in the nine mile event include:

Harry Moros—Peabody A. C.
Clifton Horne—Haverhill.
Wm. A. McGuire—Boston A. A.
Orazio Grassi—Haverhill.

BOWERMAN OF BOSTON NATIONALS, WHO MAY BE TRADED TO N. Y.

BOSTON, June 26.—Rumors are now in circulation among the members of the Boston Nationals that Frank Bowerman, catcher and manager, is to be deposed as pilot and traded to the New Yorks for two of the Giants' players. It is said that Bowerman is very unpopular among his teammates owing to the harsh treatment he has accorded them and that he would relish a change of scene. Early in the season the Bostons under Bowerman's handling made a good showing, but for the last month or so the team has been shot to pieces. Bowerman was traded to Boston by New York during the winter of 1907, along with several others, for Bridwell and Fred Tenny. When in good condition he is one of the best catchers in baseball.

SUPREME COURT

Enjoins Manufacturers of Salem

BOSTON, June 26.—Judge Morton of the supreme court yesterday, by agreement of counsel granted permanent injunctions on the bills brought by the city of Salem, restraining the Armstrong leather company, American glue company, U. S. tanned pigskin company, James F. Ingraham Jr., Peter Sims & Sons, and the Thayer Foss company from discharging certain substances into the North river and its tributaries in violation of chapter 221 of the acts of 1907.

The bill against the A. L. Kraus company was referred to a master, but meantime a temporary injunction will be in force against it. The hearings in this case are to begin July 15.

The actions were brought by City Solicitor Coolidge in consequence of a vote of the city council. It was alleged the substances discharged into the river polluted the waters.

CAPT. MORRIS

PIONEER ANGLER AND SPORTSMAN IS DEAD

BOSTON, June 26.—Capt. Charles P. Morris, one of Charlestown's old school of sportsmen, died yesterday of heart failure at the Carney hospital. His health had been poor for the past two years and of late he had been forced to undergo treatment at Carney hospital.

Born [illegible] years ago in Shelburne county, N. S., Capt. Morris attended the schools of Charlestown, and for 40 years was employed in government navy yards, most of which time was spent at the Charlestown navy yard. In [illegible] he was a member of the Charlestown police force.

He was a well-known figure at the hunting and fishing resorts of Maine. Many years ago Capt. Morris was a [illegible] and wing shot. At that time [illegible], who was fond of rod and gun was looked upon almost as a "[illegible]" but the captain loved the sport and every spring found him in [illegible] after trout and salmon, and in the fall he donned his flannels and heavy [illegible] and tracked the forest for deer and moose.

He was one of the first sportsmen to go to the Rangeleys in quest of trout, but in later years he favored the Aroostook waters.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at [illegible] at St. Mary's church. Burial will be at Holy Cross cemetery, Malden.

DREAMWOLD CAMPERS

A social and dance was held last night at the town hall in Chelmsford, under the auspices of the Dreamwold campers. There was a large attendance and despite the hot weather an enjoyable time was had by those present. Music for dancing was furnished by Donnelly's orchestra.

WOMAN RESCUED

LYNN HARBOR PILOT SWAM TO HER ASSISTANCE

LYNN, June 26.—A spectacular rescue of Mrs. David C. Bent, of 14 Cottage terrace, this city, a well known society woman, and her infant child, was made in the waters off Bass Point, Nahant, yesterday, by "Old" Crofcup, a Lynn harbor pilot, who swam fully dressed 100 yards to the launch of the woman's husband who had not seen the accident, and clambered up the companion way with his burden unaided. Mrs. Bent, who is the wife of David C. Bent of the Morocco firm of Bent & King of this city, was being rowed from the Bent summer residence near Bass Point by one of the employes of the estate, who barely saved himself after the accident. The woman and baby are expected to recover from their experience, while Crofcup quickly recovered his strength.

COURT GENERAL SHIELDS

Court General Shields held a largely attended an enthusiastic meeting Thursday night at Foresters' hall, the occasion being the semi-annual election of officers and class initiation. The following officers were elected for the ensuing six months:

Chief ranger, James J. Gaffney; sub-chief ranger, Michael McMullen; recording secretary, William C. Boles; senior woodward, James Boland; junior woodward, John Daly; senior beadle, Michael J. Lattermore; junior beadle, James E. Lang; lecturer, Thos. A. Green.

The grand class initiation ceremonies were in charge of the Knights of Sherwood degree team, Past Commander Joseph Sabourin, director; thirty-seven young men were inducted into the mysteries of the order, and while a larger class was anticipated, the warm evening was responsible for a number remaining away.

The degree work was most interestingly performed, and the graceful movements of the staff as they went through the different evolutions called forth much applause from the audience.

The next event on the program was the "Social Hour," in charge of Lecturer Thomas A. Green, who opened the exercises with a stirring address which was well received. Then followed a piano solo by Brother Frederick Coleman; remarks, Brother Patrick Regan of Court Centralville; song, Patrick Flatty; remarks, P. R. Mehan of Court City of Lowell; piano solo, Albert Thibault; address of evening, Deputy Grand Chief Ranger John F. Roche; reminiscences, John Harlow; song, Francis J. Donnelly; remarks, Brother Lamberton of Court General French; song, Brother Robinson of Court Dupont; song, John Towne; violin solo, Joseph Sabourin; recitation, William C. Boles; song, John F. Roche, and closing remarks by Chief Ranger Gaffney, who presented each new member with a beautiful certificate of membership, and announced that the membership prize, donated by him, will be awarded at the next meeting.

The committee in charge was: Thos. M. Keenan, Albert McDougall, Michael McMullen, James Fyffe, John Daly, John Norton, James Boland, Dennis Hanley and James H. Cox.

BROCKTON WALLOPED

Gray Boys Landed on Two Pitchers

Interesting Game With Sunshower on the Side—"Shorty" Hickman Got Himself in Bad by a Childish Trick

The Gray boys again administered defeat to the Brockton bunch at Spalding park yesterday to the satisfaction of all. And they not only won the game, but they piled up eight runs and made many a poor fan happy who has been playing a pool and cursing the luck whenever he drew Lowell, for eight runs won the pool.

There were players galore on the Lowell bench for Manager Gray will give the fans a team if he has to try out an army.

Scott Fluharty, the Panama star, arrived in Lowell yesterday. He signed a Lowell contract two years ago, but refused to come here under the old regime. As soon as he learned that the team was to pass into the possession of Mr. Gray he sailed for the states. Having just come off the boat he didn't play yesterday, but will go in at Worcester today. Fluharty can play any of the nine positions, but will play right field for Lowell. McDevitt, who played right field, was released last evening. He is a promising youth, but Manager Gray decided that it would be better to have a seasoned player in the field at this stage of the game, which is excellent judgment.

The game went along finely from start to finish, the only unpleasant incident being a yellow little trick by Hickman that nearly caused a riot. Boyle was going by the Brockton players' bench on the dead run after a foul fly and as he passed, Hickman threw his handkerchief in front of Boyle's face. The latter caught the ball, however, and the crowd roundly roasted Hickman.

Pitcher Moore started the game for Brockton, but Lowell got to him in four innings and Martie O'Toole took his place. They then took a fall out of Martie, for they were on their mettle and nobody could beat them.

Brockton scored one run in the first in a most unusual manner. McLane, Donovan and Murch were on the bases with one out and Blanchard threw a wild pitch, which got in around the umpire's feet and was quickly smothered by Boyle. To the surprise of even the base runners themselves Umpire Rorty called to McLane to come home and the others to take a base, stating that the ball had struck him, thus entitling the runners to advance. There's such a rule, but it is doubtful if it has ever been applied in such a case before.

In the third, Shannon, Hickman and Slattery got hits in succession, Shannon and Hickman scoring, the latter doing a great base running stunt to get around. A beautiful double play by Howard on Moore's fly to centre, getting Slattery at the plate, closed this inning, and Brockton scored no more until the sixth, when Slattery scored on a hit and an error.

Lowell broke the ice in the fourth. Venable opened with a two-bagger and a wild pitch sent him to third. Fitz flied out. Uniac singled and Venable scored. Danzig hit for two bases and a passed ball gave him third. At this point a sunshower came along, but the teams kept playing. Howard hit to right field for a clean three-bagger, scoring Danzig. Hickman in returning the ball made a bad throw and Howard came home. The game was stopped for five minutes when the rain ceased and it was resumed. In the fifth Moore was taken out and O'Toole put in.

Boyle scored one in the fifth on a hit, a sacrifice and an error. In the eighth Lowell got three on a clean hit by Danzig, punk hits by Bannon and Howard, an error by O'Toole and a clean hit by McDevitt.

DIAMOND NOTES.

Just think of it my children, Lowell won the pool in the New England league yesterday scoring the greatest number of runs.

Scott Fluharty, from Panama will play right field today, McDevitt having been released. Fluharty can play all the positions. Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Americans was after him until he heard that Scott had once signed a Lowell contract.

Now that we're permanently located at beautiful Spaulding park it's up to the street railway people to be good sports and put in a spur track. It means money for the railroad and pleasure for the fans. With a spur track Spaulding park would be in great demand for outdoor attractions.

Blanchard showed some nice curves and speedorinos in yesterday's game.

Hickman fought with his teammates on the bench throughout the game.

Here's hoping we get out of last place today. We should at least split even with Worcester today.

The attendances are growing steadily and the great majority of the fans favor Spalding park. Everyone sees the whole game at Spalding park.

Tom Bannon is playing the game of his life, both in the field and at the bat. The fans who thought Tom had gone back owe him an apology.

It looks as if Rorty might make good after all. He's a trifle shy on balls and strikes, however.

Danzig has been suffering from the excessive heat all week, but he stuck to his job and gave a fine account of himself.

After giving it to Brockton as Lowell did the past three days, the Gray boys can beat anything in the league.

New Bedford is getting busy.

AMATEUR BASEBALL.

In the past years when the north and south ends of the city would clinch upon the diamond it was generally looked upon as the "only game" that the majority of the fans would care to see, for the most of them had the impression that the games played during the early part of the season were merely "draw on" games, which were run off for the sole purpose of getting the baseball fever of the city at its highest pitch. Such is not the practice at this present time, however, for the series which will be run off this season when the claimants of the city's "semi-pro" title will face each other, promises to make the enthusiasm which the city was boiling with last year, during the series of the Sanctuary Choir and the Mathews fade into Hades.

The opportunity of running off several series this year for the title is far superior to any which the teams have had during the past ten years. The teams which made it interesting for awhile are back again in the running this year, and the appearance of several new teams will undoubtedly make the others hustle, if their intentions are pointed in the way of the title.

Westford A. A. of Westford will cross bats with the K. of C. of Andover at Graniteville this afternoon and an excellent game is anticipated.

The ending of the grammar school so abruptly every year is discouraging to both the fans who follow the league and the nines having membership therein. Several of the managers of the teams have consulted with the directors of the league, which is composed of scholars of the high school and the janitors, who are selected yearly, for the purpose of having the league games extended. The time which is allowed in the schedule, it is claimed by the managers, is just long enough for getting the teams into shape. It is the earnest wish of the writer that the desire of the managers will be gratified, and that next year the schedule will run during the entire season.

The Belvideres and the Mysteries will play on the Lakeview avenue grounds this afternoon at 3 o'clock and a fast and exciting game is expected.

Dan Barry, who it will be remembered occupied the position of initial sacker on the Sanctuary Choir team last season, will be seen in a few of the games in the series with the Lowell Americans this year. Although signed by the scout of the New York American league team last year, and farmed out by that team to the Brooklyn team, he will be present at the series. Dan's playing has been considered marvelous by those who have witnessed him in action, and several have been known to remark that they would much prefer watching his graceful playing than to watch the actions of the remainder of the team. One might expect a player as young as Dan would have an attack of the "swellibus crainbus" upon his debut into the major league. Such is not the case in this instance, however, for he is the same unassuming, genial and comical Dan, that he was before the attached his autograph to the parchment which made him a "big one."

Today's game in the Stony Brook league are as follows: Iroquois vs. Crescents at Parker street; Pawtucket Blues vs. West Chelmsfords, at West Chelmsford; Brooksides vs. Forge Village at Forge Village and Graniteville vs. Middlesex at Middlesex.

The corporation league, an announcement of which appeared in this column within the past few weeks, is fast absorbing the interest of the fans of the city and several hotly fought encounters have already been recorded. The Tremont and Suffolk team, the last nine to join the league, is now well along towards the top of the staff and gives every assurance of retaining the first position when it lands there.

The following is the schedule for the L. & S. league games today: O. M. I. Cadets vs. Indians at North Billerica; Wanderers vs. North Chelmsford on North Common; Dragons vs. Dixwells, South Common and Y. M. C. A. vs. Mt. Groves, Textile campus.

The Young Chestnuts have organized as follows: Arthur Richardson, cf, manager; Joseph McEvoy, 3b; Jos. McVey, 1b; Thomas Quirk, c; Chas. Reynolds, 2b; John Nelson, p; Thomas Hoar, lf; Edmund Duplisses, ss, captain; John Marshall, rf; George Hoar, mascot. Address all challenges to Edmund Duplisses, 7 Chase street.

"Sully."

100 PROSTRATIONS

REPORTED FROM DIFFERENT NEW ENGLAND CITIES

BOSTON, June 26.—The great heat wave which has hung over the east since the first of the week was more oppressive yesterday than at any time during the present period of high temperatures. In New England a dozen deaths and upwards of 100 prostrations during the day and evening are chargeable to the hot blast. In Boston alone there were three deaths and fifty prostrations, from early morning until a late hour last night. At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the government instrument on top of the high Federal building recorded a temperature of 94. The mercury did not get below the 90 mark until after 6 p. m.

The heat wave has caused intense suffering in the tenement districts of Boston and New England mill cities.

In this city last night thousands were driven from their quarters and spent the greater part of the night in the open air. Mills and factories in many cities were shut down in whole or in part and many places building operations had to be suspended. In several instances suicides yesterday were attributed to the heat wave.

CASE OF SUICIDE

SOMERSWORTH, N. H., June 26.—The finding of the body of J. O. Bugbee floating in the Piscataqua river late yesterday, is believed to disclose a case of suicide due to the intense heat of the past few days. Bugbee was 32 years old.

SONG RECITAL

By Miss Ida J. Flint Frisbie

Miss Ida J. Flint gave a musicale at her home, 200 Liberty street, yesterday afternoon. Miss Flint's niece, Miss Gertrude Flint Frisbie, was the centre of attraction. She has just returned from three years of study in New York under Dr. Frank Damrosch and Madame Madeleine Walther of the Institute of Musical Art, and she sings beautifully. Yesterday afternoon she sang in German, Italian and English.

There were piano selections by Miss Bernice M. Moulton, who is very favorably known as a pianist. Miss Moulton also played Miss Frisbie's accompaniments. After the musicale, refreshments were served on the lawn. The program was as follows:

Ballade, Op. 47............ F. Chopin
Miss Moulton
a—Fruhlingsblaube........F. Schubert
b—In der Ferne.............J. Brahms
c—O ihr Herren.........R. Schumann
Miss Frisbie
Valse, Op. 34, No. 1....M. Moszkowski
Miss Moulton
a—Aria, Marriage of Figaro,
W. A. Mozart
b—Lungi dal caro bene........G. Sarti
c—Aria, Don Giovanni...W. A. Mozart
Miss Frisbie
a—Mondschinfahrt .... F. Bendel
b—Tarantelle Fantasique....A. Salmon
Miss Moulton
a—Garden of Sleep ....I. De Lara
b—Who is Sylvia?.........F. Schubert
Miss Frisbie.

WHIST PARTY

HELD TO RAISE FUNDS TO PURCHASE ORGAN

The concert and whist given in the parochial school of Notre Dame de Lourdes parish, for the benefit of the organ fund, last night, met with a good attendance, notwithstanding the sweltering proclivities of the weather. The parish intends to purchase in the fall the organ used in St. Jean Baptiste church before the new instrument was installed there. Last night's affair was given under the auspices of Laval council, Union St. Jean Baptiste d'Amerique.

Dr. J. E. Nolet, organizer general of the union, was general manager and organizer of the affair, assisted by the following committee of members of Laval council: Octave Bastien, president; Henri Lemaitre, secretary; Geo. Poirier, treasurer.

The whist judges were Capt. Joseph Pigeon of Garde Jacques Cartier, Zeph. Loranger, Adolphe Marchand and Omer Sevigny. The officers of Garde Jacques Cartier assisted as scorers, together with the following young women: Misses Flora Bergeron, Adele Cote, Angelina Bilodeau, Elizabeth Sevigny, Amanda Madore, Amanda Richard and Marie Jeanne Bergeron. Dr. Nolet was master of ceremonies.

In addition to the whist there was a musical program. Miss Angelina Bilodeau and Mr. Alphonse Dyer played a piano duet; a trio was played by Miss Cora Renaud, violin; Mr. Samuel Renaud, 3d, cornet, and Miss Angelina Bilodeau, piano; Miss Emma Morel sang, accompanied by Miss Yvonne Loranger, and Dr. Nolet sang comic songs.

The prize winners were Alphonse Dyer, Rose Bilodeau, Amanda Richard, Alexandre Richard, Mabel Gaudette, J. Dufresne, Joseph Therrien, Nap. St. Amand, Louis Lord, Clementine Desmarais, Adelard Berard, Grace Berard, A. Nadeau, H. J. Turcotte, Mrs. Beauparlant, Mrs. Fremeau, S. Renaud, C. Renaud, F. Girard, E. Perron, Flora Desmarais, Joseph Roch, V. Bastien, A. Lafontaine, Yvonne Loranger, Albert Brosseau, Florence Roy, John Larocque, Emma Morel, Charles Larocque, Eug. Provencher, Ernest Duclos.

BRUTALLY BEATEN

Woman Has a Bullet Wound in Cheek

BANGOR, Me., June 26.—Mary Prescott, a widow about 65 years old, living alone on a small farm in West Hampden, was murderously assaulted by an unknown man late yesterday afternoon.

Shrieks and cries of murder were heard from her house by neighbors living about a quarter of a mile away, and on going to the rescue they found her on the piazza terribly battered and bruised with what appears to be a bullet wound in her cheek as if a revolver had been placed in her mouth and fired.

She was conscious but hysterical, and unable to give a connected story of the assault, more than that a medium-sized man of dark complexion, wearing a handkerchief around his neck, came upon the piazza where she was sitting and demanded money. She refused and he attacked her, a blow rendering her partially unconscious and she does not know what happened then.

Sheriff White and a squad of deputies are in search of the man. Mrs. Prescott is suffering intensely from the nervous shock and wound but it is believed that she will recover.

GOING TO EUROPE.

The following Lowell people are booked through Murphy's ticket agency to sail from East Boston next Tuesday on the Cunard line steamer Ivernia for Queenstown and Liverpool: Mr. and Mrs. William Myers, Mr. Walter McLean, Miss M. Agnes Banford, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bailey, Miss Blanche Bailey, Master Albert Bailey, Miss Theresa Fiennings, Miss Mollie O'Donnell, Mrs. Selina Turpin, Miss Winnifred Gallagher, Miss Minnie Calnan, Mrs. Mary Ogden, Miss Ethel Ogden, Mrs. Sarah Chadwick, Miss Edith and Master Robert H. Chadwick, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gresham, Mr. Andrew H. Mowatt, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Yerkes, Margaret Howarth, Mrs. Fannie Norris, Mr. William Brown, Mrs. Elizabeth Wallace, Alexander and Janet Wallace, Mrs. Emily Green and James H. Grant.

FOUND GUILTY

JURY RETURNS A VERDICT AGAINST HEINZE

NEW YORK, June 26.—Arthur P. Heinze, one of the brothers whose banking and copper operations have been under investigation since the collapse of their copper pool, was found guilty last night by a jury in the United States circuit court, of corruptly impeding the administration of justice in withholding the United Copper company's books.

Sentence was suspended by Judge Ray until Oct. 11.

The maximum penalty under the law is three months in jail or a fine of $500.

SCENE ON THE THAMES RIVER DURING YALE-HARVARD REGATTA

NEW HAVEN, June 26.—Even more interest than usual centers in the Yale-Harvard regatta this year because of the staunch hope that Harvard entertains of realizing her long cherished dream, that of defeating Yale for the second time consecutively. Harvard still remains the favorite, but Eli's sons are ready seemingly with an unlimited amount of cash to back their crew. Three revenue cutters already have received their orders for patrolling the course on the Thames during the regatta of July 1, and scores of steamboats and other craft have been chartered to carry crowds to the race. These, with the vast number of private yachts and launches, will make up the greatest flotilla of pleasure boats ever assembled on the historic course.

INCREASED TARIFF ON HOSIERY.

The increased duty on cotton hosiery is creating great excitement among the retail dealers throughout the country, and as a result many protests have been sent to congress. The proposed increase of 30 per cent. will enable the manufacturers to put up the price while foreign hosiery will be effectually excluded. The value of the hosiery imports to this country aggregates approximately $6,600,000 a year, while the tariff of about 60 per cent. ad valorem runs the total expenditure for this supply up to $11,000,000. The value of the domestic supply annually aggregates about $60,000,000. The retailers have called to their assistance the Women's clubs of the country and as a result strong protests are being sent to congress with the hope of having the conference committee defeat the proposed advance in the final draft of the tariff bill. The increase would make considerable difference to the women of the country, and in fact to every family in the country. There seems to be no justification of such a large increase in the tariff on this particular item of manufacture.

AVOID THE OVERLOADED ROWBOAT.

The overturning of a heavily laden rowboat and the loss of eleven lives in Killarney lake on Wednesday is a type of accident that is far more common than it should be, more common than it would be if people were not so venturesome in piling into a rowboat which at best is but a death trap. Such boats should not be permitted to take out large parties without a sufficient number of life preservers to save the party in case of disaster.

It is plain that when such a boat gets any great distance from shore it is in danger of being caught in a squall, just as was the boat on Killarney lake in which Mrs. H. W. Coburn of Lowell lost her life. We have seen frequent instances of this kind on rivers and lakes near home. In Boston harbor especially, the number of drownings due to overloading rowboats in doubtful weather have been quite alarming. They have been more frequent than they should be on the Merrimack river and many of our inland lakes.

Usually the sense of self-preservation alone would serve to prevent people from taking chances in such boats; but when the skies are clear and the water calm there seems to be but slight risk; yet atmospheric changes come so quickly that occasionally rowboats and canoes have been caught in a sudden whirlwind, a gale or a thunderstorm only to be upset with fatal results and the usual comment that the victims should not have taken such chances.

FOR A SMOKELESS CITY.

In the conservation of the resources of the United States, the matter of overcoming the smoke nuisance is one of prime importance.

Not only is the smoke nuisance a needless waste of fuel but it is also a cause of disease that makes vast inroads upon human life.

The total damage done by the smoke nuisance in the United States is estimated at $600,000,000 or about $20 per capita in the cities most seriously affected with this pest.

In addition to this must be considered the injurious effect of coal dust in promoting diseases of the lungs, such as tuberculosis and pneumonia.

About 150,000 people die from tuberculosis each year in the United States, and the medical men are of the opinion that of this number three-fourths might be saved by clearing the atmosphere of the coal dust so that during working hours, as well as at their homes, the people can have the advantage of breathing air that is not charged with soot and cinders.

It is very evident that people who are born and who have to spend their lives in a city in which the smoke nuisance is had, must suffer greatly from the effects of continually breathing air laden with coal dust. Undoubtedly the nuisance alone is responsible for greatly increasing the death rate.

On the ground of economy the manufacturers who contribute to the smoke nuisance are thereby letting a valuable component of fuel escape from their tall chimneys. Imperfect combustion is the real cause of the smoke nuisance while the effects include reduced dividends, injured health, shortened lives and damaged property.

If by overcoming the smoke nuisance the deaths from tuberculosis can be reduced from 150,000 to one-fourth the number or 37,500, surely that is an object worth seeking. If we consider these lives merely from an economic standpoint the saving would justify the most extreme measures for the suppression of the smoke nuisance.

It has been demonstrated by government experts at the experiment station at Pittsburg, Pa., and elsewhere that the smokeless city is quite possible, but nowhere in the United States has it been proven more conclusively than at the plant of the Lowell Electric Lighting company on Perry street. For some years that company had been among the worst offenders on account of the dense smoke escaping from the tall chimney. During all that time, however, the company was looking for some practical means of overcoming the nuisance. At last it found the long-sought appliance, a mechanical stoker that puts the coal into the furnace under the fire instead of on the top as is the custom where the smoke nuisance is worst.

With the new arrangement there is very seldom the sign of smoke of any kind from the tall chimneys, and people are now asking, are these big chimneys really necessary? They are not needed to carry a volume of dense smoke some distance from the plant, for there is no such smoke. Unless they are needed for air draught, they might as well be lower, for neither coal dust nor coal cinders that might cause fires escape from the chimneys since the new device for mechanical stoking was introduced.

The question now comes, how long will it take other manufacturers to make up their minds to adopt this or some other device equally effective in eliminating the smoke nuisance so as to give us a smokeless city and thus prevent all the numerous evils resulting from the smoke nuisance.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Dr. Marie Stopes of London has just returned from a scientific trip through the coal regions of Japan. "The main object of my mission to Japan was to search for botanical fossils," said Dr. Stopes. "For 18 months I traveled from one island to another hunting for fossils in the rich coal mines that abound in that country. Fruitful though my search was from the scientific point, what impressed me most was the respect and kindness shown me by the people. I visited places where no European had eve set foot before, the unknown regions of Yezo, and even the squalid villages of the superstitious, semi-civilized Ainus, and yet I was always treated with the utmost deference."

In view of the resignation of Prof. George L. Goodale as curator of the botanical museum and Fisher professor of natural history at Harvard, the corporation has recognized his long and valuable services to the university by making him honorary curator of the museum of which he was for so long a time the active head. Prof. Goodale was graduated from Amherst with the class of 1860, and in addition to receiving the honorary master's degree from Amherst, as well as the degree of doctor of laws from the same institution and also fromh Bowdoln and Princeton university, he obtained the medical doctor's degree from both Bowdoin and Harvard. His first work as an instructor was done at Bowdoin, where for five years, from 1867 he served as professor of natural science. During the same period of time he also served as professor of materia medica at the medical school of Maine. At the close of this term of service he joined the Harvard faculty as a lecturer on vegetable physiology and instructor in botany. Through the successive stages of assistant professor of the former subject and of full professor of the latter, he received the chair as Fisher professor of natural history in 1888. Ten years previous to this date he was made director of the botanic garden, and both of these positions he has filled up to the present time. To take Prof. Goodale's place as active head of the botanic garden the corporation has appointed Oakes Ames, '98, who since his graduation has been a teacher in the department of botany and assistant director of the garden. His appointment will go into effect on the first of August.

Dr. Crawford H. Toy, who resigned as Hancock professor of Hebrew and other oriental languages at Harvard university, has been created professor emeritus in the same department. Professor Toy's work as a teacher has brought him into connection with many of the American colleges. He received the master's degree from the University of Virginia in 1856 and since that time has been honored with the degrees of doctor of laws by the University of North Carolina and by Harvard. As a teacher of the ancient oriental languages he has labored at Richmond college, Virginia, at the University of Alabama, at Furman university, and at the Southern Baptist Theological school. The last institution he left in 1879 and in the following year came to Harvard as Dexter lecturer on Biblical literature and also as Hancock professor of Hebrew and other oriental languages, the position which he has retained up to the present time.

The Rev. Caroline Bartlett Crane, vice president of the American Civic Federation, has just completed a course of lectures on sanitary matters in the leading cities of Kentucky. She was invited by the state board of health of Kentucky to deliver these lectures for the purpose of instructing the people in the best method for keeping their cities clean.

Because of Mrs Crane's work in this direction in Kalamazoo she has calls from all parts of the country asking her to give lectures on the subject. Mrs. Crane when scarcely more than a girl was called to Kalamazoo as pastor of the Unitarian church. The congregation was disorganized and the church property heavily in debt. One of the members told the new minister that about all they expected of her was to keep the church open for funerals. Since then she has built a $10,000 church, taught Kalamazoo the lesson of municipal cleanliness, and been a leader in various movements of social reform.

Professor Katherine Lee Bates of Wellesley college has won the prize offered by a Chicago musical society for the best words to be sung in a madrigal. The contest was open to both men and women, and a great number of songs were submitted by writers of both sexes.

Benjamin Curtis, of Curtis & Cameron, has been elected president of the Print Publishers' association, an organization composed of the leading art publishers of America and Europe.

Professor Charles Schuchert of the Yale Museum will pass next August in geological exploration of the Grand Canon.

Supreme Court Justice William J. Gaynor is now talked of as a candidate for mayor of New York this fall.

Outside of a few of our millionaires and a small number of botanists, not many people in the United States know much of the value and rarity of some orchids. In England and Austria they are much more popular, and many large collections may be seen. The big event of the orchid year is the Temple show in London, and the last one, which was held but a short time ago, was very successful. The display was unusually choice, and the total valuation of the plants exhibited was estimated at $225,000. Sir Jeremiah Colman alone entered orchids worth $100,000. The great novelty of the show was a little brownish red blossom only 1 1-2 inches across but worth $1250. It was the Odontoglossum Crispum Minore, and the only one of its kind known in the world. Incidentally it was named in honor of the horse which won the Derby for the king.

The most interesting development of the year for the City and Suburban Homes company of New York, was the purchase of $260,000 of its stock by the "Junior League for the Promotion of Neighborhood Work," of which Miss Dorothy Whitney is president. This money is to be used for a building, on the East river, between Seventy-eighth and Seventy-ninth streets, and across the street from John Jay park, to be primarily designed to accommodate working girls. The Junior Neighborhood league has stipulated that the building shall not be exclusively for working girls, lest it bear the aspect of an institution instead of a genuine home. Hence a number of families will be accommodated in the new structure. It is an interesting fact to note that the Junior league was formed eight years ago, and "does a vast amount of useful neighborhood work, co-operating with settlements, public schools, trained nurses, hospitals, and general charitable and philanthropic agencies." Its three hundred and fifty members are young women, whose names appear often in the "society" column of the newspapers. Generally, they represent large means.

POSTAL SLEUTH

Succeeded in Capturing Petrosino Suspect

NEW YORK, June 26.—Detectives all over the United States are still searching for the men who planned the murder of Lieutenant Petrosino, the New York police officer who was slain in Palermo, Sicily. Postoffice detectives are aiding the search, and many arrests of suspected persons have been made in various parts of the country. At Bellefontaine, O., recently Postoffice Inspector Oldfield arrested Chas. Viccarrio on suspicion of being concerned in the Petrosino tragedy. He formally charged Viccarrio with being a fugitive. Suspicion was directed to the man when the detectives were searching for Black Hand leaders in Ohio. Viccarrio insisted that he knew nothing of the Petresno crime.

GIRL'S MOTHER

LEWISTON, Idaho, June 26.—Mrs. Albert Kight, mother of Mrs. Woodill, was found last night by a representative of the Associated Press at her home at Ashaka a settlement in the mountains 40 miles up the Clearwater river from this city. The news of her daughter's murder had not reached the secluded home of the woman and it was boken to her by the press representative. As soon as she recovered herself, Mrs. Kight related the story of her daughter's adoption by Charles H. Thompson in Minneapolis in October, 1890.

The separation of the mother and infant daughter was the result of the murder of the husband and father when little Anna Pearl Wirtz was less than one year old. The family at that time was living on Couse Creek, 9 miles above Asotin. The father was shot by Henry Grayson in a dispute over wages.

"After my daughter was adopted by Mrs. Thompson her name was changed to Edith May Thompson," said Mrs. Kight. "I heard from her quite frequently for the first two years, but knew nothing of her life for the last nineteen. She was the only child by Matthew Wirtz, my first husband, to whom I had been married less than two years at the time of his murder."

STAR THEATRE

"It's surprising how cool it is in here," remarked several people who witnessed performances at the Star theatre, 'neath the cooling breezes of electric fans, during afternoons and evenings this week. Excellent ventilating facilities tend to make the theatre a pleasant place when the weather outside is disagreeably warm.

Ed. Keene is a funny blackface comedian. He keeps the audience in good humor for 10 minutes. There is an overture by the four-piece orchestra. The singing orchestra renders "Transmagnificanbandanuality," or "C-a-t, Spells Cat." Then there is the motion pictures, illustrated songs and the interesting talking picture.

Tonight's show will start at 6.30 o'clock to enable the management to run the regular number of full shows and to seat each and every patron during each.

THEATRE LA SCALA

To use a slang term the Theatre La Scala is the goods. Ever since this theatre has been opened it has enjoyed a steady and interesting patronage. The programs offered are the best in the truest meaning. The programs are made up with the greatest of care first that the subject is new and amusing second that it is suitable for production in the theatre. The apparatus and operators used in the projection of the pictures are the best that money and skill can produce. The songs are sung by vocalists unapproached in this or any other city, they have the voices, the know how and the willingness to sing and the result is popular song sung in the very best manner. The Theatre La Scala is cooled by two distinct systems of ventilation each large enough to meet with the approval of the state inspectors.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

"Sheridan Keene," with Jas. Kennedy in the title role, is proving to be a strong drawing attraction at Lakeview theatre this week where the attendance has been unusually large. Mr. Kennedy as the detective, "Keene," is giving a performance that is winning him approval from his many admirers of Lowell, while the remainder of the cast is seen to advantage in the various parts assigned them. Commencing next Monday evening there will be a change of bill for the week when the presentation of the laughable comedy drama, "Chuckie Connors" will be given. In this play will be seen Mr. Kennedy in the title role, the young Bowery boy, who pays a visit to his uncle, a country clergyman, and who during this visit renders valuable assistance to his uncle and aunt. "Chuckie Connors" is said to be one of Mr. Kennedy's best parts and the play is an interesting comedy drama of strong scenes in startling dramatic climax as well as many laughable comedy situations and should prove as equally interesting a play as that of the current week. Matinees will be given every day except Monday and seats for all performances are on sale at Carter & Sherburne's drug store.

SUPREME COURT

Decides Against Board of Health

BOSTON, June 26.—The full bench of the supreme court yesterday, in the case of the Boston board of health vs. Laurence Minot et al., declared unconstitutional chapter 119 of the acts of 1894 which attempted to confer power on the local board of health when it adjudged the public health required it to order the owners of private passageways to pave them at their expense to the satisfaction of the board.

The question of the constitutionality of the statute was raised by the defendants, who are owners of Butler's row, a private way off Chatham row. The board of health had ordered them under this statute to pave the row with material satisfactory to the board.

The court sustains the defendants' demurrer to the board's suit brought to enforce its order, and orders the bill dismissed.

The court says: "The present statute without even providing that directions may be given to cease using the way until conditions complained of have been remedied, purports, through changes which may be ordered, to authorize the impairment of the natural right inherent from ownership freely to use property not of itself obnoxious to the general welfare. It is not an unreasonable inference that cases might arise where the land owner would prefer to discontinue or abandon the way altogether, rather than to bear the required outlay: but no alternative is given after the board has issued its order.

PRESIDENT TAFT

Sends a Message Explaining His Corporation Tax Plan

WASHINGTON, June 26.—President Taft's much heralded corporation tax plan was presented to the Senate today by Mr. Aldrich, chairman of the finance committee, and was ordered printed as a committee amendment to the tariff bill. If schedules are completed by Monday the corporation tax amendment will then be taken up and held before the senate until final disposition is made of it and of amendments on the subject of a direct tax on incomes.

In general form, the corporation tax measure follows the outline given by The Associated Press after the conference at the White House on Tuesday night when the subject was considered by the president, lawyers of his cabinet and senate and house republican leaders. As drafted by Attorney General Wickersham and Senator Root the measure is believed to be amendment proof and an effort will be made to put it through congress unchanged. It will be designated as "The Taft Plan" the weight of the president's name being depended upon largely to encompass its enactment.

Briefly stated, the plan imposes a tax of two per cent. upon the net earnings of every corporation, joint stock company or association, organized for profit and having a capital stock represented by shares, and every insurance company organized under the laws of the United States or any state, territory or district, or organized under the laws of any foreign country and engaged in business within the United States.

Every latitude is given to concerns subject to the tax for the exemption of expenses, cost of maintenance, the depreciation of property, debts and the interest thereon, other forms of taxation and all expenditures usually taken from earnings accounts. Every corporation is also given an exemption of $5000 of earnings before the tax shall apply.

All of the machinery relating to the collection, remission and refund of internal revenue taxes is made applicable to the corporation tax and the responsibility for the enforcement of the proposed law rests with the commissioner of internal revenue in the same manner as other internal tax.

While the corporations are required to supply information of a most intimate character relating to their business, provision is made to safe-guard them against wrongful use of data obtained for the purpose of assessing the tax. Penalties are provided in cases of false or fraudulent relations.

Practically every character of incorporated institution organized for profit is brought within theprovisions of the corporation tax. The provision defining the concerns from which the tax will be collected is as follows:

"That every corporation, joint stock company or association, organized for profit and having a capital stock represented by shares, and every insurance company, now or hereafter organized under the laws of the United Statesß or under the acts of congress applicable to Alaska or the District of Columbia, organized under the laws of any foreign country and engaged in business in any state or territory of the United States or Alaska or in the District of Columbia, shall be subject to pay annually a special excise tax with respect to the carrying on or doing business by such corporation, joint stock company or association or insurance company, equivlent to two per centum upon the entire net income, over and above five thousand dollars, received by it from all sources during such year, exclusive of amounts received by it as dividends upon stock of other corporations, joint stock companies or associations or insurance companies subject to the tax hereby imposed, or if organized under the laws of any foreign country, upon the amount of net income, over and above $5000, received by it from business transacted and capital invested within the United States and its territories, Alaska and the District of Columbia during such year, exclusive of amounts so received by it as dividends upon stock of other corporations, joint stock companies or associations, or insurance companies, subject to the tax hereby imposed.

"Such net income shall be ascertained by deducting from the gross amount of the income of such corporation, joint stock company or association or insurance company from all sources:

"All the ordinary and necessary expenses actually paid within the year out of income in the maintenance and operation of its business and properties.

"All losses actually sustained within the year and not compensated by insurance or otherwise, including a reasonable allowance for depreciation of property, if any, and in the case of insurance companies the sums required by law to be carried to premium reserve fund.

"Interest actually paid within the year on its bonded or other indebtedness not exceeding the paid up capital stock of such corporation, joint stock company or association or insurance company outstanding at the close of the year.

"All sums paid by it within the year for taxes imposed under the authority of the United States or of any state or territory thereof.

"All amounts received by it within the year as dividends upon stock of other corporations, joint stock companies or associations or insurance companies, subject to the tax hereby imposed.

"Provided that in the case of a corporation, joint stock company or association or insurance company, organized under the laws of a foreign country, such net income shall be ascertained by deducting from the gross amount of its income from business transacted and capital invested within the United States and any of its territories, Alaska and the District of Columbia.

"All the ordinary and necessary expenses actually paid within the year out of earnings in the maintenance and operation of its business and property within the United States and its territories, Alaska and the District of Columbia.

"All losses actually sustained within the year in business conducted by it within the United States not compensated by insurance or otherwise, including a reasonable allowance for depreciation of property, if any, and in the case of insurance companies the sums required by law to be carried to premium reserve fund.

"Interest actually paid within the year on its bonded or other indebtedness not exceeding the proportion of its paid up capital stock outstanding at the close of the year which the gross amount of its income for the year from business transacted and capital invested within the United States and any of its territories, Alaska and the District of Columbia, bears to the gross amount of its income derived from all sources within and without the United States.

"The sums paid by it within the year for taxes imposed under the authority of the United States or of any state or territory thereof.

"All amounts received by it within the year as dividends upon stock of other corporations, joint stock companies or associaions and insurance companies subject to the tax hereby imposed."

It is provided that there shall be deducted from the amount of the net income of each corporation, subject to the tax, the sum of $5000, the tax being computed upon the remainder.

Every concern subject to the tax is required, on or before March 1 of each year, to make a true and accurate return, under oath or affirmation of its president, vice president or other principal officer, and its treasurer or assistant treasurer, covering the character of its organization and the amount of business transacted during the year, to the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the corporation is organized; or, in the case of foreign corporations, stock companies or insurance companies in the place where its principal business is carried on within the United States. The return must, however, set forth:

1—Total amount of paid up capital stock outstanding at the close of the year.

2—Total bonded and other indebtedness.

3—Gross amount of income during the year from all sources and if organized under the laws of a foreign country the gross amount of its income derived from business transacted and capital invested within the United States.

4—Amount received by way of dividends upon stock of other corporations or concerns subject to the tax.

5—Total ordinary and necessary expenses actually paid out of earnings in the maintenance and operation of the business and properties, and in the case of foreign companies the cost of operations in conducting business transacted within the United States.

6—Total losses actually sustained during the year and not compensated by insurance or otherwise, stating separately any amounts allowed for depreciation of property; and in the case of insurance companies the sums required by law to be carried to premium reserve fund, and in the case of a concern organized under the laws of a foreign country all losses actually sustained by it in business conducted with United States, not compensated by insurance or otherwise, stating separately any amounts allowed for depreciation of property, and in the case of insurance companies the sums required by law to be carried to premium reserve fund.

7—Amount of interest actually paid on bonded or other indebtedness to an amount not exceeding paid up capital stock, or in case of a foreign corporation, not exceeding the proportion of its paid up capital stock which gross income from business transacted and capital invested within the United States, bears to gross income from all sources within and without the United States.

8—Amount paid for federal or local taxes.

9—Net income after making the deductions authorized.

Local collectors will transmit the returns forthwith to the commissioner of internal revenue in Washington.

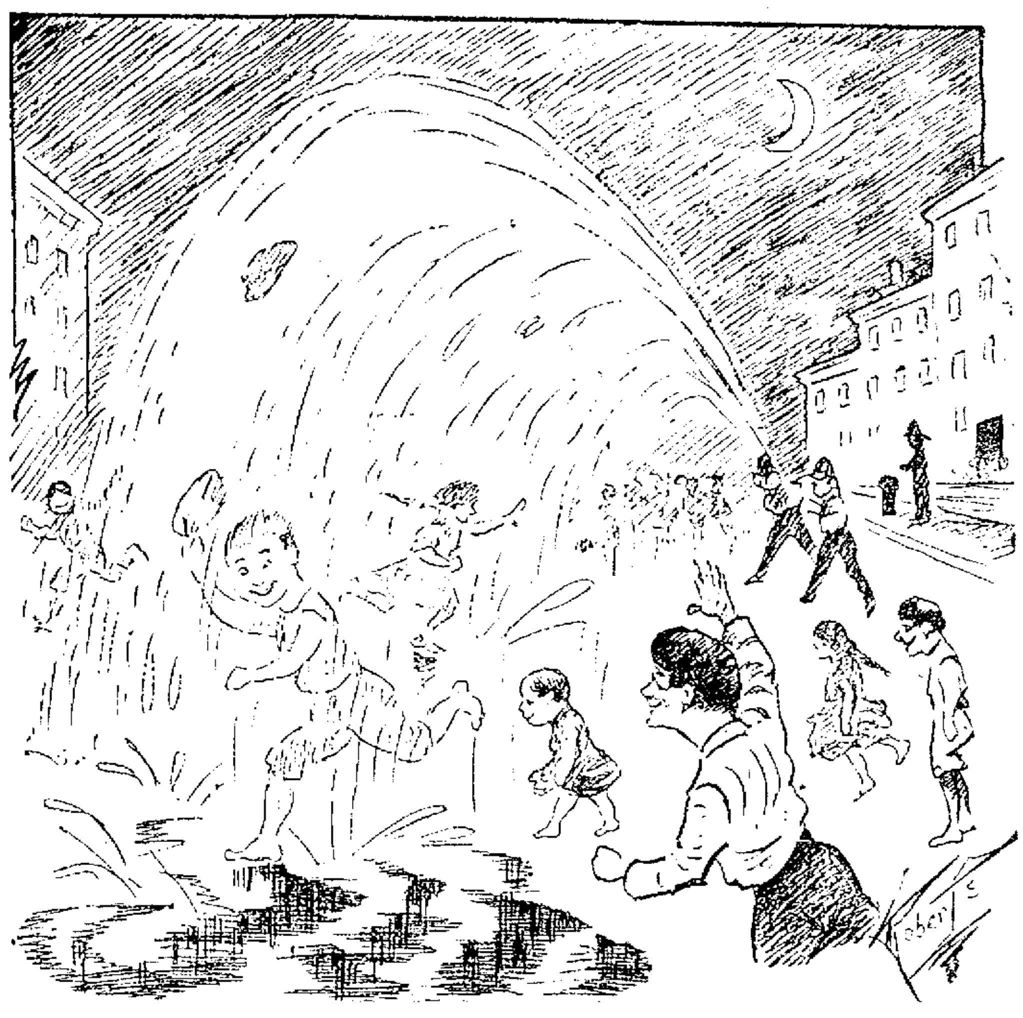
Upon evidence justifying the opinion that the return made by a corporation is incorrect, or whenever insufficient or no return has been made the commissioner is empowered to designate any regularly appointed revenue agent to examine the books or papers of such corporation, and take testimony of a responsible officer of the corporation in order to produce the information required for the purpose of assessing the tax. The commissioner as authorized also to invoke the aid of any United States court to require the attendance of such officers or employes and the production of books and papers. Upon the information so acquired the commissioner of internal revenue may amend any return or make a return where none has been made.

Returns are to be retained by the commissioner who will assess the tax. In the event of any return being made with false or fraudulent intent the commissioner is required to add 100 per cent. of such tax, and in cases of neglect or refusal to make return or to verify the same, the commissioner is to add 50 per cent. to the tax. When the neglect is occasioned by sickness or the absence of a responsible officer of the corporation subject to the tax, the collector is allowed to extend the time not exceeding thirty days. Assessment made by the commissioner must be paid by the corporation before June 30 of each year.

After assessments have been made the returns of corporations must be filed in the office of the commissioner of internal revenue, and they will then constitute public records and as such will be opened for inspection. For the protection of a corporation against the wrongful use of information the following is provided:

"It shall be unlawful for any collector, deputy collector, agent, clerk or other officer or employe of the United States to divulge or make known in any manner whatever, not provided by law, to any person any information obtained by him in the discharge of his official duty, or to divulge or make known in any manner not provided by law any document received, evidence taken or report made under this section, except on the special direction of the president and any offense against the foregoing provision shall be a misdemeanor and be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both at the discretion of the court."

If any corpoation subject to the tax refuses or neglects to make a return in the manner required or shall make a false or fraudulent return, it is liable to a penalty of not less than $1000 and not exceeding $10,000. When any person authorized by law to make or to verify a return, shall make a false or fraudulent statement for the purpose of evading the assessment he becomes liable to a fine not exceeding $1000 or a prison sentence of not more than one year, or both.



HAPPY CHILDREN SPORTING IN THE COOLING SPRAY FROM THE FIREMEN'S STREAM LAST NIGHT IN THE CONGESTED DISTRICTS

GREAT RELIEF FELT

In Congested Districts From Wetting Down Streets

There were no more welcome visitors in the congested districts last evening than the firemen. Their mission was to wet down the streets and the relief that they gave was fully appreciated. The principal streets in Little Canada and Concord and Fayette streets in Belvidere were wet down. The Race street engine crew looked out for Little Canada and they did not spare the water. The streets were so parched that it took a great deal of water to make any impression at all upon them but the firemen did not let up until the streets were well soaked. A business man who witnessed the wetting down process in a street in Little Canada said that the relief was so great that babies who had been turning, tossing and fidgeting because of the extreme heat, fell asleep in their mothers' arms after the cooling influence of the water had been felt.

The High street engine house crew went down Concord and Fayette streets and they did not quit the job until the streets were soaking wet. The man who could boast of a piece of garden hose also helped out on the cooling process and every little while an urchin would come around and say: "Please, Mister, play de hose on me feet."

This morning, bright and early, Middlesex and Central streets were wet down. Hose seven attended to Middlesex street and engine three to Central street. The work of wetting down the streets will be continued as long as the very warm weather continues and unless we are favored with cooling showers.

DIED SUDDENLY

BREAK-DOWN DUE TO STRIKE OF EMPLOYES.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., June 26.—Patrick H. Dolan, superintendent of the Pittsfield Street Railway company and a member of the board of directors, died suddenly yesterday afternoon. He had been suffering from a serious nervous trouble for some time and a two days' strike of employes of the company tying up all traffic on the system, June 2 and 3, made such serious inroads into his health that very soon after the settlement of the strike he became ill and his malady increased in severity to his death.

Mr. Dolan was 51 years old and was born in Cavan county, Ire. His parents located in Simsbury. Later, with his brother, Peter C. Dolan, he bought a large stable in New Britain, Conn., where they rented horses to the street railway company. The Dolan brothers finally bought out the railway company and equipped the system with electricity. It became a paying proposition and was sold to the Connecticut Power & Light company 16 years ago, and the Dolan brothers came to Pittsfield and purchased a controlling interest in the Pittsfield Street Railway company.

This road they also electrified and increased the mileage of the company from three to 30. Mr. Dolan never married. He is survived by his brother, Peter C. Dolan, general manager of the street railway system. He was a member of the Park club of Pittsfield and a director of the Berkshire Loan & Trust company.

MORGAN RETURNS

PARIS, June 26.—J. P. Morgan returned to London yesterday after having been only 12 hours in Paris. The negotiations to affect the listing of the common shares of the United States Steel corporation on the Paris bourse are continuing but there is no definite indication today that a final decision will be reached.

BOTH ESCAPED

Men Made Their Way Out of Prison

EAST GREENWICH, R. I., June 26.—Twisting the iron bars at the window aside as if they were so much straw, Clifford Joyal and Joseph Gendron of Riverpoint made their escape from the Kent county jail during the night. Their absence was first noticed by another prisoner, who saw the opening in the bars and notified the warden, Mrs. Smith. The young men, both who were about 20 years of age, were awaiting the action of the grand jury on charges of perjury.

CHANCELLOR VON BUELOW

KIEL, June 26. — Chancellor Von Buelow, who came here from Berlin yesterday to confer with Emperor William, boarded the imperial yacht Hohenzollern early today and was cordially greeted by his majesty at the gangway. They were then in conference alone for three hours and it is presumed the political situation was discussed. The chancellor has been given cabins on board the Hohenzollern next to those occupied by the emperor.

MANY LOBSTERS

SET FREE OFF COAST OF MAINE AND NEW HAMPSHIRE

PORTLAND, Me., June 26.—Over 35,000,000 lobsters have been liberated the past two days in the waters along the coast of Maine and New Hampshire. The greater number were placed off this port and the remainder were liberated near Portsmouth and other New Hampshire harbors. This work was done by United States Fish Commissioner Gannett.

They watch the kidneys and cure them when they're sick.

E. P. Sanborn, living at 79 Royal street, Lowell, Mass., says: "I have been greatly benefited by Doan's Kidney Pills and advise anyone suffering from kidney trouble to give them a trial. For some time my back was very weak and lame and after stooping I could hardly straighten. My kidneys were also weak, the passages of the secretions too frequent and accompanied by burning sensation. I felt that I needed a kidney remedy of some kind and having heard so much of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box from Ellingwood & Co.'s drug store. They were just the remedy I needed, strengthening my back and banishing the lameness in a short time."

DIPLOMAS GIVEN

Annual Graduation of Westford Academy

The annual graduation of the Westford academy took place at the town hall, Westford, yeseroay with a large attendance.

The hall was handsomely decorated, the stage made beautiful with evergreen, mountain laurel, potted plants and a profusion of cut flowers artistically arranged. The figures "1909" were displayed in front in gilt letters, and in the class colors, turquoise blue and gold.

There were four graduates, Miss Althea Smith, Miss Lilley Moran, Mr. Alister McDougall and Mr. Carl Wright, who were presented diplomas by Rev. Benjamin H. Bailey.

The exercises were opened by singing "Wedding Chorus" by the school, followed by prayer, which was offered by Rev. C. P. Marshall. Miss Lilley Moran gave an essay on "Heroes of Peace," and Mr. Carl Wright spoke on "Forestry." The class pophecy was given by Mr. Allster McDougall. The several selections, which were well sung by the school, were under the efficient leadership of Edwin W. C. Barnes, supervisor of music. Miss Gertrude Hamlin was at the piano.

Rev. John E. Blake of Fall River addressed the graduates on "The Making of a Man."

Rev. B. H. Bailey conferred the diplomas and addressed the gadnates. The class motto is "He Conquers Who Conquers Himself." In the evening the alumni held its annual reception and dance, the Lynn Cadet band furnishing music.

THE RED MEN

PASSACONWAY TRIBE ELECTED OFFICERS

The regular meeting of Passaconaway Tribe of Red Men was held last night at Odd Fellows temple, Sachem George R. Caldwell in the chair. Considerable routine business was transacted during the evening but the principal business of the evening was the election of officers which resulted as follows:

Prophet, George R. Caldwell; sachem, James Kershaw; senior sagamore, George Hicks; junior sagamore, George Houle; chief of records, Arthur W. Garland; collector of wampum, Geo. W. Randall; keeper of wampum, Ed. T. Goward; trustees, Leonard F. Steele, D. Glen Hurd and Charles J. Martin; great representatives to the great council of Massachusetts to be held in Boston, George A. Frost, George E. Sutherland, Charles H. Kittredge, C. J. Martin, Leonard T. Moody; alternates, Leonard F. Steele, George W. Randall, Geo. E. Wilkins and Geo. O. Spaulding. The great chiefs of the great council of Massachusetts elected on the part of this tribe were as follows: Great prophet, Willie E. Higgins; great sachem, Alvin G. Weeks; great senior sagamore, John W. Converse; great chief of records Alexander Gilmore; great keeper of wampum, Julius Beauregard; great representatives to the great council of the United States, Oliver A. Libby, G. Frank Conner, George W. Emerson, William A. Flouton. At the close of the meeting the loft of haymakers held their monthly meeting and two new members were initiated and three applications were received. The election of officers resulted as follows: Past chief haymaker, George E. Sutherland; chief haymaker, James Kershaw; assistant chief haymaker, Fred Nichols; overseer, William H. Martin.

CLUB OF THAT NAME HELD OUTING AT CANOBIE.

The ladies of the Sam Walter Foss Literary club were entertained by the gentlemen of the club Thursday night at Canobie Lake park. The party left Merrimack square at 6.15 o'clock on a special electric car and on arriving at the lake supper was enjoyed. After supper remarks were made by Mr. A. F. French, Mr. F. A. Bowen and others, followed by an entertaining recitation by Mr. Alvah Sturgess. The evening was afterward spent in enjoying the bowling alleys, roller coaster and the penny arcade, where many of the party participated in target practice. The return trip was made at 10.15. It was without doubt the best outing that the club has ever had. The supper and transportation arrangements were under charge of Mr. F. A. Bowen and Mr. A. F. French.

A CLOSE SHAVE

Many of Them Happening Every Day But Soon Forgotten.

Close shaves would be of more frequent occurrence but for the tender faces of many men, which will not permit of shaving often. Heretofore, nothing has been said in these columns about poslam, a new skin discovery, in connection with its use after shaving. Its publicity and sales have been confined almost exclusively to its remarkable properties as an eczema cure; it stops the itching at once and cures the worst cases in a few days. While the application of poslam after shaving is one of its minor uses, such as for pimples, the complexion, etc., shavers will find it a revelation, as it does for abrasions, roughness, and severe scrapings what it does for all manner of skin difficulties—heals and cures in a few hours. It is the only article possessing real antiseptic and curative value that has ever been exploited for this purpose, and will soothe and tone up the skin as no toilet preparation could possibly do.

Poslam can be had for fifty cents at any reliable druggists, particularly Falls & Burkinshaw's and Carter & Sherburne's, who make a specialty of it. Or the Emergency Laboratories, No. 32 West 25th street, New York city, will send a trial supply free by mail to anyone who will write for it. This is sufficient to show results in 24 hours.

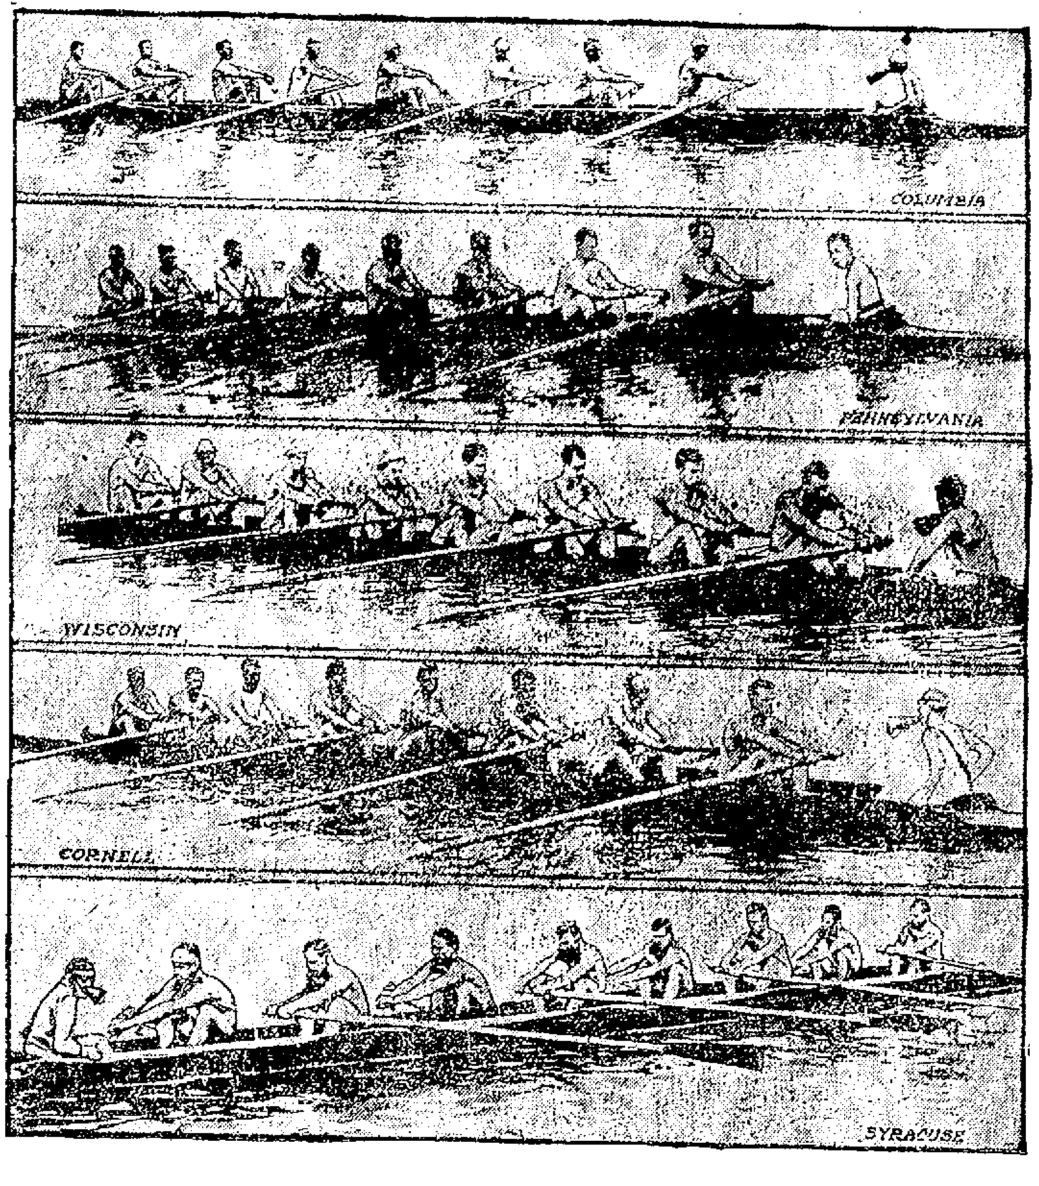
FIVE VARSITY CREWS AT PRACTICE FOR INTERCOLLEGIATE RACE ON HUDSON



POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 26.—All the five crews in training here seem to be in fine fettle for the intercollegiate regatta, which is to take place on July 2. Interest of course centers in the eight oared varsity event, and Syracuse, winner of last year's race, is the favorite. Coach Ten Eyck, who is as good as there is in the business, is putting his men through a grueling pace at upstream practice, that being the direction of the course this year. Although there doubtless will be several changes, the crews are boated as follows in practice, the arrangement in each case being from bow to stroke: Syracuse—B. J. Fisher, Guilford, Putnam, Gere, Hemenway, Shimer, W. C. Fisher, Champlin. Cornell—Seagrave, Simson, Kelley, Aitchison, Sutton, Day, Warner, Weed. Wisconsin—Sumnicht, Kerr, Trane, Hare, Van Loon, Wilce, Kraatz, Dinean. Pennsylvania—Bennett, Reeves, Hoagland, Marx, Walton, Shoemaker, Breitinger, Ballad. Columbia—Renshaw, Hammann, Miller, Saunders, Pitt, Robinson, Spalding, Murphy.

EASTMAN BURIED

Man Accused of the Murder of Mrs. May Woodill

ST. MICHAELS, Md., June 26.—Without ceremony and quietly the body of Robert Eastman, "Lame Bob"—the New York stock broker and the man who murdered pretty May Edith Thompson Woodill and then committed suicide, will be buried this afternoon at the expense of Talbot county. The farm near Bozeman, where Eastman had made his home during his brief stay in this county and in the bungalow on which place the murder took place, will be the scene of the burial. No church here will permit the body of the suicide to be buried within its graveyard and the authorities must bury it on the farm of the man himself.

Already the bungalow and farm from being a mecca for curiosity seekers is becoming shunned. That the dead man was really "Lame Bob" Eastman, the fugitive New York broker, is now established, for the body was positively identified this morning. The identification was made by Louis B. Pedler, a member of the art department of one of the Washington newspapers, who came down here to develop the story. Pedler is a cousin of Vinnie Bradcombe, the New York chorus girl, who it turns out is the wife of Eastman and to whom he addressed the letter in which he charged that a woman had killed Mrs. Woodill. Pedler had known Eastman well in New York, and there was no hesitancy in his identification.

Even before this, however, State Attorney Turner and the local authorities felt pretty certain of the identity of the dead man, for Mrs. Eastman or Miss Bradcome had practically admitted in New York that from the descriptions printed the man was her fugitive husband. She was asked by wire to come here, but said she was unable to do so. State Attorney Turner has offered to pay her expenses, and she is expected as are also two or three of Eastman's New York friends.

The story of the drunken row told by Eastman in his letter to his wife has caused speculation here and efforts are being made today to locate members of apart yof four or five here who are said to have left here on a launch the day after the supposed time of the murder of Mrs. Woodill.

STORY OF CRIME ENDED

ST. MICHAELS, Md., June 26.—The story of a crime unparalleled in this section of the country was probably brought to an end in the second chapter today when a man accused of the murder of pretty Edith May Thompson Woodill stood for a moment in a boat facing the men who had cornered him on the waters of a narrow creek, and then fired a bullet into his brain, falling lifeless to the bottom of the skiff in which he had sought to escape.

The first chapter of the story should be the mysterious murder of a girl who had moved in the highest social circles of Baltimore, Washington and Los Angeles—a beautiful, talented girl who had been a protege of Lyman J. Gage, and of former Governor Frank Brown, of this state. But by taking his fate into his own hands, the man known here as Emmet F. Roberts, but who in reality was Robert Emmet Eastman, a failed member of the Consolidated exchange of New York, and who was accused of the murder, passed beyond the reach of the law and with his going there vanished the hope of clearing up the motives and details of the crime.

A letter found upon Eastman's body, addressed to Miss Vinnie Bradcome, care of Klaw and Erlanger, the theatrical managers in New York, gave Eastman's poorly substantiated denial of the crime. It was a rambling account of how he had been out in a launch with a party of men and women all of whom had been drinking to excess with the exception of himself and Mrs. Woodill; of how one of the women in a fit of jealous frenzy had attacked Mrs. Woodill with a wine bottle and killed her; how the remainder of the party had taken flight, leaving him to dispose of the body, and how as a means of escape from all of his troubles the writer had decided to end his life.

The authorities have cast aside this theory of the death of the girl. The first word received from Miss Bradcome today conveyed the somewhat baffling information that she knew nothing of a Mr. Roberts or Eastman.

Neither the known movements of Eastman and Mrs. Woodill nor any of the circumstances of the case told bear out Eastman's explanation in the letter which he left when he committed suicide. According to the authorities Eastman in whose company she last was seen alive was responsible for the death of Mrs. Woodill.

As for motives, many have been advanced. That Eastman was infatuated with the girl was well known. She in turn, it would seem, was fascinated by him and possibly frightened by his attentions. In a note addressed to "Dear Webby" declining to see him at the particular time, but not wishing to anger him, she said:

"It is only an intermittent delirium anyhow, and you had better go and 'wash your dishes.'"

After this Eastman evidently prevailed upon the girl to visit his farm which was near that of her foster father's, to see the new bungalow which he had built. The girl met Eastman Saturday, was seen to leave the McDaniel wharf in a launch with him and Wednesday her nude body was found floating on the surface of Ross creek, crudely tied to a rope and weighted with fire bricks.

Mrs. Woodill, the wife of Gilbert Woodill, an automobile dealer in Los Angeles, who had been on a visit to her relatives, had intended leaving in a few days to rejoin her husband, to whom she was ostensibly happily married. Jealousy, induced by the fact that she was so soon to go away, is strikingly foremost in the list of theories. The crime may have been meditated or it may have been the result of sudden frenzy and attack in the lonely bungalow. There were evidences of a struggle in the bungalow, a bloody sheet, some blood stained boards, and some half burned clothing.

Mrs. Woodill, though twice married, was but a girl, vivacious and petite, weighing only about 100 pounds. Where the girl sprang from, who her father was, and what should have been her proper station in life, are clothed with much of the same deep mystery which surrounds the details of her death. She was adopted by Colonel Charles H. Thompson, a well to do farmer of the eastern shore of Maryland, 19 years ago, when she was a tot of three. She married in New York a Dr. Caswell, or Crowell, believed to be from Boston, before becoming of age. The marriage was annulled and, as Miss Thompson again, the girl was engaged to Harry Adams, of Mount Vernon, N. Y. Meeting Mr. Woodill about this time, she married him instead. The girl's foster brother is said to have committed suicide because of love of her.

Eastman, according to the information received here failed in New York last year, was arrested twice in Chicago last August for grand larceny and since that time has been a fugitive from justice.

INJURIES FATAL

John E. Hurley Passed Away Last Night

The many friends of Mr. John E. Hurley, a popular resident of St. Peter's parish, will be deeply pained to learn of his tragic death which occurred at the Lowell hospital last evening as the result of an accident Thursday while at his work in the blacksmith shop of the Lowell Machine shop.

Nobody saw the accident, but the unfortunate man was at work on a trip hammer when something happened while he was under it and when found he was terribly injured. When removed from under the hammer he was in an unconscious condition while his pulse was beating but faintly. He was hastily removed to the Lowell hospital, where he died without regaining consciousness. He sustained a compound comminuted fracture of the skull, the forehead being severed and the left eye so badly injured as to make it necessary to remove it.

The deceased was 27 years of age, and resided at 50 Whipple street. He is survived by a widow, Julia; his parents, William and Rose Hurley, a brother, William, Jr., and a sister, Mrs. Grace Atkinson, all of this city. He was a popular member of St. Peter's Holy Name society.

KILLED BROTHER

Boy Did Not Know Gun Was Loaded

CAMBRIDGE, June 26.—The Theta Delta Chi fraternity house, where one of the Harvard class day spreads was held last night, was the scene of a tragedy a short time later when John Wright, a boy of 12 years, accidentally shot and killed his brother, Robert J., aged 10. With their mother, Mrs. Mary Wright, a widow, of 52 Brighton street, the boys were in the steward's quarters of the fraternity house as the guests of the steward, Albert McLaughlin. They had had some of the ice cream and other dainties left from the class day spread, when John noticed a shotgun standing in a corner of the room. Grasping it quickly, he aimed it at his brother and pulled the trigger. The gun was loaded and the charge blew off the top of the younger boy's head before the eyes of his mother and the other occupants of the room.

At the Brattle square police station John Wright explained that the shooting was purely accidental, that the gun belonged to the steward and that he did not allow it was loaded, and he was allowed to go.

OFFICER McNABB

Overcome by the Heat Early This Morning

FELL HELPLESS ON BRIDGE STREET

He Was Removed to the Hospital—His Condition Reported As Much Impoved Today

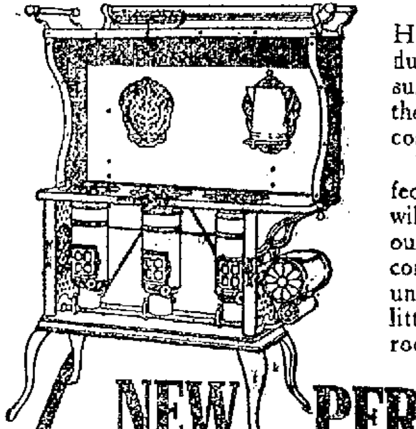
Patrolman James J. McNabb, one of the oldest police officers in the city, was overcome by the heat about one o'clock this morning near the corner of Bridge and Seventh streets. A carriage was called and he was removed to St. John's hospital.

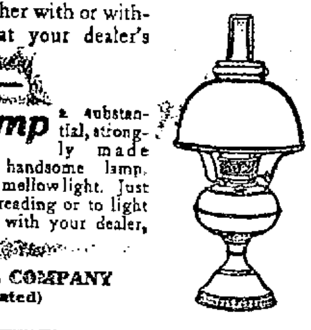
The officer is on what is known as the early morning shift, leaving the police station about 12.30 a. m. While passing through Seventh street two young men who were walking behind him saw him stagger, but thought nothing more of his actions as he seemed to recover himself and started up the steps of a house as though he intended trying the door.

A woman in the house was attracted by the sound of the rattling of the door and a few seconds after looking out of the window saw the patrolman stagger and fall into the street.

Lieut. Martin Connors arrived on the scene a short time afterwards and word was sent to the police station. A carriage was sent over and the officer was taken to St. John's hospital. He is about 65 years of age and lives in Dunfey street, Pawtucketville.

Inquiry at the hospital today brought out the information that Mr. McNabb was much improved.





Hot Stove—Cool Kitchen

How do you expect to endure the broiling days of summer if you prepare all the food over a glowing coal fire?

You need a "New Perfection" Oil Stove that will do the cooking without cooking the cook. It concentrates plenty of heat under the pot and diffuses little or none through the room.

NEW PERFECTION

Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove

besides being the perfect stove for summer use is just as efficient for year 'round use. Does anything any other stove will do. It is built just like the modern steel coal range, with a CABINET TOP that makes it possible to keep food warm after it is cooked. Made in three sizes. Sold either with or without Cabinet Top. If not at your dealer's write our nearest agency.

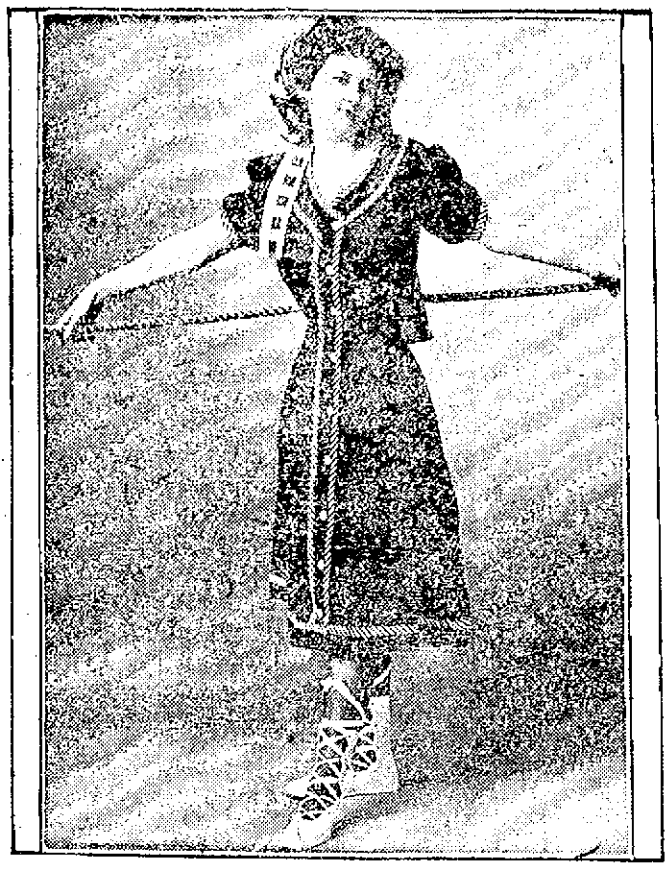
Young Women at Coast Resorts Will Carry Parasols to Match Their Bathing Costumes

AN essential feature of the vacation wardrobe is the smart bathing suit, and all the young women at coast resorts this summer will carry parasols with their bathing costumes. These parasols are just a tiny bit smaller than the sort carried for street use. Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett has the credit of being the originator of the fad for carrying a sunshade with her bathing suit. At her summer home on the Massachusetts coast, where she takes her dips in the Atlantic during the season, she has often been seen using a small red parasol as a protection from the glare of the sun.



PRINCESS BATHING SUIT IN NAVY BLUE SILK.

The best type of bathing suit this season is conspicuous for its simplicity. Women of refinement do not care to make themselves prominent among a crowd of beach loiterers by wearing dresses that are apt to invite unpleasant criticism, so they appear in dark suits cut in the latest mode and wear with them attractive accessories. At Palm Beach early in the spring the different styles of bathing suits are tried out and the winners decided upon. This year the blue ribbon went to a suit of black satin (princess in design), worn with a wide Dutch collar of Irish crochet lace.

In fact, all the frocks for the ocean dip worn at this fashionable resort were made of some dark colored satin or silk with a satin finish, and these materials, together with panama cloth, mohair and taffeta, are popular this summer. There is, too, a new shantung called "shed water tuscan," from which many smart bathing suits are being made.

The princess style is first favorite, although the tucked blouse attached to dart fitted bloomers, over which the carefully hung sheath skirt is smoothly adjusted, is well liked. The very attractive suit seen in the illustration is of navy blue silk, trimmed with bias bands of blue and white striped silk. White pearl buttons of a generous size make the closing down the front. A bathing cape, long, loose, an enveloping of cravenette, is now part of the bathing outfit; also a pair of high sandal-like boots, silk stockings matching the suit or trimmings and a becoming little headdress.

In such attire one can run the gantlet of hundreds of critical observers and come off victor.

five inch hip yoke. At the foot line are two or three small ruffles to widen out the hem.

RUFFLED DUTCH COLLARS.

This season is certainly the undisputed "reign of the Dutch collar." But one tires of the stiff or even soft, plain, embroidered or lace edge sorts of collars. The situation is relieved with dainty ruffled affairs. Indeed, they are very easy to make—simply take a piece of wide embroidery and plait it into a ruffle, mitering the corners, of course. Likewise you could make them of lace edged lawn or net.

FASHION HINTS.

SKIRTS ARE SHIRRED.

The designers have decided to put the full skirt on the market in so many ways that it must be accepted. The plaited one has already gained a wide showing, but some of the newer ones are shirred at the waistband in the old fashioned way. Others are put on with two rows of shirring to a little

A NEW BRACELET.

With the long sleeve has appeared a new bracelet, which is of a chain kind with a pendant of artistic design, which falls loosely over the sleeve.

The chain is loose and is sometimes caught at the bottom of the wrist.

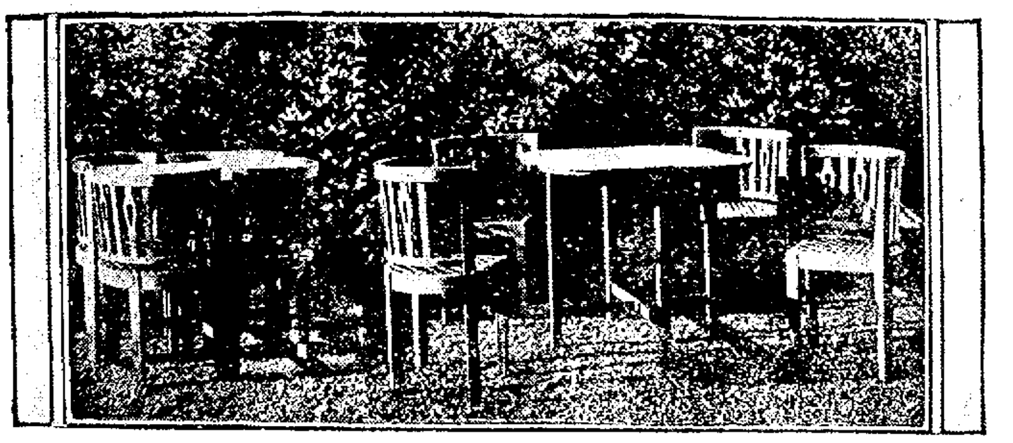
AN ASPARAGUS DISH.

That delicious vegetable, asparagus, is about as hard to serve gracefully as it is to eat in the same much to be desired fashion. The silversmiths, realizing this awkward state of affairs, have put on the market an asparagus set in silver—real or imitation—with dish, rack and sauce boat in one, with the tongs neatly fitted into their own place at the side of the dish. When the asparagus stalks are done to the queen's taste and laid side by side on the rack, the sauce boat filled with melted butter, it is time to bring into requisition the tongs for lifting the stalks to the serving plates.

UNIQUE GARDEN FURNITURE



The fad for serving meals out of doors during the warm weather is steadily gaining ground with housewives who have a garden or porch suitable for such al fresco feasts. Now, for a small party of four out of door feasters the very unique set of furniture seen in the illustration is especially designed. Could anything be more compact and attractive for this purpose?

The chairs have delightfully comfortable cane seats and high rounded wooden backs that are shaped to fit exactly about the corners of the table. In this way no more space is covered than that required for the table alone. When the board is cleared the after dinner game of bridge can be played at the same table. These garden sets are to be had in white and leaf green, but an order may be given at one's dealer to paint them any desired shade.

WHY Woman's Work Is Never Done

SHE Doesn't Know How to Relax---If She Does Know She Won't---How to Get What You Need Out of Vacation.

"THE average woman doesn't know how to work. She doesn't know how to rest. She doesn't know how to take a vacation."

This remarkable statement was made by a man recently. It is very true.

Look at the way a woman works! No wonder that old proverb had a run:

Man's work is from sun to sun,
Woman's work is never done.

Humph! and likewise huh! of course, it isn't, and it never will be, either, because the dear thing is a natural born putterer, and putter she will until she dies.

Women who accomplish things have to overcome this weakness for detail first, and I'll warrant you that every now and then they have a relapse and feel heredity tugging at their skirts. However, to return to the subject, notice how a man works. During several hours he resembles a huge dynamo. If any person interrupts or gets in the way, woe to that person's head! And, then, all of a sudden, like calm after the storm, comes complete rest. He lounges; he smokes a cigar; he exchanges jokes with the office boy. You would size him up for the laziest man on earth, and you would make a big mistake, for he is only storing up strength for the next spurt. He has relaxed tension absolutely, and that makes him a first class machine for all of his days. But is a woman wise enough to do this and slip off the belt, figuratively speaking, and give her mental machinery a chance to cool off? Not she! She keeps her overtaxed organism at full tension the whole blessed time, and she putters, she fumbles and uses up whole days doing simple stunts she could put through in one single effort if she knew how to manage herself.

Poor woman! She has been the worrier of the centuries, and half the time she has worried over things that never came to pass. That's the pity of it. There are thousands of graves that have been caused by unrelaxed tension, by needless and senseless worry.

A woman takes her work home with her. She does it over and over in her mind. She eats with it, she sleeps with it, and she grows narrow and crabbed and stupid over it.

And the man all this time is growing brighter and stronger, physically and mentally, because he has learned how to let go, because he always has time to go out to dinner with a friend, to hear a musical comedy, to take a night off occasionally and to think of something else besides the eternal grind.

Vacation Means a Change.

Then take the subject of vacation.

What does a vacation mean? A dress parade? Sitting around and being bored to death? No, my friends; we undergo that sort of thing all the year round. It means a complete change. If you live in the city, it means the country; if you live in the country, it means the city; if your life is narrow and dull, it means sightseeing; if you are lonely, it means meeting interesting people. Ask yourself what is the very opposite of your mode of life and take that for your vacation. It will be just what you need.

The other day I spent a week end at the home of some very charming people who are decidedly intellectual. As you may have gathered from my fluffy style of writing and thinking, I'm not. The short story magazine style of reading suits me perfectly. I buy all those magazines every month. Well, to return to my subject, there on the table was every kind of new thought and intellectual magazine printed. There was nothing frivolous, so I just had to take what there was or sit with my hands crossed. There I was, up against it. Well, my dear friends, I lay flat on my back in the sunshine, and I read first one magazine and then ten or twelve. I devoured them as a child devours candy when its system needs sugar. I read all. There was a mound of solid thought literature which almost buried me. When I finally arose—and, let me tell you, I never felt so rested, so invigorated, in my life—I could feel a tickling sensation in my brain when long closed thought cells had opened out and expanded. I felt all a-thrill and a-tingle, because I had given myself the dandiest kind of a mental vacation—just the opposite of what my much abused brain was getting all the time.

Go you and do likewise!

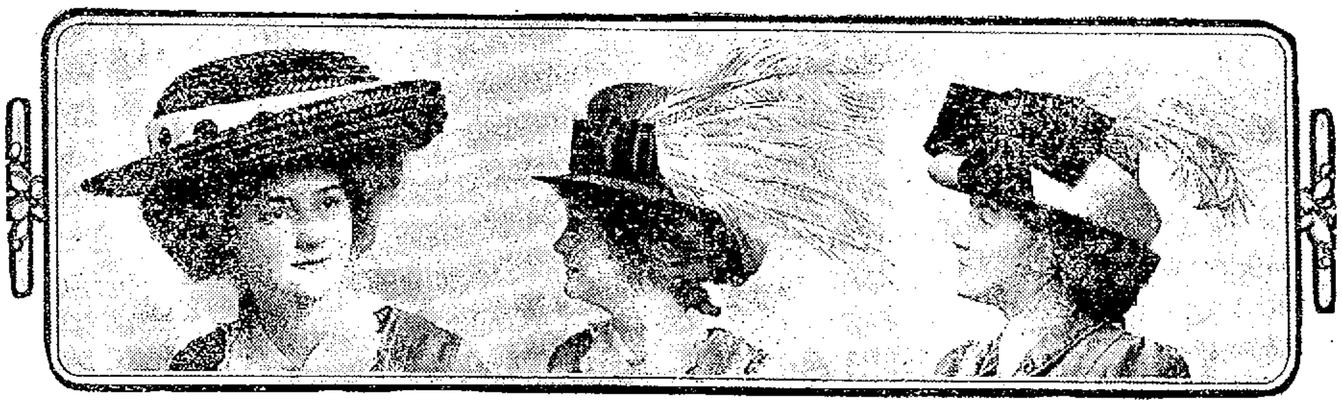
Some English Traveling Hats



The American woman is often seen at her best when in traveling costume. Like the English tourist, she has made a business of combining practicality with a certain amount of taste. Her neat, natty tailor made of lightweight woolen or some of the linen or crash wash materials this summer will be topped by a stylish close fitting hat.

Here are three serviceable hats for traveling wear, turned out by one of New York's smartest purveyors of English millinery, that have recently been sent over from dear old London.

Among them is the new sailor of black straw with an adjustable hat band. As seen in this cut, this band is of greenish ribbon shot through with gold, but the great advantage of this trimming is that it can be changed to match the gown.

For the woman who has passed the sailor hat phase of life the stunning small model of black chip will be found most attractive. The dome crown is just large enough to be pretty without being bizarre, and the flat bow of black velvet ribbon and the full white aigret are exactly the right trimming in the right place.

Black and white combinations in millinery are very swagger, and, reversing the order of things, the white leghorn hat adorned with a rather generous black velvet bow where the shape turns up becomingly at one side and its panache of stiff aigrets is exceedingly good style.

Plumage is not much in vogue for traveling hats except in pheasants' wings, tails and the ordinary quills. A number of the new models have straw trimmings shaped into large pointed leaves or bows.

What Milady Would Like to Know

HER COMPLEXION.

THE inequalities of the gifts of the gods are borne in upon a woman whose little housemaid has a complexion of peaches and cream, the texture of the skin like that of a baby. The mistress does not begin to have as good a complexion, and the point that most troubles her is an inner conviction that the little maid does not wash her face as often as is considered correct by persons who have been properly brought up.

"I know Mary doesn't wash her face every day," she told a friend recently. "I am morally certain of it, and look at her. I wash and wash and keep as clean as any person can who lives in a filthy town, and look at me. I look clean all right, but my skin is thick, and I've about as much color as a tan shoe. What's the use of trying to live up to moral standards when one has such a shining example of the uselessness of washing constantly before one?"

WRINKLES FROM HEAVY HATS.

Have you noticed how women are wrinkling their foreheads this summer in the effort to balance their large, overshadowing hats on their heads and to prevent them from toppling over entirely? The cartoonist who recently sketched a modishly gowned girl with her face so completely hidden by her big hat that a line from Vesta Tilley's popular song "I Don't Know Where I'm Going, but I'm on My Way," told the story and exaggerated the case very little.

It is absolutely true that unsightly wrinkles are appearing on the foreheads of women who affect this kind of headgear, and if they continue wearing these enormous shapes work to counteract the lines must be done daily.

And it is massage—a special stroke—that alone will smooth the corrugated flesh. This movement, contrary to the usual custom, must be downward, and there is a knack in not rubbing so severely as to stretch the muscles, while the motion acts upon the surface. There is no rule, however, by which the precise amount of effort can be given. It must be left to the discretion of each worker. The forehead at night should be rubbed thoroughly with cold cream, and then the tips of the fingers, put in a row at the edge of the hair, should be drawn down evenly and firmly to the brows. This must be done repeatedly until the creases caused by hours of wrinkling have been entirely removed. For the final two minutes it is well to rub with a light rotary motion. But an ounce of prevention for these forehead wrinkles is perhaps better than a pound of cure. Here is the way one sensible girl tries to get over the difficulty: Before putting on her big hat she takes a separate roll, such as is used for the foundation of a pompadour, and pins it securely to the middle of the head, making no effort to cover it with hair. The roll forms a cushion, through which the pins are run. The advantage it has over the other rolls on her head is in being tight. Of course it does not show beneath the hat.

THE COAT SHIRT WAIST.

Linen shirt waists—the new "coat" style—in natural color or white have double breasted fronts with the upper corner turned back and buttoned like a lapel, three big pearl buttons fastening the waist and sailor collar.

TOO CRITICAL.

A Munich servant girl has given notice to quit because she says that her mistress persists in playing classical music for a couple of hours every morning, although she has not the slightest notion how it should be interpreted.

NEW HAT HOLDER.

Taking care of a hat when one is not wearing it is always some trouble, and putting it away in a box, from which it must be taken out every time one wants to use it, seems a great bother, especially when one is in a hurry.

Various hat holders have been contrived, some useful and some not much of a success, but the best one yet seen and the most steady is a strong spiral coil of heavy wire, the bottom being larger around than the crown of a hat and the top much smaller.

A girl can buy these spiral wire holders and make them look very pretty and dainty herself. The wire must be covered with ribbon to match the closet fittings. The covering is done by fastening the end of the ribbon securely to the bottom end of the wire, then winding the ribbon closely around the wire all the way to the top. Each end should be finished with a bow. The closets should be furnished with as many of these holders as its owner has hats in use.

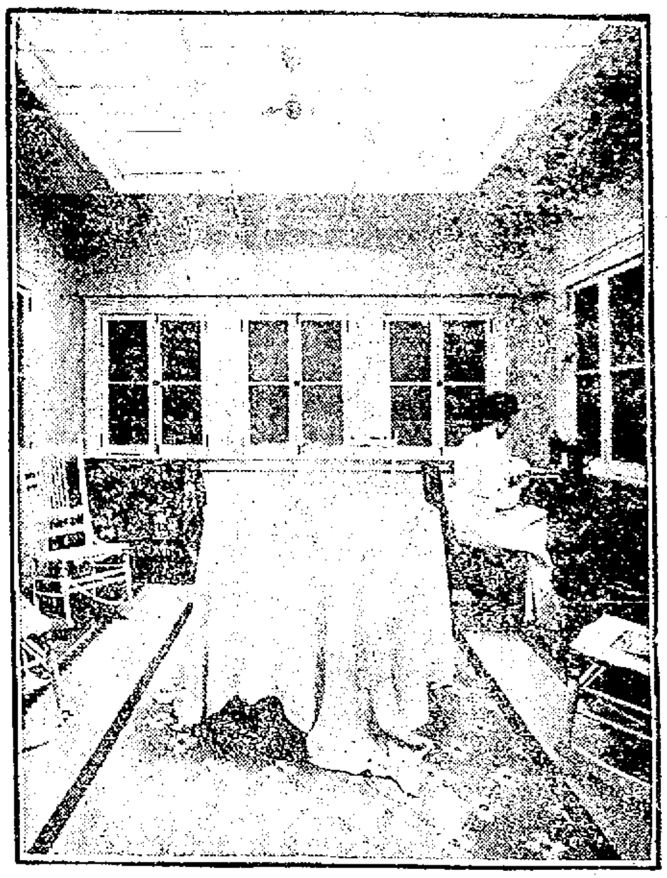
IRISH CROCHET CRAVATS.

The wonder is that more women do not take up this pretty handicraft. Irish lace stitches are easy to do, and the work goes rapidly, and, as every one knows, this lace is not only fashionable, but is one of the most durable laces made. Narrow insertions of Irish lace in the simple "fan" stitch are set into blouses of the smart Japanese crape, and with these blouses are worn cravats in the same stitch with a tiny border pattern along the edges.

SERVANTS Have Apartments Set Apart For Dressmaking

AT Harbor Hill, the beautiful Clarence Mackay country estate at Roslyn, N. Y., there exist almost ideal conditions in the arrangement of the servants' quarters. The administrative ability of the clever chatelaine has been at work as untiringly planning for the comfort of the twenty-five men and women who form her staff of domestics as it has been for the good of the Roslyn public schools and the suffragette cause. The upper servants, most of whom are English, have their private dining room, living room, baths and gymnasium, and a certain number of underlings are detailed to wait upon them at table.

In most large establishments like provisions for the creature comforts of the servants are to be found; but, as usual, Mrs. Mackay has taken the initiative and is the first mistress of a large household to add a sewing room for the exclusive use of the maidservants. A large, well lighted apartment at the top of the house has been set apart for this purpose. The room is plainly but appropriately furnished. A sewing machine occupies one corner. A large cutting table is in the center of the room, and about it are grouped comfortable rocking chairs in which the seamstress may rock and sew her seam. In convenient places are to be found ironing boards, electric irons for pressing work and all the latest sewing conveniences.



MRS. MACKAY'S SEWING ROOM.

The electric light system is especially fine on the Mackay estate and is under the direction of an expert German electrical engineer. It is said that by pressing buttons in different parts of the house the entire estate may be brilliantly illuminated.

FRUIT RECIPES.

BLUEBERRY JOHNNYCAKE.

This is an old fashioned genuine New England recipe for a most delicious concoction: One cupful of sour milk, one teaspoonful of soda, one-half cupful of molasses, one cupful of cornmeal (the golden meal), one-half cupful of flour, a little salt. When well beaten and ready for the oven add blueberries. Stir in and bake in square bread tin. At least two cupfuls of blueberries should be used—more if the dough will cover well.

DELICIOUS HUCKLEBERRY CUSTARDS.

Stew the huckleberries in a double boiler, as you want very little juice. Half fill deep pie tins lined with a good crust and cover the fruit with a custard made of eggs, sugar and milk, as for custard pie. Bake in rather quick oven. Best to make individual pies for family use.

FRUIT CHARLOTTE.

Line a deep dish with pieces of sponge cake cut in strips. Mash a quart of strawberries and sweeten with powdered sugar. Pour in half the quantity of crushed berries over the cake, then add another layer of cake and top off with whole berries. Cover the top with whipped cream or vanilla ice cream just before serving.

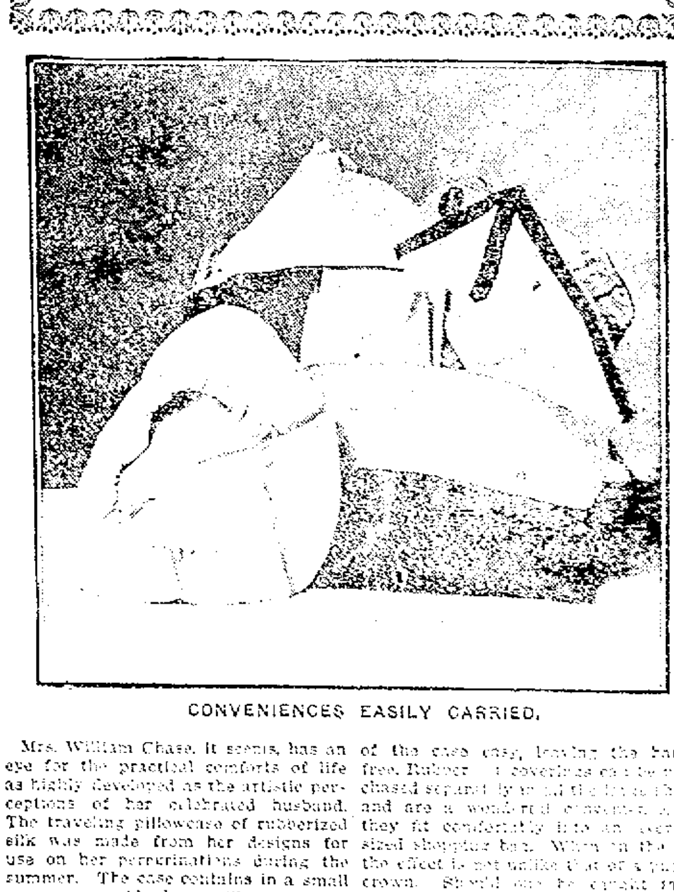
PINEAPPLE PUNCH.

For a delicious fruit punch mix half a can of shredded pineapple with the juice of three lemons and four oranges; add two sliced bananas, a cupful and a half of sugar and turn into a bowl with a large piece of ice. Let it stand until time for serving. Then turn in a pint of mineral water.

MRS. FAIRBANKS A PURE FOOD CHAMPION.

Few women are more interested in the pure food matters than Mrs. Fairbanks, wife of the former vice president. She spoke strongly on the subject at the last meeting of the Indiana State Federation of Women's Clubs, saying, among other things: "It is criminal for packers of meat and food purveyors to adulterate the food which is taken to sustain life and which mothers must give to their children. You women are doing right to take up the fight for pure food, and when these men come to realize that women will have none of their poisonous adulterations, then, at last, they will come to their senses."

When One Goes Traveling



CONVENIENCES EASILY CARRIED.

Mrs. William Chase, it seems, has an eye for the practical comforts of life as highly developed as the artistic perceptions of her celebrated husband. The traveling pillowcase of rubberized silk was made from her designs for use on her peregrinations during the summer. The case contains in a small compass an eiderdown pillow, a shawl of lightweight wool and a cap of thin rubber to protect madam's hat in a sudden shower. Stout handles of the rubberized material that can be slung over the shoulder make transportation of the case easy, leaving the hands free. Rubber [illegible] coverings can be purchased separately [illegible] and are a wonderful convenience, as they fit comfortably into an average sized shopping bag. When in the bag the effect is not unlike that of a puffed crown. Should one be caught in a storm it is but the work of an instant to whisk [illegible] the hand bag, clap it over the [illegible] and continue on one's way with the happy consciousness of saving at least [illegible] piece of millinery.

JUDGE GASKILL

OF SUPERIOR COURT STRICKEN WITH HEART TROUBLE

NEWBURYPORT, June 26.—A marked improvement was noted today in the condition of J. Francis Gaskill of Worcester, a member of the Massachusetts superior court bench who was stricken with heart trouble in this city yesterday.

Accompanied by his wife, Judge Gaskill was spending a brief vacation at the World Tavern in this city when taken ill. For a time grave fears for his recovery were entertained but today the attending physician said that the judge would undoubtedly recover. Judge Gaskill has been subject to attacks similar to the one with which he was stricken yesterday.

NEW BILL BOARDS

Booming Lowell Are Seen 25 Miles Out

TELLING OF LOWELL BARGAIN DAYS

The Work of the Merchants Association of Lowell—The Boards Made by the Kimball System

The "Boom Lowell" billboards, which are being erected in prominent locations in the surrounding towns are fast being completed and the remaining few will be finished in the next few days. These are the boards which the Merchants' association voted at their last meeting to erect for the purpose of making the residents in the suburbs, within a radius of twenty-five miles, aware of the great bargains which may be had in this city upon "Bargain Days."

The contract for the boards are awarded to no other than the "Kimball system of course," and this company is living up to every letter by putting them out. The towns covered thus far are as follows: Milford, Ayer, Pepperell, Canobie Park, Andover, So. Lawrence and Lawrence, Mass.

GOLF MATCH

ON LINKS OF THE WOLLASTON GOLF CLUB

QUINCY, June 26.—The first interstate golf match between picked players of Connecticut and Massachusetts—ten men to a side—was played today on the links of the Wollaston Golf club, twosomes in the forenoon and foursomes in the afternoon. Many of the players were comparatively strangers when they met this morning at the little clubhouse perched upon the hills of Montclair, but within a few minutes firm friendships were established and the first pair started off on their 18-hole journey. The teams were made up as follows:

Massachusetts—H. H. Wilder, Vesper (capt.); Percival Gilbert, Brae Burn; J. G. Anderson, Woodland; A. G. Lockwood, Allston; M. Claflin, Wollaston; P. W. Whittemore, Brookline Country; T. E. Fuller, Wollaston; W. G. Chick, Brae Burn; C. T. Crocker, Jr., Alpine, and J. G. Thorpe, Oakley.

Connecticut—R. H. Hovey, Hartford (capt.); E. P. Merriam, Waterbury; R. L. Jackson, Middletown; W. K. Sheppard, New Haven; W. A. Jackson, Middletown; E. P. Prendernick, Meriden; P. A. Smith, Hartford; S. B. Bowers, Bridgeport; R. C. Carroll, Greenwich; F. R. Cooley, Hartford; F. S. Bronson, New Haven, and E. L. White of Waterbury.

SHIFT OF WIND

BROUGHT BETTER WEATHER CONDITIONS IN BOSTON

BOSTON, June 26.—A shift of wind to the northwest brought slightly better weather conditions today to man and beast after five days of relentless heat. Still the temperature again arose with the sun and at 8 a. m. it was 82, a rise of five degrees since sunrise, while the lowest during the night was 76, which point was reached at dawn. At least half the population in the crowded sections in the city spent another night in the open, the parks and other spaces as well as roofs being the resting places of thousands who found indoor conditions unbearable. The weather bureau held out a hope of showers during the day.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

It's worth the money just to get cooled off, to attend the show at the Academy today, for the theatre is equipped with special facilities for cooling and ventilating and is comfortable at all times. But aside from its advantage of being the coolest summer theatre in Lowell, the Academy is presenting the greatest summer show offered in Lowell, consisting of four reels of new moving pictures shown in Lowell for the first time and including the latest and best films from the leading manufacturers. There are also two illustrated songs on the program and a series of travellettes. A continuous show is given today from 2 to 10.30, without intermission or delay. Drop in any time and see a fine two hour entertainment. The admission is only five cents, and that includes a good seat. Reserved seats are five cents extra.

THE FOLLIES OF THE GLORIOUS FOURTH

BATTLESHIP FLEET

Assembling in Hampton Roads for Summer Manoeuvres

WASHINGTON, June 26.—With two months of hard work before it the Atlantic battleship fleet is assembling in Hampton Roads for the summer manoeuvres which will be extensive and exhaustive. The fleet may be divided into two squadrons and fight against each other, and a dozen torpedo boats will make attacks on the big battleships whose officers and men will be required to exert extreme vigilance also to guard against the stealthy little submarine torpedo boats four of which with a parent ship are attached to the fleet. Under Rear Admiral Seaton Schroeder, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet, there will be nearly half a hundred ships of war ranging in size from the big 16,000 ton flagship Connecticut to the little 17-ton submarine Tarantula. Fleet drills and exercises involving tactical problems and battle revolutions will be held in New England waters during the latter part of July and the early part of August. Then the fleet will proceed to the southern drill grounds, south of the Virginia Capes for record and battle target practice. This shooting will occupy about two weeks beginning August 13. At its close the vessels will return to Hampton Roads and go thence to their home yards for any repairs necessary before the winter manoeuvres in West Indian waters.

Only 12 of the battleships of the present fleet made the trip around the world; the other four in the command are new vessels. The other ships have been thoroughly repaired and the newly adopted fire control mast which has been called the "inverted waste basket" installed. This summer's manoeuvres will afford the first opportunity for a crucial test of these masts. Four of these vessels will not be able to leave the navy yard for a week or more. The other 12 ships will proceed from Hampton next Tuesday for New England ports where the sailors and officers will be granted liberty from July 2 to 6. Four ships will be at Boston for Independence Day, two at Penobscot Bay, two at Portland and one each at Marblehead, Mass., Portsmouth, N. H., Eastport, Me., Rockport, Mass., Gloucester, Mass., and Boothbay, Me., the other two ships going where designated by the division commander.

With the reassembling of the battleships at Rockport, Mass., on July 7 will begin the work of the summer. Together they will proceed to Provincetown which will be headquarters until August 5. From Provincetown the fleet will proceed to sea each week returning Saturday night. On these trips will occur the fleet drills, evolutions and by courtesy of the navy department the citizen sailors of the naval militias of several eastern states will be taken out for a week for instruction on the big ships.

At Provincetown the Atlantic torpedo fleet will join the battleships, consisting of a torpedo flotilla of 12 boats with the cruiser Dixie as parent ship and a submarine fleet of four new submarine torpedo boats with the guideboat Castine as parent ship. At the conclusion of the exercises the big fleet will proceed to Hampton Roads to coal preparatory to target practice.

For the first time in the history of the navy the firing will be done on the high seas and in every condition of weather so as to attain practice with as nearly battle conditions as possible. Night firing under the same conditions will be carried on. It is probable that the scout cruisers Chester, Salem, Birmingham and the armored cruisers North Carolina, Montana and New York will join the fleet at Provincetown. The cruiser Montgomery, which has been filled up as a torpedo experimental ship will also be with the fleet. Secretary of the navy Meyer has been considering going to sea with the fleet during the manoeuvres to watch the work of the ships but has not yet come to a final decision.

While at Rockport, Mass., July 7 or later at Provincetown, President Taft may find it convenient to review Admiral Schroeder's fleet from either the small yacht Sylph or the bigger yacht Mayflower.

GRAND AMERICAN HANDICAP

CHICAGO, June 26.—A round of 20 shots today is to decide the winner of the Grand American handicap, the big event at the target meet at the Chicago Gun club. Four marksmen are tied for first place out of a field of 435 entries. Each of the quartet broke 96 out of 100 targets. After the shootoff of the Grand American today the amateur and professional championships of the United States will be decided. Those contending for the honors of the Grand American are: John R. Livingston, Springville, Ala.; Fred A. Shattuck, Columbus, O.; George Burns, Cleveland, and William Wettleaf, Nicols, Ia.

JOHN M. FARRELL Real Estate and Personal Property. Auctioneer
Office 152 Market Street, Tel. 2285-5 Lowell, Mass.
Saturday, July 3rd, 1909, at 4 P. M.
AT NO. 198 SOUTH STREET, LOWELL, MASS.
I will sell at public auction a very pleasantly situated residential or investment piece of real estate situated at No. 198 South street, being the third house from St. Peter's church, consisting of a two [illegible] story house with slated hip roof and has nine large rooms, [illegible] and a barn, with [illegible] square feet of land, more or less, with [illegible]. The house was built with great care and the best of [illegible] used in its construction. It has a large, well-lighted, cemented cellar. The first floor has large parlor, hall, sitting room, dining room, kitchen, pantry, etc. The [illegible] five large, square, well lighted chambers, well arranged, leading from a large hall, and bath. The rooms are [illegible] and [illegible] there is a large unfinished attic above. The barn sets on the rear of the lot and has stall for one horse, with ample room for carriages. The house sets on the front of the lot facing the South common, with plenty of room about the house, warranting plenty of air and light. The grounds in the rear have a number of fruit trees and shrubs [illegible] where a more pleasant place would be hard to find right in the center of the city, near [illegible] and the business center. The present owner [illegible] had in mind to erect a six-tenement block on the vacant land and has a plan for the same in blue print. I will be pleased to show this property to any intending buyer at any time before the sale, and feel that it is a good opportunity for some one to secure a good substantial investment property at public auction.
Terms of sale: [illegible] must be paid to the auctioneer as a deposit as soon as the property is sold; other terms at sale.
Per order MR. AND MRS. J. EDWARD CAMPBELL.

FRANK J. GREEN, Auctioneer

Monday, June 28, at 4.30 P. M.
ABSOLUTE SALE BY PUBLIC AUCTION OF A PARCEL OF PROPERTY CONSISTING OF TWO BUILDINGS AND ABOUT 4600 SQ. FT. OF LAND AT 120 TO 128 FLETCHER STREET.
Promptly at 4.30 o'clock in the afternoon, on the date set apart, I shall offer and sell to the person bidding the highest at public auction this parcel of property consisting of two buildings and about 4600 square feet of land. The buildings have been recently made over and are now occupied by two manufacturing companies. The Crystal Comb Co. occupying one and the Lowell Machinery Co. the other. They are two stories in height and are adapted for any kind of light manufacturing, being heavy timbered, high studded, having cemented cellar, elevator, electric lights, water and a high door on a level with the floor, for freight. No. 128 is practically a new building of two stories and basement, very high studded. The present tenants, who are very good ones, have short leases. The total rental of the property is about $450 a year. The lot contains about 4600 sq. ft. of land with a frontage on Fletcher street of about 81 feet, and on the passageway, which must be forever kept open, of about 84 feet, giving fine frontages and an entrance to all sides of your property from Fletcher and Rock streets, as this passageway runs clear through to said street. This is an excellent site for manufacturing and has many advantages not found in larger places of its kind. Now I think this a safe and sound investment for some wise speculator, and a good liberal mortgage can remain. All inquiries must be made of the auctioneer, who is in full charge.
Terms: $450 to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as struck off.
By order of ESTHER WOLF.

Next Saturday, July 3rd, at 3 P. M.
EXECUTRIX SALE OF THE McDERMOTT PROPERTY, CONSISTING OF A FOUR-TENEMENT HOUSE AND ABOUT 4500 SQUARE FEET OF LAND AT 19-21 WATSON STREET.
By virtue of a license granted me by the probate court, I shall offer for sale on the premises Saturday, July 3, at 3 p. m., a four-tenement house and about 4500 square feet of land. The house, which consists of four tenements, has five rooms to each tenement, water closets, gas, and is in good repair, and rents for about $384 a year. The lot has a good frontage on Watson street, and has an area of about 4500 square feet, which gives good yard room. Now this property is in an excellent location for the renting of small tenements, and it is within three minutes' walk of several large industries in this section of the city. This parcel should interest the speculator, as it is a grand location for renting property.
Terms: $300 to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as struck off. All inquiries should be made of the auctioneer, who is in full charge.
By order of ANNIE M. TASKER.
Executrix of the will of the late Kate McDermott.

Next Saturday, July 3rd, at 3.45 P. M.
A FOUR TENEMENT HOUSE WITH STORE AND ABOUT 3500 SQUARE FEET OF LAND, AT 93-95 KINSMAN STREET.
I shall offer for sale on the premises to whomsoever will bid the most for it at public auction, the above property. The house which is a two and one-half story, consists of three tenements of five rooms each and a store with four rooms with the other tenement. The total rental being about $400 a year. Now this is a property for some speculator, as a small amount expended will make the income much larger, as it is located within six minutes' walk of five large industries in this end of the city. The present owner of this property feels that she has not the time to look after real estate. For this reason she is selling it and it is bound to show handsome returns on the purchase price. When you take into consideration small tenements in a location so close to several industries, it cannot be otherwise than a grand investment. Now the man with a little money who could occupy one tenement and have the income of the others by purchasing such a place as this, would be making a grand start for himself. The building is so placed on the lot as to give a good lot of yard room. Look this property up and remember that the sale is to be positive on Saturday, July 3, at 3.45 p. m.
Terms: $350 to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as struck off.
C. F. KEYES in charge.

Next Saturday, July 3rd, at 4.30 P. M.
AT NO. 16 L STREET, A COTTAGE HOUSE AND ABOUT 917 SQUARE FEET OF LAND.
I shall offer for sale on the premises regardless of any condition of the weather, my cozy little cottage house of four rooms, pantry, and water closet, and a good cellar. There are two rooms on the first floor and two good chambers on the next. I have occupied it myself for several years and I think that for someone with a small family who would like to locate in Centralville, they should look this parcel up. The property is located on L street, between Coburn and Jewett streets; it being the second property from Coburn street. The lot contains about 917 square feet and is all fenced in.
Terms: $100 to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as struck off.
By order of MARTHA J. WESTOVER.

MANY OUTINGS

Lowell People Sought Recreation In the Country

The Boston & Northern did a rushing business today, more especially this afternoon, and thousands of people deserted the city in order to get shade and fresh air in the country. There were many outings to the beaches and pleasure resorts in the suburbs of the city.

The employes of the Rice & Co. wire works are enjoying an outing at Mountain Rock, where a fine list of sports was held during the early part of the afternoon.

The Paige Street church is holding a picnic at Milligan's grove, in Wilmington, while the children of the German Baptist church Sunday school are at Pollard's grove in Wamesit.

The Ladies' Aid society of St. Patrick's church went to Nabnassett grove at 1.33 this afternoon and members of the Highland M. E. church are holding an outing at the same place.

The annual picnic of the First Trinitarian church is being held at Willow Dale, special cars having left Merrimack square at 8.15 o'clock. Besides the sports there was bathing, bowling and various other amusements, also a fine dinner.

The tenth annual lawn party of the Mohair Cricket club is being held today at Mohair park. The sports were held at three o'clock, there is a children's entertainment scheduled for 6.30 o'clock and a select concert at eight o'clock. General dancing to the music furnished by the Chelmsford Centre brass band will follow the concert.

RETURNS HOME

MRS McLAUGHLIN HAD AUDIENCE WITH POPE

NEW YORK, June 26.—Mrs. Hugh McLaughlin, the aged widow of the late Democratic chieftain of Brooklyn, returned yesterday with her party from Europe on the Lustiania. The chief object of her visit abroad was to have an audience with the Pope, who last summer conferred on her the title of Marchioness.

"The pope was very gracious to us," Mrs. McLaughlin said. "He received us in his private library in the vatican and put out both hands to greet us. His manner is very unaffected, and when I knelt to kiss his ring he lifted me up with both hands just as if I had been a baby. There were two chairs in the room covered with books, and when he saw that two of our party were standing he jumped up and took off the books so that they could be seated. He asked about America, and seemed particularly interested in the Brooklyn diocese.

"I had brought a white silk cap with me and I offered it to him. He took off the cap he was wearing and presented it to me. I am going to put the cap in a case."

Mrs. McLaughlin will go in a few days to the summer home of her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Roche, at New Suffolk.

YOUTH WAS DROWNED

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 26.—Diving into the paddle-box of the steamer Providence for a swim this afternoon, Pendleton Rainor, 18, of North Carolina failed to come to the surface. A search was immediately made for the body but it has not been recovered. The heat is thought to have caused him to have cramps. He was employed on the boat.

Berry of Cincinnati and Mary Anderson of Chicago; general auditors: August Wilkinson of Cincinnati, Minora Burrell of Randolph, Mass., and Patrick Gillen of Brooklyn.

The convention will continue next week.

DENNY ESCAPED

Was Serving Six Year Sentence

NEW YORK, June 26.—John Denny, a military convict, made a dash for liberty today on Governor's island, headquarters of the department of the east and succeeded by a very narrow margin in getting way.

Denny was at work in a woodyard in a gang of eight prisoners in charge of a sentry when he had an opportunity to approach the sea wall without exciting suspicion. He was seen to walk to its edge and then again when he was quite far out in the water apparently exhausted and struggling, but nobody had noticed him go over. Not knowing that the swimmer was an escaping prisoner soldiers on the island hailed a tugboat which got the man and carried him to New York city.

Denny was serving a six year sentence for forgery and desertion from Fort Fremont, S. C.

A BIRTHDAY PARTY

A birthday party was held at the residence of Mr. Hicks of Powell street, yesterday, the occasion being the anniversary of Miss Bertha and Master Howard's birth. Twenty of their little friends gathered to congratulate them. Swings and games were enjoyed on the lawn and the little host and hostess received many beautiful tokens of esteem.

Refreshments were served and everybody had a good time. Mr. Griffin took several snap-shots of the happy gathering.

Fire Destroyed Davis & Sargent Buildings

A fire that caused a damage of between $15,000 and $20,000 and threatened much greater destruction was announced by two alarms, the first from box 84, situated at the corner of Westford and Gates streets, and the second from box 42 at the corner of Middlesex street, this forenoon. Had box 42 been the first to sound the damage would not have been so great as more apparatus would have responded and would have arrived sooner.

The fire which practically destroyed the long sheds used by Davis & Sargent for the storing of shingles and lumber of various kinds and situated in Middlesex street between McIntyre and Carlton streets, started from an ash barrel in the rear of 14 Carlton street. The sheds back up to where the ash barrel was standing and they were the first to be reached. A woman emptied hot ashes into the barrel and at least one man tried to put the fire out before the alarm was sent in. It was Fred Gallagher who sounded the first alarm.

Some of the oldest firemen in the department said that if a strong wind had been blowing the loss would have been very heavy, but fortunately the wind did not blow. The sheds and their contents contained the right kind of material for a big quick fire and it looked at one time, even in the absence of the shadow of a breeze that the flames would reach out to neighboring buildings and great fear was felt. Sparks spread to the roof of the synagogue in McIntyre street and to several other buildings. The scorching of a few shingles was all the damage done the synagogue but others suffered considerable damage.

There were busy scenes enacted about the time that it looked as if the fire was sure to spread. One woman to whose home the fire had already found its way became hysterical and refused to leave the premises. She had to be carried out.

Another woman in an upstairs tenement in Carlton street, threw a trunk out of a window. The trunk landed between two men who were watching the fire and they allowed they had had a narrow escape.

Considerable damage was done the house of Mr. Melane Duchans in McIntyre street. The back of his house was within a few feet of the burning building. All of the back of the house was burned, the windows were broken in and there was considerable damage by water.

Two houses in the same locality and owned by Owen Cassidy were more or less damaged by fire and water. These houses did not catch, however, until the department had found its bearings and the fire was confined principally to the rear of the buildings.

The house numbered 12 Carlton street and owned by John Callahan was considerably damaged as were other houses in the immediate vicinity.

The estate of Michael Maguire, numbered 672-674 Middlesex street, a brick building, was somewhat damaged. One-half of the house is occupied by Martha A. Clegg. A barn in Carleton street was badly burned. Russell Fox had the insurance on the barn and contents.

Thomas C. Lee & Co. held the insurance on the greater portion of the contents of the sheds that were burned. This company also held the insurance on the house owned by Owen Cassidy and on John Callahans' house in Carleton street.

Hoseman Was Overcome

C. F. Stackpole, a hoseman from engine 2, was overcome by the smoke and heat and was removed to the engine house near by where he was attended by Dr. O'Connor.

GOULD VERDICT

An Appeal is Not Expected

NEW YORK, June 26.—It is believed that no appeal will be made either by Mrs. Gould or her husband from the decision of Justice Dowling yesterday granting Mrs. Gould the separation for which she sued and $36,000 a year alimony.

Mrs. Gould, who has expressed her gratification over the verdict will soon leave her farm at Lynchburg, Va. While it is possible for either Mr. or Mrs. Gould to bring an action for divorce, counsel for Mrs. Gould evidently regards this as improbable for the present at least, after Justice Dowling's disposition of the charges made by Mr. Gould against his wife.

The decision of Justice Dowling brought to a close one of the most remarkable court proceedings in the history of New York city. In the belief hat the case is ended, Mr. Shearn, counsel for Mrs. Gould, will sail for Europe in a short time.

It is hoped that Mr. Whitney will be recovered in time to play in the second game for the American polo cup on June 30.

KILLED BY THE HEAT

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 26.—One death and several prostrations marked the opening of the sixth day of the hot wave in this city. Robert Spencer, 46, an employe of the Silver Spring bleachery, was overcome while at work yesterday. He went to his home at 8 Danvere street and went to bed. When his mother went to call him this morning she found him dead. This makes a total of six deaths. The thermometer today registered fully as high as yesterday, 97 being recorded officially but a breeze made things better. Thermometers on the street in shady places registered 110 in several places.

BISHOP McFAUL

Was Misquoted in Interviews

EASTON, Pa., June 26.—Bishop Jas. A. McFaul of the Catholic diocese of Trenton, in a signed statement to a local paper, declares that he has been greatly maligned by alleged interviewers in the controversy over the statements attributed to him relating to American colleges and universities. He denied that he attacked the morals of the students of the large universities and adds that those he has met have impressed him as gentlemanly young men.

What he did say, he declares in his statement, was that a magazine had asserted that some of the large universities taught doctrines subversive of Christian faith and Christian morals, and if that were true Catholics should not send their sons to such institutions.

WIFE OF ATHEIST

SANG AT HIS FUNERAL AS REQUESTED

SALINA, Kan., June 26.—A dozen or more friends of John W. Abbott, self confessed atheist, who committed suicide here Thursday, by drinking carbolic acid, attended the funeral.

No sermon was preached, but James Toles, a friend, read Abbott's creed, written by himself, a part of which was: "No love for Jesus Christ." Before his death Abbott requested that his wife sing at his funeral a song which he had written entitled "Lay Me Low," and this part of the program was carried out.

Mrs. Abbott declared that she and her children had the same religious belief as her husband.

SAILED TODAY WITH HER CHILDREN FOR EUROPE

NEW YORK, June 26.—Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt sailed for Europe today on the steamer Cretic with her daughter Ethel and her two sons, Quentin and Archie. The first month of their trip will be passed with Mrs. Roosevelt's sister, Miss Carew, in the latter's villa near Rome. The remainder of the stay abroad will be spent in a tour of France which was designed especially for Miss Ethel's benefit.

LUCKY BEVERLY

WILL HAVE A FINE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

BEVERLY, June 26.—The Beverly city council has appropriated $1800 for the establishment of an industrial school. Through the co-operation of the United Shoe Machinery Company a fully equipped plant is to be laid out on Elliott street, representing an investment of from $25,000 to $40,000, for which no charge is made to the city. The practical work will be done at the factory under instructors provided by the company.

The city will provide the theoretical work at the new high school building and will maintain the instructors there. The shoe machinery company will purchase the finished product, so the boys who attend the school will be in a measure self-supporting. It is planned to put the plant in operation within a few years.

MRS. LODGE ROBBED

DAUGHTER-IN-LAW OF SENATOR LOSES VALUABLE LACE

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Valuable lace, an heirloom in the family, given to her by her mother, Mrs. McCauley, wife of Col. McCauley, U. S. S. former military aide at the White House, has been stolen from Mrs. Geo. Cabot Lodge, daughter-in-law of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts. Although the lace disappeared some time previous to the closing recently by the Lodges of their Massachusetts avenue home and their departure for their summer home at Nahant, Mass., no trace of the missing lace has been found by the detectives.

CHAS. J. GLIDDEN

WILL ASCEND TO MEASURE HEIGHT OF HOT WAVE

FITCHBURG, June 26.—Charles J. Glidden will make an attempt today to measure the height of the prevailing hot wave. He will use the balloon Boston. A thermometer will be taken along for this purpose, and the promise of weather conditions is such that the attempt will probably be successful. A passenger on the ascent besides Mr. Glidden will be John Van Vollsenberg, a civil engineer of South Framingham. The balloon will go up at Fitchburg and remain in the air until Mr. Glidden is enabled to make the measurement.

A DARING HOLD-UP

Men Under Arrest Charged With Highway Robbery

BOSTON, June 26.—A story of a bold hold-up on a trolley car was told in police court today when Joseph Lannon and Edward Cahill were brought before Judge Parmenter charged with highway robbery. The men were held in $2000 bonds each for the grand jury.

While Alfred Sacco, an interpreter in the superior court, and his friend, Joseph Calobro, were coming down Washington street in the heart of the city in a trolley car early today four men boarded the car at the corner of Kneeland street. They went to the front end of the car where Sacco and Calobro were seated and after engaging them in conversation attacked them. Sacco was badly bruised about one eye in the struggle and his watch was stolen. The conductor assisted the men attacked and the assailants fled from the car. Policemen gave chase and caught Lannon and Cahill while the other two escaped.

PROTEST AGAINST UMPIRES

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Formal protests against Umpires Perrine and O'Loughlin of the American league officiating at any more games in which the Washingon team is engaged this season was filed today with President Johnson of the league by President Noyes of the club. In a telegram to Mr. Johnson, Mr. Noyes said that the two umpires were working against the best interests of the national game in this city and that their work was "not even decent."

SENATOR DAVIS

Speaks in Opposition to the Tariff Bill

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Couched in characteristic language, an address was delivered in the senate today by Senator Davis of Arkansas in opposition to the pending tariff bill. Senator Davis found general fault with the measure as a tax upon the people, as a discrimination in favor of certain interests and as a promoter of trusts.

Contending that the republican party had failed to keep its promise to lower the tariff, he said that if that party had possessed the manhood to state boldly that it intended to increase the tariff, the places that know them today would have known them no longer forever, and they would have been a byeword in the land, their destruction inevitable.

Declaring that the tariff bill is virtually the product of Senator Aldrich and asserting that Mr. Aldrich had been elected to the senate by a legislature chosen by 11 per cent of the votes of the small state of Rhode Island, Mr. Davis contended that the senatorial supporters of the bill had shown great subservience to Mr. Aldrich.

Mr. Davis defended Mr. Bryan as the reputed author of the democratic platform. Even though Mr. Bryan might not be president, Mr. Davis expressed the hope that he would circumscribe the field of his usefulness, the field of his eternal greatness, by accepting a seat in the senate of the United States."

"The field is too small," said Senator Davis, "his powers of usefulness would be too circumscribed and a pitiable spectacle he would present indeed were he here today bound and gagged as are the hopeless minority, to the autocratic will of the senior senator from Rhode Island."

MORE HEAT PROSTRATIONS

BOSTON, June 26.—Notwithstanding the lessening of the humid conditions and the slight decrease in the heat, prostrations continued, four cases being taken to the relief hospital in this city, while in Cambridge Andrew Fimonski, 37, employed at a sugar refinery, fell dead shortly after beginning work at 5 a. m.

JOS. MARCHELLO

NOT YET LOCATED BY POLICE INSPECTORS

DEDHAM, June 26.—Although Jos. Marchello, a Walpole Italian wanted on the charge of having murdered Salam Yaamberg, a Finn, at Norwood, yesterday, has not yet been located Judge Emery Grover in the district court here today set July 7 as the date for his appearance in court. The police today stated that they had obtained several promising clues to the man's whereabouts. Henry Saarenpa, a Finn, was held by Judge Grover today in $500 as a witness.

BLINDED BY HOSE

YORK BOY SHOVED IN FRONT OF A STREAM FROM AN ENGINE

YORK, Pa., June 26.—Charles Lark, 15 years old, son of Jacob Lark, has probably lost his eyesight by being shoved into a stream of water thrown from the hose of the Goodwill engine.

He was only about six feet from the stream and it struck him full in the eyes. When he arose blood was streaming from his eyes.

WON BY SUNDROP

SANDOWN PARK, June 26.—The Arlington two years old selling plate of 200 sovereigns, distance five furlongs was run here today and won by Sundrop. Pine Knot was second and Marquetta third. Among the fifteen starters was August Belmont's Burgoman.

REFUSED TO SWEAR

WOMAN AT 87 WOULDN'T REPEAT BAD LANGUAGE

CLEVELAND, June 26.—Mrs. Mary Griffiths, 87, Oldstead Falls, and a 10-year-old child, Myrtle Ketchum, were the chief witnesses for Elmer M. Ketchum of Lakewood, who is being sued in common pleas court for assault and battery. Steve Dieska, a neighbor, brings the action.

Mrs. Griffiths and Myrtle Ketchum witnessed the difficulty. The old woman refused to repeat some of the alleged bad language.

"I'm 87 and never have said such things, and I will not do it now."

Miss Edith Wilder of Westford street has been visiting at the home of Miss Catherine Burke in Westford for the past few days.

MURDER OF WOMAN

Robbery Believed to be the Motive for the Tragedy

BALTIMORE, June 26.—Robbery as a possible motive for the killing of Mrs. Woodill was advanced here today when it was learned that a man answering the description of Eastman pawned in this city on Tuesday two diamond rings and a diamond brooch valued at $500. Eastman was in Baltimore that day. Jewelry worn by Mrs. Woodill when last she was seen has not been accounted for.

The full text of the letter found on Eastman and addressed to Vinnie Bradcomb, his wife, giving his circumstantial version of the killing of Mrs. Woodill by another woman was made public today. Eastman claims the murder was committed in a bungalow instead of in a launch as first stated.

The letter follows:

"Vinnie—Take this money and go at once to McDaniel, Talbot county, Md., and claim my body and all my property. The property consists of 22 acres of land and a bungalow. There is also, a motor boat. Have a sale and convert the whole thing into cash. I don't owe a cent excepting for the paint and pump, etc., which Shanahan & Wrighton of Easton will be glad to get back as it is not broken, just as it was shipped. Little girl, I had no hand in the tragedy. Was there and removed the evidence after the other two couples fled. I did this for self preservation and am haunted. The victim was my particular friend and we were well mated. Have only known her three weeks. We all, that is two men and two other women from Annapolis, went to the bungalow for a time. Everyone got full excepting Edith and myself. Edith tried to win one of the girl's fellows while lying on the bed with him and was hit three times on the side of the head with a full bottle of champagne and the fellow hit once. She fell over on the floor and died. The man did not come to for an hour. I was left with the corpse and cannot take a chance for a trial. Life to me is very bitter and I will put down the shades and say 'good bye.' You can claim my property and say as little as possible but get it. I am awfully sorry for you and our boy and I have been hoping madly to make your path clear but fate is against me.

"Take Penna. train to Easton, Md., and then change to B. C. & A. Don't neglect this. The property is valuable."

With the making public today of the full text of Lame Bob Eastman's version of the death of Edith May Woodill as related in the letter he sought to mail to Vinnie Bradcombe, his wife, a new interest has been added to the tragedy of the lonely bungalow on the shores of one of the maze of tidal streams that put in here from the Chesapeake bay. But robbery as a possible motive for the crime now has been advanced. Word comes from Baltimore that a man answering the description of Eastman in every detail pawned in that city on Tuesday last two diamond rings and a diamond brooch valued at $500. Diamond rings, a diamond brooch and a diamond seal bracelet worn by Mrs. Woodill when she last was seen alive with Eastman never have been accounted for.

It is likely that the jewelry will be sent here for identification.

If it proves to be that of Mrs. Woodill, as now believed, an entirely new light will be shed on the strange tragedy. Eastman went to Baltimore on Tuesday and mailed from there a letter written by Mrs. Woodill previously to her sister at McDaniel. Eastman's story of the crime—which he declared was committed by a drunken woman in a fit of jealous rage—is so circumstantial and seems in a way so much like the sincere declarations of a man about to take his own life, however, that Foreman Radcliffe of the coroner's jury which was inquiring into the death of Mrs. Woodill is convinced of its truth.

Mr. Radcliffe again today postponed the inquest to await some action by the law officers.

The latter are still inclined to take but little stock in Eastman's declarations pointing out that his whole life here was a continuous lie and that he invented so many false stories that this last one—attempting to throw the blame for murder on the shoulders of another—is unworthy of belief. They believe the letter may have been written in an attempt to shield his wife and boy from a final stigma from an unworthy husband and father.

It was believed yesterday that Eastman had said the murder was committed in a launch. Eastman left with the letter $148.

State's Attorney Turner declared today that he would employ assistance and ask the co-operation of the Baltimore police. The latter, however, adheres to the theory that it was Eastman who committed the deed. Detective Captain Humphrey of Baltimore explained his theory in detail. He believes that despite Eastman's declaration that Mrs. Woodill was not a new acquaintance, that the two were old friends, and that the woman was killed from motives of jealousy when, after postponing her departure to join her husband, she finally declared she was going back to her home in Los Angeles, Cal.

Down here where Mrs. Woodill lived as a girl the neighbors of her foster father and old Col. Thompson himself hold the theory that the girl was killed in repulsing Eastman's advances.

The mystery seems far from being really cleared up today and one of the clues yet to be run down is the locating of the men who were to visit Eastman's bungalow the night of June 18. This letter found in Eastman's bungalow and addressed to "Roberts," as he was known here, was as follows:

"Eastman, Pa

"Dear Roberts:—Ryan and Shotwell will arrive Oxford boat 12 o'clock tonight. Captain Lee will take us over to your joint. Get there about 12.15, but must leave after looking the place over. Sorry you have decided not to go this time. Girls all at Annapolis. Here is to the one you sent for me.

"Yours,

(Signed) "Hewarth."

There had been a party at the bungalow prior to the arrival of Mrs. Woodill there on the 13th, and this fact may have given Eastman his idea for an explanation for the crime if it should turn out that his declarations are false.

Several persons along the road it was said today heard Eastman and Mrs. Woodill quarrelling as they drove from Royal Oak station where he met her Saturday last to the wharf at McDaniel where she was seen for the last time alive entering a motorboat with the man who died a suicide while accused of her murder.

DETECTIVE PUMPHREY'S THEORY

BALTIMORE, June 26.—Detective Captain Pumphrey of the Baltimore police, who has been engaged in work upon local clues connected with the Woodill tragedy, scouted the idea today that a woman committed the murder.

"From what I have discovered," he said, "I have no doubt that Eastman and Mrs. Woodill were old friends. I do not think it was a mere coincidence that brought him to live within a stone's throw practically of her foster-father's home. I believe that Eastman was in California recently and that he came to the eastern shore of Maryland, knowing that Mrs. Woodill soon was coming east.

"Mrs. Woodill had intended returning west a few days after her husband left but when she found Eastman domiciled near her father's home she could not resist playing with fire. While she lingered here she received a letter from her husband urging her to meet him at Detroit at once. Mrs. Woodill showed this letter to a friend and declared that she would not go back west right away as she had decided to pay a visit of several weeks on the eastern shore. We know that when Mrs. Woodill did go to her father's home she saw a great deal of Eastman. I believe that at last Mrs. Woodill informed Eastman that she intended to go back west to join her husband and that he became insanely jealous and forbade it.

"It is easy to conjecture that there were mutual threats. Mrs. Woodill had been told much of Eastman's past life and she could easily have threatened to disclose his identity to the authorities."

TO CLAIM BODY

ENGAGING ROOMS

Forerunner of Races Strikes Varnum Ave.

Perhaps the automobile races aren't going to bring crowds to Lowell. A few days ago a New York man went the rounds of the houses in Varnum avenue trying to hire rooms in each house for the first week in September. The stranger had money galore and offered $2.50 per night for all the rooms he could get regardless of size and location, guaranteeing to use them for one week. It is not known whether he engaged many but it is a fact that he was refused in several cases as the residents who have rooms to dispose of preferred to do business with their roomers directly.

KILLED HIMSELF

John R. Halsey Committed Suicide

ELIZABETH, N. J., June 26.—A self-inflicted revolver shot in the temple ended today the life of John R. Halsey, secretary of the celluloid company of Newark with offices in New York city. Halsey was found dead in the bathroom of his handsome residence here. Overwork and depression from the heat is assigned by the family as the probable reason for the suicide.

STATE PARADE

Of C. T. A. Union May be Held Here

The semi-annual election of officers of the Mathew Temperance Institute will take place tomorrow morning at the weekly meeting of the society, and what looked at first to be a most interesting election, promises to be a quiet affair. Although there will be changes in the board of government yet there will be very few, if any contests. Pres. James J. Gallagher will be re-elected, the custom of giving a president the second term being a time honored one. In Pres. Gallagher the institute has found an energetic worker and his election is assured. Vice Pres. James F. Riley is now holding a responsible position in Pennsylvania and hence will not seek a re-election to the office. As the candidate for this office, Mr. John E. Sullivan has been selected, and in him the members are confident they will have a most efficient officer. For many years Mr. Sullivan has given of his time and talents to a promotion of the society's work and it is generally felt that when Pres. Gallagher retires, Mr. Sullivan will fill the office of president with great credit. He is a brother of Ex-Pres. Humphrey F. Sullivan, and the late Charles F. Sullivan, the latter at one time vice-president of the institute. For treasurer, Peter F. Brady, one of the old guard, is the only candidate. All the other officers will be re-elected, and the election promises to pass off quietly.

The annual parade of the Holy Family Temperance League will be held in Boston tomorrow, and a number of members will attend. Several ex-presidents of the society will serve on the staff of Chief Marshal John J. Leonard.

Tomorrow, after a stay of seventeen years, the institute will hold its last meeting in the Mansur block, the removal of the quarters to the Dutton street building taking place next week. The institute has enjoyed great prosperity in the old quarters, but feels that there are many benefits to be derived from the change.

There is a growing sentiment in favor of holding a big state parade in Lowell on Fr. Mathew day in October, and the society may discuss the matter before the summer season closes. It is seven years since the big temperance parade was held here, and those who participated in it recall what great success was met with and what a capable committee handled the arrangements. It might be added also that the same committee conducted a harvest fete in the same year and it was without doubt the most successful event from a financial standpoint ever conducted by the society. Thomas H. Gallagher was president of the society and John J. Galvin was chief marshal of the parade.

MYSTERIOUS PACKAGE

Was Addressed to U. S. Commissioner Shields of New York

NEW YORK, June 26.—A mysterious package which was received at the office of U. S. Commissioner Shields in the federal building today caused speculation as to whether it contained an explosive. Its opening was deferred until Monday with the intention of exercising caution. On one of the wrappings was the inscription: "This package contains records which went through the hands of the squarer of the circle. This package shall not be opened until the 15th year of the death and departing of Ben Bernstein from the planet—this planet."

It was delivered by express and directed to Mr. Shields. Bernstein was found in his room in West 100th street making clippings from newspapers and placing them on larger sheets on each of which Bernstein recorded suggestions of reforms. He declared that he sent a package of such clippings to Mr. Shields and has sent similar packages to the government of many countries, the New York legislature and justices of the supreme court of this state. Bernstein said he was an inventor.

FRANKLIN HOUSE

Creditors Withdraw Their Objections

The police commissioners held a meeting this forenoon to consider the Holden case on which a hearing was held yesterday. While the commissioners were behind closed doors, Messrs. John J. Hogan, J. Joseph O'Connor and Major Crowley were in the reception room talking the matter over and after a while George C. Dempsey, said to be the principal creditor, came in. Mr. Brennan, who seeks the license, is an employe of Mr. Dempsey, and at the hearing yesterday the legal talent present objected to the granting of the license to Brennan. This morning, however, after a conference with Mr. Dempsey, they appeared before the commissioners and withdrew their objection. The commissioners adjourned without granting the license although the license held by Mr. Holden was surrendered yesterday.

THE HEAT.

CAUSED ONE DEATH AND MANY PROSTRATIONS IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, June 26.—Although prostrations from the heat today were numerous but one death from that cause had been reported up to 2 p. m. At that hour the thermometer was four degrees under the maximum of 92 recorded yesterday afternoon, standing at 88 degrees.

TAKEN TO LYNN

Victim of Auto Accident Leaves Hospital

Mrs. Joseph P. Breed of Lynn, one of the victims of the recent automobile accident in Littleton, Mass., in which her husband was killed and her son-in-law, Henry Berry, a well known lawyer, and herself were badly injured, was removed today from the Lowell General hospital to her home in Lynn in a big limousine ambulance from Boston, which attracted considerable attention as it passed through the streets on its way to Lynn. Mr. Berry will be removed tomorrow. Mrs. Breed is progressing favorably, and Dr. Gage of this city, who has been attending her, will continue to make daily visits to her home in Lynn until she has recovered. The accident happened some few days ago while the party was returning from Templeton, Mass., to Lynn. The victims were removed from Littleton to the Lowell General hospital, except Mr. Breed, who was killed outright. Since the accident the family of Mr. and Mrs. Breed have been constantly by their bedside, making their headquarters at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Nichols, 358 Varnum avenue.

DEATHS

CHANEY—Died June 26 at the residence of Mr. Andrew Robinson in Witham avenue, Dracut, Lydia F. Chaney, aged 74 years, 2 months. She was the widow of the late Geo. Chaney. She leaves two sisters, Mrs. Maryette A. Nason of Pacific Grove, Cal., and Mrs. Emily L. Trask of this city. The funeral will be held from the residence of Mr. Robinson in Witham avenue, Dracut, on Monday, June 28, at 2 o'clock. Funeral in charge of Undertaker J. A. Weinbeck.

HUNTING FOR LEON LING

NEW YORK, June 26.—The police look for important developments in the search of Leon Ling as the outgrowth of the out of town trip undertaken by Captain Michael Galvin of the department in company with Quon Yik Nam, the Chinese interpreter. The pair left the city quietly yesterday for an unknown investigation. Galvin is captain of the Elizabeth street precinct and is credited with being one of the best informed men of the force on the Chinese and their ways and his resources are believed to be sufficient to have brought to light tangible clues in the Chinese quarter.

CUTTS TO WED

HARVARD MAN TO MARRY DORCHESTER GIRL

BOSTON, June 26.—One of the prominent graduates at the Harvard class day exercises was Oliver F. Cutts, the famous tackle of the invincible 1901 Harvard eleven. He is now a lawyer in Seattle, Wash.

His long trip east was prompted by something more important than attending the commencement festivities. On June 30 he is to be married at the Second Congregational church, Dorchester, to Miss Eugenia Ayer of 2 Burt street, Dorchester, a Smith '08 graduate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellmore C. Ayer.

Mr. Cutts' engagement was announced last January, but not until yesterday did the date of the wedding become generally known. He received many congratulations yesterday from those who knew him while in college.

The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Arthur B. Little, pastor of the Second Congregational church. The bridemaids will be classmates of Miss Ayer at Smith, and will include Miss Rachel Swain, Miss Florence Ayer, Miss Florence Keene and Miss Jessie Wilson. The maid of honor will be Miss Edna Wallis. Dr. William B. Cutts of Providence, brother of the groom will be the best man.

Does Your Backache?

If you are a woman and you have this symptom get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound without delay.

Backache seems an invention of the evil one to try woman's souls. Only those who suffer this way can understand the wearing, ceaseless misery.

We ask all such women to read the two following letters for proof that Mrs. Pinkham's medicine cures backache caused by female diseases.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I have been a great sufferer with a constant pain in my back. I was advised to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for it, and the pain has disappeared. I feel like a new woman since that awful pain has gone, and may God bless the discoverer of that great and wonderful remedy."—Mrs. Peter Gaffney, 548 Marcey Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y

Milwaukee, Wis.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me a well woman, and I would like to tell the whole world about it.

"I suffered from female troubles and fearful pains in my back. I had the best doctors and they all advised an operation. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman and I have no more backache. I am ready to tell every one what this medicine has done for me."—Mrs. Emma Imse, 833 First St., Milwaukee, Wis.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made thousands of cures of such cases. You notice we say has cured thousands of cases. That means that we are telling you what it has done, not what we think it will do. We are stating facts, not guesses.

We challenge the world to name another remedy for female ills which has been so successful or received so many testimonials as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

6 O'CLOCK

Two Convicts Broke Out of Jail at Concord, N. H.

CONCORD, N. H., June 26.—Joseph Gouin of Dover, the pal of John Doe in the sensational killing of John Dalton on a train at Rockingham Junction in February, 1906, following an alleged robbery at the Luddy-Currier factory in Dover the night before and William E. Chapman of Portsmouth held for observation made their escape from the New Hampshire state hospital for the insane at 5.30 this morning by overpowering the attendant in the ward in which they have been held since incarceration in the institution securing his keys and letting themselves out through the main door. The alarm was given in five minutes after they got away. But although search was made and the police all over this section were notified no trace of them has been discovered. Following the killing at Rockingham Gouin was arraigned on a charge of murder in the second degree, found guilty and was sentenced to a term of not less than twenty nor more than thirty years in the state prison. He was committed on May 16, 1906. Six months ago he developed violent insanity and was transferred to the asylum where under treatment he had recovered and his case was reported to the governor and council as cured and ready for transfer back to the prison the first of the month.

Chapman was brought before the superior court in Portsmouth on Oct. 1, 1908, on an indictment charging assault with intent to rape a girl nine years of age. He pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity and was sent to the hospital for observation. Like Gouin Chapman had been reported to the authorities as not insane and ready for trial.

Since he has been confined at the hospital Gouin has kept in his room which has been striped of all furniture, his only allowance being a mattress which was placed there for him to sleep on at night and was removed in the morning. His only clothing has been a pair of drawers. This morning at about 5.30 Othleo D. Johnson, the night attendant, violated the rules of the institution by letting Chapman out of his cell to help him clean up the ward and while thus engaged Chapman suggested that they go to Gouin's room and take out his mattress. Johnson agreed and just as he unlocked Gouin's door Chapman hit him a smashing blow on the mouth, knocking him down. Like a flash Gouin was out of the room bringing his sheets with him and with these he and Chapman proceeded to tie Johnson. Chapman then took his keys and going over to the locker secured Gouin's clothing which the latter donned. Then they left the hospital, going out through the main doors with the assistance of the keys in their possession.

The first intimation that anything was wrong came to Dr. Landers on duty in the office in a telephone message from the attendant in the ward under the one in which the men were held who had been aroused by Johnson's cries for assistance. Johnson had released himself from his bonds and with Dr. Landers made a search for the prisoners.

Satisfying themselves that the men were gone Dr. Bancroft, the superintendent of the institution was called and under his direction the police all over this section was notified of the break and posses were sent out to scour the surrounding country.

Later a meeting of the trustees at which the sending out of descriptions was expected and a reward of $200 offered for the apprehension and return of fugitives to the institution.

The Rockingham Junction murder case was one of the most sensational crimes in New Hampshire police mystery. On the night of Feb. 10, 1906, Gouin and an accomplice known as John Doe broke into the office of the Luddy Currier shoe factory at Dover and blew open the safe. They were detected and pursued before they managed to secure much loot but they eluded their pursuers. The men boarded a train bound for Boston and as the train approached Rockingham Junction the conductor, who had been notified of the break at the factory in Dover suspected the two men of complicity and prepared to notify the police as soon as the train had reached Rockingham. When the train stopped Gouin and his companion drew revolvers and held the passengers and train crew at bay, threatening death to any person who attempted to leave the train. An Italian ignorant of the English language and frightened by the display of firearms started for the door and was shot and killed by one of the two men. The desperadoes then jumped from the train and plunged into the woods. Posses were formed immediately and after a long chase and a hard struggle both Gouin and his companion were captured. The companion never revealed his name to the police and because of his refusal to tell who he was or give any name at all the charge was again the legal name of John Doe. Under this title the prisoner was tried, sentenced and is now serving a long term in prison. It is believed that John Doe is connected with a prominent family in Canada but no confirmation of this theory has ever been obtained.

TERMED WRETCHED

Report on Condition of Streets in Lawrence

LAWRENCE, June 26.—The committee on investigation into the conduct of the street, sewer and sidewalks departments held its fourth session last night, when the report of Richard K. Hale, engineer, relative to the construction and cost of streets and sidewalks was presented. Attorney Michael J. Sughrue of Boston, counsel for the committee, said in preface to the report that the engineer's investigation showed that $75,000 could be saved in a year if proper methods were adopted.

Mr. Sughrue's statement was an epitome of the engineer's report. He said in part:

"This review shows that overdrafts are large and common and have been for years; that supplies are purchased in large quantities without contract; that the accounting is so bad that it should be immediately radically revised; that the streets of Lawrence are in a wretched condition; that the streets are not constructed with reference to the use to be made of them.

"The revlw also shows that bills are made out so poorly that the places where goods are delivered is not shown, and frequently dates are omitted; that the system of keeping payrolls is bad; that th system of checking purchases is not proper; that haphazard methods prevail throughout the department; that the construction work in some instances cost 30 per cent. more than it should have done.

"On sidewalk construction there is an overdraft of 35 per cent.; that the street account shows an overdraft of $18,560.32 or 22 per cent. of the total value of materials; that the appropriations are not used for the purpose designated.

"That the superintendent of streets has failed to file the $5000 bond as required by the city ordinances. There are no properly kept accounts or properly prepared annual reports."

The report points out that many of the streets of Lawrence are shown by inspection to be in a wretched condition. Many of them are built of materials unsuited to the traffic which they are intended to carry and generally the paving and construction has been done in the most unintelligent manner.

"An official having control of business amounting to nearly $300,000 a year, or about $1000 a day, should at least conform to ordinary business standards in its management. It is shown in this report that instead of such, waste and extravagance characterize the expenditures of this money, and slipshod methods and want of intelligence characterize what little accounting is rendered of these enormous expenditures.

"The 'receipts' in the street department from street watering, sidewalk and all other kinds of assessments are not paid into the general treasury as in other cities, but become part of funds available for expenditure by the street department. This has the effect of increasing the department appropriation many thousand dollars each year over the amount the city government has decided is proper for the department. It also puts into the hands of the superintendent many thousands of dollars over which the city government has no control.

"This custom in regard to 'receipts' should be at once changed and this money paid directly into the city treasury, where it should become part of the general funds, as is done in most cities. The superintendent of streets should then be allowed a fixed sum as determined by the city government each year upon which to run his department, and he should be held strictly to that amount in his expenditures.

"The other practice is the manner of providing for payment of the 'overdrafts,' which in 1908 amounted to $26,722.42, or 35 per cent. more than the amount appropriated for use of the departments. These 'overdrafts' for many years have been paid by the issue of 10-year bonds.

"Such a method of paying an 'overdraft,' so far as it represents 'running expenses' and not 'new construction,' is entirely unjustifiable. If this method should be adopted to meet the 'overdraft' of the past year, according to Mr. Hale's report, it would be making a bond issue cover to a large measure 'current maintenance expenses' of the department, which should be paid directly out of the tax levy."

Mayor White then read Engineer Hale's report.

CARPET MILLS CLOSED

On Account of the Intense Heat

Several Employes Had to Quit Yesterday and Agent Decided Not to Run Today—J. C. Ayer Plant Closed Early Yesterday—Delightful Breeze Saves Sweltering Humanity Today

Today started out to be hotter than yesterday, for at an early hour this morning the thermometer was 10 degrees higher than the previous morning at the same hour, in some places.

But, happily for sweltering humanity a gentle breeze arose about 9 o'clock and at this writing was still working and the day is less unbearable than was yesterday.

The thermometer registered 88 in Merrimack square this noon against 90 and 92 yesterday. But the breeze was absent yesterday.

The Bigelow carpet company plant shut down this morning on account of the heat. During the day yesterday many of the employes were forced to quit work on account of the heat and Agent Fairbanks upon learning the fact decided not to run the plant today thus giving the employes two full days' vacation.

At the J. C. Ayer company Dr. Stowell ordered the plant closed at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon on account of the heat, but work was resumed this morning. The weather indications predicted a change for this afternoon, and most any old kind of a change will be welcome.

The warm wave seems to have spent its force and more comfortable weather is at hand.

A portion of the Lawrence hosiery was also closed down today on account of the heat, which was oppressive in all the mills.

Officer McNabb's Case

Up to noon no cases of heat prostration had been received at the hospitals. Officer McNabb, who was overcome by the heat while on his beat shortly after midnight this morning was reported at St. John's hospital in a serious condition showing no improvement from the time he was taken there.

RELIEF FROM HOT WAVE

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Substantial relief from the present hot wave which has prevailed over the country east of the Rocky mountains during the past week is promised for next Monday in a special bulletin issued by the weather bureau today which also says the week beginning June 28 will, as a whole, be cooler than the present week. The sweltering heat continues unabated today with the government's down town thermometer on Pennsylvania avenue registering 96 degrees at noon.

The next week defined barometric disturbance, say weather bureau officials, will cross the United States from west to east from about June 29 to July 3 attended in districts east of the Rockies by general rains.

SEVEN YEARS' PENAL SERVITUDE

LONDON, June 26.—Robert Isaac, the young Dutchman, who, under the name of D. S. Windell, carried out in London last September one of the most daring bank frauds of modern times by which he victimized the London & Southwestern bank of $11,690, was sentenced at the Old Bailey today to eighteen months' imprisonment. F. R. King, a clerk in the bank at the time of the swindle, was regarded as the organizer of the robbery and was given seven years' penal servitude.

DRACUT CENTRE

Close of School and the Awards

At the Dracut Centre school Friday, diplomas were presented to the following pupils: Paul Carver, Pauline Carver, Archer Fox, Newell Harris, Leo McCarthy and Annie Roth, all of whom are intending to enter the High school in the fall.

They left, as a parting gift to the school a beautiful bust of Hermes.

At the close of the session ice cream and cake were served by their teacher, Miss Grace M. Thurber, to whom much credit is due for her untiring interest and faithfulness to the school. A beautiful gift presented to her shows the high esteem in which she is held.

School pennants were awarded to those who had attained highest rank during the year.

PARTLY WRECKED

Woodruff, Kan. Visited by Tornado

BEAVER CITY, Neb., June 26.—Woodruff, Kan., is reported partly wrecked by a tornado yesterday. Half a dozen houses and barns in the path of the storm were blown down, but the inmates escaped by taking refuge in cellars. Three schoolhouses were carried away.

Eighty cows were killed and carried half a mile away.

45 ROUND BOUT

Cross and Hyland Meet This Afternoon

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26.—Leach Cross of New York and Fighting Dick Hyland of this city were weighed in this morning and awaited the tap of the gong at the Coffroth arena for a 45 round battle, both in good condition and each declaring his confidence of victory. Betting had been unusually heavy. New York money poured in on Cross a few days ago and continued a steady stream, making the easterner favorite for a time but Hyland's friends rallied and placed the odds at even. Cross announced that he was out to win as quickly as possible as he did not wish to take any chances of losing an opportunity to meet Battling Nelson and capture the lightweight title. He declared he would do it in 23 rounds, the same number required for Nelson to take care of Hyland. The Californian was equally confident that he would whip his opponent in less than 45 rounds.

TRAMPS KILLED

They Were Stealing a Ride

WINNIPEG, Man., June 26.—A westbound Canadian Pacific freight train was ditched near Kamloops and five tramps stealing a ride were killed in the derailment of seven cars. Two others were injured. Traffic was tied up all day.

PILLINGS' NEW MILL

Dedicated With a Dance Last Evening

Despite the intense heat that prevailed last evening, one of the largest and merriest crowds ever attending a social event was present at the complimentary social and dance under the auspices of the employes of John Pilling Shoe Co. The affair was conducted for the purpose of dedicating the new mill recently erected by the company on Tyng street and it proved to be a success in every particular.

The assemblage was composed of the members of the firm, the employes and their friends and many out of town shoe manufacturers. The doors were thrown open earlier in the evening and all were invited to inspect the new plant. An efficient corps of aids acted as ushers.

The program opened with a concert by Hibbard's orchestra, which discoursed the following program:

March, "Police Patrol" .... Link
Overture, "Marionette" ...... Kala Bela
Solo for trombone, "To the End of the World with You,"
Mr. Charles S. Sturtevant
Finale, medley of popular songs,
Arr. by Silzer

Each of the above numbers was appreciated, especially the trombone solo by Mr. Sturtevant. The latter was obliged to respond to several encores.

Following the concert general dancing was enjoyed and continued until intermission when refreshments were served. After enjoying the edibles dancing was resumed and continued till midnight. At the conclusion of the function the participants congratulated those in charge and wished the firm the best of success. The Messrs. Pilling were the recipients of many beautiful floral pieces including a large piece, with the inscription success.

Those directly in charge were: Gen. manager, George McIntyre; assistant general manager, Allan W. Pilling; floor director, Lester O. Mason; chief aid, Edward Gaudette; aids, William Phelps, Arthur Lord, Henry Doran, John Lafleur, George Dwyer, Thomas Corcoran, Daniel Ryan, James Bergeron, Edward McKinley, Arthur Blaisdell; reception committee, John B. Pilling, Fred A. Pilling, L. F. Sherman, Herbert Pilling, Milton Howard, Chas. Church, A. W. Sherman, A. E. Jordan, Charles Gabrielle, E. O. Reed.

THE CENSUS BILL PASSED

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Within five minutes the census appropriation bill was passed by the senate today in the form in which it was on Thursday passed by the house. It appropriates $10,000,000 for taking the thirteenth census. It authorizes the director of the census to designate three commissioners to represent the United States in the international commission for the revision of the classification of diseases and causes of death called by the government of France to meet in Paris in July, 1909.

YALE COMMENCEMENT

Pres. Taft Will Attend Exercises Next Wednesday

NEW HAVEN, June 26.—Socially the program of commencement week at Yale commenced today with the arrival of hundreds of members of reunion classes, the opening of headquarters and the numerous receptions at the clubs and homes of faculty members. Class flags were spread from dormitory windows and the college section of the city took on a gay appearance. The theatricals on the college campus tonight when the University Dramatic association will present the "Merry Wives of Windsor" will provide a novelty in the way of entertainment. Tomorrow in Welsey hall probably will be delivered the baccalureate sermon.

Monday will be class day and that afternoon games of pony polo will be played at the Country club. Tuesday will be alumni day and the occasion of the ball game between Yale and Harvard. On Wednesday President Taft will be here as a fellow of the corporation to take part in the conferring of degrees and later he will be among the speakers at the alumni dinner. In every particular the program for the week is attractive as those of bygone years. The list of reunions is headed by class of 1853 which intends to unveil a memorial tablet to Rev. Hiram Bingham and Rev. Charles Harding in Memorial hall and the class of 1859 for its semi-centennial.

SENATOR STONE

Repeats Charges Against International Harvester Co.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—When the consideration of the tariff bill was resumed in the senate today the pending question was the amendment offered yesterday by Senator Bacon, placing agricultural implements on the free list. Senator Stone of Missouri immediately took the floor to continue the speech begun yesterday in which he outlined the testimony taken by the attorney general of Missouri in his prosecution of the International Harvester Co. as a trust. He asserted that the number of companies had been merged together to constitute this trust, declared that it was conducting [illegible] per cent of the business of the country in supplying agricultural implements and contended that it was a trust and monopoly notwithstanding the denial of Mr. Aldrich. Soon after Mr. Stone began his speech he was interrupted by Senator Davis of Arkansas with a statement that the company had been driven out of his state by legal proceedings under the state anti-trust law.

"The department of justice is deaf, is blind," continued Mr. Stone, referring to the failure of the attorney general to prosecute the International Harvester Co. for violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

"This is a case in which justice is too blind—blind and dumb and senseless.

"Kansas, Missouri and other states have proceeded against them. The department of justice sits with palsied hands, but the United States senate, at least, should take notice of this great criminal corporation and open its doors to the world so far as possible to mitigate the evils it has created and to lessen as far as possible its power of extortion."

In the course of a lively colloquy between Senators Overman and Smith on the attitude of the North Carolina cotton manufacturers toward the tariff, Mr. Overman insisted that the North Carolina manufacturers did not need or want any protective tariff.

DO IT NOW

Until July 1st we will exchange Gem Junior blades as usual. After that, the manufacturers will accept no more old blades, they being desirous to put out nothing but absolutely new goods in the future. We sell the vest pocket edition of the Gillette. Howard the Druggist, 197 Central street.

SENATOR ROOT

In Conference With Pres. Taft

WASHINGTON, June 26.—For nearly an hour today Senator Root of New York was at the White House in conference with President Taft in regard to the adoption by the senate of the administration's corporation tax amendment to the tariff bill. They also discussed the probable action of the senate on the measure. Senator Root will take the lead in defending the amendment when it comes up for debate, probably on Monday.

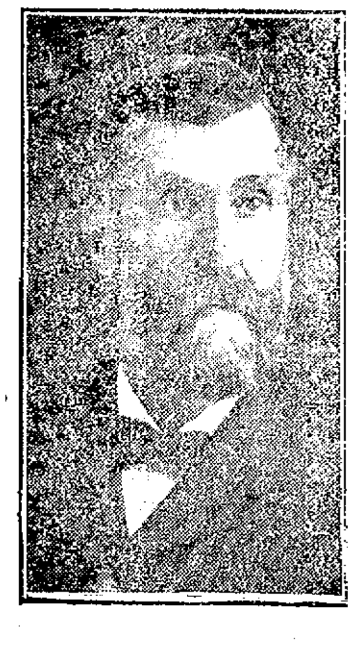
NIGHT EDITION

TYNGSBORO FETE



W. A. SHERBURNE
One of the Selectmen

REV. C. E. FISHER
Who Will Preach the Sermon Tomorrow

100th Anniversary to be Formally Observed

The town of Tyngsboro is now in readiness to celebrate the 100th anniversary of its incorporation, and it is expected that hundreds of former residents of the place will visit the town in order to assist in the centennial. It will be a three days' observance, opening tomorrow with religious services in the First Unitarian church, while on Monday and Tuesday there will be banquets, band concerts, receptions, excursions, sports, etc., for the entertainment of the people of the town and the many visitors who it is expected will be attracted to the pretty town on the banks of the Merrimack river.

The following invitations have been sent out and everyone young and old is welcome to the town:

In the year 1809 Tyngsboro came forth from the wilderness as an incorporated town. It is therefore fitting that this event should be celebrated at the completion of 100 years, by the home coming of the sons and daughters of his picturesque town, to join in the festivities and renew bygone acquaintances. Preparations have been made to observe this anniversary in a fitting manner and as the success of the celebration depends wholly upon the spirit of loyalty of all former residents of the town, or of those who are interested in its welfare, the invitation is cordially given to you to be present and partake of the viands for both mind and body that await your home coming.

Rev. James Danforth,
Otis L. Wright,
Wallace P. Butterfield,
Committee on Arrangements.

Program of Celebration

The Boston & Northern Street Railway company has made special arrangements for the transportation, and no matter how large the number of people who attend the exercises during the three days there will be plenty of care to care for them.

The following is the program for the celebration:

SUNDAY

Centennial service in the First Parish church at 3 p. m. This is a public meeting held under the direction of the anniversary committee, and not only the townspeople, but any others who may so desire will be welcome to attend. The order will be as follows:

Organ voluntary.
Anthem, "God of Our Fathers," Weber male quartet of Boston.
Invocation.
Anthem, "Sound Over the Waters," quartet.
Hymn, tune, Greenville.
Responsive Reading.
Prayer.
Response, "The Lord Is God," quartet.
Scripture reading.
Hymn, tune, Naomi.
Sermon, Rev. Caleb E. Fisher, Lowell.
Anthem, "Sunset," quartet.
Hymn, tune, Webb.
Benediction.
Postlude.

MONDAY

9.30—Ball game between picked nines on Kable's field.

11—Rededication of old Winslow school bell.

1.30—Banquet of the Winslow school alumni, Rev. James Danforth will preside and there will be short speeches. Attendance will not be limited to the alumni, but all who are interested may attend. A charge of 50 cents will be made for the dinner which will be served by a caterer.

3—Excursion on the Merrimack river, especially designed for former residents of the town.

8—Informal reception in the town hall. Music by French's orchestra of Nashua.

TUESDAY

10—Band concert on green near school house; Waltham Watch company band.

1.30—Banquet and historical address. Charles Burrows, a former resident, will be toastmaster, and his brother, James Burrows of Lynn, will make the historical address. There will be other speakers.

3.30—Band concert.

8—Ball in the town hall. Music by Waltham orchestra.

The decorators are now putting the finishing touches on the public buildings, the square and many of the private residences, and tomorrow, when the celebration starts, there will be a profusion of flags, bunting and streamers throughout the town, together with a large electrical sign bearing the inscription "Welcome."

In the centre of the town there is a beautiful array of bunting, American flags, bunting and vari-colored flags being suspended on ropes and wires across the square and the roads leading into the square.

The front of the town hall is one mass of decorations. Besides the red, white and blue bunting suspended from the ridgepole to the eaves of the slanting roof, there are festoons of streamers placed at points of vantage over the entire front.

The approach to the hall is decorated with American flags and bunting, while on top of the porch is the seal of the town. In the centre of the seal is the Tyng coat of arms which consists of a shield on which are three white doves while over the shield is a unicorn. The inscription on the seal is as follows:

TOWN OF TYNGSBORO
A District 1789
Incorporated 1809
(coat of arms)
Tyng Coat of Arms
MASSACHUSETTS

The Winslow school, just beyond the hall, is covered with decorations.

Among the other prominent decorations are those at Nelson Perham's store in the square and the residence of A. A. Flint and Mrs. Harlow.

NEW DYE HOUSE

To be Built by Bigelow Carpet Co.

The new dye house to be built by the Bigelow Carpet Co., in this city, will be 687 feet long and 46 feet wide. Plans and specifications, by Charles T. Main of Boston, the mill engineer and architect in charge, call for a brick building comprising a central structure with two wings. To make way for these the old dye house is to be torn down and the old underground boiler house and coal pocket are to form the basement of the central building. The latter is to be of five stories and will occupy a portion 125 feet in length. It will be of mill construction with wooden sawtooth roof, and will be used as a laboratory and also for storage purposes. The wings are of about equal length, approximately 280 feet, and two stories in height, with reinforced concrete floors and roof. Only one of the wings will be built at present.

BUG DESTROYER

INVENTED BY A NEW HAMPSHIRE MAN

A New Hampshire man has invented a bug destroyer, an instrument of death intended especially for the destruction of gypsy and brown-tail moths and he is anxious to give it a try-out in Lowell. It's a sort of fan process that works in connection with the electric lights. The light lures the bug to the scaffold so to speak, and the suction fan does the rest. The park commission has not voted so to do, but it was stated today that the inventor would be given an opportunity to demonstrate his machine here. He will do it at his own expense and if the bug killer makes a good showing the park commission may buy a few of them providing they don't come too high.

HEAVY LOSS BY FIRE

TRENTON, N. J., June 26.—A considerable portion of the plant of the Trenton Rubber company situated outside of this city was destroyed by fire early today. The loss is about $100,000.

BOWERMAN OF BOSTON NATIONALS, WHO MAY BE TRADED TO N. Y.

BOSTON, June 26.—Rumors are now in circulation among the members of the Boston Nationals that Frank Bowerman, catcher and manager, is to be deposed as pilot and traded to the New Yorks for two of the Giants' players. It is said ~~that~~ Bowerman is very unpopular among his teammates owing to the harsh treatment he has accorded them and that he would relish a change of scene. Early in the season the Bostons under Bowerman's handling made a good showing, but for the last month or so the team has been shot to pieces. Bowerman was traded to Boston by New York during the winter of 1907, along with several othes, for Bridwell and Fred Tenny. When in good condition he is one of the best catchers in baseball.

SUPREME COURT

Enjoins Manufacturers of Salem

BOSTON, June 26.—Judge Morton of the supreme court yesterday, by agreement of counsel granted permanent injunctions on the bills brought by the city of Salem, restraining the Armstrong leather company, American glue company, U. S. tanned pigskin company, James F. Ingraham Jr., Peter Sims & Sons, and the Thayer Foss company from discharging certain substances into the North river and its tributaries in violation of chapter 221 of the acts of 1901.

The bill against the A. L. Kraus company was referred to a master, but meantime a temporary injunction will be in force against it. The hearings in this case are to begin July 15.

The actions were brought by City Solicitor Coolidge in consequence of a vote of the city council. It was alleged the substances discharged into the river polluted the waters.

CAPT. MORRIS

PIONEER ANGLER AND SPORTSMAN IS DEAD

BOSTON, June 26.—Capt. Charles P. Morris one of Charlestown's old school of sportsmen, died yesterday of heart failure at the Carney hospital. His health had been poor for the past two years and of late he had been forced to undergo treatment at Carney hospital.

Born 77 years ago in Shelburne county N. S., Capt. Morris attended the schools of Charlestown, and for 40 years was employed in government navy yards, most of which time was spent at the Charlestown navy yard. In 1867-68 he was a member of the Charlestown police force.

He was a well-known figure at the hunting and fishing resorts of Maine. Many years ago Capt. Morris was a noted angler and wing shot. At that time the man who was fond of rod and gun was looked upon almost as a "ne'er-do-well," but the captain loved the sport and every spring found him in Maine after gamey trout and salmon and in the fall he donned his flannels and heavy moccasins and tracked the forest for deer and moose.

He was one of the first sportsmen to go to the Rangeleys in quest of trout, but in later years he favored the Aroostook region.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 1.30 at St. Mary's church. Burial will be at Holy Cross cemetery, Malden.

DREAMWOLD CAMPERS

A social and dance was held last night at the town hall in Chelmsford, under the auspices of the Dreamwold campers. There was a large attendance and despite the hot weather an enjoyable time was had by those present. Music for dancing was furnished by Donnelly's orchestra.

WOMAN RESCUED

LYNN HARBOR PILOT SWAM TO HER ASSISTANCE

LYNN, June 26.—A spectacular rescue of Mrs. David C. Bent, of 14 Cottage terrace, this city, a well known society woman, and her infant child, was made in the waters off Bass Point, Nahant, yesterday, by "Coll" Crofcup, a Lynn harbor pilot, who swam fully dressed 100 yards to the launch of the woman's husband who had not seen the accident, and clambered up the companion way with his burden unaided. Mrs. Bent, who is the wife of David C. Bent of the Morocco firm of Bent & King of this city, was being rowed from the Bent summer residence near Bass Point by one of the employes of the estate, who barely saved himself after the accident. The woman and baby are expected to recover from their experience, while Crofcup quickly recovered his strength.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The local branch of the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen met Thursday night in its hall in Middle street, and in the absence of the president, John T. Hendricks, vice president, occupied the chair. Two members were admitted and four applications were turned over to the investigating committee. It was voted to change the meeting night from the fourth Thursday night to the afternoon. The following officers were elected for the next six months: President, John T. Hendricks; vice president, James Hammond; treasurer and recording secretary, John W. Downing; financial secretary, Thomas J. McGee, warden, James Malloy; trustees, John P. Dean and William Green. It was voted to run the annual ball Labor day night, and the ball committee was appointed to make arrangements for that night.

Anniversary of Consolidation

The first anniversary of the consolidation of Chevalier and Middlesex lodges of the Knights of Pythias into the Chevalier-Middlesex lodge was celebrated last night in Highland hall and despite the intense heat there were about 65 members present. The early part of the evening was given up to lodge work. The degree staff gave the third degree in long form. After that a banquet was served. Those managing the banquet and the anniversary exercises were: H. A. Pillings, Mark Avery, Harry G. Jones. The degree work was put on under the direction of the degree master, Charles H. Jones.

Mr. Joseph P. Ginty of Central street has rejoined Barnum and Bailey's circus at St. Paul, Minn. Mr. Ginty was taken ill while in St. Louis, Mo., and was obliged to come home.

BROCKTON WALLOPED

Gray Boys Landed on Two Pitchers

Interesting Game With Sunshower on the Side—"Shorty" Hickman Got Himself in Bad by a Childish Trick

The Gray boys again administered defeat to the Brockton bunch at Spalding park yesterday to the satisfaction of all. And they not only won the game, but they piled up eight runs and made many a poor fan happy who has been playing a pool and cursing the luck whenever he drew Lowell, for eight runs won the pool.

There were players galore on the Lowell bench for Manager Gray will give the fans a team if he has to try out an army.

Scott Fluharty, the Panama star, arrived in Lowell yesterday. He signed a Lowell contract two years ago, but refused to come here under the old regime. As soon as he learned that the team was to pass into the possession of Mr. Gray he sailed for the states. Having just come off the boat he didn't play yesterday, but will go in at Worcester today. Fluharty can play any of the nine positions, but will play right field for Lowell. McDevitt, who played right field, was released last evening. He is a promising youth, but Manager Gray decided that it would be better to have a seasoned player in the field at this stage of the game, which is excellent judgment.

The game went along finely from start to finish, the only unpleasant incident being a yellow little trick by Hickman that nearly caused a riot. Boyle was going by the Brockton players' bench on the dead run after a foul fly and as he passed, Hickman threw his handkerchief in front of Boyle's face. The latter caught the ball, however, and the crowd roundly roasted Hickman.

Pitcher Moore started the game for Brockton, but Lowell got to him in four innings and Martie O'Toole took his place. They then took a fall out of Martie, for they were on their mettle and nobody could beat them.

Brockton scored one run in the first in a most unusual manner. McLane, Donovan and Murch were on the bases with one out and Blanchard threw a wild pitch, which got in around the umpire's feet and was quickly smothered by Boyle. To the surprise of even the base runners themselves Umpire Rorty called to McLane to come home and the others to take a base, stating that the ball had struck him, thus entitling the runners to advance. There's such a rule, but it is doubtful if it has ever been applied in such a case before.

In the third, Shannon, Hickman and Slattery got hits in succession, Shannon and Hickman scoring, the latter doing a great base running stunt to get around. A beautiful double play by Howard on Moore's fly to centre, getting Slattery at the plate, closed this inning, and Brockton scored no more until the sixth, when Slattery scored on a hit and an error.

Lowell broke the ice in the fourth. Venable opened with a two-bagger and a wild pitch sent him to third. Fitz flied out. Uniac singled and Venable scored. Danzig hit for two bases and a passed ball gave him third. At this point a sunshower came along, but the teams kept playing. Howard hit to right field for a clean three-bagger, scoring Danzig. Hickman in returning the ball made a bad throw and Howard came home. The game was stopped for five minutes when the rain ceased and it was resumed. In the fifth Moore was taken out and O'Toole put in.

Boyle scored one in the fifth on a hit, a sacrifice and an error. In the eighth Lowell got three on a clean hit by Danzig, punk hits by Bannon and Howard, an error by O'Toole and a clean hit by McDevitt.

DIAMOND NOTES.

Just think of it my children. Lowell won the pool in the New England league yesterday scoring the greatest number of runs.

Scott Fluharty, from Panama will play right field today. McDevitt having been released. Fluharty can play all the positions. Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Americans was after him until he heard that Scott had once signed a Lowell contract.

Now that we're permanently located at beautiful Spaulding park it's up to the street railway people to be good sports and put in a spur track. It means money for the railroad and pleasure for the fans. With a spur track Spaulding park would be in great demand for outdoor attractions.

Blanchard showed some nice curves and speederinos in yesterday's game.

Hickman fought with his teammates on the bench throughout the game.

Here's hoping we get out of last place today. We should at least split even with Worcester today.

The attendance are growing steadily and the great majority of the fans favor Spalding park. Everyone sees the whole game at Spalding park.

Tom Bannon is playing the game of his life, both in the field and at the bat. The fans who thought Tom had gone back owe him an apology.

It looks as if Rorty might make good after all. He's a trifle shy on balls and strikes, however.

Danzig has been suffering from the excessive heat all week, but he stuck to his job and gave a fine account of himself.

After giving it to Brockton as Lowell did the past three days, the Gray boys can beat anything in the league.

New Bedford is getting busy.

AMATEUR BASEBALL.

In the past years when the north and south ends of the city would clinch upon the diamond it was generally looked upon as the "only game" that the majority of the fans would care to see, for the most of them had the impression that the games played during the early part of the season were merely "draw on" games, which were run off for the sole purpose of getting the base ball fever of the city at its highest pitch. Such is not the practice at this present time, however, for the series which will be run off this season when the claimants of the city's "semi-pro" title will face each other, promises to make the enthusiasm which the city was boiling with last year, during the series of the Sanctuary Choir and the Mathews fade into Hades.

The opportunity of running off several series this year for the title is far superior to any which the teams have had during the past ten years. The teams which made it interesting for awhile are back again in the running this year, and the appearance of several new teams will undoubtedly make the others hustle, if their intentions are pointed in the way of the title.

Westford A. A. of Westford will cross bats with the K. of C. of Andover at Graniteville this afternoon and an excellent game is anticipated.

The ending of the grammar school so abruptly every year is discouraging to both the fans who follow the league and the nines having membership therein. Several of the managers of the teams have consulted with the directors of the league, which is composed of scholars of the high school and the janitors, who are selected yearly, for the purpose of having the league games extended. The time which is allowed in the schedule, it is claimed by the managers, is just long enough for getting the teams into shape. It is the earnest wish of the writer that the desire of the managers will be gratified, and that next year the schedule will run during the entire season.

The Belvideres and the Mysteries will play on the Lakeview avenue grounds this afternoon at 3 o'clock and a fast and exciting game is expected.

Dan Barry, who it will be remembered occupied the position of initial sacker on the Sanctuary Choir team last season, will be seen in some of the games in the series with the Lowell Americans this year. Although signed by the scout of the New York American league team last year, and farmed out by that team to the Brooklyn team, he will be present at the series. Dan's playing last year was considered marvelous by those who have witnessed him in action, and several have been known to remark that they would much prefer watching his graceful playing than to watch the actions of the remainder of the team. One might expect a player as young as Dan would have an attack of the "swellibus crainbus" upon his debut into the major league. Such is not the case in this instance, however, for he is the same unassuming, genial and comical Dan, that he was before the scout got his autograph to the parchment which made him a "big one."

Today's game, in the Stony Brook league are as follows: Iroquois vs. Crescents at Parker street; Pawtucket Blues vs. West Chelmsfords, at West Chelmsford; Brookside vs. Forge Village at Forge Village and Graniteville vs. Middlesex at Middlesex.

The corporation league, an announcement of which appeared in this column within the past few weeks, is fast absorbing the interest of the fans of the city and several hotly fought encounters have already been recorded. The Tremont and Suffolk teams, the last nine to join the league, is now well along towards the top of the staff and gives every assurance of retaining the first position when it lands there.

The following is the schedule for the L. & S. league games today: O. M. I. Cadets vs. Indians at North Billerica; Wanderers vs. North Chelmsford on North Common; Dragons vs. Dixwells, South Common and Y. M. C. A. vs. Mt. Groves, Textile campus.

The Young Chestnuts have organized as follows: Arthur Richardson, cf, manager; Joseph McEvoy, 3b; Jos. McVey, 1b; Thomas Quirk, c; Chas. Reynolds, 2b; John Nelson, p; Thomas Hoar, lf; Edmund Duplisses, ss, captain; John Marshall, rf; George Hoar, mascot. Address all challenges to Edmund Duplisses, 7 Chase street.

100 PROSTRATIONS

REPORTED FROM DIFFERENT NEW ENGLAND CITIES

BOSTON, June 26.—The great heat wave which has hung over the east since the first of the week was more oppressive yesterday than at any time during the present period of high temperatures. In New England a dozen deaths and upwards of 100 prostrations during the day and evening are chargeable to the hot blast. In Boston alone there were three deaths and fifty prostrations, from early morning until a late hour last night. At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the government instrument on top of the high Federal building recorded a temperature of 94. The mercury did not get below the 90 mark until after 6 p. m.

The heat wave has caused intense suffering in the tenement districts of Boston and New England mill cities. In the city last night thousands were driven from their quarters and spent the greater part of the night in the open air. Mills and factories in many cities were shut down in whole or in part and in many places building operations had to be suspended. In several instances suicides yesterday were attributed to the heat wave.

CASE OF SUICIDE

SOMERSWORTH, N. H., June 26.—The finding of the body of J. O. Bugbee floating in the Piscataqua river late yesterday is believed to disclose a case of suicide due to the intense heat of the past few days. Bugbee was 32 years old.

SONG RECITAL

By Miss Ida J. Flint Frisbie

Miss Ida J. Flint gave a musicale at her home, 200 Liberty street, yesterday afternoon. Miss Flint's niece, Miss Gertrude Flint Frisbie, was the centre of attraction. She has just returned from three years of study in New York under Dr. Frank Damrosch and Madame Madeleine Walther of the Institute of Musical Art, and she sings beautifully. Yesterday afternoon she sang in German, Italian and English.

There were piano selections by Miss Bernice M. Moulton, who is very favorably known as a pianist. Miss Moulton also played Miss Frisbie's accompaniments. After the musicale, refreshments were served on the lawn. The program was as follows:

Ballade, Op. 47............F. Chopin
Miss Moulton
a—Fruhlingsblaube.......F. Schubert
b—In der Ferne............J. Brahms
c—O ihr Herren.........R. Schumann
Miss Frisbie
Valse, Op. 34, No. 1.....M. Moszkowski
Miss Moulton
a—Aria, Marriage of Figaro, W. A. Mozart
b—Lungi dal caro bene.........G. Satti
c—Aria, Don Giovanni....W. A. Mozart
Miss Frisbie
a—Mondschinfahrt.........F. Bendel
b—Tarantelle Fantasique....A. Salmon
Miss Moulton
a—Garden of Sleep.........I. De Lara
b—Who is Sylvia?..........F. Schubert
Miss Frisbie.

WHIST PARTY

HELD TO RAISE FUNDS TO PURCHASE ORGAN

The concert and whist given in the parochial school of Notre Dame de Lourdes parish, for the benefit of the organ fund, last night, met with a good attendance, notwithstanding the sweltering proclivities of the weather. The parish intends to purchase in the fall the organ used in St. Jean Baptiste church before the new instrument was installed there. Last night's affair was given under the auspices of Laval council, Union St. Jean Baptiste d'Amerique.

Dr. J. E. Nolet, organizer general of the union, was general manager and organizer of the affair, assisted by the following committee of members of Laval council: Octave Bastien, president; Henri Lemaitre, secretary; Geo. Poirier, treasurer.

The whist judges were Capt. Joseph Pigeon of Garde Jacques Cartier, Zeph. Loranger, Adolphe Marchand and Omer Sevigny. The officers of Garde Jacques Cartier assisted as scorers, together with the following young women: Misses Flora Bergeron, Adele Cote, Angelina Bilodeau, Elizabeth Sevigny, Amanda Madore, Amanda Richard and Marie Jeanne Bergeron. Dr. Nolet was master of ceremonies.

In addition to the whist there was a musical program. Miss Angelina Bilodeau and Mr. Alphonse Dyer played a piano duet; a trio was played by Miss Cora Renaud, violin; Mr. Samuel Renaud, 2d, cornet, and Miss Angelina Bilodeau, piano; Miss Emma Morel sang, accompanied by Miss Yvonne Loranger, and Dr. Nolet sang comic songs.

The prize winners were Alphonse Dyer, Rose Bilodeau, Amanda Richard, Alexandre Richard, Mabel Gaudette, J. Dufresne, Joseph Therrien, Nap. St. Amand, Louis Lord, Clementine Desmarais, Adelard Berard, Grace Berard, A. Nadeau, H. J. Turcotte, Mrs. Beauparlant, Mrs. Fremeau, S. Renaud, C. Renaud, F. Girard, E. Perron, Flora Desmarais, Joseph Roch, V. Bastien, A. Lafontaine, Yvonne Loranger, Albert Brosseau, Florence Roy, John Larocque, Emma Morel, Charles Larocque, Eug. Provencher, Ernest Duclos.

BRUTALLY BEATEN

Woman Has a Bullet Wound in Cheek

BANGOR, Me., June 26.—Mary Prescott, a widow about 65 years old, living alone on a small farm in West-Hampden, was murderously assaulted by an unknown man late yesterday afternoon.

Shrieks and cries of murder were heard from her house by neighbors living about a quarter of a mile away, and on going to the rescue they found her on the piazza terribly battered and bruised with what appears to be a bullet wound in her cheek as if a revolver had been placed in her mouth and fired.

She was conscious but hysterical, and unable to give a connected story of the assault, more than that a medium-sized man of dark complexion, wearing a handkerchief around his neck, came upon the piazza where she was sitting and demanded money. She refused and he attacked her, a blow rendering her partially unconscious and she does not know what happened then.

Sheriff White and a squad of deputies are in search of the man. Mrs. Prescott is suffering intensely from the nervous shock and wound but it is believed that she will recover.

GOING TO EUROPE.

The following Lowell people are booked through Murphy's ticket agency to sail from East Boston next Tuesday on the Cunard line steamer Ivernia for Queenstown and Liverpool: Mr. and Mrs. William Myers, Mr. Walter McLean, Miss M. FOUND GUILTY

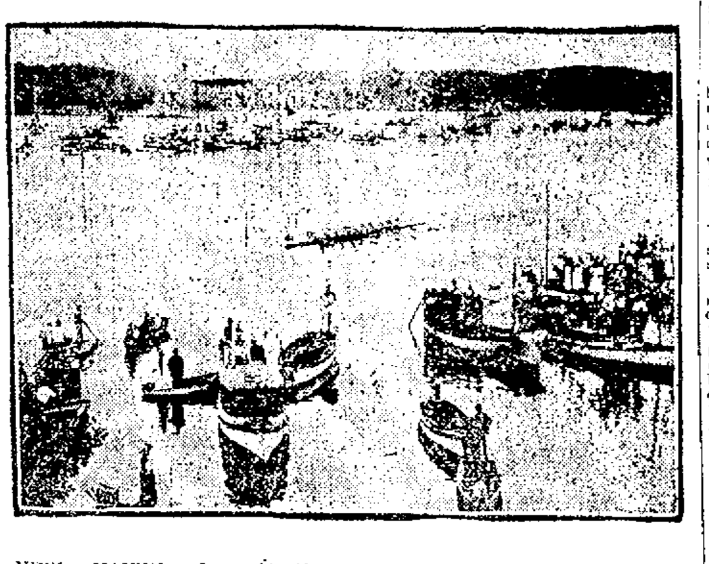
JURY RETURNS A VERDICT AGAINST HEINZE

NEW YORK, June 26.—Arthur P. Heinze, one of the brothers whose banking and copper operations have been under investigation since the collapse of their copper pool, was found guilty last night by a jury in the United States circuit court, of corruptly impending the administration of justice in withholding the United Copper company's books.

Sentence was suspended by Judge Ray until Oct. 11.

The maximum penalty under the law is three months in jail or a fine of $500.

SCENE ON THE THAMES RIVER DURING YALE-HARVARD REGATTA



NEW HAVEN, June 26.—Even more interest than usual centers in the Yale-Harvard regatta this year because of the staunch hope that Harvard entertains of realizing her long cherished dream, that of defeating Yale for the second time consecutively. Harvard still remains he favorite, but Eli's sons are ready seemingly with an unlimited amount of cash to back their crew. Three revenue cutters already have received their orders for patrolling the course on the Thames during the regatta of July 1, and scores of steamboats and other craft have been chartered to carry crowds to the race. These, with the vast number of private yachts and launches, will make up the greatest flotilla of pleasure boats ever assembled on the historic course.

LEGAL NOTICES

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS. Middlesex, ss. Probate Court.

To Elizabeth F. Fales of Lebanon, in the County of Grafton, Wesley D. Currier, Udo V. Currier, Clarence F. Currier, all of Grantham, in the County of Sullivan, Converse H. Currier of Guild, and Mary V. Smith of North Grantham, both in said County of Sullivan, and all in the State of New Hampshire, and Mary E. George of Norwich, in the County of New London and State of Connecticut.

Whereas, Grace M. Goodhue, of Lowell, in the County of Middlesex, has presented to said Court a petition, representing that she holds as tenant-in-common, ten undivided twenty-fifth parts or shares of certain real estate lying in Lowell, in said County of Middlesex, and described in said petition: and, as said real estate cannot be advantageously divided, praying that partition may be made among the tenants-in-common according to law; and that the commissioners who may be appointed to make said partition be ordered to make sale and conveyance of said real estate and to distribute the net proceeds thereof.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, on the seventh day of July, A. D. 1909, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to each person interested, who can be found within the Commonwealth, fourteen days, at least, before said Court, and, if any one cannot be so found, by publishing the same once in each week for three successive weeks, in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court.

Witness, Charles J. McIntire, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this eighteenth day of June, in the year one thousand nine hundred and nine.

W. E. ROGERS, Register.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS. Middlesex, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, and all other persons interested in the estate of Elizabeth B. Bodwell, late of Lowell, in said County, deceased.

Whereas Harold A. Varnum, administrator with the will annexed of the estate of said deceased, has presented to said Court his petition for license to sell at private sale, in accordance with the offer named in said petition, or upon such terms as may be adjudged best, the whole of a certain parcel of the real estate of said deceased for the payment of debts, legacies and charges of administration, and for other reasons set forth in said petition.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Cambridge, in said County, on the twelfth day of July, A. D. 1909, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to each person interested in the estate fourteen days, at least, before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week for three successive weeks in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court.

Witness, Charles J. McIntire, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this twenty-fifth day of June, in the year one thousand nine hundred and nine.

Our Quick Loans
Solved the money problem

A man owed $25 to five different people. He was earning a salary of only $12 per week, and was being constantly harassed by his creditors, who could not afford to wait until he could save enough out of his small income to pay the whole amount he owed them. To him it seemed impossible to comply with their demands until he read of us. He called, got the money he needed, paid off his creditors in full and now has peace of mind, as he is only asked to pay us $1.50 per week in repaying the loan. Call in and see us; we will explain to you our modern system.

INCREASED TARIFF ON HOSIERY.

The increased duty on cotton hosiery is creating great excitement among the retail dealers throughout the country, and as a result many protests have been sent to congress. The proposed increase of 30 per cent. will enable the manufacturers to put up the price while foreign hosiery will be effectually excluded. The value of the hosiery imports to this country aggregates approximately $6,000,000 a year, while the tariff of about 60 per cent. ad valorem runs the total expenditure for this supply up to $11,000,000. The value of the domestic supply annually aggregates about $60,000,000. The retailers have called to their assistance the Women's clubs of the country and as a result strong protests are being sent to congress with the hope of having the conference committee defeat the proposed advance in the final draft of the tariff bill. The increase would make considerable difference to the women of the country, and in fact to every family in the country. There seems to be no justification of such a large increase in the tariff on this particular item of manufacture.

AVOID THE OVERLOADED ROWBOAT.

The overturning of a heavily laden rowboat and the loss of eleven lives in Killarney lake on Wednesday is a type of accident that is far more common than it should be, more common than it would be if people were not so venturesome in piling into a rowboat which at best is but a death trap. Such boats should not be permitted to take out large parties without a sufficient number of life preservers to save the party in case of disaster.

It is plain that when such a boat gets any great distance from shore it is in danger of being caught in a squall, just as was the boat on Killarney lake in which Mrs. H. W. Coburn of Lowell lost her life. We have seen frequent instances of this kind on rivers and lakes near home. In Boston harbor especially, the number of drownings due to overloading rowboats in doubtful weather have been quite alarming. They have been more frequent than they should be on the Merrimack river and many of our inland lakes.

Usually the sense of self-preservation alone would serve to prevent people from taking chances in such boats; but when the skies are clear and the water calm there seems to be but slight risk; yet atmospheric changes come so quickly that occasionally rowboats and canoes have been caught in a sudden whirlwind, a gale or a thunderstorm only to be upset with fatal results and the usual comment that the victims should not have taken such chances.

FOR A SMOKELESS CITY.

In the conservation of the resources of the United States, the matter of overcoming the smoke nuisance is one of prime importance.

Not only is the smoke nuisance a needless waste of fuel but it is also a cause of disease that makes vast inroads upon human life.

The total damage done by the smoke nuisance in the United States is estimated at $600,000,000 or about $20 per capita in the cities most seriously affected with this pest.

In addition to this must be considered the injurious effect of coal dust in promoting diseases of the lungs, such as tuberculosis and pneumonia.

About 150,000 people die from tuberculosis each year in the United States, and the medical men are of the opinion that of this number three-fourths might be saved by clearing the atmosphere of the coal dust so that during working hours, as well as at their homes, the people can have the advantage of breathing air that is not charged with soot and cinders.

It is very evident that people who are born and who have to spend their lives in a city in which the smoke nuisance is bad, must suffer greatly from the effects of continually breathing air laden with coal dust. Undoubtedly the nuisance alone is responsible for greatly increasing the death rate.

On the ground of economy the manufacturers who contribute to the smoke nuisance are thereby letting a valuable component of fuel escape from their tall chimneys. Imperfect combustion is the real cause of the smoke nuisance while the effects include reduced dividends, injured health, shortened lives and damaged property.

If by overcoming the smoke nuisance the deaths from tuberculosis can be reduced from 150,000 to one-fourth the number or 37,500, surely that is an object worth seeking. If we consider these lives merely from an economic standpoint the saving would justify the most extreme measures for the suppression of the smoke nuisance.

It has been demonstrated by government experts at the experiment station at Pittsburg, Pa., and elsewhere that the smokeless city is quite possible, but nowhere in the United States has it been proven more conclusively than at the plant of the Lowell Electric Lighting company on Perry street. For some years that company had been among the worst offenders on account of the dense smoke escaping from the tall chimney. During all that time, however, the company was looking for some practical means of overcoming the nuisance. At last it found the long-sought appliance, a mechanical stoker that puts the coal into the furnace under the fire instead of on the top as is the custom where the smoke nuisance is worst.

With the new arrangement there is very seldom the sign of smoke of any kind from the tall chimneys, and people are now asking, are these big chimneys really necessary? They are not needed to carry a volume of dense smoke some distance from the plant, for there is no such smoke. Unless they are needed for air draught, they might as well be lower for neither coal dust nor coal cinders that might cause fires escape from the chimneys since the new device for mechanical stoking was introduced.

The question now comes, how long will it take other manufacturers to make up their minds to adopt this or some other device equally effective in eliminating the smoke nuisance so as to give us a smokeless city and thus prevent all the numerous evils resulting from the smoke nuisance.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Dr. Marie Stopes of London has just returned from a scientific trip through the coal regions of Japan. "The main object of my mission to Japan was to search for botanical fossils," said Dr. Stopes. "For 18 months I traveled from one island to another hunting for fossils in the rich coal mines that abound in that country. Fruitful though my search was from the scientific point, what impressed me most was the respect and kindness shown me by the people. I visited places where no European had eve set foot before, the unknown regions of Yezo, and even the squalid villages of the superstitious, semi-civilized Ainus, and yet I was always treated with the utmost deference."

In view of the resignation of Prof. George L. Goodale as curator of the botanical museum and Fisher professor of natural history at Harvard, the corporation has recognized his long and valuable services to the university by making him honorary curator of the museum of which he was for so long a time the active head. Prof. Goodale was graduated from Amherst with the class of 1860, and in addition to receiving the honorary master's degree from Amherst, as well as the degree of doctor of laws from the same institution and also from Bowdoin and Princeton university, he obtained the medical doctor's degree from both Bowdoin and Harvard. His first work as an instructor was done at Bowdoin, where for five years, from 1867 he served as professor of natural science. During the same period of time he also served as professor of materia medica at the medical school of Maine. At the close of this term of service he joined the Harvard faculty as a lecturer on vegetable physiology and instructor in botany. Through the successive stages of assistant professor of the former subject and of full professor of the latter, he received the chair as Fisher professor of natural history in 1888. Ten years previous to this date he was made director of the botanic garden, and both of these positions he has filled up to the present time. To take Prof. Goodale's place as active head of the botanic garden the corporation has appointed Oakes Ames, '98, who since his graduation has been a teacher in the department of botany and assistant director of the garden. His appointment will go into effect on the first of August.

Dr. Crawford H. Toy, who resigned as Hancock professor of Hebrew and other oriental languages at Harvard university, has been created professor emeritus in the same department. Professor Toy's work as a teacher has brought him into connection with many of the American colleges. He received the master's degree from the University of Virginia in 1856 and since that time has been honored with the degrees of doctor of laws by the University of North Carolina and by Harvard. As a teacher of the ancient oriental languages he has labored at Richmond college, Virginia, at the University of Alabama, at Furman university, and at the Southern Baptist Theological school. The last institution he left in 1879 and in the following year came to Harvard as Dexter lecturer on Biblical literature and also as Hancock professor of Hebrew and other oriental languages, the position which he has retained up to the present time.

The Rev. Caroline Bartlett Crane, vice president of the American Civic Federation, has just completed a course of lectures on sanitary matters in the leading cities of Kentucky. She was invited by the state board of health of Kentucky to deliver these lectures for the purpose of instructing the people in the best method for keeping their cities clean.

Because of Mrs. Crane's work in this direction in Kalamazoo she has calls from all parts of the country asking her to give lectures on the subject. Mrs. Crane when scarcely more than a girl was called to Kalamazoo as pastor of the Unitarian church. The congregation was disorganized and the church property heavily in debt. One of the members told the new minister that about all they expected of her was to keep the church open for funerals. Since then she has built a $40,000 church, taught Kalamazoo the lesson of municipal cleanliness, and been a leader in various movements of social reform.

Professor Katherine Lee Bates of Wellesley college has won the prize offered by a Chicago musical society for the best words to be sung in a madrigal. The contest was open to both men and women, and a great number of songs were submitted by writers of both sexes.

Benjamin Curtis, of Curtis & Cameron, has been elected president of the Print Publishers' association, an organization composed of the leading art publishers of America and Europe.

Professor Charles Schuchert of the Yale Museum will pass next August in geological exploration of the Grand Canon.

Supreme Court Justice William J. Gaynor is now talked of as a candidate for mayor of New York this fall.

Outside of a few of our millionaires and a small number of botanists, not many people in the United States know much of the value and rarity of some orchids. In England and Austria they are much more popular, and many large collections may be seen. The big event of the orchid year is the Temple show in London, and the last one, which was held but a short time ago, was very successful. The display was unusually choice, and the total valuation of the plants exhibited was estimated at $225,000. Sir Jeremiah Colman alone entered orchids worth $100,000. The great novelty of the show was a little brownish red blossom only 1 1-2 inches across but worth $1250. It was the Odontoglossum Crispum Minore, and the only one of its kind known in the world. Incidentally it was named in honor of the horse which won the Derby for the king.

The most interesting development of the year for the City and Suburban Homes company of New York, was the purchase of $260,000 of its stock by the "Junior League for the Promotion of Neighborhood Work," of which Miss Dorothy Whitney is president. This money is to be used for a building, on the East river, between Seventy-eighth and Seventy-ninth streets, and across the street from John Jay park, to be primarily designed to accommodate working girls. The Junior Neighborhood league has stipulated that the building shall not be exclusively for working girls, lest it bear the aspect of an institution instead of a genuine home. Hence a number of families will be accommodated in the new structure. It is an interesting fact to note that the Junior league was formed eight years ago, and "does a vast amount of useful neighborhood work, co-operating with settlements, public schools, trained nurses, hospitals, and general charitable and philanthropic agencies." Its three hundred and fifty members are young women whose names appear often in the "society" column of the newspapers. Generally, they represent large means.

POSTAL SLEUTH

Succeeded in Capturing Petrosino Suspect

NEW YORK, June 26.—Detectives all over the United States are still searching for the men who planned the murder of Lieutenant Petrosino, the New York police officer who was slain in Palermo, Sicily. Postoffice detectives are aiding the search, and many arrests of suspected persons have been made in various parts of the country. At Bellefountaine, O., recently Postoffice Inspector Oldfield arrested Chas. Viccarrio on suspicion of being concerned in the Petrosino tragedy. He formally charged Viccarrio with being a fugitive. Suspicion was directed to the man when the detectives were searching for Black Hand leaders in Ohio. Viccarrio insisted that he knew nothing of the Petrosino crime.

GIRL'S MOTHER

Knew Nothing of Murder of Daughter

LEWISTON, Idaho, June 26.—Mrs. Albert Kight, mother of Mrs. Woodill, was found last night by a representative of the Associated Press at her home at Ashaka, a settlement in the mountains 40 miles up the Clearwater river from this city. The news of her daughter's murder had not reached the secluded home of the woman and it was boken to her by the press representative. As soon as she recovered herself, Mrs. Kight related the story of her daughter's adoption by Charles H. Thompson in Minneapolis in October, 1890.

The separation of the mother and infant daughter was the result of the murder of the husband and father when little Anna Pearl Wirtz was less than one year old. The family at that time was living on Couse Creek, 9 miles above Asotin. The father was shot by Henry Grayson in a dispute over wages.

"After my daughter was adopted by Mrs. Thompson her name was changed to Edith May Thompson," said Mrs. Kight. "I heard from her quite frequently for the first two years, but knew nothing of her life for the last nineteen. She was the only child by Matthew Wirtz, my first husband, to whom I had been married less than two years at the time of his murder."

STAR THEATRE

"It's surprising how cool it is in here," remarked several people who witnessed performances at the Star theatre, 'neath the cooling breezes of electric fans, during afternoons and evenings this week. Excellent ventilating facilities tend to make the theatre a pleasant place when the weather outside is disagreeably warm.

Ed. Keene is a funny blackface comedian. He keeps the audience in good humor for 10 minutes. There is an overture by the four-piece orchestra. The singing orchestra renders "Transmagnificanbandanuality," or "C-a-t Spells Cat." Then there is the motion pictures, illustrated songs and the interesting talking picture.

Tonight's show will start at 6.30 o'clock to enable the management to run the regular number of full shows and to seat each and every patron during each.

THEATRE LA SCALA

To use a slang term the Theatre La Scala is the goods. Ever since this theatre has been opened it has enjoyed a steady and interesting patronage. The programs offered are the best in the truest meaning. The programs are made up with the greatest of care first that the subject is new and amusing second that it is suitable for production in the theatre. The apparatus and operators used in the projection of the pictures are the best that money and skill can produce. The songs are sung by vocalists unapproached in this or any other city, they have the voices, the know how and the willingness to sing and the result is popular song sung in the very best manner. The Theatre La Scala is cooled by two distinct systems of ventilation each large enough to meet with the approval of the state inspectors.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

"Sheridan Keene," with Jas. Kennedy in the title role, is proving to be a strong drawing attraction at Lakeview theatre this week where the attendance has been unusually large. Mr. Kennedy as the detective, "Keene," is giving a performance that is winning him approval from his many admirers of Lowell, while the remainder of the cast is seen to advantage in the various parts assigned them. Commencing next Monday evening there will be a change of bill for the week when the presentation of the laughable comedy drama, "Chuckie Connors" will be given. In this play will be seen Mr. Kennedy in the title role, the young Bowery boy, who pays a visit to his uncle, a country clergyman, and who during this visit renders valuable assistance to his uncle and aunt. "Chuckie Connors" is said to be one of Mr. Kennedy's best parts and the play is an interesting comedy drama of strong scenes in startling dramatic climax as well as many laughable comedy situations and should prove as equally interesting a play as that of the current week. Matinees will be given every day except Monday and seats for all performances are on sale at Carter & Sherburne's drug store.

SUPREME COURT

Decides Against Board of Health

BOSTON, June 26.—The full bench of the supreme court yesterday, in the case of the Boston board of health vs. Laurence Minot et al., declared unconstitutional chapter 119 of the acts of 1894 which attempted to confer power on the local board of health when it adjudged the public health required it to order the owners of private passageways to pave them at their expense to the satisfaction of the board.

The question of the constitutionality of the statute was raised by the defendants, who are owners of Butler's row, a private way off Chatham row. The board of health had ordered them under this statute to pave the row with material satisfactory to the board.

The court sustains the defendants' demurrer to the board's suit brought to enforce its order, and orders the bill dismissed.

The court says: "The present statute without even providing that directions may be given to cease using the way until conditions complained of have been remedied, purports, through changes which may be ordered, to authorize the impairment of the natural right inherent from ownership freely to use property not of itself obnoxious to the general welfare. It is not an unreasonable inference that cases might arise where the land owner would prefer to discontinue or abandon the way altogether, rather than to bear the required outlay; but no alternative is given after the board has issued its order.

PRESIDENT TAFT

Sends a Message Explaining His Corporation Tax Plan

WASHINGTON, June 26.—President Taft's much heralded corporation tax plan was presented to the Senate today by Mr. Aldrich, chairman of the finance committee, and was ordered printed as a committee amendment to the tariff bill. If schedules are completed by Monday the corporation tax amendment will then be taken up and held before the senate until final disposition is made of it and of amendments on the subject of a direct tax on incomes.

In general form, the corporation tax measure follows the outline given by The Associated Press after the conference at the White House on Tuesday night when the subject was considered by the president, lawyers of his cabinet and senate and house republican leaders. As drafted by Attorney General Wickersham and Senator Root the measure is believed to be amendment proof and an effort will be made to put it through congress unchanged. It will be designated as "The Taft Plan" the weight of the president's name being depended upon largely to encompass its enactment.

Briefly stated, the plan imposes a tax of two per cent. upon the net earnings of every corporation, joint stock company or association, organized for profit and having a capital stock represented by shares, and every insurance company organized under the laws of the United States or any state, territory or district, or organized under the laws of any foreign country and engaged in business within the United States.

Every latitude is given to concerns subject to the tax for the exemption of expenses, cost of maintenance, the depreciation of property, debts and the interest thereon, other forms of taxation and all expenditures usually taken from earnings accounts. Every corporation is also given an exemption of $5000 of earnings before the tax shall apply.

All of the machinery relating to the collection, remission and refund of internal revenue taxes is made applicable to the corporation tax and the responsibility for the enforcement of the proposed law rests with the commissioner of internal revenue in the same manner as other internal tax.

While the corporations are required to supply information of a most intimate character relating to their business, provision is made to safe-guard them against wrongful use of data obtained for the purpose of assessing the tax. Penalties are provided in cases of false or fraudulent relations.

Practically every character of incorporated institution organized for profit is brought within the provisions of the corporation tax. The provision defining the concerns from which the tax will be collected is as follows:

"That every corporation, joint stock company or association, organized for profit and having a capital stock represented by shares, and every insurance company, now or hereafter organized under the laws of the United States or under the acts of congress applicable to Alaska or the District of Columbia, organized under the laws of any foreign country and engaged in business in any state or territory of the United States or Alaska or in the District of Columbia, shall be subject to pay annually a special excise tax with respect to the carrying on or doing business by such corporation, joint stock company or association or insurance company, equivalent to two per centum upon the entire net income, over and above five thousand dollars, received by it from all sources during such year, exclusive of amounts received by it as dividends upon stock of other corporations, joint stock companies or associations or insurance companies subject to the tax hereby imposed, or if organized under the laws of any foreign country, upon the amount of net income, over and above $5000, received by it from business transacted and capital invested within the United States and its territories, Alaska and the District of Columbia during such year, exclusive of amounts so received by it as dividends upon stock of other corporations, joint stock companies or associations, or insurance companies, subject to the tax hereby imposed.

"Such net income shall be ascertained by deducting from the gross amount of the income of such corporation, joint stock company or association or insurance company from all sources:

"All the ordinary and necessary expenses actually paid within the year out of income in the maintenance and operation of its business and properties.

"All losses actually sustained within the year and not compensated by insurance or otherwise, including a reasonable allowance for depreciation of property, if any, and in the case of insurance companies the sums required by law to be carried to premium reserve fund.

"Interest actually paid within the year on its bonded or other indebtedness not exceeding the paid up capital stock of such corporation, joint stock company or association or insurance company outstanding at the close of the year.

"All sums paid by it within the year for taxes imposed under the authority of the United States or of any state or territory thereof.

"All amounts received by it within the year as dividends upon stock of other corporations, joint stock companies or associations or insurance companies, subject to the tax hereby imposed.

"Provided that in the case of a corporation, joint stock company or association or insurance company, organized under the laws of a foreign country, such net income shall be ascertained by deducting from the gross amount of its income from business transacted and capital invested within the United States and any of its territories, Alaska and the District of Columbia.

"All the ordinary and necessary expenses actually paid within the year out of earnings in the maintenance and operation of its business and property within the United States and its territories, Alaska and the District of Columbia.

"All losses actually sustained within the year in business conducted by it within the United States not compensated by insurance or otherwise, including a reasonable allowance for depreciation of property, if any, and in the case of insurance companies the sums required by law to be carried to premium reserve fund.

"Interest actually paid within the year on its bonded or other indebtedness not exceeding the proportion of its paid up capital stock outstanding at the close of the year which the gross amount of its income for the year from business transacted and capital invested within the United States and any of its territories, Alaska and the District of Columbia, bears to the gross amount of its income derived from all sources within and without the United States.

"The sums paid by it within the year for taxes imposed under the authority of the United States or of any state or teritory thereof.

"All amounts received by it within the year as dividends upon stock of other corporations, joint stock companies or associaions and insurance companies subject to the tax hereby imposed."

It is provided that there shall be deducted from the amount of the net income of each corporation, subject to the tax, the sum of $5000, the tax being computed upon the remainder.

Every concern subject to the tax is required, on or before March 1 of each year, to make a true and accurate return, under oath or affirmation of its president, vice president or other principal officer, and its treasurer or assistant treasurer, covering the character of its organization and the amount of business transacted during the year, to the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the corporation is organized; or, in the case of foreign corporations, stock companies or insurance companies in the place where its principal business is carried on within the United States. The return must, however, set forth:

1—Total amount of paid up capital stock outstanding at the close of the year.

2—Total bonded and other indebtedness.

3—Gross amount of income during the year from all sources and if organized under the laws of a foreign country the gross amount of its income derived from business transacted and capital invested within the United States.

4—Amount received by way of dividends upon stock of other corporations or concerns subject to the tax.

5—Total ordinary and necessary expenses actually paid out of earnings in the maintenance and operation of the business and properties, and in the case of foreign companies the cost of operations in conducting business transacted within the United States.

6—Total losses actually sustained during the year and not compensated by insurance or otherwise, stating separately any amounts allowed for depreciation of property; and in the case of insurance companies the sums required by law to be carried to premium reserve fund, and in the case of a concern organized under the laws of a foreign country all losses actually sustained by it in business conducted with United States, not compensated by insurance or otherwise, stating separately any amounts allowed for depreciation of property, and in the case of insurance companies the sums required by law to be carried to premium reserve fund.

7—Amount of interest actually paid on bonded or other indebtedness to an amount not exceeding paid up capital stock, or in case of a foreign corporation, not exceeding the proportion of its paid up capital stock which gross income from business transacted and capital invested within the United States, bears to gross income from all sources within and without the United States.

8—Amount paid for federal or local taxes

9—Net income after making the deductions authorized.

Local collectors will transmit the returns forthwith to the commissioner of internal revenue in Washington.

Upon evidence justifying the opinion that the return made by a corporation is incorrect, or whenever insufficient or no return has been made the commissioner is empowered to designate any regularly appointed revenue agent to examine the books or papers of such corporation, and take testimony of a responsible officer of the corporation in order to produce the information required for the purpose of assessing the tax. The commissioner is authorized also to invoke the aid of any United States court to require the attendance of such officers or employes and the production of books and papers. Upon the information so acquired the commissioner of internal revenue may amend any return or make a return where none has been made.

Returns are to be retained by the commissioner who will assess the tax. In the event of any return being made with false or fraudulent intent the commissioner is required to add 100 per cent. of such tax, and in cases of neglect or refusal to make return or to verify the same, the commissioner is to add 50 per cent. to the tax. When the neglect is occasioned by sickness or the absence of a responsible officer of the corporation subject to the tax, the collector is allowed to extend the time not exceeding thirty days. Assessment made by the commissioner must be paid by the corporation before June 30 of each year.

After assessments have been made the returns of corporations must be filed in the office of the commissioner of internal revenue, and they will then constitute public records and as such will be opened for inspection. For the protection of a corporation against the wrongful use of information the following is provided:

"It shall be unlawful for any collector, deputy collector, agent, clerk or other officer or employe of the United States to divulge or make known in any manner whatever, not provided by law, to any person any information obtained by him in the discharge of his official duty, or to divulge or make known in any manner not provided by law any document received, evidence taken or report made under this section, except on the special direction of the president and any offense against the foregoing provision shall be a misdemeanor and be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both at the discretion of the court."

If any corpoation subject to the tax refuses or neglects to make a return in the manner required or shall make a false or fraudulent return, it is liable to a penalty of not less than $1000 and not exceeding $10,000. When any person authorized by law to make or to verify a return, shall make a false or fraudulent statement for the purpose of evading the assessment he becomes liable to a fine not exceeding $1000 or a prison sentence of not more than one year, or both.

HAPPY CHILDREN SPORTING IN THE COOLING SPRAY FROM THE FIREMEN'S STREAM LAST NIGHT IN THE CONGESTED DISTRICTS

GREAT RELIEF FELT

In Congested Districts From Wetting Down Streets

There were no more welcome visitors in the congested districts last evening than the firemen. Their mission was to wet down the streets and the relief that they gave was fully appreciated. The principal streets in Little Canada and Concord and Fayette streets in Belvidere were wet down. The Race street engine crew looked out for Little Canada and they did not spare the water. The streets were so parched that it took a great deal of water to make any impression at all upon them but the firemen did not let up until the streets were well soaked. A business man who witnessed the wetting down process in a street in Little Canada said that the relief was so great that babies who had been turning, tossing and fidgeting because of the extreme heat, fell asleep in their mothers' arms after the cooling influence of the water had been felt.

The High street engine house crew went down Concord and Fayette streets and they did not quit the job until the streets were soaking wet. The man who could boast of a piece of garden hose also helped out on the cooling process and every little while an urchin would come around and say: "Please, Mister, play de hose on me feet."

This morning, bright and early, Middlesex and Central streets were wet down. Hose seven attended to Middlesex street and engine three to Central street. The work of wetting down the streets will be continued as long as the very warm weather continues and unless we are favored with cooling showers.

BOTH ESCAPED

Men Made Their Way Out of Prison

EAST GREENWICH, R. I., June 26.—Twisting the iron bars at the window aside as if they were so much straw, Clifford Joyal and Joseph Gendron of Riverpoint made their escape from the Kent county jail during the night. Their absence was first noticed by another prisoner, who saw the opening in the bars and notified the warden, Mrs. Smith. The young men, both who were about 20 years of age, were awaiting the action of the grand jury on charges of perjury.

CHANCELLOR VON BUELOW

KIEL, June 26. — Chancellor Von Buelow, who came here from Berlin yesterday to confer with Emperor William, boarded the imperial yacht Hohenzollern early today and was cordially greeted by his majesty at the gangway. They were then in conference alone for three hours and it is presumed the political situation was discussed. The chancellor has been given cabins on board the Hohenzollern next to those occupied by the emperor.

DIED SUDDENLY

BREAK-DOWN DUE TO STRIKE OF EMPLOYES.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., June 26.—Patrick H. Dolan, superintendent of the Pittsfield Street Railway company and a member of the board of directors, died suddenly yesterday afternoon. He had been suffering from a serious nervous trouble for some time and a two days' strike of employes of the company tying up all traffic on the system, June 2 and 3, made such serious inroads into his health that very soon after the settlement of the strike he became ill and his malady increased in severity to his death.

Mr. Dolan was 51 years old and was born in Cavan county, Ire. His parents located in Simsbury. Later, with his brother, Peter C. Dolan, he bought a large stable in New Britain, Conn., where they rented horses to the street railway company. The Dolan brothers finally bought out the railway company and equipped the system with electricity. It became a paying proposition and was sold to the Connecticut Power & Light company 18 years ago, and the Dolan brothers came to Pittsfield and purchased a controlling interest in the Pittsfield Street Railway company.

This road they also electrified and increased the mileage of the company from three to 30. Mr. Dolan never married. He is survived by his brother, Peter C. Dolan, general manager of the street railway system. He was a member of the Park club of Pittsfield and a director of the Berkshire Loan & Trust company.

MORGAN RETURNS

PARIS, June 26.—J. P. Morgan returned to London yesterday after having been only 12 hours in Paris. The negotiations to affect the listing of the common shares of the United States Steel corporation on the Paris Bourse are continuing but there is no definite indication today that a final decision will be reached.

They watch the kidneys and cure them when they're sick.

E. P. Sanborn, living at 70 Royal street, Lowell, Mass., says: "I have been greatly benefited by Doan's Kidney Pills and advise anyone suffering from kidney trouble to give them a trial. For some time my back was very weak and lame and after stooping I could hardly straighten. My kidneys were also weak, the passages of the secretions too frequent and accompanied by burning sensation. I felt that I needed a kidney remedy of some kind and having heard so much of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box from Ellingwood & Co.'s drug store. They were just the remedy I needed, strengthening my back and banishing the lameness in a short time."

CLASS OF SIX

Graduated From Parker Avenue School

The graduating exercises of the Parker avenue school in Dracut were held yesterday afternoon. There was a large attendance and standing room was at a premium. The program was exceptionally good and was thoroughly enjoyed. The graduation class numbered six pupils. The school was prettily decorated and on the blackboard in the front part of the room was the class motto, "Perseverance," done in blue and gold, the class colors.

The gold medal presented by the Parker Avenue School Alumni association to the pupil attaining the highest rank in scholarship went to Mary Reginald Spead, while the competition earned for Mary Agnes Gallagher honorable mention.

The officers of the class were: President, Mary Reginald Spead; vice president, Evans Fordyce Carlson; secretary, Mary Agnes Gallagher; treasurer, Ethel May Welsh.

Miss Mary Reginald Spead was the salutatorian, and Miss May Agnes Gallagher the valedictorian. The graduates were addressed by ex-Representative George H. Stevens, an honorary member of the Parker Avenue School Alumni association.

Harry Mozley presented the medal awarded by the alumni association. Miss Mildred McKnight, Messrs. Mozley and O'Malley and Principal Susan G. Driscoll joined in adjudging the medal winner.

Supt. of Schools S. Howard Chace presented the diplomas to the graduates. The program, as carried out, was as follows:

DIPLOMAS GIVEN

Annual Graduation of Westford Academy

The annual graduation of the Westford academy took place at the town hall, Westford, yeserday with a large attendance.

The hall was handsomely decorated, the stage made beautiful with evergreen, mountain laurel, potted plants and a profusion of cut flowers artistically arranged. The figures "1909" were displayed in front in gilt letters, and in the class colors, turquoise blue and gold.

There were four graduates, Miss Althea Smith, Miss Lilley Moran, Mr. Alister McDougall and Mr. Carl Wright, who were presented diplomas by Rev. Benjamin H. Bailey.

The exercises were opened by singing "Wedding Chorus" by the school, followed by prayer, which was offered by Rev. C. P. Marshall. Miss Lilley Moran gave an essay on "Heroes of Peace," and Mr. Carl Wright spoke on "Forestry." The class pophecy was given by Mr. Alister McDougall. The several selections, which were well sung by the school, were under the efficient leadership of Edwin W. C. Barnes, supervisor of music. Miss Gertrude Hamlin was at the piano.

Rev. John E. Blake of Fall River addressed the graduates on "The Making of a Man."

Rev. B. H. Bailey conferred the diplomas and addressed the gaduates. The class motto is "He Conquers Who Conquers Himself." In the evening the alumni held its annual reception and dance, the Lynn Cadet band furnishing music.

THE RED MEN

PASSACONWAY TRIBE ELECTED OFFICERS

The regular meeting of Passaconaway Tribe of Red Men was held last night at Odd Fellows temple, Sachem George R. Caldwell in the chair. Considerable routine business was transacted during the evening but the principal business of the evening was the election of officers which resulted as follows:

Prophet, George R. Caldwell; sachem, James Kershaw; senior sagamore, George Hicks; junior sagamore, George Houle; chief of records, Arthur W. Garland; collector of wampum, Geo. W. Randall; keeper of wampum, Ed. T. Goward; trustees, Leonard F. Steele, D. Glen Hurd and Charles J. Martin; great representatives to the great council of Massachusetts to be held in Boston, George A. Frost, George E. Sutherland, Charles H. Kittredge, C. J. Martin, Leonard T. Moody; alternates, Leonard F. Steele, George W. Randall, Geo. E. Wilkins and Geo. O. Spaulding. The great chiefs of the great council of Massachusetts elected on the part of this tribe were as follows: Great prophet, Willie E. Higgins; great sachem, Alvin G. Weeks; great senior sagamore, John W. Converse; great chief of records Alexander Gilmore; great keeper of wampum, Julius Beauregard; great representatives to the great council of the United States, Oliver A. Libby, G. Frank Conner, George W. Emerson, William A. Flouton. At the close of the meeting the loft of haymakers held their monthly meeting and two new members were initiated and three applications were received. The election of officers resulted as follows: Past chief haymaker, George E. Sutherland; chief haymaker, James Kershaw; assistant chief haymaker, Fred Nichols; overseer, William H. Martin.

CLUB OF THAT NAME HELD OUTING AT CANOBIE.

The ladies of the Sam Walter Foss Literary club were entertained by the gentlemen of the club Thursday night at Canobie Lake park. The party left Merrimack square at 6.15 o'clock on a special electric car and on arriving at the lake supper was enjoyed. After supper remarks were made by Mr. A. F. French, Mr. F. A. Bowen and others, followed by an entertaining recitation by Mr. Alvah Sturgess. The evening was afterward spent in enjoying the bowling alleys, roller coaster and the penny arcade, where many of the party participated in target practice. The return trip was made at 10.15. It was without doubt the best outing that the club has ever had. The supper and transportation arrangements were under charge of Mr. F. A. Bowen and Mr. A. F. French.

A CLOSE SHAVE

Many of Them Happening Every Day But Soon Forgotten.

Close shaves would be of more frequent occurrence but for the tender faces of many men, which will not permit of shaving often. Heretofore, nothing has been said in these columns about poslam, a new skin discovery, in connection with its use after shaving. Its publicity and sales have been confined almost exclusively to its remarkable properties as an eczema cure; it stops the itching at once and cures the worst cases in a few days. While the application of poslam after shaving is one of its minor uses, such as for pimples, the complexion, etc., shavers will find it a revelation, as it does for abrasions, roughness, and severe scrapings what it does for all manner of skin difficulties—heals and cures in a few hours. It is the only article possessing real antiseptic and curative value that has ever been exploited for this purpose, and will soothe and tone up the skin as no toilet preparation could possibly do.

Poslam can be had for fifty cents at any reliable druggists, particularly Falls & Burkinshaw's and Carter & Sherburne's, who make a specialty of it. Or the Emergency Laboratories, No. 32 West 25th street, New York City, will send a trial supply free by mail to anyone who will write for it. This is sufficient to show results in 24 hours.

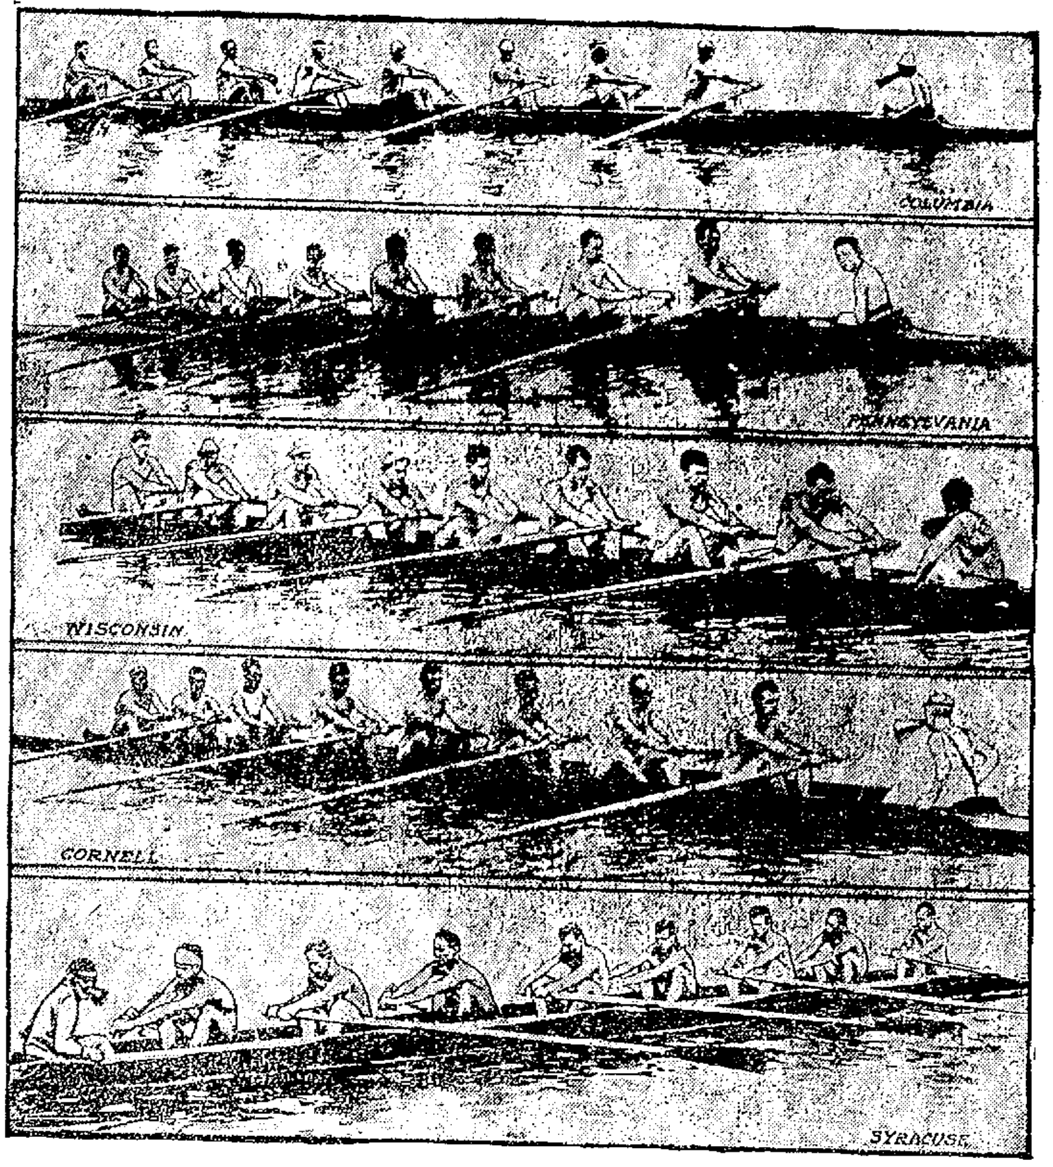
FIVE VARSITY CREWS AT PRACTICE FOR INTERCOLLEGIATE RACE ON HUDSON



POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 26.—All the five crews in training here seem to be in fine fettle for the intercollegiate regatta, which is to take place on July 2. Interest of course centers in the eight oared varsity event, and Syracuse, winner of last year's race, is the favorite. Coach Ten Eyck, who is as good as there is in the business, is putting his men through a grueling pace at upstream practice, that being the direction of the course this year. Although there doubtless will be several changes, the crews are boated as follows in practice, the arrangement in each case being from bow to stroke: Syracuse—B. J. Fisher, Guilford, Putnam, Gere, Hemenway, Shimer, W. C. Fisher, Champlin. Cornell—Seagrave, Simson, Kelley, Aitchison, Sutton, Day, Warner, Weed. Wisconsin—Sumnicht, Kerr, Trane, Hare, Van Loon, Wilce, Kraatz, Dinent. Pennsylvania—Bennett, Reeves, Hoagland, Marx, Walton, Shoemaker, Breitinger, Ballad. Columbia—Renshaw, Hammann, Miller, Saunders, Pitt, Robinson, Spalding, Murphy.

EASTMAN BURIED

Man Accused of the Murder of Mrs. May Woodill

ST. MICHAELS, Md., June 26.—Without ceremony and quietly the body of Robert Eastman, "Lame Bob"—the New York stock broker and the man who murdered pretty May Edith Thompson Woodill and then committed suicide, will be buried this afternoon at the expense of Talbot county. The farm near Bozeman, where Eastman had made his home during his brief stay in this county and in the bungalow on which place the murder took place, will be the scene of the burial. No church here will permit the body of the suicide to be buried within its graveyard and the authorities must bury it on the farm of the man himself.

Already the bungalow and farm from being a mecca for curiosity seekers is becoming shunned. That the dead man was really "Lame Bob" Eastman, the fugitive New York broker, is now established, for the body was positively identified this morning. The identification was made by Louis B. Pedler, a member of the art department of one of the Washington newspapers, who came down here to develop the story. Pedler is a cousin of Vinnie Bradcombe, the New York chorus girl, who it turns out is the wife of Eastman and to whom he addressed the letter in which he charged that a woman had killed Mrs. Woodill. Pedler had known Eastman well in New York, and there was no hesitancy in his identification.

Even before this, however, State Attorney Turner and the local authorities felt pretty certain of the identity of the dead man, for Mrs. Eastman or Miss Bradcome had practically admitted in New York that from the descriptions printed the man was her fugitive husband. She was asked by wire to come here, but said she was unable to do so. State Attorney Turner has offered to pay her expenses, and she is expected as are also two or three of Eastman's New York friends.

The story of the drunken row told by Eastman in his letter to his wife has caused speculation here and efforts are being made today to locate members of apart yof four or five here who are said to have left here in a launch the day after the supposed time of the murder of Mrs. Woodill.

STORY OF CRIME ENDED

ST. MICHAELS, Md., June 26.—The story of a crime unparalleled in this section of the country was probably brought to an end in the second chapter today when a man accused of the murder of pretty Edith May Thompson Woodill, stood for a moment in a boat facing the men who had cornered him on the waters of a narrow creek, and then fired a bullet into his heart, falling lifeless to the bottom of the skiff in which he had sought to escape.

The first chapter of the story should be the mysterious murder of a girl who had moved in the highest social circles of Baltimore, Washington and Los Angeles—a beautiful, talented girl who had been a protege of Lyman J. Gage, and of former Governor Frank Brown, of this state. But by taking his fate into his own hands, the man known here as Emmet E. Roberts, but who in reality was Robert Emmet Eastman, a failed member of the Consolidated exchange of New York, and who was accused of the murder, passed beyond the reach of the law and with his going there vanished the hope of clearing up the motives and details of the crime.

A letter found upon Eastman's body, addressed to Miss Vinnie Bradcome, care of Klaw and Erlanger, the theatrical managers in New York, gave Eastman's poorly substantiated denial of the crime. It was a rambling account of how he had been out in a launch with a party of men and women all of whom had been drinking to excess with the exception of himself and Mrs. Woodill; of how one of the women in a fit of jealous frenzy had attacked Mrs. Woodill with a wine bottle and killed her; how the remainder of the party had taken flight, leaving him to dispose of the body, and how as a means of escape from all of his troubles the writer had decided to end his life.

The authorities have cast aside this theory of the death of the girl. The first word received from Miss Bradcome today conveyed the somewhat baffling information that she knew nothing of a Mr. Roberts or Eastman.

Neither the known movements of Eastman and Mrs. Woodill nor any of the circumstances of the case told bear out Eastman's explanation in the letter which he left when he committed suicide. According to the authorities Eastman in whose company she last was seen alive was responsible for the death of Mrs. Woodill.

As for motives, many have been advanced. That Eastman was infatuated with the girl was well known. She in turn, it would seem, was fascinated by him and possibly frightened by his attentions. In a note addressed to "Dear Webby" declining to see him at the particular time, but not wishing to anger him, she said:

"It is only an intermittent delirium anyhow, and you had better go and wash your dishes."

After this Eastman evidently prevailed upon the girl to visit his farm, which was near that of her foster father's, to see the new bungalow which he had built. The girl met Eastman Saturday, was seen to leave the McDaniel wharf in a launch with him and Wednesday her nude body was found floating on the surface of Rose creek, crudely tied to a rope and weighted with iron bricks.

Mrs. Woodill, the wife of Gilbert Woodill, an automobile dealer in Los Angeles, who had been on a visit to her relatives, had intended leaving in a few days to rejoin her husband, to whom she was ostensibly happily married. Jealousy, induced by the fact that she was so soon to go away, is strikingly foremost in the list of theories. The crime may have been meditated or it may have been the result of sudden frenzy and attack in the lonely bungalow. There were evidences of a struggle in the bungalow, a bloody sheet, some blood stained boards, and some half burned clothing.

Mrs. Woodill, though twice married, was but a girl, vivacious and petite, weighing only about 100 pounds. Where the girl sprang from, who her father was, and what should have been her proper station in life, are clothed with much of the same deep mystery which surrounds the details of her death. She was adopted by Colonel Charles H. Thompson, a well to do farmer of the eastern shore of Maryland, 19 years ago, when she was a tot of three. She married in New York a Dr. Caswell, or Crowell, believed to be from Boston, before becoming of age. The marriage was annulled and, as Miss Thompson again, the girl was engaged to Harry Adams, of Mount Vernon, N. Y. Meeting Mr. Woodill about this time, she married him instead. The girl's foster brother is said to have committed suicide because of love of her.

Eastman, according to the information received here failed in New York last year, was arrested twice in Chicago last August for grand larceny and since that time has been a fugitive from justice.

INJURIES FATAL

John E. Hurley Passed Away Last Night

The many friends of Mr. John E. Hurley, a popular resident of St. Peter's parish, will be deeply pained to learn of his tragic death which occurred at the Lowell hospital last evening as the result of an accident Thursday while at his work in the blacksmith shop of the Lowell Machine shop.

Nobody saw the accident, but the unfortunate man was at work on a trip hammer when something happened while he was under it and when found he was terribly injured. When removed from under the hammer he was in an unconscious condition while his pulse was beating but faintly. He was hastily removed to the Lowell hospital, where he died without regaining consciousness. He sustained a compound comminuted fracture of the skull, the forehead being severed and the left eye so badly injured as to make it necessary to remove it.

The deceased was 27 years of age, and resided at 50 Whipple street. He is survived by a widow, Julia; his parents, William and Rose Hurley, a brother, William, Jr., and a sister, Mrs. Grace Atkinson, all of this city. He was a popular member of St. Peter's Holy Name society.

KILLED BROTHER

Boy Did Not Know Gun Was Loaded

CAMBRIDGE, June 26.—The Theta Delta Chi fraternity house, where one of the Harvard class day spreads was held last night, was the scene of a tragedy a short time later when John Wright, a boy of 12 years, accidentally shot and killed his brother, Robert J., aged 10. With their mother, Mrs. Mary Wright, a widow, of 52 Brighton street, the boys were in the steward's quarters of the fraternity house as the guests of the steward, Albert McLaughlin. They had had some of the ice cream and other dainties left from the class day spread, when John noticed a shotgun standing in a corner of the room. Grasping it quickly, he aimed it at his brother and pulled the trigger. The gun was loaded and the charge blew off the top of the younger boy's head before the eyes of his mother and the other occupants of the room.

At the Brattle square police station John Wright explained that the shooting was purely accidental, that the gun belonged to the steward and that he did not allow it was loaded, and he was allowed to go.

OFFICER McNABB

Overcome by the Heat Early This Morning

FELL HELPLESS ON BRIDGE STREET

He Was Removed to the Hospital—His Condition Reported As Much Impoved Today

Patrolman James J. McNabb, one of the oldest police officers in the city, was overcome by the heat about one o'clock this morning near the corner of Bridge and Seventh streets. A carriage was called and he was removed to St. John's hospital.

The officer is on what is known as the early morning shift, leaving the police station about 12.30 a. m. While passing through Seventh street two young men who were walking behind him saw him stagger, but thought nothing more of his actions as he seemed to recover himself and started up the steps of a house as though he intended trying the door.

A woman in the house was attracted by the sound of the rattling of the door and a few seconds after looking out of the window saw the patrolman stagger and fall into the street.

Lieut. Martin Connors arrived on the scene a short time afterwards and word was sent to the police station. A carriage was sent over and the officer was taken to St John's hospital. He is about 65 years of age and lives in Dunfey street, Pawtucketville.

Inquiry at the hospital today brought out the information that Mr. McNabb was much improved.

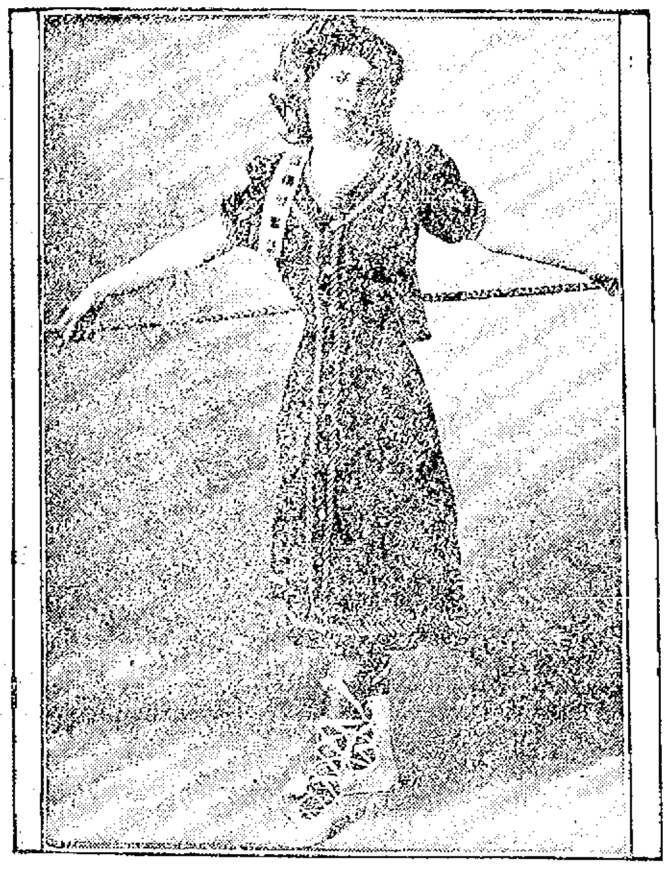
For the Ocean Dip

Young Women at Coast Resorts Will Carry Parasols to Match Their Bathing Costumes

An essential feature of the vacation wardrobe is the smart bathing suit, and all the young women at coast resorts this summer will carry parasols with their bathing costumes. These parasols are just a tiny bit smaller than the sort carried for street use. Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett has the credit of being the originator of the fad for carrying a sunshade with her bathing suit. At her summer home on the Massachusetts coast, where she takes her dips in the Atlantic during the season, she has often been seen using a small red parasol as a protection from the glare of the sun.



PRINCESS BATHING SUIT IN NAVY BLUE SILK.

The best type of bathing suit this season is conspicuous for its simplicity. Women of refinement do not care to make themselves prominent among a crowd of beach loiterers by wearing dresses that are apt to invite unpleasant criticism, so they appear in dark suits cut in the latest mode and wear with them attractive accessories. At Palm Beach early in the spring the different styles of bathing suits are tried out and the winners decided upon. This year the blue ribbon went to a suit of black satin (princess in design), worn with a wide Dutch collar of Irish crochet lace.

In fact, all the frocks for the ocean dip worn at this fashionable resort were made of some dark colored satin or silk with a satin finish, and these materials, together with panama cloth, mohair and taffeta, are popular this summer. There is, too, a new shantung called "shed water tuscan," from which many smart bathing suits are being made.

The princess style is first favorite, although the tucked blouse attached to dart fitted bloomers, over which the carefully hung sheath skirt is smoothly adjusted, is well liked. The very attractive suit seen in the illustration is of navy blue silk, trimmed with bias bands of blue and white striped silk. White pearl buttons of a generous size make the closing down the front. A bathing cape, long, loose, an enveloping of cravenette, is now part of the bathing outfit; also a pair of high sandal-like boots, silk stockings matching the suit or trimmings and a becoming little headdress.

In such attire one can run the gantlet of hundreds of critical observers and come off victor.

FASHION HINTS.

SKIRTS ARE SHIRRED.

The designers have decided to put the full skirt on the market in so many ways that it must be accepted. The plaited one has already gained a wide showing, but some of the newer ones are shirred at the waistband in the old fashioned way. Others are put on with two rows of shirring to a little five inch hip yoke. At the foot line are two or three small ruffles to widen out the hem.

RUFFLED DUTCH COLLARS.

This season is certainly the undisputed "reign of the Dutch collar." But one tires of the stiff or even soft, plain, embroidered or lace edge sorts of collars. The situation is relieved with dainty ruffled affairs. Indeed, they are very easy to make—simply take a piece of wide embroidery and plait it into a ruffle, mitering the corners, of course. Likewise you could make them of lace edged lawn or net.

KIMONOS OF RIBBON.

Some new kimonos are made entirely of ribbon, without any fullness on the shoulders, the underarm seam being made with an outward slope, giving a little fullness at the feet. The ribbon should be four inches wide, stitched together at the edges.

A NEW BRACELET.

With the long sleeve has appeared a new bracelet, which is of a chain kind with a pendant of artistic design, which falls loosely over the sleeve.

The chain is loose and is sometimes caught at the bottom of the wrist.

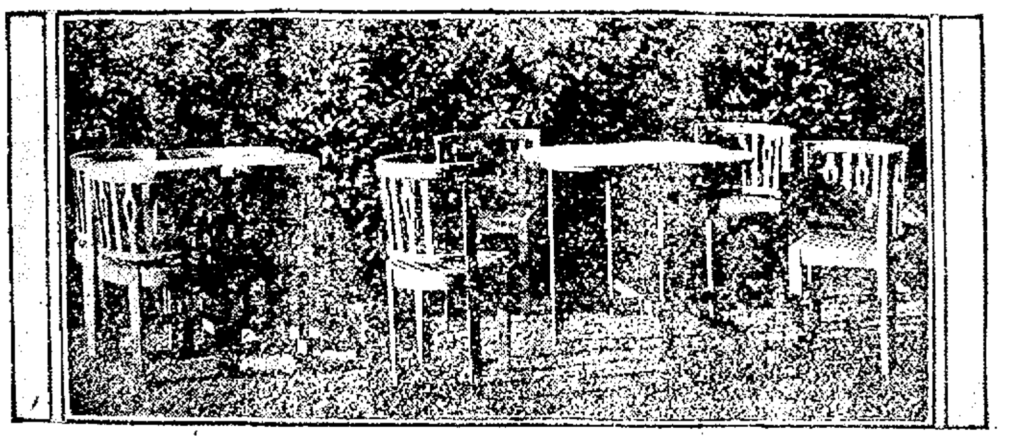
AN ASPARAGUS DISH.

That delicious vegetable, asparagus, is about as hard to serve gracefully as it is to eat in the same much to be desired fashion. The silversmiths, realizing this awkward state of affairs, have put on the market an asparagus set in silver [illegible] of imitation [illegible] one, with the tongs neatly fitted into their own place at the side of the dish. When the asparagus stalks are done to the queen's taste and laid side by side on the rack, the sauce boat filled with melted butter, it is time to bring into requisition the tongs for lifting the stalks to the serving plates.

UNIQUE GARDEN FURNITURE



The fad for serving meals out of doors during the warm weather is steadily gaining ground with housewives who have a garden or porch suitable for such al fresco feasts. Now, for a small party of four out of door feasters the very unique set of furniture seen in the illustration is especially designed. Could anything be more compact and attractive for this purpose?

The chairs have delightfully comfortable cane seats and high rounded wooden backs that are shaped to fit exactly about the corners of the table. In this way no more space is covered than that required for the table alone. When the board is cleared the after dinner game of bridge can be played at the same table. These garden sets are to be had in white and leaf green, but an order may be given at one's dealer to paint them any desired shade.

WHY Woman's Work Is Never Done

SHE Doesn't Know How to Relax---If She Does Know She Won't---How to Get What You Need Out of Vacation.

"THE average woman doesn't know how to work. She doesn't know how to rest. She doesn't know how to take a vacation."

This remarkable statement was made by a man recently. It is very true.

Look at the way a woman works! No wonder that old proverb had a run:

Man's work is from sun to sun,
Woman's work is never done.

Humph! and likewise huh! of course. It isn't, and it never will be, either, because the dear thing is a natural born putterer, and putter she will until she dies.

Women who accomplish things have to overcome this weakness for detail first, and I'll warrant you that every now and then they have a relapse and feel heredity tugging at their skirts. However, to return to the subject, notice how a man works. During several hours he resembles a huge dynamo. If any person interrupts or gets in the way, woe to that person's head! And, then, all of a sudden, like calm after the storm, comes complete rest. He lounges; he smokes a cigar; he exchanges jokes with the office boy. You would size him up for the laziest man on earth, and you would make a big mistake, for he is only storing up strength for the next spurt. He has relaxed tension absolutely, and that makes him a first class machine for all of his days. But is a woman wise enough to do this and slip off the belt, figuratively speaking, and give her mental machinery a chance to cool off? Not she! She keeps her overtaxed organism at full tension the whole blessed time, and she putters, she fumbles and uses up whole days doing simple stunts she could put through in one single effort if she knew how to manage herself.

Poor woman! She has been the worrier of the centuries, and half the time she has worried over things that never came to pass. That's the pity of it. There are thousands of graves that have been caused by unrelaxed tension, by needless and senseless worry.

A woman takes her work home with her. She does it over and over in her mind. She eats with it, she sleeps with it, and she grows narrow and crabbed and stupid over it.

And the man all this time is growing brighter and stronger, physically and mentally, because he has learned how to let go, because he always has time to go out to dinner with a friend, to hear a musical comedy, to take a night off occasionally and to think of something else besides the eternal grind.

Vacation Means a Change.

Then take the subject of vacation.

What does a vacation mean? A dress parade? Sitting around and being bored to death? No, my friends; we undergo that sort of thing all the year round. It means a complete change. If you live in the city, it means the country; if you live in the country, it means the city; if your life is narrow and dull, it means sightseeing; if you are lonely, it means meeting interesting people. Ask yourself what is the very opposite of your mode of life and take that for your vacation. It will be just what you need.

The other day I spent a week end at the home of some very charming people who are decidedly intellectual. As you may have gathered from my fluffy style of writing and thinking, I'm not. The short story magazine style of reading suits me perfectly. I buy all those magazines every month. Well, to return to my subject, there on the table was every kind of new thought and intellectual magazine printed. There was nothing frivolous, so I just had to take what there was or sit with my hands crossed. There I was, up against it. Well, my dear friends, I lay flat on my back in the sunshine, and I read first one magazine and then ten or twelve. I devoured them as a child devours candy when its system needs sugar. I read all. There was a mound of solid thought literature which almost buried me. When I finally arose—and, let me tell you, I never felt so rested, so invigorated, in my life—I could feel a tickling sensation in my brain when long closed thought cells had opened out and expanded. I felt all a-thrill and a-tingle, because I had given myself the dandiest kind of a mental vacation—just the opposite of what my much abused brain was getting all the time.

Go you and do likewise!

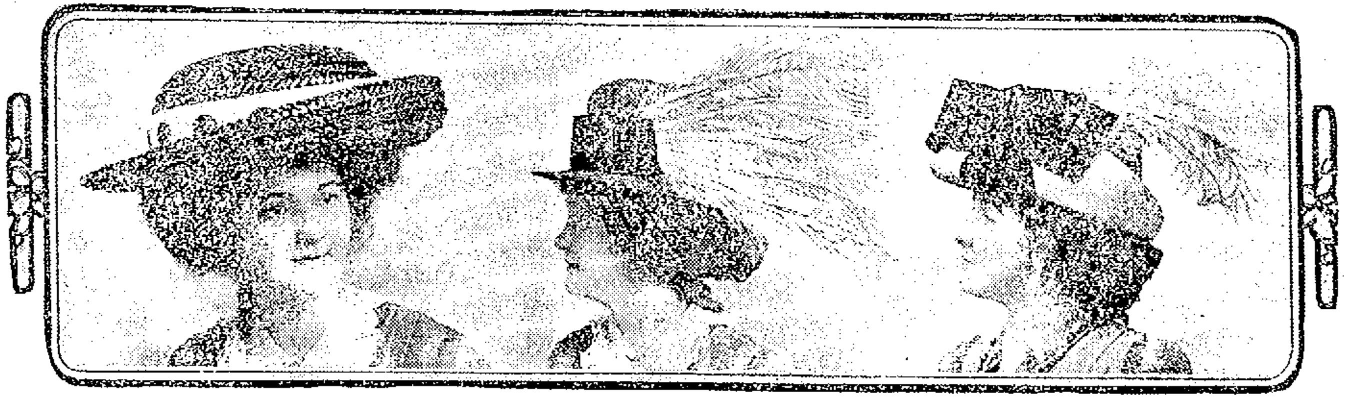
Some English Traveling Hats



The American woman is often seen at her best when in traveling costume. Like the English tourist, she has made a business of combining practicality with a certain amount of taste. Her neat, natty tailor made of lightweight woolen or some of the linen or crash wash materials this summer will be topped by a stylish close fitting hat.

Here are three serviceable hats for traveling wear, turned out by one of New York's smartest purveyors of English millinery, that have recently been sent over from dear old London.

Among them is the new sailor of black straw with an adjustable hat band. As seen in this cut, this band is of greenish ribbon shot through with gold, but the great advantage of this trimming is that it can be changed to match the gown.

For the woman who has passed the sailor hat phase of life the stunning small model of black chip will be found most attractive. The dome crown is just large enough to be pretty without being bizarre, and the flat bow of black velvet ribbon and the full white aigret are exactly the right trimming in the right place.

Black and white combinations in millinery are very swagger, and, reversing the order of things, the white leghorn hat adorned with a rather generous black velvet bow where the shape turns up becomingly at one side and its panache of stiff aigrets is exceedingly good style.

Plumage is not much in vogue for traveling hats except in pheasants' wings, tails and the ordinary quills. A number of the new models have straw trimmings shaped into large pointed leaves or bows.

What Milady Would Like to Know

HER COMPLEXION.

THE inequalities of the gifts of the gods are borne in upon a woman whose little housemaid has a complexion of peaches and cream, the texture of the skin like that of a baby. The mistress does not begin to have as good a complexion, and the point that most troubles her is an inner conviction that the little maid does not wash her face as often as is considered correct by persons who have been properly brought up.

"I know Mary doesn't wash her face every day," she told a friend recently. "I am morally certain of it, and look at her. I wash and wash and keep as clean as any person can who lives in a filthy town, and look at me. I look clean all right, but my skin is thick, and I've about as much color as a tan shoe. What's the use of trying to live up to moral standards when one has such a shining example of the uselessness of washing constantly before one?"

WRINKLES FROM HEAVY HATS.

Have you noticed how women are wrinkling their foreheads this summer in the effort to balance their large, overshadowing hats on their heads and to prevent them from toppling over entirely? The cartoonist who recently sketched a modishly gowned girl with her face so completely hidden by her big hat that a line from Vesta Tilley's popular song "I Don't Know Where I'm Going, but I'm on My Way," told the story and exaggerated the case very little.

It is absolutely true that unsightly wrinkles are appearing on the foreheads of women who affect this kind of headgear, and if they continue wearing these enormous shapes work to counteract the lines must be done daily.

And it is massage—a special stroke—that alone will smooth the corrugated flesh. This movement, contrary to the usual custom, must be downward, and there is a knack in not rubbing so severely as to stretch the muscles, while the motion acts upon the surface. There is no rule, however, by which the precise amount of effort can be given. It must be left to the discretion of each worker. The forehead at night should be rubbed thoroughly with cold cream, and then the tips of the fingers, put in a row at the edge of the hair, should be drawn down evenly and firmly to the brows. This must be done repeatedly until the creases caused by hours of wrinkling have been entirely removed. For the final ten minutes it is well to rub with a light rotary motion. But an ounce of prevention for these forehead wrinkles is perhaps better than a pound of cure. Here is the way one sensible girl tries to get over the difficulty: Before putting on her big hat she takes a separate roll, such as is used for the foundation of a pompadour, and pins it securely to the middle of the head, making no effort to cover it with hair. The roll forms a cushion, through which the pins are run. The advantage it has over the other rolls on [illegible] is in being [illegible]. Of course it does not show beneath the hat.

THE COAT SHIRT WAIST.

Linen shirt waists—the new "coat" style in natural color or white have double breasted fronts with the upper corner turned back and buttoned like a [illegible]. Three big pearl buttons fas[illegible] waist [illegible]

TOO CRITICAL.

A Munich servant girl has given notice to quit because she says that her mistress persists in playing classical music for a couple of hours every morning, although she has not the slightest notion how it should be interpreted.

NEW HAT HOLDER.

Taking care of a hat when one is not wearing it is always some trouble, and putting it away in a box, from which it must be taken out every time one wants to use it, seems a great bother, especially when one is in a hurry.

Various hat holders have been contrived, some useful and some not much of a success, but the best one yet seen and the most steady is a strong spiral coil of heavy wire, the bottom being larger around than the crown of a hat and the top much smaller.

A girl can buy these spiral wire holders and make them look very pretty and dainty herself. The wire must be covered with ribbon to match the closet fittings. The covering is done by fastening the end of the ribbon securely to the bottom end of the wire, then winding the ribbon closely around the wire all the way to the top. Each end should be finished with a bow. The closets should be furnished with as many of these holders as its owner has hats in use.

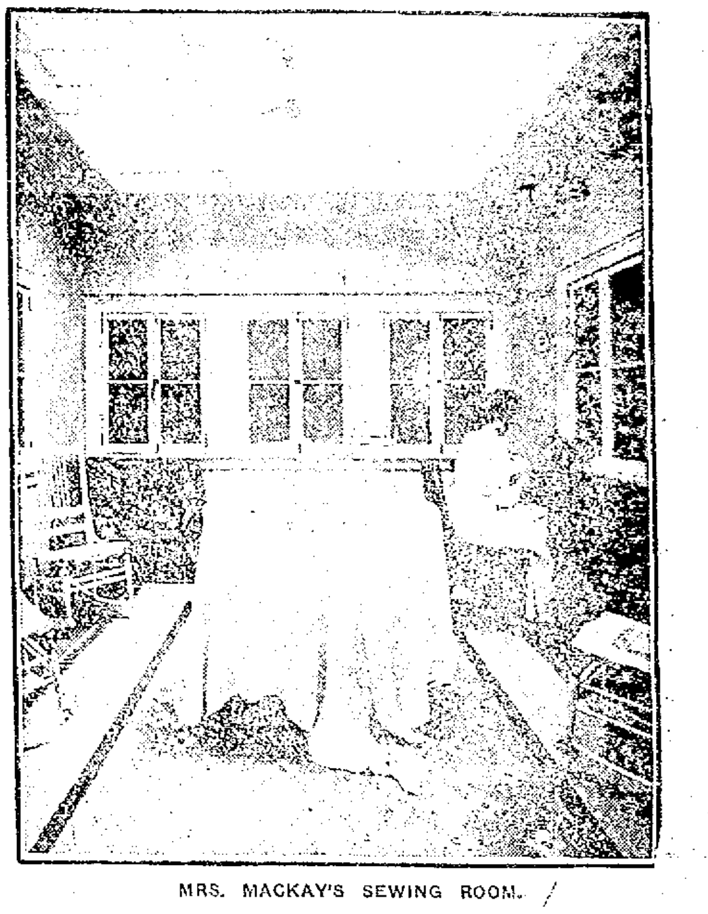
IRISH CROCHET CRAVATS.

The wonder is that more women do not take up this pretty handicraft. Irish lace stitches are easy to do, and the work goes rapidly, and, as every one knows, this lace is not only fashionable, but is one of the most durable laces made. Narrow insertions of Irish lace in the simple "fan" stitch are set into blouses of the smart Japanese crape, and with these blouses are worn cravats in the same stitch with a tiny border pattern along the edges.

SERVANTS Have Apartments Set Apart For Dressmaking

AT Harbor Hill, the beautiful Clarence Mackay country estate at Roslyn, N. Y., there exist almost ideal conditions in the arrangement of the servants' quarters. The administrative ability of the clever chatelaine has been at work as untiringly planning for the comfort of the twenty-five men and women who form her staff of domestics as it has been for the good of the Roslyn public schools and the suffragette cause. The upper servants, most of whom are English, have their private dining room, living room, baths and gymnasium, and a certain number of underlings are detailed to wait upon them at table.

In most large establishments like provisions for the creature comforts of the servants are to be found; but, as usual, Mrs. Mackay has taken the initiative and is the first mistress of a large household to add a sewing room for the exclusive use of the maidservants. A large, well lighted apartment at the top of the house has been set apart for this purpose. The room is plainly but appropriately furnished. A sewing machine occupies one corner. A large cutting table is in the center of the room, and about it are grouped comfortable rocking chairs in which the seamstress may rock and sew her seam. In convenient places are to be found ironing boards, electric irons for pressing work and all the latest sewing conveniences.



MRS. MACKAY'S SEWING ROOM.

The electric light system is especially fine on the Mackay estate and is under the direction of an expert German electrical engineer. It is said that by pressing buttons in different parts of the house the entire estate may be brilliantly illuminated.

FRUIT RECIPES.

BLUEBERRY JOHNNYCAKE.

This is an old fashioned genuine New England recipe for a most delicious concoction: One cupful of sour milk, one teaspoonful of soda, one-half cupful of molasses, one cupful of cornmeal (the golden meal), one-half cupful of flour, a little salt. When well beaten and ready for the oven add blueberries. Stir in and bake in square bread tin. At least two cupfuls of blueberries should be used—more if the dough will cover well.

DELICIOUS HUCKLEBERRY CUSTARDS.

Stew the huckleberries in a double boiler, as you want very little juice. Half fill deep pie tins lined with a good crust and cover the fruit with a custard made of eggs, sugar and milk, as for custard pie. Bake in rather quick oven. Best to make individual pies for family use.

FRUIT CHARLOTTE.

Line a deep dish with pieces of sponge cake cut in strips. Mash a quart of strawberries and sweeten with powdered sugar. Pour in half the quantity of crushed berries over the cake, then add another layer of cake and top off with whole berries. Cover the top with whipped cream or vanilla ice cream just before serving.

PINEAPPLE PUNCH.

For a delicious fruit punch mix half a can of shredded pineapple with the juice of three lemons and four oranges; add two sliced bananas, a cupful and a half of sugar and turn into a bowl with a large piece of ice. Let it stand until time for serving. Then turn in a pint of mineral water.

MRS. FAIRBANKS A PURE FOOD CHAMPION.

Few women are more interested in the pure food matters than Mrs. Fairbanks, wife of the former vice president. She spoke strongly on the subject at the last meeting of the Indiana State Federation of Women's Clubs, saying, among other things: "It is criminal for packers of meat and food purveyors to adulterate the food which is taken to sustain life and which mothers must give to their children. You women are doing right to take up the fight for pure food, and when these men come to realize that women will have none of their poisonous adulterations, then, at last, they will come to their senses."

JUDGE GASKILL

OF SUPERIOR COURT STRICKEN WITH HEART TROUBLE

NEWBURYPORT, June 26.—A marked improvement was noted today in the condition of J. Francis Gaskill of Worcester, a member of the Massachusetts superior court bench who was stricken with heart trouble in this city yesterday.

Accompanied by his wife, Judge Gaskill was spending a brief vacation at the World Tavern in this city when taken ill. For a time grave fears for his recovery were entertained but today the attending physician said that the judge would undoubtedly recover. Judge Gaskill has been subject to attacks similar to the one with which he was stricken yesterday.

NEW BILL BOARDS

Booming Lowell Are Seen 25 Miles Out

TELLING OF LOWELL BARGAIN DAYS

The Work of the Merchants Association of Lowell—The Boards Made by the Kimball System

The "boom Lowell" billboards, which are being erected in prominent locations in the surrounding towns are fast being completed and the remaining few will be finished in the next few days. These are the boards which the Merchants association voted at their last meeting to erect for the purpose of making the residents in the suburbs, within a radius of twenty-five miles, aware of the great bargains which may be had in this city upon "Bargain Days."

The contract for the boards are awarded to no other than the "Kimball system of course," and this company is holding up to every letter by rushing them out. The towns covered thus far are as follows: Milford, Ayer, Pepperell, Canobie Park, Andover, So. Lawrence and Lawrence, Mass.

GOLF MATCH

ON LINKS OF THE WOLLASTON GOLF CLUB

QUINCY, June 26.—The first interstate golf match between picked players of Connecticut and Massachusetts —ten men to a side—was played today on the links of the Wollaston Golf club, twosomes in the forenoon and foursomes in the afternoon. Many of the players were comparatively strangers when they met this morning at the little clubhouse perched upon the hills of Montclair, but within a few minutes firm friendships were established and the first pair started off on their 18-hole journey. The teams were made up as follows:

Massachusetts—H. H. Wilder, Vesper (capt.); Percival Gilbert, Brae Burn; J. G. Anderson, Woodland; A. G. Lockwood, Allston; M. Claflin, Wollaston; P. W. Whittemore, Brookline Country; T. R. Fuller, Wollaston; W. G. Chick, Brae Burn; C. T. Crocker, Jr., Alpine, and J. G. Thorpe, Oakley.

Connecticut—R. H. Hovey, Hartford (capt.); B. P. Merriam, Waterbury; R. L. Jackson, Middletown; W. K. Sheppard, New Haven; W. A. Jackson, Middletown; E. P. Prenderwick, Meriden; P. A. Smith, Hartford; S. B. Bowers, Bridgeport; R. C. Carroll, Greenwich; F. R. Cooley, Hartford; E. S. Bronson, New Haven, and E. L. White of Waterbury.

BROUGHT BETTER WEATHER CONDITIONS IN BOSTON

BOSTON, June 26.—A shift of wind to the northwest brought slightly better weather conditions today to man and beast after five days of relentless heat. Still the temperature again arose with the sun and at 8 a. m. it was 82, a rise of five degrees since sunrise, while the lowest during the night was 76, which point was reached at dawn. At least half the population in the crowded sections in the city spent another night in the open, the parks and other spaces as well as roofs being the resting places of thousands who found indoor conditions unbearable. The weather bureau held out a hope of showers during the day.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

It's worth the money just to get cooled off, to attend the show at the Academy today, for the theatre is equipped with special facilities for cooling and ventilating and is comfortable at all times. But aside from its advantage of being the coolest summer theatre in Lowell, the Academy is presenting the greatest summer show offered in Lowell, consisting of four reels of new moving pictures shown in Lowell for the first time and including the latest and best films from the leadings manufacturers. There are also two illustrated songs on the program and a series of travellettes. A continuous show is given today from 2 to 10.30, without intermission or delay. Drop in any time and see a fine two hour entertainment. The admission is only five cents, and that includes a good seat. Reserved seats are five cents extra.

THE FOLLIES OF THE GLORIOUS FOURTH

BATTLESHIP FLEET

Assembling in Hampton Roads for Summer Manoeuvres

WASHINGTON, June 26.—With two months of hard work before it the Atlantic battleship fleet is assembling in Hampton Roads for the summer manoeuvres which will be extensive and exhaustive. The fleet may be divided into two squadrons and fight against each other, and a dozen torpedo boats will make attacks on the big battleships whose officers and men will be required to exert extreme vigilance also to guard against the stealthy little submarine torpedo boats four of which with a parent ship are attached to the fleet. Under Rear Admiral Seaton Schoreder, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet, there will be nearly half a hundred ships of war ranging in size from the big 16,000 ton flagship Connecticut to the little 17-ton submarine Tarantula. Fleet drills and exercises involving tactical problems and battle revolutions will be held in New England waters during the latter part of July and the early part of August. Then the fleet will proceed to the southern drill grounds, south of the Virginia Capes for record and battle target practice. This shooting will occupy about two weeks beginning August 19. At its close the vessels will return to Hampton Roads and go thence to their home yards for any repairs necessary before the winter manoeuvres in West Indian waters.

Only 12 of the battleships of the present fleet made the trip around the world; the other fouh in the command are new vessels. The older ships have been thoroughly repaired and the newly adopted fire control mast which has been called the "inverted waste basket" installed. This summer's manoeuvres will afford the first opportunity for a crucial test of these masts. Four of these vessels will not be able to leave the navy yard for a week or more. The other 12 ships will proceed from Hampton next Tuesday for New England ports where the sailors and officers will be granted liberty from July 2 to 6. Four ships will be at Boston for Independence Day, two at Penobscot Bay, two at Portland and one each at Marblehead, Mass., Portsmouth, N. H., Eastport, Me., Rockport, Mass., Gloucester, Mass., and Boothbay, Me., the other two ships going where designated by the division commander.

With the reassembling of the battleships at Rockport, Mass., on July 7 will begin the work of the summer. Together they will proceed to Provincetown which will be headquarters until August 5. From Provincetown the fleet will proceed to sea each week returning Saturday night. On these trips will occur the fleet drills, evolutions and by courtesy of the navy department the citizen sailors of the naval militias of several eastern states will be taken out for a week for instruction on the big ships.

At Provincetown the Atlantic torpedo fleet will join the battleships, consisting of a torpedo flotilla of 12 boats with the cruiser Dixie as parent ship and a submarine fleet of four new submarine torpedo boats with the guideboat Castine as parent ship. At the conclusion of the exercises the big fleet will proceed to Hampton Roads to coal preparatory to target practice.

For the first time in the history of the navy the firing will be done on the open sea and in every condition of weather so to attain practice with as nearly battle conditions as possible. Night firing under the same conditions will be carried on. It is probable that the scout cruisers Chester, Salem, Birmingham and the armored cruisers North Carolina, Montana and New York will join the fleet at Provincetown. The cruiser Montgomery which has been filled up as a torpedo experimental ship will also be with the fleet. Secretary of the navy Meyer has been considering going to sea with the fleet during the manoeuvres to watch the work of the ships but has not yet come to a final decision.

While at Rockport, Mass., July 7 or later at Provincetown, President Taft may find it convenient to review Admiral Schroeder's fleet from either the small yacht Sylph or the bigger yacht Mayflower.

GRAND AMERICAN HANDICAP

CHICAGO, June 26.—A round of 20 shots today is to decide the winner of the Grand American handicap, the big event at the target meet at the Chicago Gun club. Four marksmen are tied for first place out of a field of 435 entries. Each of the quartet broke 96 out of 100 targets. After the shootoff of the Grand American today the amateur and professional championships of the United States will be decided. Those contending for the honors of the Grand American are: John R. Livingston, Springville, Ala.; Fred A. Shattuck, Columbus, O.; George Burns, Cleveland, and William Wettleaf, Nicols, Ia.

Office 162 Market Street, Tel. 2285-5 Lowell, Mass.

AT NO. 198 SOUTH STREET, LOWELL, MASS.

I will sell at public auction a very pleasantly situated residential or investment piece of real estate situated at No. 198 South street, being the third house from St. Peter's church, consisting of a two and a half story house with a slated hip roof and has nine large rooms, halls and bath, and a barn, with [illegible] square feet of land, more or less, with a frontage of 60 feet. The house was built with great care and the best of material was used in its construction. It has a large, well-lighted, cemented cellar. The first floor has large parlor, hall, sitting room, dining room, kitchen, pantry, etc. The second floor has five large, square, well lighted chambers, well arranged, leading from a large hall and bath. The rooms are high posted, and nicely finished; there is a large unfinished attic above. The barn sets on the rear of the lot and has stall for one horse, with ample room for carriages. The house sets in the front of the lot facing the South common, with plenty of room about the house, warranting plenty of air and light. The grounds in the rear have a number of fruit trees and shrubs full grown, where a more pleasant place would be hard to find right in the center of the city, near church, school and the business center. The present owner has had in mind to erect a six-tenement block on the vacant land and has a plan for the same in blue print. I will be pleased to show this property to any intending buyer at any time before the sale, and feel that it is a good opportunity for some one to secure a good substantial investment property at public auction.

Terms of sale: [illegible] must be paid to the auctioneer as a deposit as soon as the property is sold; other terms at sale.

ABSOLUTE SALE BY PUBLIC AUCTION OF A PARCEL OF PROPERTY CONSISTING OF TWO BUILDINGS AND ABOUT 4600 SQ. FT. OF LAND AT 120 TO 128 FLETCHER STREET.

Promptly at 4.30 o'clock in the afternoon, on the date set apart, I shall offer and sell to the person bidding the highest at public auction this parcel of property consisting of two buildings and about 4600 square feet of land. The buildings have been recently made over and are now occupied by two manufacturing companies. The Crystal Comb Co. occupying one and the Lowell Machinery Co. the other. They are two stories in height and are adapted for any kind of light manufacturing, being heavy timbered, high studded, having cemented cellar, elevator, electric lights, water and a high door on a level with the floor, for freight. No. 128 is practically a new building of two stories and basement, very high studded. The present tenants, who are very good ones, have short leases. The total rental of the property is about $450 a year. The lot contains about 4600 sq. ft. of land with a frontage on Fletcher street of about 81 feet, and on the passageway, which must be forever kept open, of about 84 feet, giving fine frontages and an entrance to all sides of your property from Fletcher and Rock streets, as this passageway runs clear through to said street. This is an excellent site for manufacturing and has many advantages not found in larger places of its kind. Now I think this a safe and sound investment for some wise speculator, and a good liberal mortgage can remain. All inquiries must be made of the auctioneer, who is in full charge.

Terms: $450 to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as struck off.

EXECUTRIX SALE OF THE McDERMOTT PROPERTY, CONSISTING OF A FOUR-TENEMENT HOUSE AND ABOUT 4500 SQUARE FEET OF LAND AT 19-21 WATSON STREET.

By virtue of a license granted me by the probate court, I shall offer for sale on the premises Saturday, July 3, at 3 p. m., a four-tenement house and about 4500 square feet of land. The house, which consists of four tenements, has five rooms to each tenement, water closets, gas, and is in good repair, and rents for about $384 a year. The lot has a good frontage on Watson street, and has an area of about 4500 square feet, which gives good yard room. Now this property is in an excellent location for the renting of small tenements, and it is within three minutes' walk of several large industries in this section of the city. This parcel should interest the speculator, as it is a grand location for renting property.

Terms: $300 to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as struck off. All inquiries should be made of the auctioneer, who is in full charge.

By order of ANNIE M. TASKER.
Executrix of the will of the late Kate McDermott.

Next Saturday, July 3rd, at 3.45 P. M.

A FOUR TENEMENT HOUSE WITH STORE AND ABOUT 3500 SQUARE FEET OF LAND, AT 93-95 KINSMAN STREET.

I shall offer for sale on the premises to whomsoever will bid the most for it at public auction, the above property. The house which is a two and one-half story, consists of three tenements of five rooms each and a store with four rooms with the other tenement. The total rental being about $[illegible] a year. Now this is a property for some speculator, as a small amount expended will make the income much larger, as it is located within six minutes' walk of five large industries in this end of the city. The present owner of this property feels that she has not the time to look after real estate. For this reason she is selling it and it is bound to show handsome returns on the purchase price. When you take into consideration small tenements in a location so close to several industries, it cannot be otherwise than a grand investment. Now the man with a little money who could occupy one tenement and have the income of the others by purchasing such a place as this, would be making a grand start for himself. The building is so placed on the lot as to give a good lot of yard room. Look this property up and remember that the sale is to be positive on Saturday, July 3, at 3.45 p. m.

Terms: $350 to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as struck off.

Next Saturday, July 3rd, at 4.30 P. M.

AT NO. 16 L STREET, A COTTAGE HOUSE AND ABOUT 917 SQUARE FEET OF LAND.

I shall offer for sale on the premises regardless of any condition of the weather, my cosy little cottage house of four rooms, pantry, and water closet, and a good cellar. There are two rooms on the first floor and two good chambers on the next. I have occupied it myself for several years and I think that for someone with a small family who would like to locate in Centralville, they should look this parcel up. The property is located on L street, between Coburn and Jewett streets; it being the second property from Coburn street. The lot contains about 917 square feet and is all fenced in.

Terms. $100 to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as struck off.

By order of MARTHA J. WESTOVER.
